The principal charm of travel in Japan is due to its human inhabitants, the most affable and friendly race in the world, so far as I have yet seen. It is, indeed, a new sensation to the European in Asia, when he finds that his dress and complexion produce an attractive instead of a repellant effect, and that even the women and children neither hate nor fear him. Without being able to speak three words of the language, you cannot help feeling at home in a country where every one seems delighted to see you, where the very dogs are too well-mannered to bark at a stranger, and where you are welcome with friendly salutation of "Ohaio!" by all, from the village patriarch down to the smallest urchin. A ragged, neglected child may be looked for vainly in city or in country; plump, rosy and clean, with ample clothing, and their little heads carefully shaven in a variety of fantastic fashions, the children afford a sure indication of prosperity among the lower orders in Japan. The rising generation, who in China (and even nearer home) will ridicule and insult a foreigner, display toward him in Japan a dignified courtesy, which is at once ludicrous and charming. Babies, carrying still smaller babies on their backs, greet the passing stranger with a gracious bow, and if he seats himself, collect around, silently surveying him with an intelligent interest. Their gravity, however, is merely on the surface; and if the aspect of the "red bristled barbarian" proves, as it occasionally does, too much for the nerves of a girl more timid than the rest, and sends her clattering away in a panic on her wooden pattens, her flight is the signal for a peal of derisive merriment from her companions. As soon as they receive a little encouragement they become more demonstrative, and are almost equally gratified by a distribution of small coins or by gestures of simulated wrath. In the latter case they disperse with shouts of laughter, only to collect again in larger numbers, until some of the elder children, usually girls, venture to approach near enough to touch and examine the stranger's coat and buttons, or the contents of his travelling belt. All this is done in the most gentle and confiding manner, as if certain that there can be no cause of fear, and perhaps their trust is seldom misplaced; but certainly their behavior toward a stranger is in marked contrast to that of rural youth in other parts of the world, and it is to be hoped that when they know foreigners better they may like them less. Affection for their children is a distinct characteristic of the Japanese, and their hearts are easily touched by kindness shown to the little ones, whose long robes and elaborate coiffure render them the very images of their parents in miniature. It is not too much to say that in Japan the class known as "gamins," "larrikins," or "hoodlums," has no existence at present; even the street boy is a little gentleman, and long may he so continue. On the other hand, if the children resemble grown men and women, these in their turn are eminently child-like in manners and disposition.—Sir D. Wedderburn.

The depreciation of the currency in Havana continues, although the reports show a cessation of hostilities. Owing to the bad condition of Spanish finances generally, this depreciation is likely to increase. The Havana Lottery tickets sold here for American money, when a prize is won, pay only about thirty cents, gold, on the dollar, and this fact has caused a great demand for the tickets of the celebrated Louisiana State Lottery Company, the President of which is M. A. DAUPHIN, P. O. Box 692, New Orleans, La. See the particulars in another column.

The Grand Central is now offering unusual inducements to business men, families and tourists. The prices for board have never been so low, and the table is still kept up to its first-class high standard.

THE CITY.

Seventy-five shares of the Eastern Railroad were sold in Boston Monday at $9.-50, being the highest point reached for many months.

We take pleasure in recording that Hon. Frank Jones voted against the big steal called the "river and harbor appropriation bill" in Congress on Monday.

The President of the Kearsarge Mills has appointed Samuel W. Hoyt clerk of the Corporation. Mr. Hoyt was qualified on Tuesday, and has entered upon his duties.

The bright light seen in the northwest, early Monday night, was occasioned by the burning of Hall's nut and bolt manufactory, about a mile from Newmarket village.

On Monday evening, 29th inst., a rich treat will be given the theatre-goers at Music Hall, when a sparkling comedy will be presented by Portsmouth amateurs, and in better style than many professional organizations could do it.

Rev. C. A. Holbrook, rector of St. John's church, received a purse of $122 in gold from a number of his parishoners on Easter day. Forty-two children—twenty-three boys and nineteen girls—were baptised at St. John's church on Sunday afternoon.

We are requested by Dr. Donaldson to inform his friends that the report being circulated that he is soon to remove from Portsmouth, is without foundation. During the month of May he contemplates a short vacation, and while absent would respectfully commend Dr. Russeque to the favorable consideration of his patrons.

The mysteries of "Our boarding-house" will be made plain at Music Hall this evening. The comedy, or burlesque, is laughably ridiculous in many parts, and there are numerous comical "situations" in it; the company that will present it this evening we believe is the same that has recently played it in Boston and Portland, to large audiences.

Messrs. Frederick W. Rogers, Charles W. Bailey, Joseph R. Curtis and Gardner M. Goodrich are taking a census of the several wards in this city preparatory to the new apportionment for Representatives to the Legislature, to be made prior to the first election (which takes place in November) under the new Constitution, the amendments to which prescribe that representation shall be based upon population, instead of upon polls as heretofore.

The fifty-ninth anniversary of American Odd Fellowship, which occurs on Friday, is to be celebrated by the fraternity in this city at Franklin Hall. The following exercises have been arranged: At 7:45 o'clock the prescribed form of anniversary services will take place in the main hall. At nine o'clock, grand march, the brethren appearing in full uniform. At ten o'clock, a supper will be served in the banquet hall, after which dancing will continue until 12:30 o'clock.

The world-famous Lingards appear at Music Hall to-morrow evening in "Heart and Crown," with Alice Dunning Lingard as Marie Stuart. Of her performance of this character the press speaks in the highest terms, but we have room for only one extract from the Brooklyn Eagle: "a practiced eye could detect on the instant her thorough mastery of the part. Exquisitely robed, radiantly beautiful, poised in perfect repose, she looked in every line of face and figure the Queen of Scots. The first lines were spoken with dignity and deliberation. Her voice, always pure and round, has that mellow, flute-like quality which penetrates every portion of the house without an effort, and from the first few words she had riveted the attention of the audience." Wm. Horace Lingard will also give some of his unapproachable character delineations.

Mr. B. P. Shillaber, the original Mrs. Partington of the Boston Post, and one of the most genial and delightful of humorists, has in contemplation the publication of a new book, which will appear in season for the holidays, or before. The volume is intended primarily for boys, but can hardly fail of being attractive to all mirth-lovers of whatever sex or age. It gives Ike Partington as the ideal and representative of the universal boy, and the adventures of that youth and his friends make up the volume, accompanied by the felicitous touches of description and comment in which Mr. Shillaber excels. He has labored many years for the amusement of the public, and there are very few mature persons in the country who have not, at some time, owed a good laugh to his peculiar and quaintly original strokes of wit. He who brings a smile to the world of long faces is a public benefactor; and Mr. Shillaber deserves well of the world of newspaper readers for this reason; especially that his wit is not only of the best-natured and most affable kind, but often conveys a good lesson or a gentle reproof, and is always on the side of courtesy and good-breeding. Mr. Shillaber has many friends, and it is to be hoped that they will see to it that his new book is well received. It is to be published by Lee & Shepard, Boston, who will doubtless put it in an attractive dress, and place it in a winning way before the public.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, April 23d; Batchelder, J.

Daniel Dow, Baron S. Laskey and Samuel George, three "simple drunks," were sent to Brentwood in default of payment of $9.90 each, fine and costs.

John Fleming, James Norton and James Reardon, vagrants, were sentenced to three months at the County Farm, costs $6.90 each.

THE GREEN-HOUSES.

The first warm breath that breaks through the winter clouds gives fresh impulse to the longings for the genial skies of spring. We listen for the first notes of the robins, and watch the green tips of grass that peep out from the thawing, frozen earth. We wander through the woods, fragrant with the balsam of the pines, and hear the rippling music of wooded streams whose echoing notes float to and mingle with the murmurings of the sea, and gather from the edge of circled snow mounds the trailing arbutus, redolent with delicate perfume. The plants that have decorated the windows during the winter, catching inspiration from the warmer rays of the sun, increase their foliage and deepen their tints of emerald shades. In the gardens we see the white and colored crocuses—the first flowers that welcome the spring—blooming modestly, yet defiantly facing the frost and chill of March nights. The arrangement and selection of plants to produce the happest effect in their various combinations of colors, comes in the routine of daily thoughts, for the embellishment about our homes. Green-houses are new an attraction, and the many visitors to them seldom come away empty-handed. In one of our rambles last week we called at the establishment of Mr. Amos Pearson, on Broad street. If we remember right Mr. Bunning some years ago built a green-house in the vicinity of the Creek; not being successful, relinquished the business; but some years subsequently built on South road. His specialty was the propagating of plants for sale, though not extensively. Mr. Pearson may well be called the pioneer in this business. Starting in the year 1870, with a house thirty-five feet long, he has enlarged it to eighty feet in length, and thirteen feet in width, with a transept of twenty feet, and span roofs. His business is principally in cut flowers, and it is to the credit of our city to say that the continuous demand by our citizens prevents the filling of but few outside orders. We find among the novelties which are not raised for profit but merely as an attraction for their visitors, the night-blooming cereus, cereus grandiflora, and the tranguilaris. Among the plants here are—of roses, the Marshal Neil, La Sulphide, Pierre de St. Cyr, Archimides, Souvenir de Malmaison, Gen. Jacquimenot, Climbing Devoniensis, and Pauline Laboute; begonias in great variety, cacti, crinum, crotons, ferns in number, and several varieties of passiflora, among them the Buchananii and others rare and beautiful. The Bougainvillier, a species of the spectabillis, which has been noticed as now being in bloom, is a mass of purple flowers, formed by clusters of what resemble leaves with a yellow stamen interspersed amid its dense bloom. It is a very beautiful and wonderful production, and with the other attractions of the green-house, which contains all the standard plants, offers rare inducements for repeated visits.

A short distance from here is the establishment of Mr. John H. Hutchinson, who commencing with a small conservatory has within a few years added to it three houses, each one hundred feet in length. These spacious rooms are filled with many rare and beautiful plants, and in connection with the business done in cut flowers they engage extensively in the propagating of plants for the house and garden. They have the choice varieties of roses, geraniums, fuchsias and the many well known species of the multiflora which are embraced in a first-class green-house. We noticed among the several attractions an immense bed of carnations, each plant a gem by itself. It would be impossible to enumerate the many inducements which this establishment offers to the votaries of flowers. In connection with the green-house is a nursery, and some of the trees bearing choice fruit raised in this city have been selected from the grounds.

An afternoon spent in these two places will amply repay the walk and the time, even to those who economize their time in other pursuits. There is certainly no necessity of sending out of the city for flowers or plants, as those produced here are certainly superior to those brought from other places. Mrs. Thaxter in one of her articles on the Isles of Shoals, speaks of the rarely beautiful tints of the varied flowers that grow on the islands. It is also remarked by observers that the colors of the flowers that are raised in this city are more beautiful than those grown away from the influence of the salt air of the ocean

PENCIL.

THE SPY.

With a sermon recently preached in the Stone Church in Portsmouth on this subject, and published in this paper, perhaps the public will agree in the main; still some points are liable to serious doubts and plain criticism. The spies of the city of Jericho are considered, and Rahab, who entertained and assisted them, is severely censured. It seems to me that it does not require very profound theological erudition to reconcile the account of two different writers in the scriptures, justifying the course of this woman, one by her faith, the other by her works. Then, as to the character of Rahab, called in the sermon "infamous," I suppose it is well known that the term harlot, applied to her, did not mean what it does now. And as to her conniving for the success of the Israelites in taking the city, it is well known that the Most High had doomed the wicked inhabitants to overthrow, and the proceedings of Rahab were parts of the providential arrangements for the accomplishment of the design. So many of the learned and good even have and do understand it.

Then as to the spy business now. It is condemned in the sermon with the greatest plainness, and I believe with undue severity, and without proper discrimination. I say nothing as to the use of it in getting proof against the liquor dealers, that gave rise to the commotion in Portsmouth, but I do say the laws of the land, the criminal ones I mean, cannot be executed in full without spies. The detective police system proceeds on this. All the artifices and even deceptive influences are used to find the guilty and bring them to punishment. Without it in many cases crime would go unpunished and society have no protection. Let one case of recent occurrence be given. It will speak for many. A murder had been committed. Some one was suspected, but no proof could be obtained. A detective went into the section, lived out as a laborer in the company of the one suspected, got his confidence, and by slow degrees revealed to him his own bad conduct in which he had taken the life of a fellow being. This was all a ruse, but the object was accomplished. The suspected one at once revealed his own crime. So much for a spy.

This is written with all respect to the author of the sermon referred to, whom I know as a fine scholar, and of high standing and influence.

J. F.

THE VICINITY.

Edward C. Moody, Esq., is building a fine summer cottage at York beach, for rent.

Sunday afternoon the house of John W. Boston, in Kennebunkport, was destroyed by fire, with about all its contents. Loss estimated at $900. The family were away at the time.

The York Cornet Band meets for practise in Moulton's Hall at Beech Ridge, one night each week in good weather. The schoolhouse at the Ridge is being put in thorough repair, and the people of the district boast of having the best schoolhouse in York.

The nut and bolt manufactory of Lafayette Hall at Hallsville, about one mile from Newmarket, was destroyed by fire Monday night. This is the second time within two years and a half that this establishment has been burned out, and the loss falls heavily on the proprietor. Insured $20,000, in seven companies; loss $34,000.

Saturday night thieves entered the barn of James W. Green at Hampton Falls, and stole two horses and two harnesses; also three harnesses from Harris Gore and a robe from a Mrs. Gore at the same place. The horses evidently got away from their captors, as they returned without their harnesses from the direction of Exeter, Sunday night, and were caught by Emmons Brown of Hampton Falls.

A thunder shower (with more shower than thunder about it, for though there was a heavy fall of rain there was but one clap of thunder) passed over Saco and Biddeford at about two o'clock Sunday morning. The single flash of lightning struck the house of Rufus Merrill on Temple street, Saco, and did probably six hundred dollars damage to it. The building is two stories high, with an ell, and seems to have been struck in two places simultaneously, the ell being thoroughly wrecked in both stories, and the main building badly injured along the line of a bell-wire. The lower story of the house was occupied by Mr. Merrill and his family; the upper story by Freeman Walker and family; and though all the usual occupants of the house were in their beds, and partitions were knocked down, glass broken, pumps split, furniture smashed and scattered about, and clothing torn in pieces and set on fire, no one was injured by the lightning, the only inconvenience felt by any one being by Mrs. Walker, who experienced a slight numbness during a portion of Sunday. Charles Walker, one of the occupants of the house, was not even awakened by the shock. An umbrella and various articles of clothing that were set on fire, were extinguished by Mr. Merrill, who did wake up, quick.

The Phonograph.

The witty man of the New York Times has explained, in his usual felicitous manner, the remarkable advantages we shall all reap from the phonograph—an instrument by which, it is claimed, the tones of the human voice can be preserved and reproduced hundreds of years, hence. According to the Times editor, all our great men—at least their voices and words—will undergo a process of "bottling," and "in the years to be" the American host will treat his guests to a bottle of Talmage or Anna Dickinson, just as he now treats them to Heidsick or Mumm's Extra Dry. If Dr. Pierce could have all the encomiums that have been bestowed upon his Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, as remedies for indigestion, constipation, torpid liver, or "billiousness," thus "bottled" and preserved, it would be the most famous bottle in the world.

SANTA ROSA, Sonoma Co., Cal., July 8th, 1877.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Your Golden Medical Discovery has cured me of an aggravated affection of the skin, after different doctors had failed. My face and body were continually covered with pimples and blotches. Enclosed find $1.50 for a copy of your Common Sense Medical Adviser.

Yours truly, WM. H. MARION.

EMEREL STATION, Ohio, June 11th, 1877.

Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.:

Dear Sir—Your Pleasant Purgative Pellets have cured my wife after our best physicians had failed. They helped her from the first dose. IRA A. MILLER.

—An extraordinary case recently came under the notice of the physicians of Guy's Hospital in London. A man named James Moore, was brought in, complaining of a pain in his stomach, and although every effort was made in his behalf nobody could diagnose his disease, and after being a month in the hospital he died. A post mortem examination revealed in his stomach the remains of no less than eighty-seven pocket-knives, some of which were so far digested that in one instance only a single blade was found.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—A Chicago man named his twins Adam and Eve.

—Mrs. Dickens has become reconciled to her sister, Mrs. Hogarth, who for many years after the separation, was the matron of the Dickens household, and a mother to the children who remained with him. It has never appeared that there was any reason for a permanent estrangement.

—The Titusville (Pa.) Herald tells this little story. "About a year ago P. B. Cassiday of this city bought a young woodchuck from a farmer, and fed and petted it so much that it became quite tame, would answer to its name, eat from its master's hand, and perform sundry cunning tricks. It was allowed entire freedom, and never manifested any disposition to shift for itself. Last fall it was missed, and Mr. Cassiday gave it up as dead. But it was only hibernating, and on Monday it returned, looking as slick as a mule. It had not forgotten its master, its own name, or the tricks it had been taught to do."

—The introduction of the phonograph into France was attended with some laughable circumstances. The instrument was being exhibited before the French Academy of Sciences. The person in charge of the machine said to it in a loud voice and with a marked English accent, "Le phonographe presente ses compliments a l'Academie des Sciences." The repetition of the words by the accent, but a falsetto pitch, brought good applause. The academicians burst into unrestrained laughter, as the machine repeated, after the operator, the question and answer. "Mossieu phonographe, parlez vous Francais?" "Oui Mossieu." One of the members, M. Du Moncel then, to satisfy himself that there was no imposition, talked to the phonograph and received back his words: "L'Academie remercie M. Edison de son interessante communication." The excitement and mirth were so great that a long time elapsed before the Academy could settle itself and go on with the other communications of the evening.

Centaur Liniments.

The wonder of medical science—half horse and half man, the fabled Centaurs, left their impress upon the history of the world.

The Centaur Liniments, for man and beast, are not less remarkable in their way. They have been before the public only six years, but in that time they have performed more wonderful works, have alleviated more pains and cured more bed-ridden cripples than have all other Liniments, Embrocations, Extracts, Salves and Ointments in existence. Their immense and rapidly-increasing sale is indisputable evidence of the estimation in which they are held. They are already used in many of the hospitals of this country and Europe, and are prescribed by the best physicians and veterinary surgeons. Why should they not be? They have never failed to ameliorate suffering when cures from sore of bone or muscle are impossible. They contain Carbolic, Witch Hazel, Rock Oil, Arnica and Ingredients which must stimulate the fluids, soften the sinews and penetrate to the bone. We have never yet heard of the first failure to benefit, even in stubborn cases of Rheumatism, Sciatica, and Neuralgia, while, for Flesh Wounds, Bites, Frosted Limbs, Burns, Cutaneous Eruptions, etc., they are unfailing. What the White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, the Yellow Centaur Liniment is for horses and animals. We will guarantee that one dollar expended for Centaur Liniment will perform more and speedier results than can be obtained for five or twenty dollars from any physician. We have made the treatment of flesh, bone and muscle ailments a specialty. We know that we have preparations which do what they are recommended to do. They are not curealls—they will not mend a broken leg, but they will alleviate pain and cure where any human agency can cure. Be sure and inquire for the Centaur Liniments and give them a fair trial.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Mothers,

here is the harmless and certain remedy for your children. CASTORIA is the result of twenty years' experiments by the celebrated Sam'l Pitcher, M.D

It is a vegetable preparation as effective as Castor Oil, but perfectly pleasant to the taste. It can be taken by the youngest infant, and neither gags nor gripes. Dr. A. J. Green, of Royston, Indiana, says of it:

SIRS—I have tried the CASTORIA, and can speak highly of its merits. It will do away with Castor Oil. It is pleasant and harmless, and is wonderfully efficacious as an aperient and laxative. It is the very thing.

The CASTORIA destroys worms, regulates the Stomach cures Wind Colic, and permits of natural healthy sleep. It is very efficacious in Croup, and for Teething Children. Honey is not pleasanter to the taste, and Castor Oil is not so certain in its effects. It costs but 35 cents, in large bottles.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The latest, greatest, and most reliable remedy ever put together by medical science for Rheumatism, Wounds, Swellings, Burns, Caked Breasts, etc., is the Centaur Liniments. There are two kinds. What the White Liniment is for the human family, the stronger kind, which is yellow in color, is for spavined, lame, and stiffened horses and animals. Their effects are wonderful.

Mothers who have weak and irritable children, can secure health for the children and rest for themselves, by using Dr. Pitcher's Castoria. It contains no morphine or any thing injurious. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and is certain to cure Wind Colic, regulate the bowels, and expel worms. For Teething children, there is nothing like Castoria. 6tmay1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and have stood the test of a long term of years, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most critical cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the traveling public is respectfully invited to approval of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed, a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.

It Speaks for itself.

ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.

MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "vasine," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," did my work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable patron for such medicine. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste was lost and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventy-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eighteen months was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,

S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula, or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties remove that nauseous Remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a score of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried ——— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,

D. W. GILAY, M. D.,

Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which, in many cases result from a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane in the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that while five years ago 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, the names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

THE CITIZEN AND THE GAS-BILL.

I.

My hero was a Citizen
Of credit and renown;
There was one thing that ever made
Him knit his brows and frown—
His Gas bill was, like Banquo's ghost,
A thing that would not down.

II.

It seemed to make no difference if
Gas more or less be burnt;
Vainly he cast about for means
The Co. to circumvent;
But at last he hit on a notable
And shrewd experiment.

III.

For one whole month that Citizen
Let things "gang their ain gait,"
And from his usual practices
Did no whit deviate.
His normal Gas bill thus he found
Just came to dollars eight.

IV.

Next month he practised very strict
Domestic economy,
He burned Gas where it was
A sheer necessity,
And even then kept it turned down
Till folks could hardly see.

V.

Thereat each of his family
Did mourn sore, like dove.
Except his eldest daughter, who Used entertain her love
With due economy of chairs

VI.

When the month o'er, a bill came in for $10,
"Twas on the wrong side of his mouth
That citizen did laugh.
His language would have brought a blush
To the cheek of a phonograph!

VII.

"Blaze with your serried jets!" he cried,
"I will not turn the key,
I will burn all the gas that's made
By the bloated Company.
Let there be light by day and night
And the expense hanged be!"

VIII.

The neighbors who its windows saw
Flame from their tenement,
Thought there was sickness in that house
Or that its residents
Had inaugurated a series of "Brilliant social events."

At the end of the month the bill came in For $3.50.

The Ruling Passion.

Lamartine, like most literary men of his time was not over fond of the clerical party, and he contrived to prove this even on his death-bed, at which Pelletan was present. The poet suffered so terribly in his last moments that he longed to die. Just as he was in mortal anguish Madame Lamartine came in, followed by a tall priest, clad in a violet robe, and having a golden cross folded to his breast. "It is the Bishop of Troyes," said Madame Lamartine. The poet, who during many hours had not been able to move without help, suddenly sat up in bed, saying, in a loud voice:

"Tell Monseigneur de Troyes that I am too ill to receive any persons other than my particular friends." And the priest vanished.

What Men Have Died For.

Col. Montgomery was shot in a duel about a dog; Colonel Ramsey in one about a servant; Mr. Featherstone in one about a recruit; Sterne's father in one about a goose, and another gentleman in one about an acre of anchovies. One officer was challenged for merely asking his opponent to enjoy the second goblet, and another was compelled to fight about a pinch of snuff. General Barry was challenged by a Captain Smith for declining wine at dinner on a steamboat, although the General had pleaded as an excuse that wine invariably made him sick, and Lieutenant Cowther lost his life in a duel because refused admittance to a club of pigeon shooters. In 1777 a duel occurred in New York city, between Lieutenant Featherstonehaugh, of the seventy-sixth, and Captain McPherson, of the Forty-third British Regiment, in regard to the manner of eating an ear of corn—one contending that the best eating was from the cob, and the other that the grain should be cut off from the cob before eating. Lieutenant Featherstonehaugh lost his right arm, the ball from his antagonist's pistol shattering the limb dreadfully, so that it had to be amputated. Graham, Major Noah's assistant editor on the National Advocate, lost his life in 1827, at the dueling ground at Hoboken, with Barton, the son-in-law of Edward Livingstone, in a simple dispute about "what was trumps" in a game of cards.

—This is the way one of the ladies who belong to the Atlantic Monthly's Contributors' Club remembers things: "General Forrest was buried the day my new hat came home. Hayes was inaugurated the spring I made over my old silk. Dickens died when Jennie was a baby. Lincoln was killed when Mary was creeping. The civil war broke out when Sallie was cutting her teeth. The King of Spain was born the year I was married."

A Democratic Result.

The reform democrats, who have been so economical during their Congressional power, and who have spent so much time and money in the endeavor to ascertain whether the republicans since Buchanan's day have been extravagant, rather ventured beyond their depth in the river and harbor bill, and furnished their opponents with an ample stock of campaign material which will be in good time laid before the people. The fact seems to be obvious that the average democrat thought more of his chances for plunder than of the good name and future success of his party. Such thinking men as Randall, Cox, Clymer, Hewitt and Frank Jones, who seem to supply their party in the House of Representatives with brains, which it often neglects to use, saw the effect of this wholesale, hasty, omnibus style of legislation, and hurried to avert the coming crash, by a protest against the way the measure was rushed through the House regardless of the rights of its opponents. The protest has come before the country, but whatever fact was shown by Randall and Cox, and whatever were the motives of Hewitt and Jones, whether the salvation of their party or the saving of the people's money, the unpardonable conduct of the "democratic House," after its professions of economy, its pretence to honesty, and its crying aloud and sparing not in its denunciation of the wickedness of here and there a reconstructed democrat who turned republican long enough to obtain office and steal, will be never lost sight of by the disappointed people, by whom the democracy have been "weighed in the balance and found wanting."

New Hampshire Unitarian Association.

The Spring meeting of the New Hampshire Unitarian Association will be held at the church in Manchester on Tuesday and Wednesday, the 21st and 22d days of May next. The meeting will be organized at four o'clock P. M., on Tuesday; and at 7 1-2 o'clock Dr. H. W. Bellows of New York will preach the Occasional Sermon. At nine o'clock Wednesday morning, there will be a devotional meeting for an hour; at ten o'clock the missionary work of the Association will be considered; and at 10 1-2 o'clock will be begun a discussion to last throughout the day, of the following question: "The Bible, what is it, and what is its authority and relation to modern life?" The discussion will be opened by Dr. L. T. Townsend, Professor of Theology in the Boston University, (Methodist Evangelical,) who will give the essential orthodox view of the subject; and then Dr. Bellows will follow with a presentation of the liberal conception of the Bible. In the evening of Wednesday, there will be a Grand Mass Meeting, with speeches by the members and guests of the Association, on the general theme, "Our Cause and how it can best be promoted?"

The Unitarian Parish at Manchester, one of the most vigorous societies in the State, has extended a cordial invitation to the other churches in the State to send large delegations to the meeting. The reputation of the distinguished men who are to take part in the exercises, and the celebrity of the Manchester people for cordial hospitality, will we have no doubt cause a full attendance upon the occasion, which cannot fail to prove one of peculiar interest to the people of our State.

Naval Affairs.

Rear-Admiral George Henry Preble, lately commanding the South Pacific station, and who arrived at Hampton Roads April 19th in his flagship, the Omaha, hauled down his flag on the 20th and arrived in Washington on the 22d, accompanied by Lieutenant Alexander M. Thackara, who was his aide.

Lieutenant H. Perkins, from the Boston navy yard, has been ordered to the sloop-of-war Enterprise at Norfolk, April 26th.

Commander Fitzhugh, commanding the United States sloop-of-war Monongahela, informs the Navy Department of the arrival of that vessel at Singapore, from Point de Galle, and would leave that place for Sarwank, Labuan, Manila, and Hong-Kong in a few days.

News and Notes.

The Concord and the Manchester & Lawrence Railroads pay dividends of five per cent., May 1st; the Boston & Maine, and the Boston & Providence three per cent., May 15th.

The Newburyport Herald, which is in its eighty-fifth year, has gone into its new printing house, which is sixty feet by twenty on the ground, and three stories high.

Hathaway, the high-toned thief who stole the Border City and Sagamore mills of Fall River, Mass., was arrested for the crime on the evening of Tuesday, the 23d inst., and lodged in Taunton jail in default of $100,000 bail. S. Angier Chace, who is also in jail for stealing the Union Mills, says Hathaway is a liar when he asserts that he was led away by his worthy cousin; Hathaway says Chace is a liar; and it is evident that they tell the truth about each other, however much they lied about the business affairs of the corporations they were robbing.

Gen. Curalto, who served in the Union army in our war and is now an officer in the Cuban army, states that there are quite a number of negroes in Cuba held as slaves, who were taken from the United States. The Secretary of State is to have the matter further investigated.

A case of peculiar interest to sportsmen and owners of dogs has recently been before the Boston Courts. Lucien Skinner, an owner of a valuable setter, injured a St. Bernard which made an attack on his setter. He was fined $64 for cruelty to animals, and afterwards was obliged to pay $93 in a civil suit which depended on the criminal charge.

The Newburyport Catholics, on the evening of April 23d, gave a grand send-off to their priest, Rev. A. J. Teeling, who leaves for Europe to be absent till Christmas. They crowded the City Hall, ten organizations making up a purse of $1000. There was intense enthusiasm, and at the close the hand-shaking was immense. Later in the evening Father Teeling was serenaded at his residence.

The residence of Hon. George W. Harmon, a lawyer of Bennington, Vt., was broken into by six masked men on the night of April 23d, Mr. Harmon and his wife and sister bound, and the house robbed.

Indian raiders from Mexico are reported to have killed twenty persons and stolen 150 horses on the lower Rio Grande. This is believed to be an exaggeration, but it is known that nine Texans were killed.

The President on Wednesday nominated George L. Smith to be collector of customs at New Orleans.

The Erie Railroad was on Wednesday sold under foreclosure of mortgage, Gov. Morgan being the purchaser for $6,000,000.

One of the Cambridgeport, Mass., bank robbers has been arrested, and identified by the cashier as the person who engaged him in conversation while confederates stole the money and bonds.

The Newburyport banks lose about $100,000 by the Fall River defalcations.

New Hampshire Items.

George Hamilton, the negro who confessed to the murder of Foster, at Keene, for the sake of getting out of a bad scrape at New Orleans, has been given his liberty by order of the Attorney-General, who is convinced that Hamilton was not in Keene at the time of the murder, and could not be guilty.

A very handsome Scotch granite monument, which is to be placed over the grave of the late President Smith of Dartmouth College, in Hanover, is about completed in Concord. It will cost $1000. There is also in making a very thick, heavy tablet of Italian marble, to be placed in the same cemetery at Hanover, over the grave of the late Prof. Dimond.

Political.

The last rock upon which the democracy in the House of Representatives have stranded is located in the "River and Harbor."

The Republican Congressional Committee has completed its permanent organization by electing Hon. George C. Gorham of California as Secretary.

The Boston Post says of the proposed revival of the income tax: "It bodes no special good to the country that legislation so clearly and distinctly sectional as this should be threatened now. It is even worse than sectional, for it is practically that of one class against another class; the many against the few; agrarianism but thinly disguised."

During the disorderly and indecent squabble in the House over the crowding through of the river and harbor steal without debate, a Kentucky member stated that two of the rivers in his State for which appropriations were made could only be improved by opening them as turnpikes. A Pennsylvania member said some of the so-called rivers in his State would not float a saw log at high water, and that several others would scarcely turn grist mills. One river in Minnesota has had $10,000 for a series of years; only one boat runs on it once or twice a year, and the appropriation has been regularly spent by a politician, who has had contracts for its improvement, by going along the river bed when the river is frozen, and pulling out stumps and leaving them on the ice to fall in again, for the next year's operations, whenever the so-called river opened.

This is the way the Washington Post, the democratic organ at the Capital, now talks about certain prominent democrats: "Mr. Glover's sneaks are now threatening to throw some mud on Mr. Adams, Clerk of the House. If all the democrats who happen to be obnoxious to Mr. Glover and his sneaks would plead guilty to grand larceny at once, Mr. Glover and his sneaks might find time to investigate some republican rascality." When Glover first proposed to employ a lot of discharged clerks and swindlers as aids in ferreting out something which might help the democratic party in the Congressional contest, they were respectfully referred to by the democratic press as "experts;" but they have totally failed to expose any save democratic rascals, and hence have become "sneaks."

It is announced that McLin, chairman of the Florida Returning Board, and one Dennis, a leading man in Alachua county, Florida, have confessed to certain frauds in the count of the vote of the State by which Tilden was cheated out of its electoral vote. The same despatches announce that seven indictments against Dennis and several against McLin were nol pros'd by the democrats as soon as they confessed. The confessions may be genuine, nothwithstanding the manner in which they were evidently procured; but true or false they don't amount to a row of pins now.

Too Sharp.

At an overhauling concerning quartermaster's stores, in Chicago, Gen. Macfeely, commissary-general, was upon the stand, and Gen. Banning glowered on him, questioning:

"We perceive that the forage of the assistant Q. M. General is sent to one Mrs. Carrol."

"Don't know any such lady," said the commissary-general.

"Well, here it is," said Mr. Banning, opening a big bundle of papers, and pointing out in the column of "where delivered." "Asst. Q. M. Gen's forage department at Q. Mrs. Carroll."

"Oh! I see," said Gen. Macfeely, "delivered at the quartermaster's corral."

"What?" said Banning.

"The corral, where the public horses are kept," said Gen. Macfeely, with a curious twinkle of his eye.

"Hush," said Mr. Banning. "My God! I thought that was Mrs. Carroll; don't let this get out on me."

—A lady said that this was the finest compliment which she had ever received. She was on horseback, and as she rode past an Irishman, who was standing by the roadside, she heard him say: "I wish't I was in prison for the staling ov ye."

—The new silver dollar has been slightly changed, "that bird" and the "girl" being depressed somewhat, and the dies are working better than at first, so that the later coins have a smoother and finer finish than those first turned out.

THE CITY.

The nomination of First Lieutenant G. Frank Towle, U. S. A., of this city, to be Captain in the Nineteenth Infantry, has been confirmed by the Senate.

The Lingard's at Music Hall to-night. "Heart and Crown" by the company, with Alice Dunning Lingard as Marie Stuart. Wm. Horace Lingard in his inimitable imitations.

The season is a little in advance of us in New York and Boston, where the stench incident to warm days is already a felt presence; ours is to come. What are the Fathers doing to abate it?

The "Our Boarding House" company failed for some reason to put in an appearance here on Wednesday, as advertised. They played in Manchester the previous night, and on Wednesday morning had their baggage sent to Lowell, the company following.

The river and harbor bill contains a clause for the appropriation of $4,400 for the Cocheco river, and directs the Secretary of War to cause an examination or survey, or both, and estimates of cost of improvement to be made in Portsmouth harbor and fifty other places.

Says the Boston Transcript: "It is proposed to disfigure the Piscataqua River shore by putting down a lot of unsightly fish weirs on the Kittery Point side. Let us hope a fish may never be trapped in one of them." The weirs are not only "proposed," but are already in position.

The lecture Tuesday evening by Mrs. Mattie A. Bridge, on "Florida," called out an audience which packed Mechanics' Hall. For an hour and forty minutes the lecturer held the closest attention of the company. The lecture was given under the auspices of the Odd Fellows of the city and was free.

We would call notice to the fact that the comedy "Everybody's Friend," lately given by amateurs for the benefit of the Children's Home, is, by request, to be repeated for the same charity, in Music Hall, on Monday, April 29th. Curtain to rise at 8 o'clock. Tickets 50 and 35 cents, to be obtained, with secured seats, at drugstore of J. Dwight Rundlet, on and after Thursday, 25th inst.

Prof. Warman's readings at Congress Hall, Tuesday evening, 23d inst., were listened to by a cultivated and appreciative audience large enough to fill the hall. There is no question among those who heard him that Prof. Warman is a finished elocutionist, possessing a most musical and pleasing voice which he knows how to use to the best advantage. If any persons abstained from attending from an idea that the entertainment would be a dry affair, such persons cheated themselves out of a good deal of fun, for the reader's rendering of some of his selections was mirth-provoking in the extreme.

THE SPY.

Editor Chronicle: I was much pleased with the criticism of "J. F." in regard to the Spy, because difference of opinion upon such subjects must be expected. But as one who is supposed to have studied the Scriptures "J. F." makes two or three such strange mistakes that it seems well to call attention to them. If he will look at Speaker's Commentary, just being published, and embracing the wealth of scholarship of the Church of England, or any one of the commentators of greatest authority among scholars, he will find that instead of its being "well-known" that the term "harlot" did not mean what it means now, it meant exactly that, and most naturally so when we consider the reputation of the Canaanites for immorality.

Again, it is true many who are learned and good have agreed that the proceedings of Rahab were parts of the providential arrangements for the success of the Israelites,—and so nearly all the learned and good for ages supposed the earth was flat and stationary—but a very different and much higher idea of Providence is now very rapidly obtaining among the learned and good. If any one supposes the Most High needed to employ such characters as Rahab or to commend them for the accomplishment of His designs we only regret the conception he has of the Most High.

Again, "J. F." heads his criticism with "The Spy," and closes by talking about the detective. The detective is a legally appointed policeman, the spy is not; one carries the authority and respect of the law, the other arouses the indignation and contempt of society. They are terms which carry with them the just distinctions of ages. There is all the difference between them that there is between law and lawlessness, between riot and revolution, between Rahab and the most virtuous of wives and mothers; and I regret that "J. F." should so confuse the terms as to speak of a detective when he means a spy, and trust it is not because as a clergyman he would commend the action of so unfortunate a fellow-townsman.

Most truly yours,

JAMES DE NORMANDIE.

THE EASTER CONCERT.

A small but highly appeciative and even enthusiastic audience assembled in Music Hall on Monday evening. It certainly does not speak well for the musical taste of our citizens that such an array of talent should draw so small a house; but those who did not go lost more than they knew. The concert was the very best ever given* in Portsmouth. Mr. Fries in his concerto for the 'cello only added to the very high reputation he already has. Miss Schermer's voice and appearance perfectly captivated her audience, and Mrs. Rockwood more than gratified the expectations she had aroused. Her first solo, "Heaven hath wept a tear," with Miss Schermer's "Serenade," and the trio "Vanne a coler," by Mrs. Rockwood, Miss Schermer and Mr. Kennedy, were the gems of the performance. Mr. Foote's playing was the finest it was ever our good fortune to listen to here, and Mr. Hay in his bass solos was enthusiastically encored. We only hope that Mrs. Rockwood will be induced to return here at some future time, and we predict for her a great success in her chosen profession. Her voice is peculiarly sweet and full on its higher notes, of great volume and purity always. We must not omit to mention Miss Schirmer's "Salvator Rosa" also as a great hit, and well deserving the encore it received.

MUSIC.

[* Note. The concert referred to was certainly a very fine one, and our correspondent may be correct in saying it "was the very best ever given" here; but the old city was settled a good many years ago—long before we can remember—and there are records of very high-class concerts here in years gone by.—Ed.]

THE VICINITY.

The Senate has confirmed the appointment of Edward A. Bragdon as collector of customs at York.

Notices were posted in the mills of the Newmarket Manufacturing Company on Wednesday, April 24th, announcing a reduction of wages from five to fifteen per cent., to take effect April 29th.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post says: "Reports have reached here of a strong and increasing opposition in the republican party to the nomination of Representative Reed of the First Maine District. The principal defection is said to be in the York district, and the main cause of it is alleged to be Reed's affiliation with the Blaine-Hamlin wing and his bitter hostility to the Administration. Another cause of dissatisfaction is found in his disposition of the patronage of the Kittery navy yard. A storm of indignation is pictured from that cause alone, and he is promised a fierce denunciation from the adjoining towns, to say nothing of having to carry the handicap of the epithet catspaw and tool of Blaine and Hamlin." We do not know how Mr. Reed disposes of the patronage of the Kittery navy yard, but feel safe in saying that his affiliation with Mr. Blaine will not hurt his prospects any. The Post correspondent is reliable on everything but politics, but he is too good a democrat to let any such trifle as the truth stand in the way of his making a point against a republican. Perhaps Mr. Reed's able speech in opposition to the gift by Congress of a large sum to that leading school of secession, William and Mary College of Virginia, has something to do with the reports of opposition to his renomination.

Strange Lightning Freaks.

Last Saturday night a tremendous thunder storm passed over the southerly part of the town of Barnstead, and at the house of Mr. Samuel Pitman the lightning played the strangest sort of havoc. It was in the dead of night when everybody was in bed and asleep. The lightning struck Pitman's house and the thunder made a terrible noise. Mr. Pitman and his wife slept on the first floor, and after the loudest peal of thunder, the first thing they knew was the dumping of a mass of stuff which proved to be about a couple of bushels of brick and mortar, down upon their bed, nearly burying them in the debris. Mr. Pitman thought he saw an opening out through the top of the house, and it is said that as he is what is religiously known as a Second Adventist, he thought the Lord had come sure. He jumped out of bed upon what he supposed was, or ought to be, the floor, but he landed instantly heels over head, at the bottom of the cellar. He was badly scared, and as soon as he could get right end up he commenced to pray and sister Pitman did the same. Others in the house had got round by this time and as soon as their senses were in working order, they began to reconnoitre the premises, and discovered what the electric fiend had been about. The lightning either struck the chimney or the roof of the house in such a manner as to cut the building in two right down through the centre, and spread the two halves apart so as to let the light down through to the cellar. The wall plates and sills were cut square off, and the boarding was stripped and scattered in all directions. When Pitman jumped out of bed he went down through the opening made by the lightning into the cellar, and no wonder he thought his time had come. He received some not very bad bruises by his fall and the dump of brick from the chimney top. His wife also was slightly bruised. Aside from these little incidents, nobody was hurt. The house was not set on fire, but it was made into a two-tenement concern, instead of one, with one end of each left open for ventilation. It was a narrow chance, and would be somewhat ludicrous were it not so solemn.—Dover Democrat, April 23d.

A New Fishing Ground.

Schooner Notice, Capt. Knud Markuson, of this port, sails to-day on a mackereling voyage to the North Sea, in which waters Capt. Markuson expects to secure a cargo. The schooner carries a crew of eleven men, and is provided with both seines and hand lines, it being intended to employ either method which may be used to the best advantage. Capt. Markuson is well versed in the locality, having fished on these banks when a young man, and most of his crew are acquainted with the grounds. The waters of the North Sea are said to be a favorite ground for mackerel, while the nearness of the markets on the English and Norwegian coasts presents an opportunity for the sale of the fish, both fresh and salted. Should it be found impracticable to dispose of the fish on these shores, it is intended to bring the cargo to this port. This is an entirely new departure for our fishing fleet to take, and should it prove as successful as is hoped, the example will doubtless be followed by other vessels in coming years. The schooner is expected to be absent about five months, but a short time longer than the usual Bank trip, and the signs are propitious for a prosperous voyage.—Cape Ann Bulletin.

Worrying Away a Minister.

We have been asked, with no reference to any particular case, but as a question of practical interest where disaffection may exist toward a pastor: "What steps are proper to take with a view to the pastoral relationship, when a change is felt to be desirable?" The question is a very delicate one, and prudence prompts us to treat it negatively rather than positively. It is a sad fact that such cases as the question refers to generally reveal a lamentable want of Christian honor and courtesy. Very often a few murmurers conspire to spread disaffection and secretly persist in their efforts to alienate the affections and confidence of other members of the church from the pastor, until an opposition is created too formidable for himself and his friends to resist, and discovering this, there is no alternative for him but to resign. In other cases, a small number of self-important men constitute themselves judges of the situation, and, in spite of the very general satisfaction of the church and congregation with the minister, make bold to express to him their conviction that "the best interests of the cause demanded a change in the pastorate."

In not a few instances, estimating the fitness of a pastor from the income of the church, he falls under the ban of the trustees, who, from financial considerations, venture to suggest that his ministry is not a "success" and that they are not able "to raise the salary," and who, with refined cruelty, resort to "the starving out process," and withhold their own contributions in order to make sure their own prophecies of disaster.

The same end is not infrequently attempted by absenteeism and a manifest indifference in the services of the church, all designed to advertise their disaffection, and dishearten the pastor by creating an atmosphere in which he will find it unpleasant, if not impossible, to exist.

By such means, and by many others equally dishonorable, the attempt is often made to worry away a pastor, and when through such devices, the end is accomplished, the consequences generally prove to be detrimental. Such wrong doing is almost sure to result in heart burnings and strife that engender discords and entail reproaches on the church which it requires long years to remove.—Baptist Weekly.

—An editor narrowly escaped having his pocket picked of $16,000 in a crowd in Philadelphia last week. Household Words.

The intrinsic merit of Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have made their names household words throughout this and other countries. As the hand stretched forth in peril to rescue, is to the saved an object of life-long gratitude, so those having been cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Medicines write of their undying thankfulness. Are you afflicted with catarrh, cold in the head, or hay fever?? If so, try Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Is the most soothing and healing remedy known. It numbers its absolute cures by th usands. Are you afflicted with bronchitis, consumption, scrofulous tumors, bunches, or eruptions? If so, try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is the best tonic, alterative, and resolvent medicine known. By reason of its superior merit, it has, to a great extent, superseded the pulmonary syrups, sarsaparillas, and tonics, in the market. It will not disappoint you. Ladies suffering with diseases and weaknesses peculiar to their sex, will find prompt and positive relief by using Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. No Family Medicines have attained the celebrity, and successfully held the field, year after year, against competing manufacturers, as have Dr. Pierce's. Could any better evidence be asked by the most skeptical?

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Sprains, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Collevil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '76.
Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children whose the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for stable use. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tawgl

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become a household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. Itself makes the most effectual cures of Coughs Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has only robbed disease of its dangerous attacks of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by its timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction and Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that conclusively thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's 8 ordinary Medicines have outstripped all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
Rockport, Mass., April 2, 1877.
Mr. Editor:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers there dollar problem would be off hand if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached never my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 36 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventeen hours of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with comfort and success. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Chologogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, dispirited, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who o substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

10 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used every thing in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) tried ——— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully, D. W. GRAY, M. D.,

Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes, in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membranes is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from these cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fail into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Phonograph.

It happened that Mrs. Barstinglow was going down to Keokuk for a few days, and Mr. Barstinglow was inconsolable. At one time he protested that she should not go; he could not endure the lonesome house during her absence. And then again, he declared that if she must go, he would neglect his office, and let his business go to the bow wows, and he would go with her. At length, however, she persuaded him to be reasonable, and on her repeated assurance that she would not remain away longer than three days, he consented to let her go. He even bought her ticket, and ordered the carriage and paid for it two days ahead, lest his resolution should give way and he should forbid her going from him. And from that time till the morning of her departure Mr. Barstinglow spoke in subdued tones, and moved about with the air of a man whose heart was buried under mountains of grief.

Before she left the house, Mrs. Barstinglow set the phonograph in the sitting room, behind the clock. Then she kissed her disconsolate husband, and begged him to preserve his precious life for her sake while she was away, and then she was gone.

Every day, during her three days' visit in the Gate City, she received a letter from her mourning husband, begging her to come back and telling her how lonesome he was without her, and how like a grave the empty house seemed, and how the hours dragged over his aching heart with leaden feet. And in three days she came home, and filled the solemn house with sunlight and laughter again. The evening after her return to Burlington, she took down the phonograph.

"I wonder," she said, "what we said last in its hearing? It must have been something while we were discussing my visit. Or may be it has caught some of your poor, longing moanings while I was away."

And then she turned the crank.

"No," croaked the phonograph, in tones of hearty reassurance, "no danger of that; she's safe in Keokuk for three days; saw her safely off, myself, this morning. Light your cigar while I light another lamp and make the room look cheerful."

"Why," exclaimed Mrs. Barstinglow, in a countenance of amazement, "what on earth is it saying?"

"Oh, some nonsense some of your visitors have talked into it some time or other," replied her husband, nervously, "people talk all kinds of stuff into a phonograph, you know. They say anything for talk."

Mrs. Barstinglow, looking only half convinced, gave the crank another little turn.

"This is good whiskey, Barsty," ejaculated the machine, very earnestly. "You don't get it in Burlington, do you?"

Mrs. Barstinglow gave a shriek.

"My dear," said her husband, looking now quite as worried as he had looked when he was begging her not to go to Keokuk, "put it away; somebody has had it out in the stable, and it might say something perfectly shocking, you know. Put it away."

But Mrs. Barstinglow, upon whom the spirit of investigation had descended with great power, ground away, and the phonograph, in a voice marvellously like her husband's, went remorselessly on.

"Not much; they don't make this kind now. It's some old Monongahela, copper distilled, that Mrs. Barstinglow's mother gave her for medicinal purposes three years ago. Fill up, there's plenty of it, and I can replace it with any kind of beverage when it's gone. The old girl won't know the difference."

Mrs. Barstinglow felt herself turning to stone, but the next turn of the crank brought out an uprearious—

"Ha, ha, ha! Here's to the o. g!"

That fanned her cheeks into a flame.

"For mercy's sake, Malachi Barstinglow," she shrieked, "what does this mean?"

Mr. Barstinglow now looked as though he really did wish she had never gone to Keokuk.

"It's just as I tell you," he said, with an effort to look unconcerned that was like a humorous book, a colossal success, so far as its utter failure was concerned. "Somebody has been talking all sorts of nonsense into it just for talk's sake. How else could it get hold of such dreadful stuff in our dear little home, lovey?"

Mrs. Barstinglow didn't say, but she turned away and the phonograph asked carelessly.

"Throw round for the deal!"

She thought she would faint but she didn't, and the pitiless machine proceeded to remark, with a variety of voices.

"It's my age." "You'll have to straddie that blind if you come in." "Give me two cards." "Chip one." "I'll see your little one and raise you a couple." "Push the bottle this way, Ben." "Ain't you going to stay in, Harry?" "Can't stay in on a pair of sixes." "Call you." "Two small pair. Tens and deuces." "Take the pot." "Barsty, get us something to eat. Old girl left the cupboard keys, didn't she?" "Yes; told her I was going to keep bach at home, to save expenses and keep out of bad company." "Ha, ha, ha!! Ho! ho! ho!!!"

"Oh!" yelled Mr. Barstinglow, unable to contain himself any longer, while his wife, more dead than alive, leaned over the phonograph, and ground away at the crank, in a dazed kind of way, "Oh, keep it up! That's right! Keep her agoing! Grind it all out! Confound the diabolical piece of black art and the vile assassin that invented it. Keep it up! That's right! Believe a senseless diabolical piece of monstrous mechanism rather than your husband. Keep her agoing. Keep it up!"

And Mrs. Barstinglow did keep it up. She kept it up and listened to that phonograph swear and shout and howl; she heard it shriek, "Oh! my eye, my eye!" She heard it warn somebody to "hold his head over the stove hearth, and not let his nose bleed on the carpet," and at last, as it assured her very thickly and with some difficulty, that it was "a ban' of jorry goot fuf-fellows," and that it "won'-hic won' g' ome till morning," she ground it into silence, and sank back, speechless and breathless, while Mr. Barstinglow took the phonograph out into the back yard and smashed it into so many and such small fragments that it couldn't reproduce even a steamboat whistle.

And now, when people go over to the Barstinglow's to spend a pleasant evening, and say, "What have you done with the phonograph, Mr. Barstinglow?" it affords the visitors entertainment for the rest of the evening to study the different expressions which creep over the faces of Mr. and Mrs. Barstinglow, while Mr. Barstinglow, as he answers the question, thinks he would give ten thousand dollars if he could find out how the members of the Paragrapher's Association tell lies so easily and make them sound so marvellously like the truth.—Burlington Hawkeye.

Daily Chronicle

FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1878.

Montgomery Blair's Fiasco.

The Herald's Washington correspondents have canvassed the Senate and House of Representatives in relation to Montgomery Blair's bill, to allow the quo warranto proceedings in the Supreme Court to test the President's title to his office. The result shows 256 members of both Houses opposing the project, and but a meagre few in its favor. The sentiments of the New Hampshire delegation are reported as follows:

Senator Wadleigh is opposed, and says: "It is a settled question and does not enter into the probable issues or subjects for legislation. It cannot be investigated, reopened or agitated. It does not require a judicial or a legislative opinion; and, briefly, let well enough alone."

Senator Rollins believes exactly as the rest of his republican friends—that the whole business is a piece of humbug and never will be seriously considered.

Frank Jones, opposed: "Nothing will be done with it this session, and the sooner it is removed from political consideration the better it will be for the peace of the country and the good of the democratic party."

James F. Briggs: "In the first place, the House is not disposed to resurrect the subject, and in my opinion bill and resolutions will be buried in the Judiciary Committee room."

Henry W. Blair will vote against it, and says: "I can't see what good could come of it. Before they could get thro' with the investigation proposed by the bill the next President would be ready to be inaugurated."

Senator Blaine, of Maine, is opposed to the bill, and quotes the resolution incorporated in the platform of the Maine Republican Convention last summer, denouncing all attempts to reopen the Presidential question as revolutionary, of which resolution he was the author.

Senator Conkling, as usual, declines to say anything, but as Congress gets on without his opinions of late, it is perhaps of no consequence. A fair specimen of the democratic sentiment may be learned from the reply of Mr. Leopold Morse, member for one of the Boston districts, who is opposed to the proceeding, and says "I am sick and tired of this everlasting ding-dong about the Presidency. I do not want to hear the subject mentioned again. What I do want is peace and quiet." Such an unmistakable current of sentiment would convince any man but Blair of his folly.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.

The Potomac river fishing season usually begins the last of March and ends about the 1st of May, averaging between five and six weeks duration. Many not yet arrived at life's meridian remember how 200,000 herrings and sturgeon, rock-fish, cat-fish, perch, taylors, shad and other varieties in like proportion, were often taken at one haul of the nets along the fishing shores of our river and Chesapeake Bay. Then herring could be bought at 25 cts. per 100 and 6 1-4 cts. was thought an extravagant price for a pair of the largest shad. The yield frequently so far exceeded the supply of salt for curing purposes that hundreds of cart loads of fish were left where landed to rot and aggravate the type of malarial disease prevailing the year through in the tide-water regions of Maryland and Virginia, even after the adjacent farmers had drawn away for manure as many as they would, without money or price. Many species now eagerly sought after at a high price in the markets, were then rejected as wholly unfit for human food, even by the slave population, not usually over fastidious. Adjoining waters were equally prolific. But the waste increased relatively with the improved appliances and methods taken for an abundant catch. With the system now in vogue only a small proportion of the schools of fish that annually strive to reach the spawning grounds on the upper Potomac, escape the traps set for their capture every few rods for a hundred miles. The result is as has long been anticipated, viz., a growing scarcity, more marked each year until the present. It is said hardly a lessee of any of the shores will come out even this season unless the catch for the remaining few days proves exceptionally abundant. The same complaint reaches us from rivers north and south of us; and unless the two States named promptly interfere by appropriate legislation to put a stop to the waste, the supply of fish food from our rivers and bays must soon become wholly extinct.

Some statements of Senator Blaine at the recent tariff demonstration at Chester, Pa., are significant and of common interest to every American citizen. After referring to the strides we have taken within the past twenty years in settling new States and Territories, the resulting increase of agricultural products; to the line of railroad we have stretched across the continent and to the system of anastomosing tracks running in every direction and giving almost every considerable community railroad facilities; to the extent and variety of manufactures developed within that time, he proceeds to show that in the matter of our merchant marine we have been reduced within the two decades from the foremost rank we occupied in 1857 to the condition of an inland nation, without sea coast or navigable rivers. At the date first named American built bottoms transported $700,000,000 worth of our products to foreign markets, while the remaining $300,000,000 was carried in foreign bottoms. Now it is almost completely reversed, the tendencies all being toward a further decadence at our expense. He dates its beginning with the panic of 1857; and we had only begun to recover when the war and British pirates did the rest. No change in our favor has since been possible because of the rapid substitution of the sailing vessel by the steamship, which could be much more cheaply produced in foreign than in American yards, and which had a further advantage in the subsidy policies of nearly all foreign maritime governments.

The Senate has voted to adjourn May 10th, but the House refuses; and it is predicted that it Mr. Wood can commit a majority of the latter to his tariff readjustment schemes, no adjournment is likely before August. Hardly any of the large appropriation bills have yet been reported to the House. Among them are the Legislative, Executive and Judicial bill and the Army bill, either of which may consume a full month in the struggle over them between the House and Senate. It also seems certain that many Southern and Western members will insist upon the enactment of some sort of an income tax law. Democrats appear to have grown less timid about the Blair ouster business and an increasing number seem to show a willingness to champion it through the House, so that it may also prove a source of delay.

The sensation over the World's publication of the substance of several alleged interviews with Senator Conkling has calmed down, leaving a permanent impression with many that though it is chiefly guess work, there is no reason to suspect that it very materially misrepresents the Senator's sentiments towards the administration. KNOX.

An Immense Cargo.

The steamship Hooper, which is the largest British vessel that ever visited Boston, has sailed for Liverpool with a cargo comprising 285 live cattle, 450 live pigs, 146,000 bushels grain, 2000 bales cotton, 600 tons oat meal, 300 tons flour in sacks, 2500 barrels flour, 130 tons oil cake, 300 tons provisions, 60 tons castor oil, and other merchandize, the aggregate dead weight of the whole being 5800 tons. The cattle and pigs are carried on the upper deck, which has been covered over to protect the animals from the weather.

Congress.

The House on Wednesday passed the Pacific Railroads funding bill as it came from the Senate, by a vote of 243 to two. A bill providing that the hailing place of any American vessel may be the place where she was built or the owner resides, was passed. The Senate amendments to the naval appropriation bill were considered and part of them concurred in; the bill was then sent to a committee of conference. The bill to repeal the bankrupt act was discussed, and action set for Thursday; it appeared probable that as received from the Senate it would be amended, making the bill take effect immediately as to involuntary bankruptcy, and on the first of January, 1879, as to voluntary bankrupts.

The ways and means committee of the House has voted to report in favor of an income tax, and to have it go into effect in 1879. That is as far as the committee has gone so far, but there is a prospect now that a uniform rate of taxation will be decided upon for all incomes over $2,000, instead of a sliding scale. The western and southern men refuse to be comforted unless they can have an income tax to "hit" the eastern people. They want free whiskey and tobacco for themselves and income taxes for the East, and then they will consider the country safe, and their re-elections by their grateful constituents assured.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. Alexander M. Thackara is detached from the U. S. S. Omaha and ordered home and wait orders. Chief Engineer Albert Aston is detached from the Omaha.

Lieut. Walter Goodwin is detached from the U. S. S. Enterprise, and placed on waiting orders. Lieut. Gottfried Blocklinger is ordered to the Enterprise.

The U. S. ships Wyoming and Constellation, with goods for the Paris Exposition, both arrived at Havre, France, April 23d.

The European Troubles.

A Turkish corvette has been lost off the Kilia mouth of the Danube, and ninety men drowned.

Gortschakoff and Bismarck are both reported as seriously ill.

It is announced that Italy will support England conditionally.

London papers say "it is feared the whole of Bulgaria may fall again into anarchy, rapine and blood-thirsty reprisals. The Mussulmans are goaded to despair by the tyranny of their former victims. The country is full of refugees from scattered armies and disbanded garrisons of Turks. These form the nucleus of the insurrection, and they are joined by the inhabitants of Mussulman villages, and carry on a guerilla warfare against the native Christians and Russian troops. Thus, though peace is nominally established in the East, anarchy reigns in Bulgaria, as it did before the war. The insurgents are not fighting for Turkey against Russia, but, as they say, are fighting only for their lives and honor. The Russian troops are the only organized force in the country, and the task of repression of the disturbances falls on them."

News and Notes.

Alfred H. Thorn, who shot and killed Major Sidney Pitts, at Eastville, Northampton county, Virginia, a few weeks ago and was himself severely wounded by Pitts, has been tried, and acquitted on the ground of self-defence. This was the murderous street fight which was at the time called a "duel."

A dispatch from Richmond, Ky., says an encounter occurred between some roughs and the members of a circus. The roughs attacked the attaches of the circus to break it up, but met a determined resistence. One of them was killed and three were wounded.

The house of Rev. H. H. Martin, in Fall River, Mass., was entered Monday night, while the family were attending Conference, and ransacked except the barrel of sermons.

Money orders are cashed in gold if desired by the holders, when presented at the San Francisco post-office.

With one exception, the largest single entry of sugar ever made at the Boston custom house was made on Tuesday. The sugar weighed 2,606,044 pounds, and the duties amounted to $71,257.29.

A Higganum, Conn., couple have been twice separated by law, and were recently married for the third time.

New Hampshire Items.

George L. Smith, nominated by the President for collector of customs at New Orleans, is a New Hampshire man who served through the war in the Union army, and at its close settled in Louisiana. His appointment satisfies all the republican factions of the State.

Frank Foss of Pittsfield was thrown from his wagon by his horse running away, Wednesday, and his neck was broken.

Information from republicans in Louisiana tends to throw some light upon part of the alleged frauds unearthed by Mr. Glover in connection with the Morrison committee. A large number of republicans were summoned and kept waiting many days before being examined, and when finally called, Denovan, acting Sergeant-at-Arms of the committee, had them surrender their subpœnas, and paid them only for the time they were actually before the committee. The surrendered subpœnas would, however, answer for vouchers for $3 per day from their date to their discharge. The charge is that witnesses were swindled in this way out of $80 each.

Political.

The New York Express says on Tuesday a gold bar from Montana, valued at $54,000, was received in New York city by Messrs. Kountze Bros. This is the most valuable gold bar ever received from that territory.

And now the Southern Methodist Publication Society, a concern which furnished the religious foundation of the rebellion, and afterwards turned over its buildings and machinery to the rebels to make war material with, is before Congress asking for reimbursement for damages received at the hands of the Union soldiers, when they captured it from the pious traitors who had made it a Confederate stronghold. All good Methodists, North, are asked to pray for the success of the proposed steal.

The alleged confessions of McLin and Dennis seem to have fallen as flat on the political world as Mrs. Tilton's did on the newspaper world. True or false, very few persons appear to care about either.

The Sandusky (Ohio) Register claims to have the best authority for the statement that Speaker Randall has written to prominent democrats in that State that it is of the utmost importance that the Legislature thereof should redistrict the State in order that more democrats may be elected, the indications being that the republicans will carry the next House.

Ex-Gov. E. A. Straw, for many years managing agent of the Amoskeag Manufacturing Company, returned to Manchester on Wednesday from a six weeks' southern trip, much improved in health. In relation to the Fall River troubles he says the half has not yet been told, and that new and startling developments may be expected. Some months ago Gov. Straw predicted the downfall of several Fall River establishments. Very little, if any, of Hathaway's dishonored paper is held in Manchester, and only $2000 of stock in the Sagamore mills, held by N. S. Clark and Alfred Quimby.

THE CITY.

Two new dry goods stores, and a confectionery and news stand, are to open in this city in a few days.

The members of the Heavy Artillery will contest for the Day gold medal on Thursday evening, May 9th.

The work on the body of the Ticonderoga, on the railway at the navy yard, is in a good state of forwardness, and she will be put in the water about the middle of May.

The steam yacht of Mr. Stevenson, designed to run from Eliot, Portsmouth and Kittery, to accommodate workmen and writers at the navy yard, is at Neal's shipyard in Kittery being prepared for the service.

Citizens desiring to peruse the City Accounts for 1877 are notified to call at the City Clerk's office, the printed statements being now ready for distribution. They will not be distributed at the houses of citizens this year.

Mr. Geo. E. Hanson has disposed of his stock of drugs and medicines to Dr. Wm. R. Preston, and his lease and fixtures to Mr. Joseph F. Berry, who will remove his stock of goods into the store formerly occupied by Mr. Hanson.

Gen. Neal Dow, of Portland, the great apostle of temperance, will deliver a lecture in Franklin Hall on Monday evening, April 29th, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance League. The usual small fee will be charged, to defray actual expenses.

By an explosion of gas in the chimney of the steam-engineering brass-foundry at the navy yard, Thursday, a piece of iron was blown from the top of the chimney down through the heavy slated roof of the building. The damage done is supposed to be trifling; but the gang of men who had during the day, up to a few minutes before the explosion, been working in the immediate vicinity, may consider themselves lucky that they were eating their dinner at the time, as had any of them been in the way of the piece of iron the result would have been unpleasant.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, April 25th; Batchelder, J.

There was only one sinner before the Court—Joseph B. Watson, who had been discovered with one drunk in his possession. He was assessed $9.90.

THE OWNERSHIP OF APPLEDORE.

The title to Hog island, otherwise known as Appledore, one of the Isles of Shoals and next to Smuttynose island, has been brought in question. The State of Maine notify the Messrs. Leighton, who occupy this island, that it has had an offer for the island, also notifying the gentlemen named to appear at Augusta today and prove their title. M. A. Safford of Kittery appears for the Messrs. Leighton, and Rollins of Portsmouth for other parties. The Messrs. Leighton have occupied this island since about 1851 and have upon it a fine summer hotel—one of the best in that section. Their property there is estimated to be worth $250,000. They possess their title through descendants of Samuel Haley, who received his title from the Massachusetts colonial legislature. The case is one of great moment, and the result will be awaited with much interest.—Biddeford Times, April 23d.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

A request that the grade of Pleasant street be improved in front of Nos. 40 and 42, and that the sidewalk be extended to Livermore street, was referred to committee on streets.

Petition for repairs on Water street was referred to committee on streets to report. Same disposition of petition for repairs on North street.

Henry F. Gerrish petioned for repair of sidewalk in front of his store. Accepted and adopted.

City Solicitor gave notice that suit of Alvin H. Emery against the city has been decided by referee in favor of plaintiff, and award made of $100 and costs. The Mayor was authorized to settle the matter according to referee's decision.

Committee on claims reported that Miss Lizzie Sherwood, who fell on the ice in front of Frank Jones' office on Market street last winter, made a claim of $20 for medical attendance, etc., and recommended its payment. Voted that the bill be paid.

Same committee reported on claim of John A. Hammond, (for ducks killed by dogs,) recommending that he be paid at a fair valuation. Accepted. Voted that he be allowed one dollar for each duck—$5 in all.

Bill of Charles W. Gardner for printing city accounts was ordered to be paid.

Subject of printing health regulations was referred to committee on printing.

Committee on streets recommended that petition of J. W. and W. A. Peirce for stone sidewalk on Court street be granted, the expense not to exceed that of a brick sidewalk, the city to pay half the cost. Adopted.

Committee on drains recommended that a survey be made to determine the difference of grade between Cabot street sewer and Mr. Hart's. Recommitted to same committee, with power.

Same committee recommended that drain on Madison street be dug out, and they were empowered to have it done.

B. F. Webster requested building of drain on McDonough street, he offering to pay half the cost. Voted that the city build the sewer, and all parties who wish have the privilege to enter it.

The report of committee awarding land damages for proposed road on north side of south pond, was taken from the table. Voted that the part relating to building of fences be stricken out. After some desultory skirmishing around the matter, the Board adjourned without doing anything definite.

SUPREME COURT.

On Wednesday the case of State vs. Absalom Hazelton of Windham, for alleged obstruction of a highway in that town, was given to the jury, who returned a verdict of guilty.

The case of Simon Rowell against the Boston & Maine Railroad, a suit for $6000 damages by the burning of a lumber mill at Newton Junction, August 18th, 1873, claimed to have caught fire from sparks from a locomotive, was commenced. This was first given to referees and decided in favor of Rowell. It was then tried by a jury two years ago. At that time a verdict was given for the railroad company.

THE VICINITY.

A Biddeford lady has found a use for dogs. She has taught her large Newfoundland to carry her train.

Edward Sutherland, of Biddeford, a young man of excellent family connections, was arrested on Thursday and in default of bail committed to jail to await trial on a charge of forgery.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Newmarket National Bank, Joseph C. Burley, Esq., of Epping, was chosen President to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hon. William B. Small.

Dennis M. Shapleigh, Esq., Representative from Kittery in the Maine Legislature, has presented the Kittery Public Library with a copy of "The Water-Power of Maine," being a report by the Superintendent of the Hydrographic Survey of the State.

The striking weavers at Dover are gradually leaving town to go to work in other places, every train taking more or less of them. The overseers have been endeavoring to induce some of the girls to return to work. They have hired some outside help, in hopes to be able to start one of their mills.—Post.

Hon. George William Burleigh, of Great Falls, a well-known member of the Strafford county bar, died Thursday from the result of a shock of paralysis two months since. He was a graduate of Dartmouth College, class of '51, and was well-known throughout New England, owing to his connection with the Great Falls Manufacturing Company, as agent of the mills for many years, retiring from that position about four years ago. His age was forty-eight years.

The Grave of Mr. Lyon.

We have often been asked why the body of the late John E. Lyon was taken to Portsmouth for burial. It is a question which we cannot answer. It seemed to us that it would have been far better to have built the tomb of the great railroad manager somewhere along the line of the road which was the creature of his genius, the child of his affection, and the pride of his life. And, if it had been given to him to have selected his last resting place, we have no doubt he would have pointed to the beautiful valley of the Pemigewasset, or some place among the magnificent mountains. In that section nearly every sign of life, progress, and prosperity is a tribute to his memory, and there was probably no part of earth which he loved so well. His native town, in Massachusetts, might have been justified in claiming his remains, but, if they were to come to New Hampshire, it seems that they should have been laid to rest in some northern cemetery. We presume, however, that those having charge of the matter had reasons not known to the public, for their decision.—Manchester Mirror.

The reason of the interment here was, doubtless, in respect to the wishes of the deceased to be buried beside the remains of the lady to whom in his younger days he was betrothed.

But there is, perhaps, in the absence of directions to this effect, a fitness in having the manager laid away elsewhere than on the line of the railroad he was interested in and to which he devoted so much labor, for when the last trump shall sound and there comes an anxious rush for the celestial city, there is no calculating how many there are on the line between Manchester and Wells River who would from sheer force of habit be coming round for a free pass to Paradise, to which they might not be entitled.

We would call notice to the fact that the comedy "Everybody's Friend," lately given by amateurs for the benefit of the Children's Home, is, by request, to be repeated for the same charity, in Music Hall, on Monday, April 29th. Curtain to rise at 8 o'clock. Tickets 50 and 35 cents, to be obtained, with secured seats, at drugstore of J. Dwight Rundlet, on and after Thursday, 25th inst.

THE DIALOGUE OF BRICKBATS

IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The Goddess of Liberty turned black with dismay
At thoughts of moving our Capital away;
But Washington's statue said, "if the building had went I'd had a chance to see my monument."
The winds bore it to the monument, and is reply it said,
"If the view was unobstructed, you'd turn exceeding red
To see these once white sides—purity's emblematic hue—
So like my feelings streaked with veins of blue;
To think of all that has for me been done;
The church presented me a beauteous stone,
Chief of the corner, (rejected by the builders) and now that's gone;
The people on me gifts enough did shower,
To build me higher than the celebrated Babel tower;
To rear brick buildings in our very sight, 'tis told
That Washington's memory is priced, and even sold."
Then the marble Father of our Country bade the monument to hush,
And sighing said, "the guards surrounding me are black, or they would blush."
Then the sable Goddess from aloft, to the monument and George responds:
"'You blocks, you stones, you worse than senseless things;'
They're shackled me, and commerce, and the arm of industry,
And even put the nation under bonds."

NATH'L J. COFFIN.

—Some Waterbury men chipped in and bought of its owner an obnoxious dog, and had him killed. The owner found the carcass and got a dollar bounty for it, with which he bought another dog.

—Mrs. M'Luckie; "Why, Donald, you told me yesterday that you were going to sign the temperance pledge." Donald; "Yes, ma'am, I went to the Temperance hall, and found that there was no vacancy till the end of the year."

—A Kansas schoolma'am has introduced a new feature in her school. When one of the girls misses a word, the boy who spells it gets permission to kiss her. As a result, the girls are becoming very poor spellers, while the boys are improving.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing, how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Sprains, and any fresh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tmag1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready relief of the first alarm of these dangers. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and Northwest, without one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns. tdeb30 79

FALL RIVER LINE, BETWEEN
BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and in Most Wonderful
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" for Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.
Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.
New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Train.
BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated, beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while their aggregate yearly profits up the several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" manufacturers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh, the nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up large so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can appreciate the intense pain, or the a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way to reach cases with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers; Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections, Coughs, Colds, Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. His Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Jaundice, or Old Liver Complaint; and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and ugly affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potassa and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Bowels, and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried —— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son, Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and clouded condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 250 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

C. E. MYERS & CO.,
No. 2 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

A Curious Story of Thirty Years Ago.

The Journal of Commerce having answered an inquiry regarding perpetual motion, with a statement that many years ago a machine, moved by gravitation, was deposited by the inventor in its office for examination; that it was kept there until the editor was satisfied that it was not a humbug, and that as other people believed that it was a humbug, the inventor was arrested and his machine was split up in open Court, when its genuineness was fully demonstrated, a reporter called on Mr. David M. Stone, the editor of the Journal of Commerce, for further particulars of this remarkable story.

"It was nearly thirty years ago" said Stone, "that the inventor came to the office. The old man—he was, I believe, nearly eighty years old—told me that he had a perpetual-motion machine, and showed and explained to me his machine. It was a wooden cylinder about three inches in diameter and 18 inches long, with a steel wire running through it, on which it revolved as an axis. Projecting from this cylinder at a right angle to it, or nearly so, were four or six arms. These arms were hollow and were about like this."

And Mr. Stone drew a figure like this:

"These arms were hollow, and in each one was a little ball. Now you see, that when the arm is inclined ever so little downward the ball will roll to the point A, and as the cylinder turns, propelled by the weight of the ball, the ball will roll down to the point B before the arm comes up and reaches a horizontal position on the other side. Thence it will presently roll to C and then to D. So, you see, with six of these arms in position, the balls (which represent the weight) were continually about an inch further out on the right side than on the left, and when at C or D, since the arms were set a little into the cylinder, balanced the weight of the arms themselves. The machine was, therefore, always a little heavier on one side than it was on the other, and consequently the cylinder would always revolve. The arms were not rigidly fixed to the cylinder, but were so attached that they had a little—a very little—play up and down, and to each arm was applied a spring that was so adjusted that it helped the motion of the ball a trifle, just at the right point. I do not recollect the machine well enough to describe the adjustment of these springs exactly.

The whole thing was connected by some ratchet work with a pendulum that swung slowly and served to regulate the movement, and, if I recollect aright, the swing of the pendulum was also of some assistance in the motion of the cylinder itself by carrying it past the centre. At first I thought, of course, that there must be a spring concealed in it somewhere, but after I had by talking with the old man convinced myself that he was sincere, I got him to leave the machine with me, and I locked it up in a room, and still it went. An account of it was published, and a great many people came to see it, and the papers all over the country took it up. Everybody was interested, of course, and there was a great amount of talk about it. Hardly anybody believed in it, but in the meantime the machine kept running. I kept it locked up a considerable time—two or three weeks, or perhaps four—to satisfy myself that no one had a chance to wind up any spring that might be concealed in it, but it went right along.

There was a curious thing about the way it ran, which as much as anything else, convinced me that there was no spring in it. If you disconnected the pendulum gearing, and stopped the machine, and then let it alone it would begin to move very slowly indeed, and go on faster and faster until it lost its power. By looking at the sketch again you will see that when it went rapidly the centrifugal force would keep the balls at the point, so that there would be no difference in the weight of the arms. Then it would run merely by the force of its own momentum, going slower and slower until it would almost stop. Then it would begin to work properly again and go on for a time with increasing speed, and then slacken up as before, and so on."

This is Mr. Stone's description of the machine. The rest of his talk with the reporter was in regard to its fate and that of its inventor which he says to have been as follows:

The old man attempted to exhibit the machine somewhere in New Jersey, and was arrested and brought into court, where all that he could be made to say was, "I have been studying and working on this thing almost forty years, and all I can say is that it does go around and there is no spring in it!" The judge then broke the machine open, found that there was no spring in it, and discharged the old man, who picked up the fragments of his machine, went home and soon afterward died broken-hearted.

SATURDAY, APRIL 27, 1878.

Congress.

The Senate on Thursday passed a bill to provide for taking testimony to be read before Congress in cases of private claims against the United States. It provides for the taking of such testimony by any standing Master in Chancery of the Circuit Court of the United States within the judicial district where such testimony or evidence is to be taken.

The House on Thursday, after four hours of debate, passed the Senate bill to repeal the bankrupt act by a vote of 206 to 39. Of the 39 negative votes nine were from New England, viz.: Dean, Crapo, Harris, Butler, Frye, Hale, Reed, Ballou and Eames. The House added some technical amendments, so that the bill must go back to the Senate, but there are no indications that the bill will be reconsidered and a better National law substituted. As the bill passed the Senate it only repealed the original act of 1867, and there were doubts whether it repealed certain provisions of the Revised Statutes bearing on the law. The House amendments explicitly repeal these statutes.

News and Notes.

The kind of protection of which the manufacturing interests seem just now most in need is to be protected from the depredations of their treasurers.

The Nashua & Lowell Railroad pays a dividend of two per cent., and the York Manufacturing Co., of Saco, a dividend of $35 per share, both on May 1st.

The English capitalists who were creditors of the Erie Railroad have purchased the road at auction, and now probably are in favor of reconstruction.

Houghton, Osgood & Co. will publish about the 1st of May the "Life of Charlotte Cushman," written by her intimate friend and companion Miss Emma Stebbins. It will be a book of much interest, if the gifted authoress does simply justice to her subject.

It is stated that 4000 armed Communists are drilling nightly in Chicago, and have sent to New York to purchase more arms and ammunition.

Martin Bergen, a Mollie Maguire, for killing Patrick Burns, at Tascorora, Pa., in 1870, has been convicted of murder in the first degree.

In San Francisco recently small sums of greenbacks, which are scarce, have been purchased for gold coin at a premium of fifty cents on over $1000 in notes.

Mrs. Henry Devine, of Worcester, Mass., on the 1st of March gave birth to two boys and a girl, and all are doing nicely. The babies are named Joseph, Josephine and William.

Haverhill, Mass., has a case of smallpox. The patient, a girl three years of age, has been taken to the pest-house.

Six hundred horses were shipped from Montreal for England via Portland on Thursday.

The Boston police on Thursday raided a number of places where it was suspected gambling was carried on, and captured gambling paraphernalia valued at over $200, and eighteen gamblers or lookers-on.

Naval Affairs.

Lieut. Hamilton Perkins and Asst. Eng. George S. Willets are detached from Boston navy yard and ordered to the U. S. S. Enterprise.

Rear Admiral Alexander Murray reports to the Navy Department from Honolulu, April 22d, that he was about leaving that port in the Pensacola for San Francisco, and expected to arrive there about the 1st of May.

The U. S. S. Ossipee left Havana April 21st for Hampton Roads.

A despatch to the Department from Capt. Badger, dated Havre, April 19th, reports that the Constitution finished discharging her cargo for the Paris Exposition that day, and it was expected the Portsmouth would finish the next day.

Secretary Thompson insists that the talk of his resigning is, as far as he is concerned, all moonshine.

The U. S. coast survey steamer Bache arrived at Norfolk from Washington April 22d, en route to the Florida Keys for scientific work. She sailed after coaling.

New Hampshire Items.

The officers of St. Paul's Episcopal church at Concord have elected Right Rev. W. W. Niles, Bishop of the Concord diocese, rector of that church. They also voted to hire an assistant.

The fiftieth anniversary of the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlain of Westmoreland was celebrated a few days ago. Their five children are dead, and only two grand-daughters remain of their descendants.

A bill has been reported in Congress directing the Secretary of the Treasury to pay Sydney F. Luther of Pittsburg, $85, with interest from October 14th, 1870, in full satisfaction of his claim on account of the wrongful seizure of one pair of white faced steers, the wrongful detention of the same; also the payment of $100, with interest from December, 1869, to Isaiah H. Packard of Stewartston, in full satisfaction of his claim both by reason of wrongful seizure and sale by the Collector of Customs for the District of Portsmouth.

Political.

A man who has been elected by the democrats as County Commissioner for Merrimack county, has made an assignment of his property. He can't succeed in keeping a shoe-shop, but he will wield the business of an entire county, and we doubt not come out of it better than he enters in point of financial strength.

Thinking men are led to believe that the only obstacle to the renewed prosperity of the country is our Congress. Strange to say, take each Congressman alone and put this proposition to him and he will at once accede to the truth of the assertion.

The question now arises, is the Confederate government at present in force? A Petersburg (Va.) paper arrogantly informs General B. F. Butler that he is "an outlaw by solemn act of the Confederate authorities never repealed," and that there may be people in favor of hanging him. We do not think that General Butler went North recently on that account. —Washington Republican.

McLin's confession is the latest exhibition of what is called "a quickened conscience," and it will be received with quite as much abatement for the idiosyncrasies of the confessor as was its immediate forerunner, the fruit of the "quickened conscience" of Mrs. Elizabeth R. Tilton. In both cases the glaring self-contradictions of the witness destroy the value of the testimony. In both cases the motives of the confession are open to question, and may be traced without difficulty to something very different from "a quickened conscience." A man or woman who virtually confesses perjury on former occasions is unworthy of belief without corroborating evidence. The "quickened conscience" of Mr. McLin is likely to be treated with the same mocking derision as the "quickened conscience" of the poor woman in Brooklyn who has entangled herself in such a web of contradictions. McLin is a poor creature who has taken pains to prove against himself that he ought not to be believed under oath.—New York Herald.

Sovereigns of Industry.

At the annual session of the State Council at Nashua, the following officers were elected: President, Imla Shedd, Claremont; Vice President, Franklin A. Abbott, Fisherville; Secretary, H. C. Johnson, Keene; Treasurer, O. H. Thayer, Keene; Lecturer, Wm. Critchley, Jr., Portsmouth; Steward, Wm. H. Buzzell, Lake Village; Assistant Steward, John Critchley, Portsmouth; Inner Guard, J. E. Holt, Concord; Outer Guard, Amos Chattle, Laconia; Executive Committee, O. H. Thayer, Keene, S. S. Davis, Nashua, Lowell Jenness, Wm. Critchley, Jr., Portsmouth.

A Giant.

The Richmond (Va.) Whig of April 11th says: "In his rambles about the city yesterday a Whig reporter met a rather remarkable character, no less than a modern giant—a man who, during his brief stay in the city, created quite a sensation on the streets as he walked about, and caused almost every passer-by to turn and look back at him as he passed. Charles Tumley, the character referred to, is eight feet in height and weighs something over four hundred and fifty pounds. Tumley arrived in this city yesterday from North Carolina on his way to New York in search of work at his trade of plasterer. He is a quiet and unobtrusive man in his manners, converses pleasantly and modestly. Tumley says he has three brothers who are nearly as tall as himself, and weigh equally as much, although all of them are younger. This modern giant said to the writer that he never made use of a scaffold to plaster any ordinary room. Tumley, in conversation, remarked that he had received flattering offers from prominent circus men, but he had invariably declined to make his living in that way. Our gigantic friend left last night for the North in search of employment."

—Mr. Pilgilder went home the other night considerably intoxicated and afflicted with double vision. He sat for some time with his sleepy gaze riveted on Mrs. Pilgilder, and then quietly remarked: "Well, (hic,) I hope t'holler if you two old gals don't look enuff alike to be (hic,) twins!"

—Mrs. Boucicault (Agnes Robertson) has a boy eight years old who has conceived the plot of a play wherein the climax is the foundering of a ship pierced full of holes by a swordfish hired to perform the deed by a friend of the family, who was not invited to tea.

—"William," said a Second street woman the other morning as she laid aside the daily paper, "what is this new metric system proposed by Alexander Stephens?" "It's a very wise measure, indeed, my dear," he replied. "Suppose you want a new dress costing $1 per yard?" "Yes." "Under the metric system you write to your father in Wisconsin for the money to buy it with. The money comes: you take half of it and buy me a pair of trousers, and then you use the rest in purchasing fifty-cent dress goods. It is a good measure, very good." "And they propose to make it a law, do they?" "They do." "Well, sir?" she exclaimed, showing a red spot on each cheek, "when the metric system comes into practice in this family, divorce will follow, and Alexander Stephens is a fool, sir, a fool!"—Detroit Free Press.

For all the Purposes of a Family Physic,

CURING

Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach and Breath, Headache, Erysipelas, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a Dinner Pill, and Purifying the Blood, are the most congenial purgative yet perfected. Their effects abundantly show how much they excel other Pills. They are safe and pleasant to take, but powerful to cure. They purge out the foul humors of the blood; they stimulate the sluggish or disordered organs into action; and they impart health and tone to the whole being. They cure not only the every day complaints of every body, but formidable and dangerous diseases. Most skilful physicians, most eminent clergymen, and our best citizens, send certificates of cures performed, and of great benefits derived from these Pills. They are the safest and best physic for children, because mild as well as effectual. Being sugar coated, they are easy to take; and being purely vegetable, they are entirely harmless.

THE CITY.

Special service in the chapel at Faith Home this evening at 7:45. Preaching by a stranger; friends are invited.

Rev. O. F. Van Cise, who was obliged to resign the pastorate of the Universalist church in this city some time ago on account of ill-health, has so far recovered as to accept a call to Algona, Ohio.

Capt. John Clark and his wife were visited by a surprise pound party of young people of the Middle street Baptist church on Wednesday evening. Each of the visiting party carried packages of the necessaries of life.

Rev. Dr. Alden will deliver the fifth of his course of lectures suggested by his travels in the East, on Sunday evening in the Middle street church; subject, "The Nile and the Pyramids." These lectures are more interesting than nine-tenths of those furnished by "professionals" at high prices.

James Brooks and William Falvey, two young fellows, were arrested Friday evening by Marshal Entwistle and Assistant Marshal Cole, on suspicion of stealing from the mail. It is charged that on the 12th of March they called for and took from the post-office two letters belonging to Rose Hanley, stole two dollars therefrom and destroyed the letters.

Mr. Frank M. Varrell of this city, lately attached the U. S. S. Minnesota with Paymaster J. Linsly, Jr. deceased, has severed his connection with that vessel, and leaves for Yokohama, Japan, to report by order of the Secretary of the Navy, for duty on board the U. S. S. Monongahela, Asiatic Station, leaving San Francisco by steamer May first. —Journal.

A lady from a neighboring town writes us that she is anxious to attend the Music Hall entertainment on Monday evening, but cannot tell where the tickets are to be had. She does not learn by the advertisement where is J. D. Rundlett's place of business, and as she has never seen any sign bearing that name or any advertisement in the papers giving his locality, presumes the tickets are to be had in the upper part of Middle street. Our correspondent errs; the tickets are to be had at the corner of Market and Daniel streets; but she is right when she says that tickets always should be sold at a place familiar to newspaper readers.

Stewart's will case has been settled, but the New York lawyers have a good hold on the Vanderbilt, Merrill and other estates, and continue to urge upon their clients the necessity of maintaining their rights. The Whitehouse will case, in this State, goes over to the trial term in Merrimack county to determine the question of facts in controversy, and after this is found, numerous questions of law will be raised by the lawyers and considered by the Court, so that the legal element may in the first instance obtain its share of the estate, before permitting the balance to go to the heirs and the missionaries, as the benevolent testatrix purposed.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds:

PORTSMOUTH.

T. J. Trafton to John W. Johnson, land, $200.

Thomas E. Call to Andrew J. Penhallow, land, $1.

Thomas C. Glazebrook to Louisa M. Walker, land and buildings, $600.

NEWINGTON.

Elizabeth A. Whidden to Ira W. Whidden, land, $1.

STRATHAM.

Lucy C. Limes to Sarah E. Limes, land, $700.

NEWMARKET.

Mary A. Kennerson, of Boston, Mass., to LaForest C. Clark, of Newmarket, land, $100.

HAMPTON.

Nathaniel S. Locke, et al., to Simon L. Jenness, land and buildings, $1400.

HAMPTON FALLS.

Eli Hall, et al., of Rockford, Ill., to Charles T. Brown, of Hampton Falls, marsh land, $200.

Charles T. Brown to James Creighton, land, $700.

THE CITY REPORTS.

The annual report of receipts and expenditures of the city, with reports of city officers, Mayor's inaugural, etc., is very handsomely printed and neatly covered with green paper, and reflects credit on Mr. Charles W. Gardner, whose imprint it bears. It contains information on subjects concerning the city that previous reports have not.

According to the report of the city treasurer, the liabilities of the city at the close of the fiscal year ending December 31, 1877, were $504,395.15; assets, $406,447.-81; leaving a balance of debt, of $97,947.-34. The decrease in the debt during 1877 was $16,718.12. Receipts, $202,805.70; expenditures, $140,357.89, leaving a balance of $62,447.81, of which balance about $25,000 is represented by uncollected taxes since 1869, $18,000 by cash in the treasury, and $19,000 due from the United States on bounty account.

From the report of the Board of Instruction we learn that the following pupils were neither absent nor tardy during the year 1877:

District One—Hattie Seavey, Willis H. Bryant, Charles H. Hanscom, Willie M. Locke, Frank McIntire, Fred H. Ward.

District Two—Ella Goss, Clara Goss, Nettie C. Sides, Helen C. Pender.

District Three—Sherman Newton, Geo. Randall, Charles Jenness, Arthur Locke, Lizzie Stewart, Everett Trefethen, Irving Smart, Henry Hector, Howard Phinney, George Hutchings, Carrie Kinnear, Adolph Franz, Lena Hutchings, Julia Quinn, Frank Newton, Josie Adams, Ralph Trefethen, Henry Fuller.

The whole number of pupils enrolled in the public schools was 1967; cost of tuition per scholar (based on an average attendance) $13.90. The sum of $21,-500 was appropriated for schools; received from Literary Fund, $938.69; balance from 1876, $545,44; total $22,984.-13; the expenditure was $22,691.69, leaving a balance of $292.44. The school expenses in 1877 were $945.27 less than in 1876.

BUILD A BRIDGE.

Eliot Neck, one of the most beautiful portions of the town and where the river scenery is unequalled, is reached from Portsmouth by a short passage by boats. To go by land requires a five-mile drive over a hard road. It has been suggested that a bridge or roadway over the old milldam, connecting with the road at Kittery and bringing the Neck within half a mile travelled distance from Butler's crossing on the Berwick road in Kittery, facilitating the railroad conveniences of the people on the Neck and bringing them nearer to the navy yard and Portsmouth by an easy route, would be a judicious move. Years ago every one on the Neck kept a "wherry," and women as well as men handled the oar with proficiency. But we grow more effeminate. We see but few if any of the sights described by Ben. Shillaber in his description of the old Spring Market, where the supplies were found

"Which Naiads ere the morning gleam
Had ferried down the rapid stream."

The Naiads now cease to produce vegetables, but give their attention to hen fruit. This is sent in large quantities to Boston in exchange for the early vegetables which made such a show in the open market at Spring Hill, five and forty years ago. The change in traffic on the river suggests change in the mode of transportation, and every one—the Eliot people, our neighbors at Kittery and ourselves—will be glad to have supplied this "missing link" between us and the good people on the Neck, who now depend so much upon the favor of the tide in coming to Portsmouth that they may be considered the most "neck-tided" people on the Piscataqua.

We would call notice to the fact that the comedy "Everybody's Friend," lately given by amateurs for the benefit of the Children's Home, is, by request, to be repeated for the same charity, in Music Hall, on Monday, April 29th. Curtain to rise at 8 o'clock. Tickets 50 and 35 cents, to be obtained, with secured seats, at drugstore of J. Dwight Rundlet, on and after Thursday, 25th inst.

THE VICINITY.

Hon. Joshua G. Hall, of Dover, having received his commission as the Attorney of the United States for the District of New Hampshire, has filed his oath of office.

A cancer was recently removed from the lip of John Leavitt, Esq., of North Hampton, by Dr. Warren of Exeter and Dr. Odell of Greenland. The operation was entirely successful.

A Biddeford woman fell down stairs recently, dislocating her shoulder. She landed on a large dog, which jumped up in a fright, tumbling her over upon a hot stove, where she would have been badly burned had not a man pulled her off by the arm. The latter operation jerked her shoulder back into place, and so she was not much worse for her series of accidents.

A Seabrook correspondent of the Portsmouth Weekly writes that paper an account of a recent accident in that town, asserting that one of the democratic members-elect of the Legislature, while "supremely drunk" one night, drove his team against a fence and broke the whiffletree and harness, so that he had to leave the carriage where it was until next day, when he returned for it, being then but little nearer sober than he was the night before.

The partial strike which followed the notice of the Exeter Manufacturing Company that there would be a reduction of wages in several of the departments of their mills has terminated, and all the machinery of the company was on Thursday in full operation.

Senator Hamlin of Maine has presented to the Senate the memorial of John R. Bean and others, of Kennebunk, engaged in the manufacture of cotton twines, remonstrating against any reduction of the duties on foreign imports and against the re-imposition of the war tax upon tea and coffee.

At one of the revival meetings at Rye, recently, a worthy brother from out of town spoke very earnestly of how blessed he had felt in coming to Rye; how blessed he had felt taking part in the meetings at Rye; and finally quoted the old song about how blessed it was "comin' thro' the Rye"—whereat some of the unregenerate youths and maidens on the back seats did giggle.

On Monday evening the parishioners of Rev. S. A. Hutchinson, of Kittery, filled his house, over a hundred being present during the evening on a donation visit, leaving him, with many expressions of regard, a gift of over fifty dollars and other valuable presents. We learn that Mr. Hutchinson has decided to give up his pastorate and take charge of his farm near Columbus, Ohio.—Journal.

The people of Saco are excited over a three-cornered game of fisticuffs which came off early this week. The parties to the affair were in the "upper circles" of society, and are well known to the public, one of them being the present Representative to the Legislature, the other two being members of a large boot manufacturing firm, one of the latter also being a member of the present city government. The Representative to the Legislature came off third best.

In Stratham, according to the recently taken inventory, the whole number of taxable horses is two hundred and twenty-two; value $15,821; neat stock six hundred and eight, value $22,375; sheep two hundred & seventy-seven, value $698; mules three, value $140; carriages ten, value $679. The number of dogs in Stratham is fifty; number of railroad shares seven hundred and ninety-five; number of children between the ages of five and fifteen years, one hundred and forty-three,—girls seventy-two, boys seventy-one.

There are nine persons in Stratham who are entitled to benefit under the late act of Congress giving pensions to soldiers of the war of 1812, and their widows, whenever married. Six of the nine are widows; the other three are Capt. George Lane and his brother Charles Lane, who were both members of the Stratham Artillery, and Thomas M. Leavitt, who was in the militia company—both which organizations marched from Stratham to this city at the time Portsmouth was fearful of an attack by a force from the British cruisers off the harbor.

On Thursday several New Hampshire lawyers were in Easthampton, Mass., where Richard Daly (the tramp charged with shooting Mrs. Bennett at Newmarket Junction last December because after feeding him she refused to give him money to buy tobacco) resides when he resides anywhere, taking depositions of citizens there to Daly's character. Fifteen reputable persons testified to his peaceable disposition when he is not drunk. If he is put in State prison he will be able to keep sober, and consequently peaceable, all the time, and won't be tempted to shoot any more old ladies.

Mr. John W. Lewis, of Hampton, twenty years ago stepped upon something which penetrated his left foot; the wound troubled him but a short time, and soon healed. Last summer a swelling appeared on the inside of his left knee, and on its being opened the "eye half" of a needle was found in it, the trouble soon after disappearing. Some three or four weeks ago Mr. Lewis' right hand became swollen and very painful, and by continued poulticing the "point half" of a needle was extracted from it, since which time Mr. Lewis is able to work as usual. It is supposed that this needle was what Mr. Lewis stepped on twenty years ago, and that it broke on entering the foot. If this supposition is correct the point half must have worked itself up the left side, across the body and down the right arm to the hand. Mr. Lewis has always been a hard working man; carried on butchering for several years, but is now a farmer; and is considerable of a veterinarian.

—"He thawt hawth yaws to yaw let him yaw," is the way an English divine gives out the well known text.

—A Mississippi judge was just saying that no one but a coward would carry a pistol, when his own fell from his pocket and was discharged, and the bullet hit a lawyer in the leg.

BROWN DONE BROWN.

Brown (soliloquizing).

Jemima was my heart's delight
Until she took to wearing
My toga, which fit her far too tight,
So always need repairing.

She wears my wide-awake, the swell,
My dicky worth a dollar;
White ducks, my vest, my tie as well,
And my Byronic collar.

I vow I'll order no more suits
To please her taste fantastic;
She's even worn my patent boots
Till minus of elastic.

It is enough to make, by Jove,
The dullest of the dull stir.
Who's that young fellow in the grove?
'Tis she in my new ulster.

—Harper's Bazar.

A Pretty Romance.

The following story is circulating among the Connecticut newspapers: "A great many years ago a son of a Scotch Lord, traveling in this country, happened to spend a Sunday in Stratford, Conn. Finding the hours of the day long and weary, he dropped into the church, and soon became more interested in the face and voice of a beautiful young lady in the choir than in the preacher's sermon. The impression made was a permanent one. On inquiry he found that she belonged to a poor family, but was highly esteemed for her noble personal qualities. He made her acquaintance, which ripened into respect and love. The young lady was placed under the best educational influences and afterwards taken to Scotland as the wife of the young traveler. Professor Benjamin Silliman of Yale College, who was born in Stratford, had often heard the romantic story, but had never learned the name of the Scotch Lord. When he visited Scotland, he met one day at a dinner-table Lord Sterling and his accomplished wife. He was delighted with the courtly manners and the conversational gifts of the lady, which rose into positive pleasure when he found that she was the heroine of the romantic story so often told in his native town."

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,600,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Pollevil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Fletcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 25 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir.—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Fitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. 1aug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have received the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should keep it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are imbedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utmost safety of its employment and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed, a combination of safeguards against accidents to which have rendered them practically impossible.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages become completely closed, "snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 36 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, slight and loathing impaired, only thinking of being cured, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventy-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a packet and to talk with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify the blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Boils; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most efectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the deterioration of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, lithing and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practiced medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passes, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, until finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried——— and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully, D. W. GRAY, M. D., Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE, perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 200 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24th.

Probably none of the annual bills pushed through Congress covers in more jobbery and downright plundering of the Treasury under the forms of law, than that nominally designated as the "River and Harbor bill." It will be remembered how, two years ago, the passage of this bill aroused public indignation. Many of its items were for the "improvement" of little streams in mountainous portions of the country as destitute of commerce as the average politician is of a conscience. Without specifically reviewing its many items, it is safe to say that a large proportion of the $7,000,000 asked for by the bill was for inland water courses and indentations along the coast that were of no importance to the trade and commerce of the country. Whether right or wrong, it is generally understood here that the district of each member of the committee is usually remembered in order to secure the acquiescence of each in the several recommendations of the bill, and the large aggregate is so distributed as to best secure an approach to unanimity in its favor when a vote is had. It is also understood that many a member votes without knowing the amount called for by the bill, and without knowledge of its many items save those for his own district, which will favorably influence the re-election of the present incumbent, just in proportion as the amount he has been able to secure for disbursement among his constituents is large or small. The bill passed Monday appropriating $7,300,000, without debate and without any knowledge of its provisions except such as could be gathered from hearing it read from the Clerk's desk by such members as happened to be in their seats or within hearing, is regarded as a most extravagant and wasteful piece of legislation. The vote was ayes 166, nays 66. A small minority vigorously protested, and Mr. Randall got himself into a good deal of trouble by ruling that the right to enter the protest was a question of privilege. It must be conceded that the tendency of his decision is to virtually place the House in the control of a minority; and the only remedy left voters is at the polls. If they don't conclude to replace such economists as engineered this bill through without opportunity to scrutinize any of its features, by others who will make their practice more consistent with their professions, then it would appear the lessons of the past four years of money stringency, business prostration, deprivation and poverty had been thrown away.

The Senate proposition to adjourn May 15th has been rejected in the House, which is generally regarded as a victory for the tariff readjusters and those favoring the re-enactment of an income tax law. Senator Voorhees, Monday, opened fire on the compromise financial bill reported by the Senate Committee. His amendment authorizes the payment of custom dues in greenbacks immediately on passage of the bill. He indicated his disapproval of anything short of an absolute repeal of the resumption act, and all the indications seem to show that Mr. Sherman will have to contest every foot of the way to resumption with the inflation element of the country. One cannot resist the conviction that some members of Congress are urged to that course because the success of Mr. Sherman's programme will irretrievably ruin their reputation as prophets, as the result of remonetization did that of some on the other side. The Boston speech of Gen. Butler loses about all the point and pith it had by the publication of Mr. Sherman's contract with the Syndicate.

While the democratic majority of the Judiciary Committee will likely avail themselves of any political capital there is to be had out of the custody of the Blair enterprise, they understand it is a two-edged weapon requiring dextrous handling to avoid damaging friends while striving to give the coup de grace to enemies; for this reason it is not believed they will allow it to pass out of their hands into those of some of the bungling fencers in the House.

It is reported that the President, to give additional point and emphasis to his well-known detestation of "carpet bag" politicians has about decided to appoint Gen. George A. Sheridan, of Louisiana, Recorder of Deeds for the District of Columbia. I believe his reported conversation with Campbell relative to the contribution of U. S. officials for political purposes and their personal participation in campaign work, is regarded as a concession to the republican leaders—a yielding somewhat of the spirit of his famous order, while the letter is substantially preserved. Mechlin, who was tried in the police and criminal courts for starving and beating his daughters, escaped imprisonment through a hung jury, though the remarks of the Judge may be regarded as a notification to him that it will not be well for him if he appears again on a similar charge.

The mercury in the thermometer has leaped up distressingly near the nineties, and thus early many eyes are turned longingly to shore and mountain, while not a few are packing up for Paris.

KNOX.

Daily Chronicle

MONDAY, APRIL 29, 1878.

Congress.

The House on Friday passed the postal appropriation bill. It saves nearly a million dollars when compared with the appropriation for the present year; but all the "saving" will be found in the next deficiency bill.

News and Notes.

The will of the late John E. Lyon is to be presented for probate at Boston on Monday, May 6th.

Capt. Stephen Hoyt, of Salem, Mass., died recently at the age of seventy years. He was mayor of New Orleans at the time Gen. Butler occupied the city, and was as bitter in his hatred of the Union as any other of the northern born traitors and doughfaces.

William C. Binney, recently treasurer of the Newburyport horse-railroad, left for St. Louis some months ago, and since his departure some $7000 of fraudulent bonds issued by him have turned up. He is a lawyer, and hitherto highly respected. The treasurer of the Merrimac mine is also reported a thief to the amount of $40,000.

Another Indian raid is reported on the northwest frontier of Texas. Raiders were seen Friday near Escondido, between forts Concho and Stockton, where the mail rider was recently killed. These Indians are from the Fort Stanton reservation. The Indians who captured horses and murdered fifteen persons week before last near Laredo have made good their escape.

An unknown man, fifty years old, jumped off the new suspension bridge at Niagara Falls on Friday.

Large numbers of counterfeit trade dollars are in circulation in New York and Brooklyn.

If any of our many readers should happen to visit Philadelphia either on business or pleasure, a sojourn at the "Colonnade Hotel," at the corner of Fifteenth and Chestnut, will make him about as happy and contented as he possibly can be away from Baltimore. There is an amount of real comfort, as well as elegance, about all the appointments of this admirably-conducted establishment rarely met with in an American hostelry. Without attempting to particularize any of its special merits, it is enough to say that everything is in perfect order, that nothing is wanting to make one altogether comfortable, and that an unusual quantity of courtesy and good manners marks the conduct of all the attaches. Mr. H. J. Crump, who has entire charge of the house, has clearly demonstrated the fact that he knows exactly how to keep a hotel, and under his capable management the Colonnade will undoubtedly "live long and prosper."—Baltimore Gazette.

Political.

Democratic economy in Congress: "Saving" $10,000,000 by making appropriations insufficient for the absolute needs of the government, at the session preceding a Congressional election, and putting $10,000,000 in the deficiency bill at the session following the Congressional election.

The Cincinnati Enquirer (democratic) says that ex-Congressman Hard of Ohio is the man who borrowed $5000 of public money from Sergeant-at-Arms Thompson, and it demands an investigation of Thompson's accounts. The Cincinnati Gazette suspects that $1500 of this money borrowed by Hard was paid to ex-Postmaster Dowling of Toledo for his services in laboring to defeat the republican nominee for Congress in 1876.

Congressman Waddell, of the House committee on the expenditures of the post office department, promises to rival Mr. Glover in the investigating business. He discovered that a mail contractor has been in the habit of lending considerable sums of money to a post office clerk, supposed to be a republican. Mr. Waddell was most eager to investigate, but on learning that the clerk in question had been discharged some time since and was now in the employ of a democratic committee as an "expert," he suddenly lost all interest in dragging in that net.

Mr. Money—not irredeemable rags or bonanza silver, but real, live Money, of Mississippi, is one of the guests of Boston to-day. The southern democrats thought it necessary to invent a list of northern claims to offset those of the lost cause, and this Mr. Money was delegated to present them in a speech. The astute manipulator of figures footed up a total of $1,569,122,035 as wanted by northern people. But he finds this amount by including every item for government buildings, for internal improvements and for aid to railroads, not five per cent. of the whole being for war claims. But a very laughable part of this inflated Money's bill of particulars is that $1,300,000,000, or nearly nine-tenths of the whole, is comprised in a claim for dredging the Mississippi river from St. Louis to its mouth, which is in reality a southern claim. And, still funnier, Mr. Phillips, of Kansas, punctured this bubble effectually by declaring that the bill for this object, which he introduced, calls for only $30,000. And this is the worst the ex-Confederates can do.—Traveller, April 27th.

McLin, of the Florida Returging Board, is the Mrs. Tilton of the Fraud Scandal. He has a fresh confession every day or two. At first he confessed that Manton Marble tried to bribe him, and when Mr. Marble said it was a lie, everybody believed it was. New McLin says General Noyes tried to bribe him for the other side, and everybody will believe that is a lie, without a word from General Noyes. —Tribune.

Something Worth Trying.

A new remedy for catarrh is crushed cubeb berries smoked in a pipe, emitting smoke through the nose; after a few trials this will be easy to do. If the nose is stopped up so that it is almost impossible to breathe, one pipeful will make the head as clear as a bell. For sore throat, asthma and bronchitis, swallowing the smoke effects immediate relief. It is the best remedy in the world for offensive breath, and will make the most foul breath pure and sweet. Sufferers from the most horrible disease, ulcerated catarrh, will find this remedy unequalled, and a month's use will cure the most obstinate case. Eating the uncrushed berries is also good for sore throat and all bronchial complaints. After smoking do not expose yourself to cold air for at least fifteen minutes. The berries are perfectly harmless, and there is no use in going to "catarrh doctors," while you can procure this remedy. They can be procured at any drug store.—Chicago Tribune.

Flying Foxes.

The flying fox is a very curious inhabitant of the forests near Moreton bay, in East Australia. It lives in flocks, and moves generally toward the dusk of the evening; and the noise produced by the heavy flapping of the so-called wings is very singular. The flocks like quiet places where there are large arsucarian trees, with an underwood of scrub and creepers. The foxes hang in vast numbers from the horizontal branches of the pine trees. When there is a clear space amongst the trees, an enormous number of the animals may be seen, and their noise can be heard; for directly they see anything unusual, they utter a short oark, something like the sound made by young rooks. Often every branch is crowded, and the flying foxes are seen either flapping their wings, or holding on with their hind feet, and with their heads downwards snarling and fighting for places. Suddenly the whole take to flight, and flap their furry, wing-like sides, and wheel around like heavy birds. Many fly with their young holding on to them. The creature is not a true fox, and there is a fold of skin which reaches from the fore to the hind legs. This is called the wing, and it enables the Pteropus, as the animal is called, to float and turn in the air.

—They are beginning to call the Czar Annexander the Great.

The Grand Central is now offering unusual inducements to business men, families and tourists. The prices for board have never been so low, and the table is still kept up to its first-class high standard.

"To do as Folks of Fashion do," in one respect at least, you must use GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is immensely popular among the elite of society, and deservedly so, for it is the most salutary of beautifiers and purifiers. Sold by all Druggists.

In these trying times, it is necessary to make money, and there is no surer or quicker method than to invest a few hundred dollars in stock speculation. Alex. THE CITY.

A meeting of the citizens to make arrangements for Memorial Day will be held at the City Rooms on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. PER ORDER.

Company I, 23d U. S. Infantry, at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, of which Lieut. Fred. L. Dodge is Acting Captain, has been ordered to Colorado to transport 22,000 captured Ute Indians to New Mexico.

The Portsmuth Philharmonic Society will hold the closing rehearsal for the season, at Mercantile and Grange Hall, Tuesday evening April 30th. All interested are invited to join in singing Mozart's 12th Mass.

Mr. Lamprey's dancing class for young people will open in Congress Hall on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock; terms, eight dollars for the course of twenty lessons. Mr. Lamprey long ago established his reputation as a teacher of dancing, having taught a large proportion of the best dancers in the city among the young and middle aged. He teaches the latest styles of waltzes and fancy dances, and also the minuet.

The Boston Herald has an article in reference to gifts now in the Boston custom house, made by foreign governments to American shipmasters in recognition of humane bravery exercised in behalf of others on the high seas. Among these gifts is a splendid binocular glass awarded by the British government to Capt. Henry Libby of the ship Triumphant, for services rendered the passengers and crew of the British schooner Feles.

Mr. S. W. Cole will open his singing school for juveniles next Wednesday afternoon, at the chapel of the Middle street church. The dearth of good singers in our midst, of the present generation, is doubtless largely owing to there having been so few singing schools in Portsmouth during the past thirty years, and suggests the importance of attending to this branch of children's education. Mr. Cole's terms, one dollar for twelve lessons, are certainly reasonable enough.

The present owners of the schooner George L. Treadwell, formerly of this port but now owned by Baltimore parties, want to change her name. Possibly her unlucky record may have something to do with this desire, she having been once wrecked on Chincoteague shoal, and afterward capsized and sunk near one of the West India islands. Mr. Douglas has introduced in the House of Representatives a bill allowing the owners of the vessel to change her name to "Nassau." The bill has been twice read, and has been referred to the committee on commerce.

As the Omaha is to be paid off here, our clothing dealers hope for a little spurt of business in their line in consequence; that is, if the Boston runners do not manage to do what they accomplished once and will no doubt try to do again—by misrepresentation induced nearly the whole ship's company to go direct to Boston from the Kittery depot, without stopping in this city at all! Whether or not the Ticonderoga's men found the interest taken in their welfare by the Boston agents to be disinterested, we cannot say; but we do not believe seamen are likely to get fairer treatment anywhere than in this city.

This evening, at Music Hall, will be afforded the last opportunity of witnessing the favorite comedy "Everybody's Friend," before the departure of the chief actor, Major De Boots. Capt. Higbee, who takes this part, has won laurels as an actor during his residence in Portsmouth, and in this character of De Boots he stands unrivalled. He is supported by a corps of very accomplished actors, who are known and admired by the Portsmouth public; and the play will doubtless be greeted by a large and enthusiastic audience.—And the most excellent charity that is to be benefitted should not be lost sight of, in deciding how many tickets to buy.

In another column will be found an advertisement of the Boston Society of Decorative Art, a society formed, in connection with the New York society of the same name, "for the purpose of raising the standard of design in hand-wrought work and in manufacture, and of guiding those who use the needle, the brush, or the modelling tool for decorative ends, to an appreciation of pure form and noble design, so that the objects produced or decorated by these agencies may be beautiful to the eye and satisfactory to the cultivated taste." It purposes to aid in the accomplishment of these ends, by opening rooms for the exhibition and sale of accepted work; by lending good models to students; by encouraging the production of designs suitable for manufactured objects, and inducing manufacturers to adopt such designs; and in other seemingly judicious ways.

The second year of Portsmouth Weekly is advertised to commence May 18th.

Gen. Neal Dow will deliver a temperance lecture in Franklin Hall this evening, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance League. Five cents admission, to defray expenses.

COMMISSIONER'S COURT.

James Brooks and William Falvey, two boys, were tried before United States Commissioner Hackett on Saturday afternoon, on a charge of stealing on the eleventh of March last from the post-office in this city a letter containing a two-dollar bank note and two pictures, addressed to one Rose Ricker and being her property. The boys had confessed their guilt to the police officers. Dist. Att'y Hall appeared for the United States; he stated that cases of this kind had been more frequent at the post-office in this city than anywhere else in the State, and asked that if bail was accepted there should be no doubt as to its sufficiency. The prisoners were held in $500 each to appear at the Circuit Court of the United States to be holden in this city on the 8th day of May next; they were granted until eight o'clock in the evening to procure bail, in default of which they were committed to jail. Thomas Entwistle, Frank Cole, Charles A. C. Gray, Joseph B. White and Rose Ricker were recognized as witnesses.

SUPREME COURT.

The case of Simeon Rowell vs. the Boston & Maine Railroad occupied the Court for the remainder of last week. The action was entered at the January term, 1874, and was heard before a board of referees consisting of Messrs. Wm. H. Rollins, Emmons B. Philbrick and Elisha Quimby. In October, 1875, the railroad company, being dissatisfied with the report of the referees, elected a jury trial, and two years since obtained a verdict in their favor, which the law court afterward set aside. The case has been sharply contested by the defendants, who hold to paying such claims as this when a judgment of the Courts will give a proper voucher for the expenditure. Marston and Frink for plaintiff; A. R. Hatch and John Hatch for defendants.

The case is still unfinished; defendant's testimony was being heard on Saturday.

Case Alice M. Craig vs. Henry F. Gerrish is next in order for trial.

U. S. S. "OMAHA."

The following is a list of the officers of the U. S. S. Omaha, 2nd rate, twelve guns, now laying in the Lower Harbor:

Capt. Lewis A. Kimberly, commanding;

Lient. Comdr. Geo. D. B. Glidden, executive officer;

Lieut. Thomas Perry, navigating officer;

Lieutenants, Frederick W. Crocker, Jerome B. House, Giles W. Harber, John C. Wilson;

Ensigns, Benjamin F. Rinehart, Milton R. Schwenk, William R. A. Rooney, Lyman Arms, Edwin L. Reynolds;

Surgeon, George R. Brush;

Asst. Surgeon, Robert Whiting;

Paymaster, George R. Watkins;

Passed Asst. Eng'r, William W. Heaton;

Assistant Engineers, Robert W. Galt, Charles W. Livermore;

Capt. William Wallace, U. S. M. C., commanding marines;

Paymaster's Clerk, Henry Ebers;

Boatswain, Andrew Milne;

Gunner, William C. Seymour;

Carpenter, John S. Waltemeyer;

Sailmaker, George S. Haskins.

The ship left Hampton Roads on Tuesday, and had she had clear weather throughout the passage her officers think she would have made the run in fifty-five hours; but owing to a thick fog her engines were slowed down for several hours on the night after she sailed, and the fog bank was met again on making this port, compelling her to feel her way along cautiously with the lead.

The Omaha arrived off the harbor Friday morning, ran in (guided by the sound of the fog-horn) until the lead gave fifteen fathoms, and then anchored, about a mile off Odiorne's point. She had no pilot on board, having passed all who were on the lookout for her (and there were quite a number of them) in the dense fog. After laying at anchor a short time the fog broke up a little, and she was descried from the fishing schooner Harp, one of whose men, Mr. Charles Benson, went on board the government vessel and piloted her in to the Lower Harbor anchorage. Considering the state of the weather since she left Fortress Monroe, the land-fall made by the Omaha was a most excellent one, through it is possible she would not have ventured so far in but for the knowledge that there is now a decent fog-signal at the harbor's entrance. The expectant pilots are possibly still hanging about outside, in the presumed track of the Omaha; they were still out on Sunday, at all events.

The ship is very trim-looking in all departments, and is excruciatingly neat and clean, there not being a speck of redeeming dirt anywhere visible. The men are all in good health, so far as any contagious disease is concerned; there has been no sickness on board to require her being quarantined, and she has been sent here and will be fumigated simply as measures of precaution consequent on her having touched at Rio Janeiro, where yellow fever was then prevailing.

"SQUARE TREATMENT."

In another column will be found the advertisement of C. E. Myers & Co., No. Three Bow street—a firm that has always been noted for giving customers the "genuine bargains and good square treatment" referred to in the advertisement as being now ready for those who call. Persons in want of anything in the ready-made-clothing line can find no better place than this in which to make their purchases, where they can get just what they want, and rely on the goods being just as represented. Twenty odd years ago, when we were about starting out on a little sail—which turned out to be a seventy-thousand-mile trip before we got through with it—we bought our outfit of Myers; and long and hard service proved that we got our money's worth. The reputation of the establishment has been maintained ever since, and a goodly proportion of the fishermen and others sailing out of this port have out-fitted and in-fitted with the firm for years, and have always been satisfied with their treatment. The business of the firm is not confined to ready-made goods, as they keep on hand a good stock of suitings, etc., which they make up as desired by customers, and at reasonable rates.

This reminds us that we may as well explain how that odd communication to the Board of Aldermen, informing them that an item in the CHRONICLE concerning the capsizing of a cart was incorrect, got before the Board some weeks ago—to the utter astonishment of a good many people, including C. E. Myers & Co., whose communication it purported to be. It seems that the driver of the cart, supposing he had a dead sure thing on the city in the shape of a claim for damages, (as perhaps he has,) and in the simplicity of his heart supposing a newspaper item and legal evidence were the same thing, was anxious to be right on the record as to the quantity of "dunnage" he was carrying at the time his cart turned turtle, we having stated that he had two men's clothing, whereas he had seven's. As the gear was purchased of Myers & Co., the teamster asked them for a certificate to that effect, which was written out for him by the clerk; and armed with this important document he proceeded to the City Rooms and triumphantly laid it before the City Clerk, who in turn gravely laid it before the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, and we venture to say chuckled mightily inside at the time he did so.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, April 25th.

The second week of the revival here began Tuesday evening. Rev. Hiram Jones, of South Portsmouth, R. I., and Rev. S. B. Bowdish, conducted the services. A large number were present, and much interest manifested. The Thursday evening meeting at the Christain church, owing to the wretched state of the weather, had but a few present. Rev. Mr. Jones spoke with ability from the 11th chapter of Hebrews, and the congregation did the singing; about fifteen of those present gave their experience. The meetings are to be held through the week.

I learn that a petition is to be presented to the Legislature to have the south part of the town, from the railroad track to North Hampton, taking in Little Boar's Head, set off as a new town to be called Rye Beach, which two-thirds of our citizens are opposed to, it is believed.

The meeting of the Reform Club, on Wednesday evening at the Town Hall, was well attended; John E. Leavitt, President, in the chair. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Jones. Rev. S. B. Bowdish, late pastor of the Christian church of this town, was the speaker, and delivered a very able address. He spoke very highly of the club, and the good it is doing, and showed that total abstinence is the only real safeguard against the evils of intemperance. Rev. Mr. Jones made some acceptable remarks, and related several appropriate anecdotes. Mr. Joseph Philbrick, ninety years of age and the oldest man in town, addressed the club; he is one of its members, and has been present at every meeting since its organization. He is hale and vigorous as many young men. At the close of the meeting several persons signed the pledge book. The club now has one hundred and forty-four members, is progressing, and doing a good work.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., of this town, the Engrossing Clerk of the National House of Representatives, sent home to his wife from Washington recently a sheet of tin foil containing a couple of tunes which he whistled into one of Edison's phonographs, which the inventor had on exhibition at the Capitol. This wonderful instrument reproduces all sounds; and years hence, if she chooses, Mrs. Jenness can put the sheet of tin foil on a phonograph cylinder, and form some idea, from the character of the tunes he whistled to the machine, whether her absent lord was at the church or at the theatre last before doing the whistling which he sent her in a letter.

Yours, S.

THE VICINITY.

The school house at Hampton Falls, in the north district, is to be moved across the road from where it now stands, and refitted at a cost of six hundred dollars.

A rabid dog bit twenty-two other dogs at Seabrook and East Salisbury on Friday, and was finally shot on the common in the latter town. He bit the dog of Mr. David Chase, at Seabrook depot, in several places.

Andrew Fogg, of Hampton Falls, was fined five dollars and costs on Thursday, for beating a horse and injuring the animal's eye. The trial was held before Judge Robie at Hampton Falls; Fogg pleaded guilty to the complaint, and paid the fine and costs.

The Geneva Award.

There are a number of persons residing in this city and vicinity who are interested in the disposition of the remainder of the Geneva award, having claims against it for losses sustained during the war. To such the following statement of what the action of the House judiciary committee has been, may be of interest: The committee has made two reports; the majority report, signed by six democrats, proposes to refer all claims to a Court of Claims, to be distributed under the Treaty and the award according to the principles of justice, equity and international law, without reference to any principal of inclusion or exclusion of the law of 1874. The minority report, signed by four republicans and one democrat, provides, first, for exculpated cruisers; second, interest on all claims at the rate of six per cent., including previous judgments; third, whalers to have ten per cent. on their judgments and ten per cent. in future on value of vessel and outfit; fourth, war premiums in coin. The minority report, drawn by McMahon (democrat.) was submitted as the majority report of the sub-committee. A partial canvass of the House indicates that the House will, by a decided majority, adopt McMahon's report.

The Ruling Passion.

There has lately come into our possession a small newspaper, the Star, size 5x7, published in Augusta, Me., 1832, by B. F. Chandler, then a boy of thirteen. This was probably the first amateur paper ever published in this country. It was started with a capital of twelve cents. The boy continued his paper for two years, then sold out his office for $200, bought books and entered college, receiving a scientific education, and is now, and has been for many years, a civil engineer in the service of the United States at the Portsmouth navy yard, where many and great improvements have been made under his superintendence. The ruling passion, however, is still strong. We have lately sold him a Gordon press and a good variety of job type, with which he amuses himself during his leisure moments. He prints for his friends without compensation. He is a printer from an inherent love of the art, like the late ex-Mayor N. B. Shurtleff, of Boston. We have seen specimens of his work which are equal to that of some of our best printers.—Printer's Exchange.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

SAILED, April 27.

Schs Ida E Latham, Potter, and Royal Arch, Crowell, for Kennebec, (and anchored in Lower Harbor).

Tug William Woolley, Capt Wm H Clark, of Boston, arrived in the Lower Harbor Friday afternoon with the new barque E Mayberry, built at Portland and bound for Boston. Capt. Clark reports thick fog and heavy weather.

Schs Joseph Eaton, Peterson, from South New market for Philadelphia, and Millie Frank, Perry, from Dover for Bangor, came down the river Friday and anchored in the Lower Harbor, detained by thick weather.

Cld at Baltimore, April 25th, sch Cora, Fisk, for this port.

Brig Clara J Adams, McFadden, arr at Baltimore April 25th from Matanzas.

Sch John, Mower, cld from New York April 25th for this port.

Arr at Vineyard Haven, April 25th, sch Keystone, Wilder, Philadelphia for this port.

In Hampton Roads, April 23d, sch Charlie Cobb, Metcalf, from Baltimore for this port.

Sch S A Hoffman, from this port for Philadelphia, at 7 A. M., April 24th, during a thick fog ran into sch Jessie Irving, Steelman, striking her on starboard bow, forward of fore-rigging, carrying away both her masts and jibboom, staving bulwarks and starting deck, leaving the vessel so helpless that all hands went on board the S A Hoffman. U S lighthouse steamer Fern, Capt. Wright, afterward took the disabled schooner in tow, took her captain and mate from the Hoffman, and towed the Irving to the lighthouse depot at Staten Island.

Sch Charles Cobb, Metcalf, for this port, passed through Hell Gate April 26th.

The act relating to the hailing place of vessels, recently passed the house of Representatives, provides that the hailing place may be hereafter the town or city where such vessel is built or where the husband or managing owner of the vessel resides, the name of such town or city to be painted on the stern as now provided by law.

—The business of a great many superfluous men seems to be to stand around as industriously as possible and ascertain what somebody else thinks of doing in relation to something.

—A learned and eloquent bishop was very anxious to convert a Parsee who was making some stay in London. "I cannot think," said he, "how any man of intelligence and education, whose mind has been enlarged by travel and association with men of different opinions, can worship a created object, such as the sun." "Oh, my lord bishop," returned the Parsee, who had not been fortunate in the weather since his arrival in England, "you should see it; you have no idea what a glorious object it is!"

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working cures than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and sinews of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Foll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Fletcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animal use. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Fletcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral, has become so well established its cases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that it will conduce if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed:
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed, a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns.

BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.
Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.
New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Trains.
BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superiority, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
Rockport, Mass., April 2, 1877.
Mr. Editor:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I pacify the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could embalm a similar cure in the papers. For 10 years I suffered with catarrh The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "powder," "inhaling-tubes," and "stick-in-the-nose" only work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes, so that I was confined to my bed for so many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 103 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way possible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potassium and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevailing in this climate. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

A PHYSICIAN'S TESTIMONY.

30 Years a Physician. 12 Years a Sufferer. Tried Regular Remedies. Tried Patent Medicines. Permanently cured by

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE.

MESSRS. WEEKS & POTTER,—Sirs: I have practised medicine for thirty years, and have been a sufferer myself for twelve years with Catarrh in the nasal passages, fauces and larynx. I have used everything in the materia medica without any permanent relief, finally I was induced to try a patent medicine (something that we allopathists are very loth to do) I tried one and divers others until I got hold of yours. I followed the directions to the letter, and am happy to say have had a permanent cure. Your RADICAL CURE is certainly a happy combination for the cure of that most unpleasant and dangerous of diseases.

Yours, respectfully,
D. W. GRAY, M. D.,
Of Dr. D. W. Gray & Son., Physicians and Druggists, Muscatine, Iowa.

MUSCATINE, IOWA, March 27, 1877.

The value of this remedy must not be overlooked in the cure of those

SYMPATHETIC DISEASES,

Affections of the Eye, Ear, Throat, Lungs and Bronchial Tubes which in many cases accompany a severe case of Catarrh. The inflamed and diseased condition of the mucous membrane is the cause of all these troubles; and until the system has been brought properly under the influence of the RADICAL CURE perfect freedom from them cannot be reasonably expected.

It is but three years since SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE was placed before the public, but in that short time it has found its way from Maine to California, and is everywhere acknowledged by druggists and physicians to be the most successful preparation for the thorough treatment of Catarrh ever compounded. The fact will be deemed of more importance when it is coupled with the statement that within five years over 150 different remedies for Catarrh have been placed on sale, and to-day, with one or two exceptions, their names cannot be recalled by the best-informed druggist. Advertising may succeed in forcing a few sales, but, unless the remedy possess undoubted specific medical properties, it is absolutely certain to fall into merited obscurity.

Each package of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, with full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1.00. Sold by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

McLin's Confession.

The Florida confessions, now that they are published, prove to be as empty as all the other horrible revelations that have been promised from time to time. Mr. McLin says he has discovered, since the count, that the return from Archer county, which passed the returning board, was falsified. None of the members of the board, it appears, suspected this return at the time. He thinks there was fraud in Alachua county, but the democratic counsel failed to show it, though a contest was made. There was some question about seventy-four republican votes in Leon county, but it appeared to the satisfaction of the democratic member of the returning board, that the votes were regular and should be counted. There was something wrong about the returns from Jefferson county, but no question arose beford the board.

All those returns passed the board, on which a democratic member sat. Mr. McLin does not profess to know, of his own knowledge, now, that they were fraudulent. His conclusion is, that "had these been rejected, and the democratic rejected precincts, excluded for irregularity, contrary to the decision of the supreme court been retained and counted, Mr. Tilden would have carried the State."

The substance of McLin's "confession" is, thereford, that the board counted the returns honestly, as they appeared at the time, but that if they had thrown out the republican majorities and counted the democratic majorities, excluded for irregularity and illegality, the result would have been different. No doubt!

Mr. McLin believes that the returns from Baker, Leon and Jefferson counties were fraudulent, because he has been told so by a man named Bell, whose confession has not yet appeared. He believes that the returns from Alachua were falsified, because he has been told so by a man named Dennis, whose confession has not been written.

Dennis, however, has been found at Jacksonville, and being interrogated, said that undoubtedly there were democratic frauds in Alachua county, and particularly that he believed 200 votes were added to the democratic count in Archer precinct. As a matter of abstract justice, he thought the State belonged to Hayes, but on the face of the returns, counting those 200 votes and others like them, it belonged to Tilden. If Bell's confession, when it comes, is no better than this, McLin's revised opinion about the election will fall of its own weight.

Both of these men are extremely frank. Dennis says he wanted to be appointed an auditor, and as he got nothing but a clerkship, he considers Hayes "the worst man since Judas Iscariot." McLin was nominated for judge of the Territory of New Mexico, but the nomination was defeated in the Senate by the active opposition of both Senators from Florida. He thinks the President "has ignored his Florida friends." Scratch an enemy of this administration, and you always find a disappointed office-seeker, or office-broker. The revelations of the Florida patriots are inspired by the same malice which has heretotore found vent in mysterious hints and head-shakings about the "bargain" of Foster and Matthews with the Southern members of Congress, and about the proceedings by which the two wings of the Louisiana Legislature were brought together and peace at last restored to that long tormented State. When the hints are set down in black and white, it always appears that they mean nothing; when the pretended revelations are unfolded, they reveal nothing.—Portland Adv.

Relief for the Working Men.

How much Fernando Wood's new tariff bill is to benefit the working-man—that is if the "democratic House" passes it in spite of republican opposition—is made evident enough from its expected effect upon two items only—silks and sugar. Sugar is a necessity; every working man has to help pay the tax on that article; and the Wood tariff proposes to increase the revenue on sugar to the amount of $7,300,000, forty-nine fiftieths of which sum will come from the pockets of the laboring classes. But silks, an article of luxury, are to be admitted at a rate which will decrease the revenue to the amount of $3,000,000, which will be a relief only to the rich and prosperous, the poor classes having no interest in silks—excepting only the working men and women who are employed in the manufacture of American silks, a business that has become of considerable importance, our fabrics, (of better quality than those of Europe, prices considered) under the operation of the present tariff, having secured a good part of the trade in the American markets. This business Wood's tarriff will destroy, and as a recompense the silk-wearing classes will save $3,000,000 in their annual outlay for luxuries, and the European manufacturers will have a good thing.

Congress.

The House on Saturday passed the Indian appropriation bill. It appropriates a little over $4,000,000, and about half a million less than last year. The post-office department on Saturday asked the appropriation committee to appropriate $2,100,000 for deficiences in that department, $900,000 being for compensation of postmasters whose salaries were not provided for at the proper time. It is indefensible in the post-office department to lug such a deficiency before the public at this time, just when the democracy are going before the country in the Congressional elections with a bowl about democratic economy.

What Does It Mean?

It is reported that a German steamer, the Cimbria, of Hamburg, with six hundred passengers, put into Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert, on Sunday, to await orders from Russia.

The Late Hon. John E. Lyon.

At a meeting of the directors of the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad, held in Boston last week, J. Thomas Vose of Boston was elected a director to fill the vacancy caused by the death of John E. Lyon, late president of the company, and the following resolutions were adapted:

Resolved, That the members of this board have learned with deep regret of the recent death of John E. Lyon, late president of the Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad.

That we desire to express our obligation for the uniform courtesy displayed to all associated with him, for the industry, capacity and integrity with which he has so successfully managed the affairs of this corporation, and for the ability and fidelity with which he discharged the duties of the office committed to his charge.

That for the interest manifested in the development of the business of the road and in the aid he was ever ready to extend to all measures designed to promote its prosperity and to increase its usefulness to the community where it was located, his memory deserves to be held in grateful remembrance.

That these resolutions be adoped as a token of our appreciation of the value of his services to the corporation, and of our esteem for his character, and that they be entered on the records as a tribute of respect to his memory.

Mr. Vose, the former co-partner of Mr. Lyon and of his executors, is likely to succeed Mr. Lyon in the presidency of the B., C. & M. R. R., or at least to name the successor.

Naval Affairs.

The naval Board of Inspectors, of which Commodore Cooper is President, arrived in this city Monday forenoon, and at once proceeded on board the U. S. S. Omaha in the Lower Harbor, upon the usual duty of inspection of ships of war terminating a cruise.

U. S. gunboat Ossipee, from Havana, arrived in Hampton Roads on Saturday, April 27th. All well on board.

According to Norfolk (Va.) advices of April 25th the Enterprise will not proceed to sea before the 10th of May.

The Navy Department is informed of the arrival of the Pensacola at San Francisco on Thursday, April 25th, sixteen days from Honolulu. All hands well.

The Richmond arrived at Para on the 9th of March, having been three days off the port without finding a pilot. Finally the Brazilian Navigation Company's packet Para came across her and guided her in.

Lieut. C. P. Perkins and Ensign J. Hunt are detached from the Minnesota and ordered to the Enterprise. Ensign York Noell is ordered to the Minnesota.

Commander Francis M. Ramsey, U. S. N., at present on duty at the Torpedo Station, at Newport, R. I., will succeed Captain K. R. Breeze, the present Commandant of that place. Captain Breeze, however, will not be at once removed, although his time has about expired.

News and Notes.

We exported $1,008,257 of products and manufactures last week, which considering the weather was a "fair" business. We sent abroad 305,017 pounds of tobacco, (which will be a relief to Miller's Weekly to learn,) while two million pounds of bacon are a part of the means which tend to keep gold on a par with the rest of the currency.

A Mrs. Greene, who keeps a boarding house in Boston, was tried last week before the U. S. Court upon an indictment for taking half a dozen letters addressed to her boarders from the carrier, and looking into them. A Boston jury after three days' trial acquitted the lady of any guilty intent.

The Army and Navy Journal advocates the entire abolition of chaplains in the army. All religious services therein should be voluntary, and it claims the "missionaries are plenty to perform such services." Yes, but would the missionaries be as prompt to take a hand at euchre, or in a hundred ways contribute so happily toward making army life agreeable, as do the chaplains?

By a boiler explosion in Dublin, Ireland, on Sunday, fifteen persons were killed and twelve others severely injured.

The propeller City of New Bedford, of the New Bedford and New York Steamship Co.'s line, ran ashore on Fishers' island, Long Island Sound, at 11:30 P. M., Saturday, in a dense fog. The passengers and about one-third of the cargo were landed. The vessel bilged and filled, Sunday.

William Evarts, son of Secretary Evarts, died in Washington on Friday.

Rev. Dr. Stephen H. Tyng, Sr., the venerable rector of the St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, New York, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday. Age and feebleness caused his retirement.

James Baine, cashier of the Salem (Ind.) National Bank, has fled, leaving a note acknowledging that he has robbed the bank. A deficiency of $90,000 has been found, and how much it will grow is only conjecture.

It is rumored that arrangements have been perfected at San Francisco for privateers under the Russian flag to prey on British vessels in the Pacific in case war occurs between England and Russia. Waddell, who commanded the British priate Sea King, alias Shenandoah, and burned up the whale-ships in the Arctic after the war was ended, and who was in command of the steamship City of San Francisco at the time she was wrecked off the Mexican coast last year, is mentioned as the probable commander of the first privateer ("privateer" sounds better than "pirate," when the vessel is sent out from an American port) to be despatched from San Francisco.

Nat. McKay has explaioed to the House naval committee his purchase of the United States vessel Delaware at Brooklyn in 1876. He neither used influence nor applied any pressure to have his bid accepted. He offered $5,000 for her while she was sunk in the dock, and after her machinery was removed. Two years before she had been sold at auction for $20,000, and at this sale brought about the same price, as the machinery sold to John Roach brought $15,000, and her hull $5,000.

The New York Express says it is now pretty well demonstrated that the Michigan Central Road, at the next election, will pass into the hands of Mr. William H. Vanderbilt. Already 75,000 shares have been transferred in his interest.

The Labrador fishing fleet this year will consist of one vessel, which is sixty less than it was sixty years ago, averaging a loss of one vessel per annum on the fleet for threescore years. Other ports have long since dropped the business entirely, and this one lone vessel will constitute the entire fleet from the United States. She is owned by Boardman & Sanborn of Gloucester, who have been in the business 35 years, with from two to four vessels, till now, when they, too, would abandon the business, but from the fact that they have the vessel and fishing nets and gear on hand with no other use for them. After this, farewell to rocky Labrador.

J. L. Vance, ex-Congressman, has arrived in Cincinnati and will proceed to his home at Gallipolis, Ohio. He is undoubtedly insane, and is in charge of a friend of the family. The statement that he went off in company with another man's wife was untrue.

New Hampshire Items.

John Wentworth, of Rollinsford, a farmer, sixty years old and insane, committed suicide by drowning on Saturday.

Harris Piersons, a farmer of Lyme, between seventy and eighty years old and recently partially deranged, committed suicide by hanging, Saturday afternoon.

A man, as the story runs, lost his watch in a field in Lake Village while picking blackberries, three years ago this summer. The other day, while taking a walk in the same pasture, he lighted his pipe and threw the match upon the ground. Through habit he put his foot upon the match to extinguish it, and there saw the watch which he had lost. He wound it up and it has run since with old time regularity.

Some excitement prevails on account of several small-pox cases brought to light a few days since in a French family in Manchester. The patients were at once removed to the pest-house, and everything has been done by the authorities to prevent a spread of the disease. One additional case, however, was discovered. Two patients have died at the pest-house.

Tramps seem to be flocking into the country towns as well as the large cities. A few days ago two female tramps entered a residence in Merrimac, while the family were out, and, without ceremony, went into the best room and went to bed. The first that the family knew of this was in the morning, when the two women got up, dressed, entered the dining-room and demanded breakfast.

Rev. James Gorton, pastor of the Universalist Church in Nashua, preached his farewell sermon Sunday.

Dr. John H. Cutler of Peterboro, was thrown from his carriage Sunday afternoon and sustained severe bodily injuries.

Charles Barrett of Harrisville died Saturday night from injuries by being thrown from a carriage while riding with one Leffingwell. His back was broken in two places. He leaves a wife and three children. Some time ago, a friend, riding with Leffingwell, was thrown out and instantly killed.

A suit involving $700, paid for a substitute for Asa Fletcher during the war of the rebellion by the town of Chesterfield, has just been concluded, after five separate trials in the Cheshire county Supreme Court. The substitute proved to be a deserter, and the town sued for the recovery of the money paid. Nathan R. Perkins, Noble Thompson, Manasseh Perkins and Alfred Cox were parties to the suit. A verdict was rendered in favor of the town.

It Sustains Its Reputation.

For nearly a quarter of a century it has been acknowledged that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy has no equal in speedily and permanently curing "cold in the head" and all catarrhal affections of the nasal cavities. Its immense sale and great popularity are dependent upon and entirely due to its merits and superiority over all other similar preparations. Very many physicians, having thoroughly tested it, are now prescribing it in their practice.

HALBURTON, ONT., Jan. 1st, 1877.
DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.,
Dear Sir:—For years I suffered with chronic catarrh. Last winter it became more severe, seriously affecting my throat and lungs. My stomach and blood were also sadly out of order. I tried many physicians and several advertised remedies, obtaining but temporary or no relief. My general health became worse, so that I despaired of my life. Seeing favorable notices of your medicines, I procured one-half dozen bottles of the Golden Medical Discovery and a supply of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. The Discovery purified my blood and restored my general health, the Catarrh Remedy gave immediate relief, and after a little perseverance, a radical cure was effected. Thankfully yours,
ROBERT MCCORMICK.

THE CITY.

A meeting of the citizens to make arrangements for Memorial Day will be held at the City Rooms on Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. PER ORDER.

Mr. Percy Rowe, centre-fielder of the Granite State nine, broke a finger on his left hand while playing base ball Wednesday afternoon.

The Constructor's gang at the navy yard mustered but three days last week, and did not muster on Monday of this week, on account of bad weather.

The U. S. S. Omaha was inspected by the official board on Monday. Her powder will be taken out to-day, and she will come up to the navy yard on Wednesday.

On Saturday, at auction in Boston, Portsmouth city 6s, 1894, brought 105; Manchester city 6s, 108 1-4; Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co., 180; Gt. Falls Man. Co., 92 1-2; Eastern Railroad bonds, 1906, 64; Boston & Maine Railroad, 104 1-2; Portland, Saco & Portsmouth Railroad, 79 1-4.

Mr. Thomas E. Chase, for eleven years past the tenor of the Unitarian church choir, has been engaged to sing at the Baptist church for the ensuing year, at an increased salary. Miss Flanders, soprano, and Mrs. Bennett, alto of the Baptist church choir, will be retained another year; and Mr. Everett, of Dover, will probably be the bass singer.

We were informed on Monday that notice had been received of a proposed visit on Wednesday by the graduating class of the Dover High School to the graduating class of the Portsmouth High School, and that a committee of the later, consisting of two boys and two girls, had been appointed to receive the visitors at 10:30 o'clock Wednesday forenoon, the subsequent proceedings to be a collation and entertainment at the High School house. The Portsmouth class numbers eighteen, eight boys and ten girls; the Dover class includes four boys and fourteen girls. [N. B. For "boys" and "girls," all through the foregoing, please read "young gentlemen" and "young ladies." It was too much trouble for us to write it so many times.]

THE LONG STORM.

The storm which has hung over New England for the past week is supposed from the observations of the signal-service office to be the "tail end" of the terrific tornado which swept over Indiana about the middle of April, or a few days later, and a branch of which afterwards left a track of desolation farther along South. The storm reached here on the night of Monday, April 22d, since which time the rain has been almost incesssant, though the total rain-fall has been very small considering the time it has taken it to fall. In the brief intervals when rain has not been falling, the dense fog which has hung on all the time has increased in density; and the large fleet of vessels that anchored in the Lower Harbor at the commencement of the storm, has been daily increased by the arrival of vessels that have felt their way in through the fog, or outward-bounders from this and the up-river ports that have let go their anchors to await a break in the fog before sailing for their several destinations. There has been no wind to do any harm, in any part of New England or the Middle States, so far as reported. The effect of the warm, wet storm in this vicinity, on the grass and trees, has been to start them along with a rush; farm work will probably be impeded by the heavy condition in which the ground is left, the rain having fallen so gradually that almost all of it has soaked into the earth, not much having flowed off in the brooks. Clearing and cooler weather about Tuesday noon, was the signal office announcement of the indications Monday morning.

PARISH MEETINGS.

The annual meeting of the parishioners of the South Parish was held Monday afternoon. Wm. H. Rollins, Esq., was moderator. The board of wardens of last year was re-elected, viz.: Messrs. Wm. H. Sise, Wm. R. Preston, James R. May, Chas. H. Rollins and Wm. W. Cotton. Jos. Hiller Foster was re-elected parish clerk. The usual appropriations, including $3500 for pastor's salary, and $1352 for music, were passkd. The subject of new hymn books, as that of the appointment of delegates to the Convention of the Unitarian Association to meet at Saratoga, was referred to the pastor and wardens, with authority to appoint such delegates. Mr. Thomas Chase, of Seabrook, whose year's engagement terminates next Sunday, it was stated had accepted an offer to become a member of the choir of the Middle street Baptist church. The wardens stated that they had received no official information of such engagement.

An adjourned meeting of St. John's, Parish was held on Monday, when the following officers were elected:

Wardens, Washington Freeman, John H. Slater;

Vestrymen, Albert R. Hatch, Lyman D. Spalding, C. C. Jackson, Daniel L. Stover, Robert C. Peirce, Arther F. Pfeiffer, Wm. R. Martin, Joseph Amazeen, A. P. Larkin;

Parish Clerk, Wm. C. Robinson.

Delegates to Convention, Lyman D. Spalding, John Christie, John Hatch;

Auditors, Robert C. Peirce, Wm. R. Martin.

SUPREME COURT.

Monday, April 29th; Smith J.

Rowell vs. Boston & Maine Railroad was resumed.

Witnesses were summoned to appear in No. 25, Frank C. Cook and others vs. D. M. Curtis, A. G. Haskell and O. H. Lord, the next case, which is an action between the owners of two vessels concerning a collision in this harbor.

Action Craig vs. Gerrish will be tried on Wednesday.

A GOOD TRAP.

Many of our householders freely criticise the apparent indifference of the city government to the importance of at once, before warm weather follows the present cool term, removing the source of disease and death in the mill-ponds, to the effect of which we are all exposed. The doctors anticipate a rich harvest the coming summer, and many families are preparing to go out of town, while others previously intending to come here for the summer, have decided to go elsewhere. It is too bad, but we must wait till such a pressure of public sentiment comes from taxpayers and property holders that the government will deem itself justified in making a reasonable outlay to abate the evil.

But while there exists a public annoyance which it seems everybody's business in general to check, but nobody's in particular to take the initiative to remove, there are other sources of ill health found in our houses, and one of them is seen in the careless manner in which the outlets of the sinks from our houses are suffered to remain. The experienced physician will tell us that the noxious odors coming from this source is the most insidious and poisonous that can be inhaled, and yet how much of our cooking and domestic labor is performed right in the midst of this impurity.

But evils have their remedial agents, and there is a commendable invention is the patent sink-trap manufactured by Henry W. Clapp, of Concord, and which has been in use for about a year, and has been thoroughly examined and tested as to its merits. This is no "Clap-trap," in the ordinary sense of the term, but is simple, durable, adapted to every size of sink, economical, easily adjusted, and prevents the gases from being forced back into the house.

The trap is applied by a practical plumber, under the direction of Mr. Lewis B. Marden, of this city, who is agent for the sale of this article in Portsmouth, Exeter, Great Falls and vicinity, and whose headquarters are at Isaiah Wilson's hardware store, No. 37 Congress street. While we endeavor to make clean the outside of our dwellings, there should be every precaution to avoid sewage gas coming into our houses, and this simple and low-priced article will obviate the difficulty. Of course the evils to be prevented by the adoption of this improvement are, in point of comparison with the cost of the improvement, of such moment that no one will hesitate upon the score of expenditure before securing an immunity from typhoid and diphtheria, which bad drainage sooner or later entails upon every household.

"SAW UP AND SAW DOWN."

The Portsmouth Weekly has recently republished Mrs. Helen C. Knight's story, "Saw Up and Saw Down," which was first issued in book form many years ago. We remember receiving a copy of the book as a reward for punctual attendance at Sunday school, at the time we were a good little boy, long, long ago; we particularly remember it because it was the only reward we ever received for punctual attendance at Sunday school, or school of any kind, our attendance on the same having been ever liable to frequent and prolonged interuptions when strawberries were ripe, and in green-apple and circus time, which generally ended in our receiving something we did not consider as a reward—for we invariably got found out whenever we "played hookey," and we kept those whose duty it was to look after us busy finding us out pretty much all the time. We read the book over and over again; but though we greatly admired it, and longed to emulate the perseverance of those whom it described, one single stroke of a buck-saw across a stick of wood was sufficient to upset all our firmly grounded resolutions about overcoming difficulties by persevering application, and send us out of the woodshed and over the back fence—to be reckoned with at a later hour. As a matter of principle, our spirit would gladly have had our body saw the wood; but as a matter of fact, our body wouldn't saw the wood, anyway. Above all other work did we hate sawing wood; we hate it just as fervently now; and if we had to choose between freezing to death and sawing wood enough to make a fire, it wouldn't cost us a moment's thought to decide.

But this was not what we started to say; we commenced intending to mention the large amount of work done in the sawing line at the steam saw and planing mill of Mr. Daniel Mason, at the foot of Green street. The water in the vicinity of the mill has quite a Penobscot-river look, with the quantity of logs floating on the surface, although as a rule the logs are rather small for State of Maine ones. Until a day or two since we had no idea how many logs go into this mill, and come out in the shape of timber and boards. About 50,000 feet were sawed last week for George A. Hammond, of Eliot, 20,000 feet for Harrison Seavey, of Rye, and 20,000 feet for a Mr. Hayes, of Kittery. A raft of logs from Wendell's woods, at Sagamore Creek, containing about 15,000 feet, was also received at the mill last week; and a raft of 103 logs from Stacy & Mathes, of Eliot, was expected on Monday. Wendell's woods, at Sagamore, are being cut off by Mr. Arthur P. Wilbur, of Hampton, who expects to get about 300,000 feet of boards and timber off the lot; the boards Mr. Wilbur sends to Boston on the cars, the Eastern Railroad taking all the lumber that is fitted for the road's use.

[Communicated.]

THE POND NUISANCE.

By the report of the doings of the Board of Aldermen last Thursday evening, we learn that that honorable body tried to wrestle with the long-talked-of and vexed question, the abatement of the nuisance in the mill-ponds; but we are still in ignorance of what (if anything) they intend to do, and we are at a loss to find out. If they do not feel confidence in themselves to come to some conclusion and make some move in the matter, why not call another meeting of the citizens who are interested in the matter, and there can be no doubt but what they will soon present some method for the committee of the Aldermen to work on.

When the meeting of the citizens called last fall was so fully attended it was thought by all that the work would have been commenced long before this; and after going to the expense of having an experienced civil engineer make a plan to work by, and the unanimous endorsement of all present at that meeting (and they were the heaviest tax payers of our city,) there can be no reason why the work is not begun. We hope if the Board of Aldermen does not adopt some plan, and promptly start in the premises, that the committee having the matter in charge will call another meeting of the citizens and place the question in their hands "with power," and there is no doubt but the work will be commenced immediately. This idea of wrangling over land damages for the proposed new road will not tend to start the work along. There are two important reasons why this work should be commenced at once; one is, there are a great many out of employment, needing work, and the price of labor is consequently very cheap; and the other is that the season is coming when the nuisance will be felt. We earnestly hope that some one will have stamina enough to present some plan that will be adopted, and the work be began at once. ANTI-TYPHOID.

THE VICINITY.

The life-saving station at Rye Beach closes this evening.

Henry Worthen, carriage manufacturer, of Dover, paid off his men with gold, Saturday night.

Edgar S. Taft has been appointed Postmaster at Greenland Depot, vice S. G. Folsom, resigned.

There was a town-meeting in Kittery on Monday, to consider the alleged defalcation of Luther P. Call, late collector of taxes.

Capt. Thaddeus C. Perkins, of Hampton, one day last week brought in 3360 pounds of cod in his boat as the result of one set of his trawls.

Charles W. Greenleaf, Jr., has been appointed station agent of the Eastern Railroad at North Berwick. He was formerly night telegraphic operator at the same station.

G. W. S. Putnum, Esq., of York, who has held a commission as Trial Justice for the town of York for two terms of seven years, has declined a re-appointment and been appointed Justice of the Peace and Quorum for the County of York.

Mr. Frank Simpson, son of Stover Simpson, Esq., of York, was about the house in good health on Sunday, but retired at night complaining of a severe headache, which rapidly grew worse. A physician was sent for, but Mr. Stover died before his arrival. It is a sudden and sad blow to his parents, as well as to his recently married wife. He was about twenty-two years of age, and a very promising young man.

The funeral of Hon. George W. Burleigh took place from his late residence in Great Falls on Monday. All the mills and business places were closed. A large number of citizens were in attendance, including several prominent men from abroad. The funeral honors were performed by Saint Paul's Commandry, Knights Templar, of Dover, accompanied by the Dover Cornet Band; Libanus Lodge of Freemasons of Great Falls; and representatives of Masonic lodges of the surrounding towns.

DEATHS.

LAMPREY. In Hampton, April 27th, Miss Emily Lamprey, aged 82 years.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

In Lower Harbor, April 29th, (in addition to vessels previously reported,) schs Stephen Waterman, Ariel and Wm Tell, and sloop Aletta Hamilton.

Sch Lottie Fish, from Ware River, Md, for this port, arr at New London April 25th.

Ship Kate Kellock, Ricker, before reported put back to San Francisco leaky, sprung a leak in the forward (or collision) compartment the night after leaving port, owing to the breaking of a force-pump pipe low down. This let in six feet of water in that compartment before the leak was discovered, but no harm was done to the cargo, and only a short time was needed to effect repairs.

Sch John Mashow, a sand drogher, of Boston, and a very old vessel, recently engaged in carrying sand from Newburyport to Boston, went ashore a few days since near Ipswich bar, and is a total wreck. The crew were taken off by the men of the life saving station. She was commanded by Capt. Webber.

Barque Woodside, Montgomery, arr at Portland April 24th, having made the run from Thatcher's Island to Portland light in six hours and three-quarters.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing, how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Foll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. (aug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dreadful diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that it will prove to be well founded, in the season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction and Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are imbedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial property of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superiority, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have contributed all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual expenditure foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKFORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed: "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff enough so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventeen hours of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second time as one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose.

Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If your blood is impure, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of troublesome complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purpose."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh, Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, so serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple or neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

I can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hardened matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed, the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the dire poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal disease.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my ears in hearing, and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, and no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. F. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canada. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 27th.

The Conkling-Mines sensation which the other day absorbed the attention of everybody, yielded the place it temporarily held to its successor, the alleged confessions of McLin and Dennis, save with the comparatively few personally implicated in the World's startling publication. The fact that McLin has made some such statement as is attributed to him and that Dennis has hinted at frauds in the interests of both sides in the late Presidential vote in Florida, is generally admitted. McLin appears from latest reports to have made more than one, all to the same general purport of discrediting the decision of the Florida Returning Board in favor of Mr. Hayes. Mr. Blair appeared about the only prominent politician here who ascribed the so-called confession to the pricks of conscience, and was confident that it was another broad stride towards seating Mr. Tilden in the chair now occupied by Mr. Hayes. Stripped of all the verbiage surrounding it, the confession seems to have been engineered and to have come from three disappointed aspirants for office. As the distribution of office has been generally conducted heretofore the charge that they have been ungratefully treated and their services ignered, seems well founded. The general opinion among Congressmen—democrats and republicans—so far as any has been expressed, is that the "confession" even if it clearly establish fraud, is wholly irrelevant so far as the title derived from the Electoral Commission is concerned. But it is believed all the papers will ultimately go into the custody of the House Judiciary Committee; and they may considerably influence the final disposition of Mr. Blair's quo warranto scheme. It is believed by not a few that this latest is the second step of the series to be taken by Mr. Tilden looking to his ultimate occupation of the White House, Blair's being the initiatory. According to these Mr. Hayes is to be ousted if postible. Otherwise public sentiment is to be so moulded that it will demand the nomination of Mr. Tilden as the martyr candidate in 1880 by the Democratic National Convention, and he is credited with being the chief engineer, in charge.

Within the first six months of the first season of the 45th Congress there were introduced into the House, 4,714 bills, of which 319 have been passed. If the vote defeating concurrence in the Senate proposition to adjourn the 15th proximo, was really a test of Wood's strength as some are disposed to regard it, the tariff policy of the past 17 years is to be reversed at a time of all others when we can least afford to experiment with out vital interests.

The appeal of Speaker Randall to the democratic Legislature of Ohio to so gerrymander that State as to insure a success next fall, shows how thoroughly the more level-headed Bourbons appreciate the damaging effects of their blundering management of the House.

It is to be hoped the startling intelligence reaching us from time to time, of the progress made by communism in California towards complete supremacy, and of the alarming proportion agrarianism is assuming in cities nearer home, will have the effect to arouse our rulers to a sense of the danger threatening every community in the country. The devastation and ruin wrought in two short weeks last summer by this lawless spirit, inflamed by the cunning appeals of wicked demagogues and made desperate by the destitution everywhere prevalent, ought to warn us what might be effected through thorough organization and concerted action. And it ought not for a single moment to be forgotten what a terrible element we are not not only tolerating but are encouraging to cut our throats, in the armies of tramps overrunning the country in every direction from Maine to Texas and from the Atlantic to the Pacific railroads. We have given them every opportunity to mature their plans in concert with the vicious classes in our large towns; and they appear only waiting for a few ruffianly leaders of the Kearney type to inaugurate a contest in comparison with which that of last summer would appear like child's play. KNOX.

A Letter's Remarkable Journey.

A letter was mailed in the New York post office on February 6, 1876, containing ten gold sovereigns, and directed to Mary Botten, Aschucha, Australia. The letter was sent to San Francisco, and was returned to New York. Thence it was sent to London, to Australia, to the dead letter office at Sydney, and thence, at the request of the sender, it was forwarded to Demmnquilen, New South Wales. Not delivered there, it went next to the dead letter office at Melbourne, thence to London, thence to the dead letter office at Washington, and finally it came back to New York, more than two years after it started. But the sovereigns were missing. Inquiry at the foreign office elicited the response that the case was closed. It was afterwards found from marks on the envelope that the loss must have occurred between Sydney and Melbourne. The case was again opened, and the result was that the sovereigns were found in the Melbourne office in their buckskin covering. George Wilson, the sender, Thursday received the money from Postmaster James. More than forty letters were sent from the New York office regarding the matter.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 1, 1878.

Temperance Roughs.

There has been in Washington for some time an organization called "The Mrs. R. B. Hayes Temperance Association." Recently Mrs. Hayes accompanied her husband and other high officials to Philadelphia on a visit, and it is said claret punch was served at dinner on board an excursion steamer, whereupon the Washington Temperance Ass. held a meeting and Resolved, That this Society discards the name of Mrs. R. B. Hayes, and pronounces her as complete a fraud as her husband.

This resolution is liable to several constructions; there are certainly many people who consider President Hayes one of the most patriotic and noble men the country ever produced; and to such the statement that Mrs. Hayes is like her husband should seem really a high compliment. But the evident intent of this society of temperance bummers was to publicly insult a woman whose good name as a woman, a wife and a mother, is irreproachable, and has been respected even by the Washington correspondents of the western democratic papers; the declared reason for the insult being a report that Mrs. Hayes has different ideas from those held by the association as to what constitutes true temperance. The members of the late Mrs. R. B. Hayes Temperance Association, if their ruffianly resolution is the legitimate offspring of their temperate habits, had better take up whiskey drinking for a while, and by hanging around rum-shops they may learn how to deport themselves like gentlemen, of which it is evident they now know nothing. The insult to Mrs. Hayes was not given when the unmanly and unmannerly resolution was passed by them, but when her name was adopted by their association of temperance roughs.

Congress.

The Senate, which adjourned over the latter part of last week to enable the Confederate brigadiers in the Senate to visit Boston as the lions of the high-toned and exclusive Commercial Club, was in session Monday. A number of bills, including the joint resolution appropriating $5000 for a monument over Thomas Jefferson's grave, and the bill appropriating $75,000 for the District of Columbia schools, was passed. The bill to repeal the resumption act was set for consideration on Tuesday. Senator McCreery of Kentucky presented a petition signed by a large number of citizens of Kentucky, asking that Raphael Semmes, of "Alabama" pirate infamy, be assigned to duty as an officer in the Howgate expedition to the Arctic seas. In presenting the petition he referred to the scientific research of the father of Semmes, and his theory respecting the North Pole, which, after many years, was now beginning to receive credence, and said that the son, inspired by filial affection, desired to encounter the perils and hardships of the expedition, from which there might be no return, in order to vindicate his father's views, and place his name where it belonged. Semmes' appointment to the Howgate expedition would be a nice entering wedge for his future appointment to the U. S. navy, when the ex-Confederate triumph. What the shipping interest, and indeed the whole country, is more likely to remember, is not the theories of the father, but the practices of the son during the late rebellion; and if Semmes should go to the North Pole and spend there the rest of his days in praying for forgiveness for his sins, he would hardly deserve pardon for his crimes; and yet those are the men who have the majority in the House of Representatives and seek to become re-instated as in pre-rebellion days, in all the good positions of governmental patronage.

The House passed the bill which makes it unlawful for the Secretary of the Treasury to cancel or retire any more legal tender notes, but when they shall be received into the Treasury, from any source, they may be re-issued and paid out again. Night sessions were ordered for Wednesday and Thursday for debate only, and for Friday for reports from the committee on invalid pensions. The attempt to hold a session Monday evening resulted in a silly exhibition, there being no quorum for business.

Naval Affairs.

United States steamer Tennessee, Capt. Jonathan Young commanding, for nearly three years flagship of the Asiatic station, sailed from Hong Kong March 2d for New York via the Suez Canal, touching in at such ports as may be necessary to coal and lay in supplies of provisions.

United States steamer Ossipee, Commander S. L. Breeze commanding, whose arrival at Fortress Monroe has been reported, left Hampton Roads on the 22d of January last for a cruise in the West Indies. She has since visited Jamaica, British Honduras, Mexico and Cuba. She has traversed about six thousand three hundred miles, and made on an average seventy miles per day, including stoppages. She will go out of commission and be laid up in ordinary. The crew will be placed on the receiving ship Franklin, and the officers detached and placed on waiting orders.

The War Cloud.

While continuing their talk about negotiations for peace the nations of Europe are steadily preparing for war. England is massing all her military and naval forces, and all the dock yards and arsenals are busy increasing her armament. There is great activity among the Russian forces in Turkey, and numerous startling rumors of offensive operations being inaugurated by Austria.

News and Notes.

It is said that Gen. Pope favors the re-opening of the case of Fitz John Porter. Perhaps he thinks the traitor will get hung, as he deserves, next time he is tried.

Mat Weaver, cashier of the Citizens' National Bank of Urbana, Ohio, has stolen $75,000 of the bank's money.

The post-office at Marshall, Texas, was visited by a party of masked robbers Sunday night. The postmaster was obliged to open the safe, and $2000 in money and stamps were carried off.

Barney Gray on Sunday blew off the top of his brother John's head with an unloaded gun, at Cambridge, Vt.

Mr. Calmesnil, Samoan Minister, writes a merchant in San Francisco that negotiations have commenced to have Australian steamers call regularly at either at Pagopago or Apia.

An elopement in which Joseph B. Borden of Fall River and a Mrs. Tilden of New Bedford are the principals is the last sensation. Borden is the son of Deacon Joseph Borden, Superintendent of the City Almshouse at Fall River. The case is a peculiarly hard one and much indignation is expressed toward the guilty pair. Borden leaves behind him a wife and six children, without money or food in the house, for whom Deacon Borden will no doubt provide. Mrs. Tilden is not of very prepossessing appearance, is much older than Borden, who is about 35 years of age, and she leaves behind her three children.

A gas main leading into the Detroit Free Press building exploded Monday morning, injuring two pressman slightly. The building was thoroughly gutted by fire, twelve presses damaged and $40,000 worth of job material burned. Total loss $50,000. The paper was issued next day as usual.

Father Cuddiby, of Milford, Mass., bitterly denounced the Ancient Order of Hibernians, in his sermon Sunday, and declared their pews in his church forfeited. The congregation listened quietly, but very few responded when the priest called upon those who were on his side to rise. He warned Americans against the order, as such Mollie Maguire disturbances as took place in Pennsylvania might be repeated in New England.

The Dexter (Me.) Savings Bank officials have just been taking account of the property in the hands of the bank; the aggregate amount of the same is not far from one hundred thousand dollars. After the footings had been made and everything done with a view to absolute correctness, it was found that the figures obtained agreed to a cent with the showing made by the books of the bank, as Mr. Baron left them on the 22d of February, the date of his murder.

T. B. Aldrich is as much appreciated abroad as at home. Several of his shorter stories have been appropriated by foreign publications, and now that standard French magazine, the Revue des Deux Mondes, is printing a translation of his last novel, "The Queen of Sheba."

The Washington gossips are busy over the clandestine marriage of a daughter of Senator Mitchell of Oregon to a young gentleman not acceptable to her parents. The young lady, who is only fifteen years old, married, on Tuesday, April 23d, a young gentleman of twenty-two, with no one wiser but themselves and the officiating clergyman, and then went over to Baltimore on a bridal trip. After a few hours spent in looking at the sights in Baltimore the bridal couple returned and the young lady acquainted her parents with what had taken place. She is a pupil in one of the fashionable schools of that city, and on Thursday, the day of reopening after the Easter holidays, she was in her place; also on Friday; and the facts were not publicly known until April 28th.

New Hampshire Items.

The Charlestown boot and shoe manufactory, unoccupied for about two years, together with the machinery, and also a barn of Dr. Samuel Webber, were burned Sunday night. Loss $10,200, with no insurance.

Jack Sullivan, alias Big Head, was arraigned before the Police Court in Manchester Monday for burglary committed on Friday night, and bound over in $800 for trial at the May term of the Supreme Court. A portion of the stolen property was recovered.

The Merrimack county delegation will hold a meeting at Concord, May 7th, for the further consideration of the questions submitted to towns concerning the support of county paupers, and rebuilding on the county farm.

The Supreme Court for Hillsboro county met at Amherst May 1st, Judge Allen presiding. There are 632 cases in the continued docket. There are thirty-six persons in the county jail awaiting the action of the Grand Jury. The liquor dealers are also expecting another turn of the screw.

The Military Commission, consisting of Adjt.-Gen. Ira Cross, Judge Advocate Col. William R. Patten of Manchester, Col. D. M. White of Peterboro, Capt. F. F. Davis of Dover and Capt. E. G. Pierce, Jr., of this city, on Tuesday commenced a two days' session, codifying and arranging the military laws of the State to be presented at the next session of the Legislature.

Political.

The National Executive Committee of the Socialistic Labor party publish a declaration denying that any section of their party, in Chicago or elsewhere, are undergoing military drill, stating that the organization is purely political, and no arms have been purchased or distributed to any branch.

The first nomination for the next Congress of the United States has been made. The democratic convention for the 6th district of Indiana, after a long struggle, nominated Capt. William R. Myers as a candidate. Capt. Myers is a lawyer, forty years old, and served in an Indiana regiment during the rebellion.

The city of Chicago is trying to get along on "absolute money," but it does not seem to work well. The city has none of the "gold-bug" money, nor any of the National "promises to pay," and can't borrow any, so city scrip has been issued to pay off the firemen and police, and other city officials; but the city servants lack "confidence," and refuse to accept the city script, asserting that they cannot exchange it for provisions, or pay rent with it, at par or anything near it.

The question to be considered is whether the obsolete rascality of the carpet-baggers has qualified the democratic party to govern this country.—N. Y. Post.

The King of Dahomey has got hold of the "national" idea, and thinks it is a great discovery. He owes England three hundred puncheons of oil, and he proposes to pay her with three hundred pieces of paper, each marked, "This is a puncheon of oil." All that is needed on the part of England is confidence. If she will only believe that paper to be oil she will be just as well satisfied.—Providence Press.

—During the performance of the play "Shaugbraun" at the Providence Opera House, Thursday evening, the "wake scene" was received with a storm of hisses from the gallery, and "the keeners" on the stage were assailed with turnips and eggs, necessitating the lowering of the curtain. The curtain was not down more than a minute, but the "keening" was left out when it rose again.

NIJNE NOVGOROD FAIR. The great market of the eastern world has been held at this junction of the Volga and Oliga Rivers, in Russia, every summer for hundreds of years. Here the nations of Europe and Asia meet with their products for trade. Cossack, Chinese, Turk and Persian meet the German and the Greek with every variety of merchandise that mankind employs, from saphires to grindstones, tea, opium, fur, food, tools and fabrics, and last but not least, medicines. J. C. Ayer & Co's celebrated remedies from America were displayed in an elegant bazaar where the Doctor himself might sometimes be seen. They are known and taken on steppe of Asia as well as the prairies of the West, and are an effectual antidote for the diseases that prevail in the jacourts of the North as well as the huts and cabins of the Western continent.—*Lincoln (Ill.) E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

J. Wesley Young fell from a load of wood last Saturday, and broke one of his arms.

The workmen in J. K. Nute's shoe factory were paid off their monthly stipend in gold coin, Tuesday evening.

Mr. Lamprey's dancing school for young people commences in Congress Hall this afternoon. See advertisement.

Mr. Cole's juvenile singing school will open this afternoon in the chapel of the Middle street church. See advertisement.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge has sold the house adjoining his residence on Cornwall street to Mr. James H. Thompson, who will remove the same to his land at the foot of the street. Mr. Eldredge will take the vacated lot into his garden.

The performance of "Everybody's Friend" was attended by a good audience at Music Hall on Monday evening, and the general verdict was that the amateur performers were fully as good actors as the average of travelling professionals.

Gen. Neal Dow delivered a temperance lecture in Franklin Hall on Monday evening, to an audience of about two hundred persons. The lecture was a good one; that it was a "radical" one goes without saying. Mr. A. F. Craig presided.

Schooner Golden Eagle dragged ashore at Newcastle, Tuesday forenoon, and was hauled off by the light-house steamer Iris, which was lying in the Lower Harbor. It was a lucky thing for the Golden Eagle that the Iris was at hand, for had she hung where she went ashore until the tide fell she would have sustained severe damage.

The captain of the Boston tug-boat William Woolley, who has been about a week towing the new barque E. L. Mayberry from Portland to Boston and has only got as far as this port, is as much disgusted with the continued fog as were the pilots who hung off the harbor for three or four days looking out for the U. S. S. Omaha, when they learned that their prize had slipped by them and was safely anchored in the Lower Harbor.

The rivers in the interior of the State are greatly swollen by the recent rains, and are overflowing the intervales. Work in some of the Manchester mills was stopped Monday, owing to the high water, and considerable damage was done in Nashua. The Piscataqua is the best kind of a river to have 'round—a waterspout wouldn't raise its level enough to do any damage, and the heaviest rain has no perceptible effect other than to make its waters a little muddy.

The annual parish meeting of the Methodist Society was held on Monday evening, when the following officers were elected: President, John H. Broughton; Secretary, Daniel McIntire; Treasurer and Collector, Wm. K. Pierce; Trustees, John H. Broughton, Stephen W. Clarke, William C. Newton, John F. Leavitt, A. Milton Gardner, James Janvrin, Robert B. Adams. It was voted that the expenses of the society be met by voluntary contributions instead of by taxation as at present.

Intelligence has been recently received in this city of the death of Dr. N. J. Osorio, on the voyage from New York to Matanzas, for which place he left here last summer, for the purpose of visiting his children and taking possession of his estate and that of his wife, which were confiscated at the time of his banishment from Cuba for taking up arms against the government, and which were now to have been restored to him. The property is of great value, and would have made the doctor very wealthy.

NOT SO VERY BAD.

On the examination before U. S. Commissioner Hackett of the two boys Brooks and Falvey, (who having had their "consciences quickened" a la Mrs. Tilton, and Messrs. McLin and Dennis, like them commenced confessing other peoples sins, and each acknowledged ha the other had stolen letters,) Dist. Att'y Hall stated that such cases were more frequent at this post-office than anywhere else in the State. The Portsmouth officials take exceptions to this statement—or at least to the inference that would naturally be drawn from it, that it is a common thing for the office here to be thus robbed. They say that but four cases of stealing letters from the mail have been reported to them; one of these was when the receiving box on the vestibule door was broken open, years ago, a day or two before a new iron one (now in position) was to have been put in place of the old and insecure one; another was when an employe of the office stole letters, and was detected and convicted; a third when a seaman called for and received letters belonging to his shipmates, for which he was tried and acquitted; and now this quickened conscience case, of which the officials knew nothing until they saw it in the CHRONICLE, though they had often delivered letters to the two boys for the Ricker woman. Affairs at the post-office are certainly administered carefully and efficiently, and with every attention on the part of the officials to the convenience of the public and the safe delivery of mail matter to its rightful owners; and we do not wonder that they growl a little over the injurious inference to be drawn from Mr. Hall's statement in the Commissioner's Court.

SUPREME COURT.

Tuesday, April 30th, before Smith, J.

The case Rowell vs. Boston & Maine Railroad was argued by Mr. Hatch for the Railroad and Gen. Marston and given to the jury in the afternoon.

This morning Cook and others vs. Curtis and others will be tried, and after that Craig vs. Gerrish. Civil cases will not be tried after this week.

A DESERVED RECOGNITION.

On Saturday last an advertisement appeared in the Boston papers, calling for information of the whereabouts of certain ship-masters who had awaiting their call in the Boston custom-house, presents from foreign governments in recognition of acts of bravery and humanity on the ocean. Among others thus enquired for was Capt. Henry Libby of this city, master of the ship Triumphant—both ship and captain being about as well known as any in the American merchant service, and the Triumphant being owned in Boston and registered there, her managing owners having their place of business within rifle-shot of Boston custom-house! The Triumphant was built in Boston, and has been in the shipping reports about once a week ever since she was launched, having made first-rate passages; and Capt. Libby being a great fellow for signalling everything in the shape of a ship that he sees on blue water, "ship Triumphant spoken," or "ship Triumphant signalled," has been as common as "confessions" in the Brooklyn scandal.

This was the first Capt. Libby's friends knew of the matter; and Capt. Libby himself doesn't know of it now, as his ship is at Pabellon de Pica, one of the guano islands in the South Pacific, loading for Liverpool. On Monday, Collector Howard of the Portsmouth district having business in Boston, called at the custom-house there and enlightened the officials as to the whereabouts of Capt. Libby; and on Tuesday a splendid binocular glass, a present to Capt. Libby from the British government, was delivered to Mrs. Libby through the customs officials in this city. It is a regular British affair—solid-looking and serviceable, "with no nonsense about it," cased in leather and nickel; but when looked through it is found to be a magnificent instrument. The custom-house men in this city have been accustomed to boast that they had the "boss" glass; but this one, though not nearly so large, is vastly more powerful, and a more appropriate and acceptable present to a ship-master could hardly be selected.

The incident which led to this present being sent to Capt. Libby was as follows: Some time last year, when the Triumphant was off Cape Horn on the passage from Liverpool to San Francisco, a schooner was sighted, apparently full of people and evidently in distress. The Triumphant "paused to investigate," and the distressed vessel was found to be the British schooner Feles, belonging to the Falkland islands; she had been blown off while endeavoring to make a passage to Port Stanley, from some point of the islands not far away, having on board at the time some fifteen or twenty passengers, several of whom were women, but only one day's provisions and neither compass, chart nor quadrant. The schooner had been out about twenty days, her people suffering terribly from hunger and cold, and they were in utter misery when the Triumphant hove in sight, one female passenger, crazed with privation and despair, having drowned herself the day before. The poor people were generously cared for, and furnished with charts and instruments to find their way home, and provisions to last them until they got there, which they evidently finally did in safety, for Capt. Libby, some time after arriving in San Francisco, received a letter from the British consul at the Falkland islands requesting his address and stating the consul's intention to report the case to his home government. This the consul evidently did, and in recognition of Capt. Libby's generous humanity the British Department of State sent him the glass referred to.

A THIEVING RAID.

A freight car at Newmarket Junction was broken open Monday night, and four barrels of flour stolen therefrom; the stable of Thomas Chesley was also entered, and a horse and cart taken. Attempts were made to enter two stores at South Newmarket, the same night, at one of which four shots were fired at the burglars. Sheriff Kent on his way to Court learned of the affair, and immediately made up his mind that "Bob" and "Harry" Gladding, of Exeter, were the needed chaps for the offence. He at once secured a search warrant at Exeter, and Deputies Hoyt and Smart visited the home of the "Gladding boys," but the birds had flown about an hour before; but the officers, after several searches, found the flour in a vacant house in Stratham. The horse was found hitched to the fence near the town farm in Stratham. The officers also found some horse blankets and robes, and a lot of hens. Col. Kent says it is "only a question of time with the boys." These Gladdings formerly lived in Portsmouth, and the Sheriff believes they (with three other youths) were the parties who committed the breaks in this city not long since. One of them was at John W. F. Hobbs', at North Hampton, the day before his harnesses were stolen recently.

MEMORIAL DAY.

At a citizens' meeting held at the Common Council Room Tuesday evening, to take steps regarding Memorial Day, Col. Wm. H. Sise was nominated Chairman, and Lewis B. Marden, Secretary. A committee of three (John H. Locke, Oliver M. Knight and Charles E. Young) was appointed to nominate a general committee, and the following gentlemen were appointed:

Hon. I. Goodwin, Chairman; Col. Wm. H. Sise, Vice Chairman; E. A. Tilton, O. M. Knight, John H. Locke, Charles E. Young, George E. Hodgdon, Adolph Nelson, Lewis B. Marden, Robert E. Rich, Samuel Dodge, J. Dwight Rundlet, S. C. Whittier, Wm. E. Hadley, Frank W. Hilton, Charles E. Osgood, Wm. Russell Foster, John E. Colcord, Michael E. Long, James R. May, J. Horace Kent, E. G. Pierce, Jr., Thomas Entwistle, John H. Hutchinson, Wm. O. Sides, Jas. R. Morrison, James A. Waterhouse, D. J. Vaughan, Ed. D. Coffin, Wm. H. Lovell, John Moore, J. C. Butler, George D. Baxter, Thomas E. O Marvin, Andrew P. Preston.

The meeting then adjourned, and a committee meeting was called; Hon. Ichabad Goodwin absent, Col. Wm. H. Sise in the chair. A vote was taken and Lewis B. Marden was chosen Secretary of the General Committee. The following sub-committees were appointed:

On Invitations — Col. Wm. H. Sise, Samuel Dodge, Adolph Nelson, T. E. O. Marvin.

On Finance—J. Horace Kent, John H. Hutchinson, E. G. Pierce, Jr., E. D. Coffin, Frank W. Hilton, W. Russell Foster.

On Printing—John H. Locke, Lewis B. Marden, Adolph Nelson, Chas. E. Young, Wm. E. Hadley.

Adjourned to Friday evening at half-past seven o'clock.

THE VICINITY.

Schooner Portland, Capt, Pickles, of and from Annapolis, Nova Scotia, with a cargo of produce, ran ashore on Seabrook beach Monday afternoon in the fog. The crew got ashore in safety.

The Board of Trade of Dover, upon the solicitation of a large number of merchants and citizens, telegraphed the directors of the Cocheco Mills, who held a meeting in Boston Monday, requesting them to start their mills. Subsequently the agent received a despatch from the directors, authorizing him to start all the mills on Monday, May 6th.

The following are the appointments of the Methodist Conference for the ensuing year, for the towns named: W. R. Merrill, Berwick; D. B. Randall, South Berwick; G. F. Cobb, Eliot and Scotland; G. R. Watkins, South Eliot; B. Freeman, Kittery Foreside; Samuel Watterson, Kittery; J. W. Smith, York; Saco, L. Beau; Biddeford, D. W. Lelascheur; South Biddeford, J. C. Powers; Goodwin's Mills, O. H. Stevens; Kennebunk, I. Woodbury; Kennebunk Depot, W. B. Bartlett; Kennebunkport, H. P. Mitchell.

[Communicated.]

The Spy, and Other Matters.

I am informed that something has appeared relative to an article of mine, touching this subject, but have not seen and do not know what it is. What I have written, I have written. It was according to the wisdom of the ages, historical facts and the accredited rules of Biblical Exigetes, according to my best knowledge and belief. The readers of this paper would not be interested in further discussion of it, especially as in a debate, little self is apt to creep in, and worse than this, contention is often for the mastery, instead of the truth.

Another matter takes my almost individual attention just now. I have never seen the small, very rapidly moving planet Mercury, but once. I have gazed lately, as it was in a position somewhat favorable to be seen, but not a glimpse of it was caught. Next Monday it is to fly across the sun's disk. I am studying its path and calculating just where it will first reach the sun and commence its travels across that vast orb of light. With a telescope that will be used, if the day is clear, with only a five inch refractive power, a fine view may be had of it. The telescope is in a town twelve miles away.

The transits of Mercury are somewhat frequent. Those of Venus, the other interior planet, less so. The first of Mercury seen by mortals, was Nov. 7th, 1631. Since then there have been twenty-seven of that planet, and there will be three more before the present century closes. Of the past, not all were favorable in our country for being seen. The one just at hand can be seen in any part of the United States, if the sky shall be clear. No previous transit of Mercury ever excited the attention of the learned like this.

But what is its use? What is to be gained by its observation? Why, this. It is a wonder in nature. President Jefferson said it was worth a voyage across the Atlantic to see the Shenandoah river in Virginia pass through the Blue Ridge. The movements of planets and comets show the wonders of creation, the wisdom, power and goodness of Him, who upholds all, and bids them move or stand. And then, scientifically, the study of the coming transit will throw light on the orbit of Mercury, also some evidence as to the existence of another planet some have supposed to exist interior of Mercury, which one astronomer has named Vulcan; and moreover to measure with greater accuracy the distance of the sun from the earth. It was formerly put down at nine-five millions of miles. It was measured by the transit of Venus in December, 1874, and found about a million and a half miles short of that. Now, by different lines, angles, etc., let it be seen if it comes out about the same.

There, readers will be in delight. I am in ecstacy. Spying is as bright as the star of hope.

—A New York hotel advertises, among other attractions, the "almost knightly courtesy of its attendants."

—An extraordinary package was received through the mails at New Haven the other day, and no address being found like that to which it was directed, the postmaster opened it. The contents consisted of a piece of work resembling a ceiling centre-piece about seven inches in diameter constructed very ingeniously of Colorado beetles, their yellow backs, striped with black, giving the article a good variation of color. The interior of the circle was raised after the fashion of centre pieces. This work of art was finally sent to the Yale School of the Fine Arts.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing, how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taugl

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness seves even a few hours for this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the Company only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed:
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an invariable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that reproduces thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. As proof of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivalled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers of Rhubarb (or Lady Slipper) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuffs," "dulls," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a walking tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase and try one bottle with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections, Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it unrivalled remedy for Biliousness; Dyspepsia; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucborrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and efficiently produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications, the mucous membrane inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy by it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the Cure on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

Misconceptions Respecting Rowing.

But how about the young man's rowing, and all the preparation therefor? Do not these fill the bill? Well, what has he done? Rowed, if a faithful oar, perhaps five or more miles a day for two hundred days a year, maybe for several years; pulled an equivalent on a fifty or sixty pound rowing weight daily throughout the cold weather; run three or four miles three or four times each week in the cooler months, and has done some walking at intervals. And what have these done for him? Enlarged his chest? The foot-work has, but the rewing not one iota. It has thickened his back muscles so that close under the arms he girths more, perhaps, than before, but the whole front of the shoulders, the breast muscles, and the front upper chest, instead of filling out, have very likely, as in the case of not a few well known professional oarsmen, absolutely fallen in, until a post mortem examination would very likely show, as it did with an English student fond of hard rowing, that the ribs actually pressed in on the lungs so hard as to indent them. The work was good so far as it went, and in bringing strong legs and loins, back and abdomen, contributed much toward giving him strength enough to hold himself erect. But, unless correspondingly difficult and continuous work was done for the front chest and arms, then he is disproportioned, thin in the upper arm, with shoulders habitually warped forward, very often enough to permanently crease his coat near where the sleeves meet the body in front. When in later years, different associations, business cares, and long, hard head-work, accompanied as the latter usually is by only partial inflation of the lungs, get him out of the way of using these large back muscles, their very size, and the long spell of warping forward which so much rowing gave the shoulders, tend more to weigh him forward than if he had never so developed them, and instead of benefitting his throat and lungs, actually incline to cramp them. Here then, he who has voluntarily given much time and thought and labor to the severest test of his strength and stay which has yet become at all popular among cultivated Americans, comes out of it all to begin his real race in life no better fitted, often not nearly so well fitted for it as some of his comrades who did not spare half so much time to athletics, but hit upon a sort which, instead of leaving the chest as it was or cramping it, expanded it, enlarging the lung room, and giving the heart, stomach and other vital organs all the freest play. —Harper's Magazine for May.

Vitality of a Shark's Heart.

The Providence Press of March 28 tells this story, apropos of a shark story in the April number of the Wide Awake written by Dr. J. T. Payne: "He describes the capture of a shark and its dissection at sea, and says that after the heart had been removed from the body and placed upon the deck 'it kept up its contractions for a period of 20 minutes or half an hour, just the same as when in place and performing its office of pumping the blood to the various parts to the body.' We, in company with the late Surgeon MacGregor, used to enjoy, annually, a shark-fishing excursion. One season we rendezvoused at Edgartown, and fishing for the monster off 'Capoge.' We caught among others, a fellow of splendid pluck and proportions, and decided to dissect him. We landed him upon an old wharf in Edgertown, about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and proceeded in true surgeon's style. We opened him; took out his immense jaws, which when opened, passed over to the extreme of our shoulders, and afterwards found his heart expanding and contracting as if in life, though the body was devoid of blood. We cut the heart out, placed it upon an inverted iron try-kettle used by whalers, and proceeded with our work. After we had finished—it was nearly dark—we took the jaw and the heart, the latter still pumping, to our hotel, and placed the latter upon a stone post, while we went in and had our supper. We took a lantern with us and examined that marvelous heart again. It was still contracting, though feebly and its last quiver, about 8:30 o'clock, was merely a spasm. Dr. Payne's is not marvelous as ours, and we vouch for its truthfulness."

— Buffalo Bill goes to Europe next season on an extended tour.

— A gentleman, who could not waltz, offered a young lady a hundred dollars if she'd let him hug her as much as the man did who had just waltzed with her! It was a good offer, and showed that money was no object to him, but they put him out of the house so hard that his eye was quite black.

Daily Chronicle

THURSDAY, MAY 2, 1878.

New Hampshire National Guard.

The Military Commission, after several protracted sessions have completed their labors. In view of the fact of a revival of the military spirit throughout the State, and the crude state of the old statutes relating to military affairs, the Commission was authorized by the Legislature and appointed by Gov. Prescott. The report will be voluminous and cover a multitude of details, the design being to make the military laws of the State conform to the requirements of modern times. The report provides for a commutation tax of one dollar, to be levied upon able-bodied men between the ages of twenty-one and forty-five years, to defray the expenses of the military establishment. The exempts are the same as provided in the United States laws and the statutes of New Hampshire, except that Judges of Police Courts are added to the list. Shakers and Quakers, though exempt from service, will be made to pay the commutation. The name of the establishment is changed from that of the New Hampshire State Militia to the New Hampshire National Guard. It provides for three regiments of infantry of ten companies each, a squadron of cavalry and two batteries, of light artillery. There will be regimental and brigade encampments at such times as the Commander-in-Chief may direct, the first encampment to occur probably a year from next autumn. The provisions of the old law relating to the election of officers are omitted, and the general and field officers will be appointed by the Governor and Council, and captains and subalterns will be recommended to the Governor by the field officers. The State will furnish the arms, equipments and uniforms to privates, and shoulder-knots and belts of the United States regulation pattern to officers. The report will be submitted to the Legislature next June for adoption.

Congress.

In the House, April 30th, the ways and means committee reported a resolution suspending the operation of the sinking fund.

The Senate had the House amendments to the bankrupt repeal bill under consideration, but adjourned without disposing of the subject. The committee on military affairs authorized Senator Cockrell to report the House bill placing Gen. James Shields on the retired list of the army favorably, without amendment. The authorization was coupled with a formal understanding that the members of the Committee be at liberty to offer amendments or oppose the bill in the Senate if they desire.

The "Investigation" Flood.

A Washington letter writer, under date of April 30th, says the republicans are beginning to take the aggressive in the matter of investigation of everything connected with the Electoral count, and the friends of the President are declaring that they are quite willing to try the whole question before the people, by means of committees of both houses, sufficiently numerous to give a strong working body. They insist that the Cronin college frauds in Oregon and the attempts to purchase electoral votes in Louisiana and Florida and South Carolina can be proven, and that if the facts of the election can be inquired into in Alabama and Mississippi, as well as the disputed States, the democrats will wish they had let well enough alone. There are a good many democrats who will vote with the republicans to make the investigation sufficiently general to cover all of Tilden's operations or the acts of his particular friends. They will do this because they know that the whole movement for the investigation originated with him, and that it proceeded upon the theory that all the democrats could be forced to support it; and so the only way for those thus forced against their inclination to make things even for the Tilden clique, is to make the scope of the inquiry as broad as the administration republicans may desire, under the belief that such exposure of Tilden will follow as to effectually take him out of the way of the democrats for the future. There are quite a number of democrats who seem determined, if the inquiry begins, that it shall demolish Tilden, whatever effect it may have upon the republicans.

Glover's drag-net committee announces that charges are to be made against four officers of the secret service division of the Treasury. This is all right, if they have been doing anything wrong; but the four men named have no connection with that division. One of Glover's "experts," Mr. C. S. Bell, has been arrested for murder on a requisition of the governor of Missouri.

That Mysterious Steamship.

Considerable speculation has been caused by the appearance at Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert, Me., of the steamer Cimbria, of the New York and Hamburg line, with a lot of Russians on board, and bound nowhere in particular, so far as can be found out. According to the statement of the captain, the vessel was chartered by the Russian Government, but he professes to be ignorant of her destination. The passengers are said to be a regularly organized ship's company of sixty officers and 600 seamen of the Russian Imperial Navy. A long despatch in cipher has been sent from a Russian naval officer, (from whom the ship's captain takes his orders,) to Admiral Lessorsky at St. Petersburg. The ship has a large amount of stores on board, including coal for ten days steaming, but no arms or ammunition are visible, and the officers of the steamer deny that there are any such on board. Her papers have been examined by the collector of the port and are pronounced to be all right.

To us, the presence of this mysterious force of Russians within our borders is the strongest indication of war between Russia and England yet given. Yet it is possible that this expedition, which though secret is evidently not sought to be kept unknown, is but a hint to England, intended only to influence the negotiations for peace.

News and Notes.

Burglars entered the house of Ephraim Otis of South Scituate, Mass., on the morning of the 30th ult., carried a safe weighing half a ton to a considerable distance, blew it open, and stole money and securities amounting to nearly $32,000.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued orders to all the Assistant Treasurers throughout the United States to exchange silver dollars for greenbacks.

Two French lads and a young man named Ward, who went out in a boat on Chicopee river at Jenksville, Mass., April 30th, were swept over the dam and all three drowned.

Faction fights between the Orangemen and Ribboumen have become very frequent at Montreal, and quite a number of lives have been lost recently. On Sunday night, April 28th, several carriages were fired into by a mob, and two men were killed and two women badly wounded.

The World's Fair at Paris opened on Wendesday.

After six days' preliminary examination, at Covington, Ind., thirteen of the Coal Creek rioters have been found guilty of murder in the first degree, and held in $3000 bail each to wait the action of the grand jury. Four others were released.

R. Bishop and his wife, of Berlin, N. J., recently died, and an analysis shows that they were poisoned. Emma Bethel, who has been living with Bishop's son as his mistress, is under arrest for the murder, her paramour being charged as an accessory.

It is again reported that Mrs. A. T. Stewart, who is about seventy-five years old, is to marry an Episcopal clergyman forty-five years old.

Louisa Bowen, the Norwich Falls, Conn., young woman who was tried and acquitted for beating Benjamin C. Muzzy out of existence with a base ball bat, is refused employment in the Falls mills because the company employs no person who has been arrested for a serious crime. She doesn't care, however, for she is soon to go west as the wife of a nice young man, Muzzy's former rival.

At the foot of Thirteenth street, Hoboken, there are at present lying nearly three hundred canal boats. Fully one thousand persons live on the boats, which come from different points in New York State and Canada. The congregation forms a perfect village. Enterprising young men have started general supply stores on the wharf, and are well patronized.

The dog which attracted the most attention at the recent Baltimore bench show, was the English setter Paris, owned by L. H. Smith, of Strathroy, Canada, and valued by him at $100,000.

In the U. S. Circuit Court at San Francisco, Cal., Judge Sawyer rendered a decision in the case of a Chinaman who applied for naturalization, holding that a Chinaman is not a white person within the meaning of the term as used in the naturalization laws, and is not entitled to become a citizen. The case will undoubtedly be appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States.

As a preventive of infanticide they have a Maternity Hospital in Vienna where, at any hour of the day or night, any woman about to become a mother is admitted under any name she chooses to give. The only condition exacted is that her true name and address shall be written in an envelope which she seals and hands to the matron. If she should die in childbirth the envelope is opened and use is made of the name it incloses in the interest of the child or the family; if not, at her recovery she receives back the envelope intact.

The death of the wife of Johann Strauss, the waltz composer, is likely to interfere with the great conductor and his orchestra going to the Paris World's Fair. Mme. Strauss, who was known in musical circles as Jetty Treffa, was a great favorite in Vienna.

A Brunswick, Me., couple, each seventy-three years old, got married recently, the bride's mother, who is about ninety-six, being present.

A bill has been introduced in Congress prohibiting Members of Congress from holding, during their term of office or for two years thereafter, any office under the United States which has been created or compensation for which has been increased during their term of office, and declaring the Judges of the Supreme Court ineligible for election to the office of President or Vice President.

The plan to revive the income tax is singularly popular with those people who won't have to pay it, or who have confidence in their ability to evade it.—New Bedford Mercury.

An enormous embezzlement has recently come to light in St. Petersburg. The cashier of the Credit Foncier Bank has been arrested for misappropriating $1,375,000 of the reserve capital and specie of the institution.

The important case of Wm. F. Weld vs. the city of Boston, to recover taxes paid under protest, was decided for the city on Wednesday. It was a test case, involving many thousand dollars.

New Hampshire Items.

In anticipation of the repeal of the bankrupt law, something less than half the traders of Manchester have filed their schedules.

The Crawford and White Mountain Houses have made extensive improvements during the past winter, the former adding to its list of rooms sixteen newly fitted apartments. The houses throughout the mountain district, which have been closed during the winter, will be opened this season on or about June 15th.

The graduating exercises of the New Hampshire Agricultural College occurred April 30th. The following are the members of the graduating class: Ezra Eastman Adams of Manchester, Elmer Kilburn of Marlow, and Charles Edward Record of Fitchburg, Mass.

Errors in the Administration.

President Hayes may commit grevious errors in his Government Policy, but the person who administers Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for billiousness, or liver complaint, impure blood, scrofula, or king's evil, pimples, blotches, eruptions, or any blood disease, will be rewarded by the restoration of health and order in the diseased system.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, possesses all the requirements, in size, style, location and appointments of the modern first-class hotel, and keeps its reputation as a model house.

Please not trifle with a cough. It is inviting death. When safety is within reach, stop that cough, heal the lungs, remove all irritation from throat. Adamson's Botanic Balsam will do it. Sample bottles free. Large bottles 35 cents.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is noted for its fine location and the unsurpassed elegance of its appointments.

"To do as Folks of Fashion do," in one respect at least, you must use GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is immensely popular among the elite of society, and deservedly so, for it is the most salutary of beautifiers and purifiers. Sold by all Druggists.

THE CITY.

Maying parties were not numerous on Wednesday.

A branch of the Royal Arcanum was established in this city Wednesday evening.

The officers of the U. S. S. Omaha are detached and ordered to proceed home and wait orders.

The U. S. S. Omaha discharged her powder on Wednesday, and will come up to the navy yard to-day.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Barnabee will sail from New York for Europe on the steamship Germanic, May 15th.

Capt. John G. Moses has purchased the estate No. 6 Elm street, next his residence, of Mrs. Mary N. Jenkins.

Tug William Woolley, with the new barque Edward L. Mayberry, Capt. Knight, in tow, left this port for Boston Wednesday.

The concert of the Court street Christian Sabbath school will be given this evening at 7:30 o'clock, in the church; admission ten cents.

The young ladies who are interested in the Children's Home are to hold a Fair in its aid on Wednesday next, in Congress Hall; admission fifteen cents.

The sun, after an absence of several months, (if our memory is correct,) shone out once more on May-day; we were glad to see it, though it did look more like a slice of boiled turnip than the sun of former days, as we remember that glorious luminary.

The commodious store Nos. 7 and 9 Market street, formerly occupied by Staples, Stackpole & Marston, (whose partnership recently expired by limitation,) has been opened by Mr. T. F. Stackpole, with a very complete stock of new and seasonable dry goods. Mr. James H. Dow, well known as an experienced and attentive salesman, will aid Mr. Stackpole and his assistants in their endeavors to satisfactorily wait upon all who may favor them with a call.

J. E. Ham & Co., No. 27 Market street, advertise pants, made to order, at from $4.50 upward; and white shirts, of Wamsutta cotton with warranted linen bosoms, for ninety cents each, up to $1.25 or more. Allthough their present advertisements do not mention it, the firm always has on hand a full line of gentlemen's furnishings, which are sold at fair prices; and pants are by no means the only garments made at their establishment, as the hundreds they have "suited" during the past twenty years are well aware. Perfectly-fitting clothes at the lowest living prices, at Ham & Co.'s.

In another column will be found the advertisement of Ayers & Locke, of spring and summer dress goods, silks, ladies' and gentlemen's furnishing goods and small wares, carpets, and almost everything else in the dry goods line, of which they have an immense and varied stock, which they offer to sell "for cash or good credit at prices which defy the competition of our own or any other city market." This firm is by no means a new candidate for public favor, being the legitimate successor of Wm. Jones & Son, Jones & Mendum, and Charles E. Mendum & Co., —names that always signified enterprise and fair dealing; and the extensive and ever-increasing business is conducted now on the same plan (of giving to customers a choice of everything in the market at the lowest market rates) under which it was first built up. Our lady readers will do well to read Ayers & Locke's advertisement before starting out on their shopping excursions.

NEW FISHING SCHOONER.

The ten days of dull weather with which April ended caused the fishermen to lay at the wharves, and consequently but few fish were brought to market. At the fish wharf of Mr. C. Morris Tredick, where the receipts of fish averaged 20,000 pounds daily throughout the month of March, not one-quarter of that amount has been received in April. Mr. Tredick has a large fleet of vessels fishing for him and partly owned by him, among them being the schooners Mary S. Hontvet, (which sailed for the Grand Banks on Wednesday,) Grace Choate, Rover's Bride, Harp and Lone Star; also a fleet of thirty small boats. Including the men employed on the wharf, this fleet of schooners and shore boats gives employment to two hundred men—no small item toward the city's prosperity, when times are as dull as they have been the past winter. Mr. Tredick has just added to his fleet a new vessel, the Helen F. Tredick, which arrived at this port on Tuesday, April 30th, from Bath, Me., where she was built. She is of sixty tons, carpenter's measurement, and 38.59 registered tonnage; length, 58.7 feet; breadth of beam, 17.6 feet; depth of hold, six feet five inches. Her mainmast is sixty-two and a half feet long, and her main-boom fifty-nine feet. She is built of seasoned white oak, and is in every respect a fine vessel, being fitted with all the useful modern improvements. She is to be commanded by Capt. Orin Caswell, of Newcastle, formerly of the Rover's Bride, who brought her around from Bath; she will in summer be engaged in mackereling, and in the winter in cod-fishing. "Here's good luck to her!"

SUPREME COURT.

Wednesday, May 1st; Smith, J.

On the coming in of the Court, the jury in the case of Rowell vs. the Boston & Maine Railroad returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff in the sum of $5376.14. Defendant's counsel moved to set aside the verdict, and will file exceptions. [The jurers engaged in the trial of this case (excepting Mr. George W. Holmes, of Exeter, who reported later in the term,) were then excused for the remainder of the term.]

The following-named jurors reported: Wm. F. Rundlett, Exeter; (Rufus K. Oxford and Lewis E. Staples excused before Court;) Aaron H. Hill, Albert C. Anderson, (ward two,) Thos. Deverson, (ward three—excused,) James Cunningham, (ward four,) Portsmouth; Chas. B. Sargent, Atkinson; Harrison Burnham, Auburn; Jere. Dudley, Brentwood; Amos Sanborn, Chester; Jacob C. Peaslee, Danville; Chas. C. Marsh, East Kingston; Edwin A. Picking, Greenland (excused;) Nelson P. Cross, Hampstead; Edwin R. Batchelder, Hampton; Peter G. Tilton, Hampton Falls; Harrison Rowe, Kensington; Andrew J. Cilley, Kingston; Wm. A. Meloon, Newcastle; Samuel Furber, Newington; John L. Bartlett, Newton; Jona. P. Robinson, Albert Bachelder, North Hampton; Nath'l E. Cate, Samuel S. James, Northwood; George W. Tuttle, Abraham Thompson, Nottingham.

Case next tried was that of Frank B. Cook and others, of Friendship, Maine, and other places, owners of schooner Ida and Annie, vs. Curtis and others, owners of brig Joseph K. Deveraux. Action was commenced in June, 1874. The Ida & Annie was lying at Sam'l Adams & Co.'s wharf in Portsmouth, on the 15th of June, and it is alleged that the brig, for want of proper management, ran into the schooner, stove her, carried away part of her upper works, gear, etc.; damages claimed were $1000. The I. & A. was laden with coal, bound to Newmarket, and having met the tide in the river hauled in to the wharf and laid stern inward as far in as she could safely go; the brig passed up the river above the I. & A., and the tide being against her, let go one anchor, which did not hold her till she ran past the I. & A.; then she brought up, sheered, and ran into the Ida & Annie, breaking her bowsprit, starting wood-ends etc., and causing her to leak,—all, as was alleged, by the careless manner in which the brig was handled. A pilot was on board the brig; but the piff. contended that it did not exonerate the deft. by reason of having a pilot on board, and cited authorities to sustain his position. The cost of repairing the damage was $505.

The defendant moved for a nonsuit, on the ground that his vessel was in charge of a pilot at the time of the collision, (and quoted a decision of Judge Curtis sustaining his position,) and on the ground that there was no evidence of want of skill, etc., in the management of the brig, as the brig was not "a vessel in motion" in maratime parlance, having her anchor down. The motion being overruled, the defendant proceeded to present his side of the case. The defendant contended that he used all possible care in handling of the brig; one of the anchors was down, and the other had been disabled in the Lower Harbor. Capt. Rufus A. Preble, pilot, testified that the brig lost her way, and could not stem the tide; an anchor was dropped between Badger's island and Church Hill; the second anchor got unstocked in the Lower Harbor, and could not be used. The brig rode for a short time, and finally sheered, broke the anchor out of the ground and dropped astern; more chain was paid out, and she held; finally sheered into the other vessel. [Capt. Preble further described the manner in which the brig was handled.] Evidence as to harbor regulations, as to jib-booms being rigged in, etc., was offered. Hatch for piff.; Frink for deft. Case closed last evening.

This is one of the many cases brought in the State Court, because, as the Maritime Court has removed its office to the interior of the State, it was impossible to obtain a process upon which the vessel could be detained to answer to the damages which might be recovered in the action.

Craig vs. Gerrish in order for to-day.

RUNAWAYS AND COLLISIONS.

On Wednesday afternoon a horse belonging to Mr. William Moat, assistant brewer at Jones' brewery, started from in front of Mr. Jones' office, and ran through Market, Congress, High and other streets to the brewery. He ran into several teams on Market street, and also knocked over Mr. J. Wesley Young, who recently had an arm broken but was not seriously hurt this time. Mr. Moat's team was but slightly damaged.

Not long afterward a team driven by Mr. John Grant, blacksmith, took fright at the cars when near the depot, and ran away, striking the store-wagon of Mr. William C. Newton, capsizing both wagon and horse, and of course throwing out Mr. Newton and his son, who were in the wagon. Mr. Newton was so much injured that he was unable to attend to his business for the rest of the day, and his horse was badly hurt.

BOARD OE INSTRUCTION.

Regular meeting Wednesday evening. Present, Mrs. Knight, Mrs. Wilson, Messrs. Hutchinson, Sherburne, Goodrich, Wendell, Hackett and Pender. Mr. Hutchinson in the chair.

The subject of change in some of the vacations was referred to a select committe consisting of Dr. Sherburne, Mrs. Wilson and the Secretary.

Sundry bills were approved.

Applications from N. G. Nickerson, of Culpeper, Va., and Grace D. Bachelder, of Providence, R. I., for situations as teachers, were received and placed on file.

Adjourned.

WRECK AT SEABROOK.

SOUTH SEABROOK, April 30th.

Schooner Portland, of and from Annapolis, Nova Scotia, C. D. Pickles master and owner, ran on the beach here at four o'clock P. M., Monday. The weather was very thick, and the first thing the man at the wheel knew of danger was hearing the sound of the surf, followed by the vessel's striking a rock; she cleared the rock, and the waves bore her on the beach. The water was neck deep around the schooner, and the crew got ashore with some difficulty, although without loss of life. The mate got ashore first; the boat was capsized by the surf, with him beneath it, but he got out of that perilous position and swam ashore. The boat was drawn back to the schooner by a line, and afterwards drawn ashore through the surf by a line to land the rest of the crew; but it was capsized a second time, and two other of the men had to swim for their lives.

The vessel lays within a short distance of the fish houses of Richard and Sewell B. Fowler, who did everything they could to make the castaways comfortable; at present they are domiciled with Richard Fowler.

The vessel stands upright, and is apparently uninjured. She is two years old, of seventy tons register, and laden with seventy barrels of russet apples, sixty barrels early rose potatoes, one thousand dozen eggs, and twenty-five cords of birch wood. The captain hopes to get the vessel off safely when the wind shifts. There is no insurance on her.

Captain Pickles lost a vessel off the Shoals recently, all hands but one losing their lives; and the Portland's wreck was a narrow escape for her crew, as she passed between two rocks—called Little and Big Round rocks—before striking, and was running wing-and-wing at the time, with a fair wind and plenty of it. She was making a fine run, having left Annapolis Saturday afternoon. ENO.

THE VICINITY.

The ladies of the Unitarian Parish in Exeter held their usual May-day festival in the Town hall on Wednesday; it was well attended, especially in the evening. It would be a card if some of our bakers could obtain the recipe for making the excellent brown bread served at dinner. An hour was devoted to the merry dance in the evening. The Society propose to send their pastor away on a tour in search of health.

Deputy Sheriff Odlin, of Exeter, on Wednesday made another discovery of property stolen by the "Gladding boys" of Hampton, some account of whose stealings was given in the CHRONICLE of Wednesday morning. Nine harnesses were recovered by Mr. Odlin, five of which were stolen from John W. F. Hobbs' stable in North Hampton not long ago. Col. Kent received a despatch from Exeter, Wednesday evening, stating that the Gladdings had been arrested and lodged in Exeter jail.

On the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, April 24th, the neighbors and friends of Mrs. Ella Grover, of Beech Ridge, York, to the number of about a hundred, called upon the venerable lady, (who is a pensioner, and ninety-six years of age,) and on departing left generous evidences of their good will in the shape of money and provisions. Mrs. Grover has been a consistent professing Christian for over seventy years. Elder Paine, of the Christian church, took part in the levee during the afternoon. The York Cornet Band gave a serenade, and singing and neighborly salutations made every moment of the time pass pleasantly.

A Political Picture of the "Old Times."

A correspondent of the Hartford Times, writing concerning the extent to which politics used to enter and influence social classifications in New Hampshire, presents the following picture of the state of affairs in one of our shire towns no longer ago than 1840: "The social elements of the place were usually good in themselves, but they didn't fuse worth a cent. There were some three or four retired clergymen, gentlemen of culture and considerable means, and besides them there were perhaps a dozen professional men in active life. All these, together with several retired and wealthy merchants and their families, constituted a nucleus that was rare in a village of less than two thousand inhabitants. But party feeling at last ran so high that not only the sons of the political leaders, but also the wives and daughters, showed it. A whig lady would not call upon a democratic lady, and vice versa. At last the same building could not hold them, even though old religious ties had to be severed and new ones formed. Their politics became a part of their religion, and so the whigs went to the Congregational church, and the democrats listened to good sermons against Satan and whiggery in a Methodist house of worship."

CAUTION.

The great popularity of "ASTRAL" OIL has induced some unprincipled persons to sell worthless and dangerous imitations for "ASTRAL," while others palm off inferior oils, representing them as good as "ASTRAL." To prevent this fraud, purchasers should demand "ASTRAL" and take no other.

Portsmouth Chronicle

— Archery, it is prophesied, will be the fashionable amusement this summer.

— No bird is ever actually on the wing. The wings are on the bird.

— The phonograph is the parrot of the mechanical kingdom.

—At bedtime little Willie was saying the usual prayer at his mother's knee, and having got as far as "If I should die, before I wake," hesitated. "Well, what's next?" asked his mother. "Well, I s'spose the next thing would be a funeral."

—It cost an Iowa man seventy-five dollar for saying "Stop my paper." In consequence of its being stopped he failed to learn of a delinquent tax sale, at which his own farm was sold, and it cost him seventy-five dollars to get out of the scrape.

—"A crown will not cure a headache, nor a golden slipper the gout." Very true; but a crowned head when it aches doesn't have to keep right on devising ways and means to procure bread and butter, nor does a gold-shod foot when it twinges have to support the weight of a toiling body.

— Miss Leggett, who keeps a book and stationery shop in New York, has opened a sensible working-women's hotel, where they can board for $4 a week and have all the comforts of a home, including a piano, sewing machines, books, papers and other things dear to women's heart. Every room in Miss Leggett's hotel—and there are forty of them—have been taken.

—A well-to-do farmer in Ulster county, N. Y., who had heard good reports of a widow in Kingston, harnessed up his span of horses and drove to her house one day last week. There he introduced himself, and she, having also heard good reports of him, welcomed him. They went out for a drive, returned to dinner, went out for another drive, and returned to supper man and wife. They had never seen or communicated with each other before that day.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing some remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or ready to use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must like money, have intrinsic virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of the numberless Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed:
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION,

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of men? An inferior article cannot succeed a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have obtained all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
Rockport, Mass., April 2, 1877.
Mr. Editor:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "insufflator" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 16 years I suffered with catarrh. The usual passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't do me any good at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one knew how much I suffered—for what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunk and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventeen hours out of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with the Improved Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. Now, mind me, the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular, by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES,

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. His Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a host of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health, and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that has be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, offensive matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, and was so deaf as to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no pain, no asthmatic symptoms, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from what I can make me familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. PRICE, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

Daily Chronicle.

An Arctic Scene.

The following is an extract from the diary of the professor of zoology who accompanied the Swedish polar expediton of 1875: The month of July opened with the fairest of weather, which we used advantageously in sailing north, passing the port of Karmakula, where we dredged for a short time, and made explorations, which have only a scientific interest. The 2d of July the Proven anchored about four o'clock in the morning, and a short distance from us we observed four magnificent reindeers browsing quietly on the shore. Accompanied by four of our brave men, I throw myself into a canoe and pulled for the shore. A heavy mist concealed our approach from the enemy, but, as at the beat of a drum, it suddenly disappeared, revealing one of the strangest spectacles that I had ever witnessed. Very near the Proven, which we had just left, and on both sides of it, two shining mountains rising abruptly from sea were seen, the every projection of which was literally covered and hidden by myriads of birds. From their plumage, black as ebony on the back and white below; from their width from wing to wing when flying, and from their vertical position when in repose, we recognized the guillemot, They clung to the sides of these mountains, grave, impassible, pressed one against the other, each covering her egg. Countless numbers were whirling in lines across the sky, and seen from our little bark, they looked like immense pearls floating in space and gleaming in the rays of the sun, which they intercepted from us. I estimated that there must have been millions of birds congregated there, so sandwitched together that a hand could scarcely be inserted between them. Other guillemots were being rocked upon the cradle of the deep, rising and falling in unision with each dash of the billows, and occasionally dipping their beaks under water in search of food, while still others, inflamed with anger, were fighting with the greatest hostility, ordinarily determined by the intervention of a peaceful neighbor, who would boldly force the belligerents to conclude a peace. The winged tribe created a strange medley of sounds; we could almost believe that we heard the frantic barking of a pack of hounds or the deep mutterings of thunder reverberating from the mountains. Further on before us was a shoal of white dolphins, who, to the number of many hundreds agitated the waters with the violence of a tempest. We passed quietly among them, when they defiled away without any appearance of fear. I sent a ball among them without effect, these mammals being, as is well known, vulnerable in only one place—the eye, which is remarkably small in proportion to the size of their bodies. The professor and a companion afterwards succeeded in shooting two of the four reindeer.

A Turkish Clairvoyant.

Necromancers, seers, and seeresses, who profess to hold commune with the spirits of the dead, are be found among occult scientists of Stamboul. One of these was said to be an ecstatic medium of great power. She was but eighteen, and married, and had just recovered from a serious illness when I heard that some Khanums of my acquaintance were going to visit her. Attaching myself to them we found the Eulu Faldje Kare in a lonely, winding street of a poor neighborhood of Stamboul. A crowd of all sorts of women, rich and poor, filled her little sanded ante-room, There were mothers with sick infants in their laps come for a "cure," there were daintily dressed slaves from the Seraglio, wrapped up in shabby feradjis, there were married Khanums with the threat of divorce hanging over their heads. There they patiently awaited for hours their turn to be admitted to the inner room. This was as poor as the other.

The seeress, seated on a low stool in the midst of the unarpeted floor, leaned over a low, brass mangal (or chafing dish.) She was a plump, fair young woman, with flaxen hair, and eyes of a peculiar light tint. She appeared to be excessively exhausted, and could not repress long and repeated yawns. She told us there were great demands on her powers, and that her strength was entirely gone at the end of the day. She would do her best for us, but in such a state of exhaustion her visions were uncertain. Then, placing us before her on low wicker stools, she bent over the brazier and sprinkled on the live charcoal a powder called ambara, the fumes of which presently affected her as one has seen mesmeric passes affect a mesmeric subject. Her eyes were raised and had a fixed look, but she sat upright and answered intelligibly the questions which were put to her by ourselves or by the women who acted as her second.

I do not remember what she predicted for the others of our party, but for me she foretold a voyage over the sea, which was not a remarkably clever hit, since she must have known that I was a foreigner in Turkey intending some day to return to my native land. Still I must do my fortune-teller the justice to acknowledge that I did make an unforseen voyage to India not long after. But the seance on the whole was a failure; and as the effect of the ambara soon passed off, the seeress returned to her normal state, and begged us to leave her to repose, which in pity to her weariness, we presently did. A meljidich (about four shillings) was looked on as a liberal gift from our party, some who had consulted having offered only a beshlic or two (a beshlic is about one shilling,) and some had given only a few paras or pence. The woman was quite poor, and evidently lived very miserably, saving most of her gains, and having to support a husband who had no calling. It was said that grief at the loss of her baby had made her a clairvoyante. She was much sought after from the fear that her "gift" would wear away as her sorrow healed. Hers was looked on as a case of genuine mediumship, and to see her I could not doubt that she believed in her mission and powers.—Eastern Letter.

Daily Chronicle

FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1878.

Congress.

The House spent the first day of May on the legislative appropriation bill. In answer to constant assertions of the democrats that they are legislating in the interest of economy, the republicans showed that it had been instead of crippling of the public service which had really caused much loss and made most unusual deficiencies necessary. It also came out that the laborers in all departments of the government service had had their wages cut down, that scrubbing women had suffered a decrease of their pittances, and that in these ways and others which representative J. D. Cox characterized as pinching economies, the totals of the apparent democratic reductions has been made up. It was shown that crippling the pension forces had thrown all the pension business back over a year. It was shown conclusively that various branches of the public service were crippled in some way, but in the face of absolute proof the force was in several instances still further cut down. As an offset to these "pinching economies," the committee on levees introduced a bill proposing an appropriation of three million three hundred thousand dollars for the first work upon the Mississippi levees!

In the Senate, Mr. Blaine attempted to get action on his anti-tariff-disturbance resolution, and made a powerful argument in favor of giving the business interests of the country a chance to recuperate, even though it may displease Mr. Wood and certain British manufacturers. The bankrupt bill was referred to the judiciary committee, after debate.

On Thursday, in the Senate, the bankrupt act repeal bill was reported back from committee, with an amendment fixing the date on which the repeal is to be absolute, Jan. 1st, 1879. The Senate adjourned to Monday.

A Remarkable Man Dead.

John Morrissey, ex-prize fighter and ex-Congressman, ex-New York Assemblyman, ex-Tammany politician, gambling-hell and race-course proprietor, and State Senator of New York, died at Saratoga at half-past seven o'clock on the evening of May 1st. He was a native of Ireland, having been born in Tipperary in 1831; he came to this country when five years old, with his parents, who settled in Troy. As a young man he worked in a paper mill, a brush factory and iron foundry, and was also a steamboat runner. He went to California in the early days of the "rush," and returned with a reputation as a bruiser but without much money. His fights with Yankee Sullivan, Bill Poole and John C. Heenan are well remembered. He married Susy Smith, the beautiful daughter of a rich Hudson river steamboat man, and set up a fashionable bar-room; a little later he became proprietor of a large gambling-hell, went into politics, and was sent to Congress in 1866 by Tammany Hall; still later he got so disgusted with the frauds and corruption of Tammany that he become one of its most bitter opponents, and at the time of his death held an office (State Senator) to which he was elected, largely by republican votes, from one of the most aristocratic districts of New York city, beating Augustus Schell, the wealthy and educated Tammany candidate. As a Member of Congress and of the New York Assembly he made no particular show, but no hint of corruption in either position was ever brought against him; as a friend he was firm; as a gambler he was accounted "square;" and "his word was as good as his bond." If his example has in it little that American youth need be exhorted to follow, he was at least better than his surroundings, and possessed some excellent traits of character.

The Paris Exposition.

There were 500,000 people present at the opening of the Exposition, May 1st, including many distinguished persons, and ceremonies were imposing. There still remains a vast amount to do, of course, before everything will be at its best, but work is being pushed very fast.

The American section, though unfinished, compares favorably with the others. The department of manufactures shows the least progress. The agricultural and alimentary departments will be better than at any previous foreign exhibition. The machinery department is very rich in labor-saving machinery of a light class. Already, though incomplete, it compares favorably with the English, while occupying only one-sixth the space allotted to the British exhibit. The display of machine tools is inferior to the American exhibit at Philadelphia, but superior to any other at this exhibition. The agricultural, sewing and weighing machines make a fine display. The textiles are not yet arranged, but promise very well. The drugs, chemicals, publishers' exhibits, chromos and cutlery are superior to the competing exhibits in the other sections. The American art department is nearly ready. It will be the best ever shown abroad by America. The hall is too small, but is beautifully arranged, and contains one hundred paintings and a few water colors.

During the opening ceremonies a squad of sailors from the United States vessels at Havre were drawn up on the left of the entrance to the American section, commanded by Ensign Young of the Constitution. On the right were thirty marines under Lieuts. Russell and Zeilin. Gov. McCormick, the Chief Commissioner of the United States, attended by the Assistant Commissioners and attaches, stood in the front entrance. President MacMahon was attracted by the bearing of the American sailors, inquired concerning the service and the vessels to which they belonged, and expressed gratification at their appearance.

From Wealth to Poverty.

Gen. John C. Fremont, according to the New York World, is absolutely penniless, and on a recent occasion was without food for several days. If this is true it tells a sad story indeed. Ten or twelve years ago Gen. Fremont was considered a millionaire, and he and his accomplised wife, Jessie Benton Fremont, and their family, moved in the highest social circles of the nation. It has been known of late years that their circumstances were much reduced, but the selling out of all their household goods by the Sheriff in New York about last January was a surprise to everybody. Since then the family have lived with friends, but Gen. Fremont himself kept entirely secluded, until he was discovered in New Jersey a short time ago, living in utter destitution. His family consists of his wife, two sons and a daughter; the youngest son is sickly and unfitted for any business; the oldest son is an ensign in the navy.

Naval Affairs.

Capt. John G. Walker is detached from duty as Secretary of the Lighthouse Board and ordered to duty as a member of the Board.

Commander George Dewey is detached from duty as a member of the Lighthouse Board and ordered to duty as Secretary of the Board.

The case against Paymaster Geo. F. Cutter is pronounced baseless, and he will be confirmed as Paymaster General of the navy. The Senate committee report his record unblemished.

News and Notes.

The Mississippi towboat Warner, from New Orleans with a tow of barges, exploded her boilers off Memphis, May 1st, took fire, and sunk. Five persons at least, including the captain, were killed. About twenty were rescued.

The woman who recently accidentally shot and killed another on the variety stage in Pawtucket, R. I., while giving an exhibition with the rifle, is making capital in New York out of the tragedy. An advertisement in the Herald, announces the appearance of "Miss Jennie Franklin, the daring shot and principal in the terrible catastrophe and killing of an innocent woman on the stage in Pawtucket, R. I." This inhuman trading on murder ought to be surpressed.

Sir Garnet Woolsey, Major General of the British navy, has written a letter to Col. Church, of the Army and Navy Journal, expressing great interest in the question of the sabre and bayonet originated by Gen. Sherman.

Senator Don Cameron has six children. The eldest is a handsome girl of twenty-one, whose future stepmother is only nineteen. Miss Cameron owns a farm in her own right, and manages the business successfully herself. She is very fond of Miss Sherman, and favors the marriage.

There is much excitement in Frederick City, Md., over the alleged abduction by a Catholic priest, Father Gaffney, of an adopted daughter of a Mr. and Mrs. Grove. The girl, now fourteen years old, was placed in the Groves' care by Gaffney ten years ago; recently he demanded that she be given up, stating that she wished to be taken into the church; this the girl denied, and her adopted parents refused to give her up; hence the abduction. Father Gaffney has published a card in which he states that he removed the girl from the family where he had placed her and has placed her with the Sisters of Charity in Baltimore, where she now is. He says, in justification of his course, that the girl was being exposed to immoral influences while residing where he had formerly left her, and he was responsible for her proper bringing up. Mrs. Grove is a Catholic, but her husband is a Protestant.

H. T. Helmbold has again been sent to a lunatic asylum.

Capt. Ericsson's torpedo boat, believed to be intended for the United States navy, is well advanced at one of the New York shipyards. Capt. Ericsson says that he can explode half a ton of dynamite under the fastest iron-clad; that no iron-clad ship has yet been built fast enough or strong enough to escape or resist the new torpedo.

A large party, including a number of merchants and manufacturers of London, Manchester, and other places in England, have arrived in this country on pleasure and business. Some are in the interest of projected colonies to the South.

The man whom Postmaster General Key has made Postmaster at Chattanooga is the man who commanded the United States troops that fired the first ball in the battle of Lookout Mountain, which ball went through Mr. Key's house.

Louis Somault, an Italian rag picker, who had stolen some paper boxes from the Novelty manufacturing works at Chicago and was captured by Nicholas McCue, eighteen years old, shot McCue dead. Somault then hurried to the police station to escape lynching.

The base ball championship season opened on Wednesday, May 1st. The Boston and Providence nines played at Providence, the Bostons winning the game by a score of one to nothing. Eight thousand spectators were present.

Ex-Judge Gleeson, a practising lawyer, and his adopted son, eighteen years old, were found insensible in their room at Baltimore, having blown out the gas when they retired the night before. The young man died in a short time, and the Judge soon after.

Gen. B. F. Butler will deliver the Decoration Day address at Gettysburg. President Hayes and Postmaster-General Key will be present.

John Emory, of Orange, Mass., aged twenty-three years, poisoned himself with arsenic because his suit was rejected by a young lady of that town. He died on Wednesday.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, possesses all the requirements, in size, style, location and appointments of the modern first-class hotel, and keeps its reputation as a model house.

Please not trifle with a cough. It is inviting death. When safety is within reach, stop that cough, heal the lungs, remove all irritation from throat. Adamson's Botanic Balsam will do it. Sample bottles free. Large bottles 35 cents.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is noted for its fine location and the unsurpassed elegance of its appointments.

"To do as Folks of Fashion do," in one respect at least, you must use GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is immensely popular among the elite of society, and deservedly so, for it is the most salutary of beautifiers and purifiers. Sold by all Druggists.

THE CITY.

The Heavy Artillery had a street drill Thursday evening.

The U. S. S. Omaha arrived at the navy yard at about nine o'clock Thursday morning.

Hon. Frank Jones is the New England member of the Congressional democratic Committee on the part of the House.

A very beautifully embroidered white cloak for an infant is to be raffled at J. Dwight Rundlett's store, corner Market and Daniel streets; tickets 25 cts., now on sale.

Hiram Weeks, of St. Johnsbury, Vt., has gone into voluntary bankruptcy, with liabilities of over $41,000, and assets of less than $9000. Among the creditors is Mr. Jefferson Butler, of this city, $3600.

The old National House—bill boards and all—is now level with the ground. Some of the original timbers, over a hundred years old, were in the building at the time it was torn down; and they were pretty rotten, too.

The "Gladding boys," whose enterprise in the stealing line has gotten them into trouble and Exeter jail, formerly lived in this city; their father then kept the Market Street House, now kept by George Scott.

Some of the Grand Officers of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of the State of New Hampshire paid an official visit Thursday evening to Washington Chapter, No. 3, of this city, to witness an exemplification of the work.

The wardens of the Unitarian church have re-engaged Miss Davis, as organist for the ensuing year; Miss Hattie Remick will be the contralto and Mr. Wingate N. Tisley the bass of the new quartette. The soprano and tenor are not yet secured.

George Odiorne, son of Mr. Eben N. Odiorne, had one of his hands very badly crushed and torn on Thursday while at work in the Kearsarge Mill, by having it drawn between the rollers of a carding machine. No bones were broken, but the flesh was shockingly lacerated.

Schooner T. J. Trafton, in attempting to leave the harbor at high-water slack on Thursday, owing to the light wind got nearer Pumpkin island than she liked, and let go her anchor; but it did not hold, and she went on the island and had to wait for the next tide to get off.

As Mr. Job Jenness, accompanied by his daughter, was driving near the post-office on Thursday, the trenchant-bolt gave way and both were thrown forward out of the carriage. Mr. Jenness was but slightly hurt, and the lady not at all. The horse stopped when the accident occurred.

On Wednesday night a thieving party took from the schooner Helen F. Tredick, lying at Tredick's wharf, her fore and main sheets and downhauls; and also stole a pair of oars from a dory belonging to schooner Little Kate. The numerous thefts by river pirates seem almost to demand the appointment of a harbor police.

Wm. P. Walker, at No. 8 Market square, is now ready—as he has been every spring for twenty years and more—to take the measure of his patrons for spring and summer suits or single garments, and fit them out in whatever style they may desire. He keeps on hand a large stock of cloths to select from, including everything from domestics of moderate cost up to the highest-priced imported broad-cloths; he also keeps a full line of gentlemen's furnishings—but custom work is his "main hold." Regulation uniforms for army and navy officers is a specialty.

Frank W. Miller, Esq., of the Portsmouth Weekly, has offered a prize of one hundred dollars to the farmer who raises the present season one hundred bushels of shelled corn upon an acre of ground. This is certainly a generous offer, and we understand it is founded upon a doubt whether the result can be fairly reached. It has been done; we have done it at Lakeside Farm. Others can raise one hundred bushels of shelled corn to the acre, and this offer ought to stimulate every corn-grower in New England to see what can be done in corn-raising. Of course but one can get the premium, but all those who contest for it will get a premium, in the shape of a heaping bin of the glorious cereal in the autumn.—Journal of Chemistry.

Mr. Adams Perry, Jr., having sold his real estate in this city, is preparing to move with his family to Kansas, where they will take up their permanent residence.

During the long seige of balloting for a Collector of Taxes, Thursday evening, after a motion to take a recess had been voted down, Marshal Entwistle, who was in attendance, very liberally furnished the Board with suitable refreshments, and has our thanks for not forgetting our reporter.

Mr. Samuel C. Knights, an assistant weigher in the Boston custom-house, and known to many persons in this city as one of the most eloquent lecturers in behalf of temperance who ever spoke here, he having twice addressed Portsmouth audiences, dropped dead in front of his residence in Cambridge, Mass., Thursday morning, while walking with a friend. He was about fifty years old, and leaves a wife and children.

THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

The branch of the Royal Arcanum established here on Wednesday evening adopted the name of "Alpha Council," officers being chosen as follows:

Past Regent, Frank W. Hilton;
Regent, Stephen W. Clarke;
Vice Regent, R. H. Perkins;
Orator, O. M. Knight;
Chaplain, Theodore D. Wilson;
Guide, John W. Caswell;
Secretary, George T. Thompson;
Collector, Alfred W. Stavers;
Treasurer, Samuel C. Whittier;
Warden, Samuel Barrett;
Sentry, Emory H. Taunt;
Trustees, Joseph H. Gardiner, Frank W. Hilton, Theodore D. Wilson.

SUPREME COURT.

Thursday, May 2d; Smith, J.

In case Cook and others vs. Curtis and others, the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiffs in the sum of $616.

Case Craig vs. Gerrish, a claim for damages for the alleged biting of a girl by defendant's dog, was put on, and part of the evidence for the defendant was heard. Other witnesses were summoned to attend on Friday morning. Frink and Page for plff.; Hatch and Rollins for deft.

MORE AMATEUR "DETECTION."

A gentlemanly appearing individual, representing himself to be a practising physician of Great Falls, came to this city on Thursday as a self-appointed (probably) detective to find out who sold liquor, presumably with a view to ulterior proceedings in the Courts. Visiting some half-dozen or more saloons he took a drink in each; and in each case, after disposing of the "snifter," he took out a memorandum book and noted down the name of the proprietor of the saloon, or both. This keen method of doing detective work soon caused him to be "spotted" by the liquor dealers and bar-room rangers as a dangerous fellow to have 'round,' and when in front of George Scott's saloon, at the corner of Market and Green streets, he was hustled by a crowd and his book taken away; and it is more than probable that the violent lawlessness exhibited toward Spencer would have been repeated but for Ald. Yeaton, who protected the man until the arrival of the Marshal and Asst. Marshal Gray, who escorted him to a safer locality. He left for his home on the noon train, seemingly thankful to get out of Portsmouth all in one piece. How in the world one little State could manage to produce two such awful bunglers at detective work as Spencer and he, we cannot imagine; they might as well have carried a banner with "liquor detective" painted on it, as to go to work in the ways they did.

P. S. Later information raises doubts as to whether the "spy" was a detective at all, amateur or other. He positively denied being here for any such purpose, and offered to telegraph to respectable parties at his own expense, to prove it. Possibly it was only a case of quickened conscience on the part of the liquor interest; but anyway it is a fair warning to well dressed men with note books to keep out of Portsmouth rum shops, or they will get hunted out of the city.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

Notice was received from members of Engine Co. No. 4, that they had each assigned $15 of their yearly pay to Messrs. Ayers & Locke. Referred to City Solicitor.

Nathan Jones asked leave to construct a drain on Langdon street, and John Stavers asked leave to cross Court street for purpose of laying a drain; referred to committee on streets.

The Mayor reported repairs needed on Penhallow street, between Daniel and State, and that the Street Commissioner recommended a sewer be built; ordered.

Committee on streets advised that the petitions of Mr. Harris for sidewalk, and John Dixon for repairs on Water street, be granted, and ditch on North street cleaned out; ordered done.

Voted, that the sum of $800 be allowed the owners of land taken in laying out the proposed road on north side of south mill-pond. Also that the City Clerk divide the same equitably among the landowners, and prepare the papers laying out the road, for signing.

Voted to proceed to the election of Tax Collector.

[At twenty minutes past eleven o'clock our reporter advised us as follows: "Have had seventy-eight ballots for Collector, with no choice. Will begin again at twelve. Whoop!"]

There were three candidates, Samuel P. Treadwell, James Moses and Robert E. Rich. The first ballot was: Treadwell two, Moses two, Rich four. Balloting continued, with little change; when the Board got tired of balloting, other business would be taken up.

At half-past twelve o'clock the hundredth ballot was taken, and resulted in four votes for Moses and four for Rich; the Mayor gave his vote for Moses, and he was elected. And then the Board adjourned. The following business was sandwiched in with the balloting:

Voted, That Mr. John P. Hart be called upon to pay the usual fee for entering the common sewer, and on his not complying, be notified that his drain will be cut off.

Ald. P. D. Norton offered the following:

Voted, That competent parties be employed by the Mayor and committee on streets, to build staging over the water of the south mill-pond, in order that the mud may be removed in wheelbarrows to the road now laid out around the borders of the pond; and that the owners of the pond be allowed $10 per day while the work is being done.

Ald. Hadley offered the following amendment:

That after the word "that" be added "a committee of two from this Board be appointed to consult with Mr. Barnard, and if possible make arrangements to bond the south pond and his privilege, with a view to a purchase of the same by the city."

Passed as amended; and Ald. Hadley and P. D. Norton were appointed a committee.

Ald. Yeaton moved to take matter of appointing a Liquor Agent from the table, and offerred the following as a substitute for the original resolution:

That Charles C. Akerman, Samuel W. Moses and Joseph H. Thacher be and hereby are appointed agents in the city for the sale of spirit and spirituous liquors.

Negatived.

Moved that the City Marshal be directed to notify all dealers in malt and spirituous liquors to discontinue the sale of the same before the 15th of this month, or they will be punished to the full extent of the law. Not carried.

Discussion was held regarding the duties of the Street Commissioner; and it was voted that the subject be referred to the committee on streets to report what amendments are needed to the ordinance defining the duties of the Street Commissioner.

THE VICINITY.

William Quinn, a boy seven years old, was killed by the Boston & Maine cars at Biddeford on Thursday.

Our Greenland correspondent informs us that the Adams place in that town, formerly owned by Capt. Orlando G. Robinson, has been sold by the heirs of the late Henry L. Garrett to Mr. Morris U. Bodge of this city, on private terms.

Rev. Ira S. Jones, of South Portsmouth, R. I., who has been taking part in the revival services at Rye for some weeks, has received a unanimous call to the pastorate of the Christian church there, and has accepted.

It is reported that "Willowbank," the residence of the late Rev. Dan'l Austin at Kittery, has been sold to Mrs. Maj. Fendall of this city for $6300, for a summer residence. Also, that Mrs. Prof. Bowen, of Cambridge, has hired a cottage near by of Mr. John B. Trefethen for the summer.

Mr. Trafton Hatch, of Wells, is suggested as the probable greenback candidate for Congress from the First District of Maine. He has always been a democrat of the democrats, up to recent date, when he flopped over to the repudiation inflation party, where the bulk of the democracy of Maine, and a generous sprinkling of the Maine republicans, seem tending.

DEATHS.

GOODWIN. In Exeter, April 22d, Albion B. Goodwin, son of the late Major R. F. Goodwin, aged 32 years and 6 months.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—"Dying in poverty," says a modern moralist, "is nothing; it is living in poverty that comes hard on a fellow."

—The manner in which the combination dresses are put together is wickedly said to make them resemble an old-fashioned patch-work quilt.

—A Sunday-school boy, at Maysville, Ky., was asked by the Superintendent if his father was a Christian. "Yes, sir," he replied, "but he is not working at it much."

—The New York Bulletin remarks with much truth that "one of the most serious hindrances to the return of better times is the vast number of young men who are adrift in the large cities who can get nothing to do, simply because they can do nothing that anybody wants done." There is wisdom enough in this simple suggestion to furnish food for much wholesome meditation.

—M. Trudel, of St. Raymond, Quebec, has just married his sixth wife, a widow of sixty years. His first wife died three years and his second ten months after marriage, and after living nine years with No. 3, her first husband, long mourned as dead, returned and claimed her, whereupon the disconsolate M. Trudel married, six weeks later, a girl of thirteen. She died in two years, when he married a fifth wife, who died in 1875, after a wedded life of twenty years.

— A ludicrous incident, says an English journal, occurred at Naples the other day. As the French mail steamer, the Yangtse, with the Japanese Envoy to France on board, and flying his flag, entered the bay, General Grant was embarking on board an American man-of-war and being saluted by the fort. The Jap imagined that the firing was in his honor, and to the great amusement of his fellow passengers kept repeatedly bowing in the direction of the smoke. Nevertheless, the French commander was too polite to undeceive the illustrious stranger, who was much struck by European politeness.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Foll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Fletcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever occupied so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the speedy and prompt relief of ALL AFFLICTIONS. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Know it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its managements in advance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of men? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. That sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKFORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—In a long read in your papers reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "snuffing-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh in its worst form, nasal passages became completely closed, "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydraulic pressure, the only way possible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES,
The following named parties are among the thousands who have been cured of catarrh by the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy:

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Want of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills, alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purpose."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, ask with the answer to this question with consider able anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE CATARRH CURE is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hardcurcusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be alright only as a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to impair my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it out and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the cure in my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Undergrouud Forests.

The authors of the newly published book, named "Two Thousand Miles in Texas on Horseback," tell a wonderful story about the subterranean forests which they observed on the prairies lying near the river Concho in the western part of the State. "Riding over these vast prairies," thus their story runs, "though you will see no trees, yet you will often see a tender little switch of the mesquit, shooting a few feet above the ground. Now, stop at one of these and strike at its root with a pickax, you will expect nothing but tender, fibrous roots; but, instead of these, the pick comes in contact with a heavy, solid body."

Various theories are put forward to account for the existence of these underground forests, but none cited by the narrators of the story are satisfactory. It is said by some that the burning heat of the sun has prevented the growth of the trees above ground. Others urge that the scarcity of rain in the region induced the phenomenon; and again, that it is owing to the frequency of the prairie fires, which consume the vegetation exposed to its effects. But the same influences have nowhere else produced the same remarkable results.

"Surprised, you remove the thin covering of earth, and you find a living log, as thick as a man's leg, extending you know not how far. Exploring further around the same little shoot, you find many logs of the same size, and an infinite number of branches extending from them. Thus each little twig yields you from a quarter to a half cord of fuel wood, not equalled for that purpose by any other wood within my knowledge. Thus these treeless plains are filled with fuel, almost equal in its supply to the heaviest forests. These shoots do not increase in size, but after attaining a certain dimension, too small to be dreaded by an urchin, they either stand at that or die and give place to others. The branches of the large roots left in the ground speedily supply the loss by other roots as large as those taken away."

"The growth of this chaparral, or thicket," say the writers already quoted, "is a brush shooting out a number of long branches from a common centre at the ground, armed with thorns; and every branch produces a number of smaller branches likewise armed. The foliage is light and feathery, pinnate, and dropping in long racemes. Such is its character here and in all the chaparrals; but, when it grows alone, or scattered widely apart, it becomes a tree, about the ordinary size of the peach, and at a distance, when stripped of its leaves in winter, greatly resembles that tree. In the chaparral it is almost an evergreen, for its long-reaching multitudinous boughs protect it from the cold northers and seem to maintain perpetual Spring.

"It yields annually an abundant crop of beans—the pods, from five inches to a foot in length, hanging in clusters from the boughs. These pods are very similar in appearance to that of the cornfield pea; but, owing to a rich saccharine pulp, they never become shelly or dry. They cannot advance to a higher state of dessication than the sugar corn, either in pod or bean. The bean is small and flattened, separated from each other by a considerable space of pulp in the pod, and, when chewed in the mouth, is sweet to the taste and sticky to the teeth. When ripe, horses and cattle devour them with great relish; and they will not touch them when not ripe, because they are then bitter and acrid."

— A Florida negro mistook a mule for a ghost and poked it with a stick. The verdict recited that he came to his death by using too short a stick in probing the unknowable for evidences of a future existence.

— Over ten years ago a Cleveland man marked a fifty cent piece with his initials and started it again on its way, having scarcely any expectation of ever seeing it again; and certainly the chances against such an event are almost innumerable. It may be judged, then, that he has not been at all surprised at never having set eyes on the coin since.—Cleveland Herald.

—Mrs. Gov. Dominis, a Hawaiian princess, is visiting California. She is the Princess Lydia Kamakaeha, sister of King Kalakaua, and last year she was proclaimed heir apparent to the throne. If she survives the King, she will become Queen. She is about forty years old. Her husband, His Excellency John Owen Dominis, is a Boston man, Governor of Oahu. The Princess, as well as the King, received an English education under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Cooke, and she speaks English fluently with no perceivable accent.

—In New York John Koehler has been courting Frederick Lohr's pretty daughter. When he went to see her the other evening the third person present was her father's dog. Koehler, after awhile, put his arm around the young lady's waist, and she then and there made the remark "Oh!" This, joined to the position of the parties, excited the dog's attention, and in a less friendly way he took the ardent lover's leg in his teeth. There was a great outcry, the father of the young lady came in, and the doubly captive swain was released from the grip of the canine. Koehler wanted his prospective father-in-law to kill the dog, but the father was not disposed to so deal with the faithful guardian of his daughter. In the course of the night Koehler came back with a hatchet and broke into the cellar, intending to kill the dog himself, when he was arrested by an officer as a burglar, and all these facts came out in the police office. The Judge ordered the dog to be killed, a mode of dealing with the animal that, on the whole, seems rather hard.

Terrible Explosion and Loss of Life.

At about seven o'clock, Thursday evening, a tremendous explosion shook to pieces the great Washburn flouring mill at Minneapolis, Minnesota, a column of flame shooting up to a height of several hundred feet, and the massive walls being crushed like egg-shells. Other mills in the vicinity instantly exploded also, and the ruins took fire, the flames spreading to and destroying other structures. Five huge flour mills and a planing mill, with other buildings, were either blown to pieces or burned, the money loss being estimated at $1,500,000. The glass in the windows of buildings in Minneapolis was shaken to fragments by the concussion, the loss from this cause alone being estimated at $10,000. Seventeen lives were lost, at least, and many persons injured.

A "Dead Sell."

Somewhere about a week ago Senator McCreery presented in the Senate a petition of numerous citizens of Kentucky, asking that Raphael Semmes (that is the way the name was given) be assigned to duty as an officer of the Howgate Arctic exploring expedition, as he wished to verify his father's theories concerning the North Pole. This raised a storm; the Washington correspondents of the metropolitan papers, and the country editors of the republican persuasion, denounced the appointment of the "pirate Semmes" to the position he asked for, as a mere entering wedge to make his future restoration to the navy easy; and not a democratic editor, so far as we are aware, knew enough about the matter to correct the rediculous blunder into which indignation at the "check" of "Alabama Semmes" led so many persons.

Raphael Semmes, of "Alabama pirate" infamy, died in Mobile months ago! and probably every paper in the Union had a notice of the event at the time; this paper did, that's certain. The man who now asks to be sent to the North Pole, if he is a son of the old Arctic-Circle-ranger who broached the theory that the earth is hollow, and with a big hole in it at each pole, must be named Symmes, not Semmes—for the famous entrance to the world's interior was "Symmes' Hole." So all the indignation about Semmes' check is wasted.

We particularly enjoy this "sell" for two reasons; first, because we are "in it;" and second, because it shows how evanescent is the "glory" of the traitor.

The staid and well-informed Worcester Gazette suggests that it might be a good plan to send Semmes up North, if he would only freeze up solid while there. Possibly he would assent to this, but he has now no choice in his selection of a climate to dwell in.

Naval Affairs.

Second Lieut. David Whipple, U. S. M. C., has been detached from the U. S. S. Enterprise and ordered to this navy yard.

Gunner A. G. Harman is detached from duty at the naval magazine at this station, and placed on waiting orders.

Norfolk, Va., advices of April 30th say the following officers reported for duty the day before on the U. S. S. Enterprise: Lieut. C. P. Perkins, Ensign H. J. Hunt, Assistant Engineer G. S. Willetts. The Enterprise dropped down to the naval anchorage on the morning of the 30th ult., to receive her powder.

Rear Admiral C. R. P. Rodgers will be detached from the superintendency of the Naval Academy about July 1st and assigned to command the Pacific station—a consolidation of the North and South Pacific stations. No person has yet been designated to relieve Rodgers at the Naval Academy.

News and Notes.

It is stated that the entire property left by John Morrissey is really a little over $30,000, and his estate will not be able to settle the debts against it. He expended $40,000 during the last two political contests in which he was engaged. His illness cost a large sum, and for many years he has been the sole support of three sisters, one a widow and blind.

Mrs. Tilton and her mother, Mrs. Morse, have moved from the frame tenement in which they had for some time lived, to a brown-stone house on Hewes street, New York city. Theodore is to provide for the support of his family and Mrs. Morse.

W. S. O'Brien, of the firm of Flood & O'Brien, the California bonanza kings, died at San Rafael, Cal., on Thursday, leaving a fortune estimated at from $15,000,000, to $20,000,000. Ten or fifteen years ago he was a bar-keeper.

Owen Adkins, of Pittsylvania county, Va., is said to have 550 lineal descendants living within five miles of his home. He had twenty-four children by two wives, and forty-six by mistresses—seventy in all, of whom sixty-six are now living. The district is called Adkindom. A large family or a large story.

The United States Supreme Court holds that the statutes of any State providing for the presence of a minister or magistrate at the solemnization of marriage do not render a marriage at common law invalid for non-conformity.

Great labor and ingenuity are expended on the production of the Bank of England notes. They are made from pure new white linen, and for two hundred years have been manufactured in the same family. The printing is done by a curious process in the bank building. There is an elaborate arrangement for insuring that no note shall be like any other in existence; consequently there never was a duplicate of a Bank of England note except by forgery.

New Hampshire Items.

At Lake Village, on the 30th ult., Mr. Rufus Sayward was run over by a loaded team which he was driving, breaking his left leg near the hip. The injury is very serious and doubts are entertained of his recovery. Mr. Sayward was formerly a well known stage driver in the western part of the State.

A two-story house, barn and out-buildings of George A. Heath, at Nashua, were burned Thursday night. The fire was caused by a lantern exploding which Mr. Heath had in the barn. Loss $3000; insured $2000.

The farm buildings of Tyler Swett, near Swett's mills, Webster, were totally consumed by fire Thursday morning. Loss $3000; insured $1500 in the New Hampshire Company.

The 200 boys of St. Paul's school, at Concord, were sent home Thursday, to escape the threatened spread of the scarlet fever, and it is not known when they will be called back.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Thursday, Charles R. Schilling of Kingston and Michael D. Sullivan of Nashua were pardoned from the State Prison; W. C. Harriman of Portsmouth was appointed Solicitor for Rockingham county; John H. George of Concord and C. P. Frost of Hanover were appointed Trustees of the Asylum for the Insane. The official counts of the votes for Railroad Commissioner and Senators are being made.

The late David R. Leach left by his will $3000 for a public library in North Londonderry, $1500 to be expended at once for books, $500 for a building or library room, and the remaining $1000 to be placed at interest, the income to be used annually in the purchase of new books. Mr. Leach also left $1000, the income of which is to be used in keeping in repair the cemetery in the town.

Lancaster has a young lady who, on the occasion of a recent fire, went on to one of highest buildings in town and walked the ridge pole, carrying water to wet the shingles with.

Four boys made a bold strike for liberty on Wednesday at the State Reform School, three of whom are still at large. A new keeper had recently been employed.

W. J. Manson, a brakeman on the through freight on the Cheshire Railroad, was knocked off the cars in the Keene passenger depot and instantly killed—Thursday noon.

Ground for the new State Prison was broken at Concord, Thursday forenoon, in the presence of Gov. Prescott, the Board of Prision Commissioners and Dr J. W. Barney, Commissioner to select the site for the new prison.

The Senate has confirmed George L. Smith, a New Hampshire boy long resident in Louisana, as Collector of Customs at New Orleans.

The Manchesters beat the Live Oaks in a game of base ball at Manchester on Thursday by a score of six to one.

Political.

The Atlanta (Ga.,) Constitution in the following indiscreet manner acknowledges that the republican stories of democratic ruffianism during the rifle-club campaign were true: "The democrats can carry every county in the State (of South Carolina)—even Beaufort and Charleston—if they only determine to do so. Republican and race majorities can be overcome everywhere, as they were overcome two years ago in Edgefield, Abbeville, Aiken and Barnwell."

Mr. Speaker Randall, of the National House of Representatives, on Tuesday, 30th ult., lectured the republicans of the House on their opposition to economy. This was presumptous, considering the fact that it was the "democratic House" that passed the river and harbor bill. It was cheeky, considering another fact, that Mr. Randall voted for the salary grab a few years ago, and was its principal supporter on the democratic side. His name will be found in the black list published at the time by the Manchester Union.

A good many politicians—notably democrats—are bothering themselves about the Senatorial succession in this State. Don't fret about it, gentlemen. Mr. Wadleigh will in all human probability succeed himself. If he does not, Hon. Henry W. Blair will—and in either case the State is sure to be ably represented.—Colebrook News.

And now it is said Cronin's conscience has been quickened by somebody, and he is bursting to confess somebody else's sins. Dear, dear! But Tilden can't be blamed for this quickening, anyway, as he wants Cronin's conscience, to remain in its normal dormant state.

An exciting fracas recently took place on the floor of the Ohio Senate. Railroad Commissioner Bell was lobbying to prevent the reduction of his son's salary, who is his clerk. Mr. West, also a democrat and a Senator, made a speech favoring the cut down from $1500 to $300, and charged the Commissioner and his clerk with neglecting their duties. Soon after, Bell jumped upon the Senator, threw him down and choked him. Mr. Bell has been Secretary of State, and is a party magnate, but it was thought that this outrage upon a Senator in his seat would lose him his office. It didn't, though, for he apologised and that made it all lovely.

The Crisis.

What think you would be the result if the earth should stop spinning around the sun? Were you ever near a large and intricate machine when one of its wheels became clogged or broken—near enough to hear the grating, jarring clash, the sudden, deafening crash? Astronomers assure us that precisely similar effects, only on an inconceivable grander scale, would be produced if our earth—one of the wheels in the universe-machine—should suddenly cease its revolutions. In other words, there would be a general clash and crash of satellites, planets, and systems. What we term financial crises are due to similar causes. One of the wheels in the finance-machine becomes clogged, perhaps shattered. The terrible Wall-street "crash" which follows is communicated to every part of the financial mechanism of the country. But analogies do not stop here. There is that other mechanism, the most intricate of all—sometimes called an organism because it generates its own forces—the human machine. When one of its members fails to perform its office, the whole system is thrown into disorder. Members before considered unassailable, break down under the pressure. The shock comes, and utter prostration is the result, Reparation can only be effected by the restoration of the impaired parts and the re-adjustment of its levers.—the physical forces. There is one part of the machine more liable to disorder than any other,—the liver,—the great balance-wheel of the machine.

The liver being the great depurating or blood-cleansing organ of the system, set it at work and the foul corruptions which gender in the blood, and rot out, as it were, the machinery of life, are gradually expelled from the system. For this purpose Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, used daily, and Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, taken in very small doses, are pre-eminently the articles needed. They cure every kind of humor from the worst scrofula to the common pimple, blotch, or eruption. Great eating ulcers kindly heal under their mighty curative influence. Virulent blood poisons that lurk in the system are by them robbed of their terrors, and by persevering and somewhat protracted use the most tainted systems may be completely renovated and built up anew. Enlarged glands, tumors and swellings dwindle away and disappear under the influence of these great resolvents.

THE CITY.

See notice of carriages for sale by auction to-day. Also carpets, etc.

Mr. Jeff C. Rowe's coupe will be put on the street on Tuesday, May 7th. See advertisement.

The wages of the employes at Jones' Brewery have been reduced fifteen per cent. Several of the workmen have been discharged.

The North church not being ready for occupancy, Congregational services will be held in the chapel on Middle street to-morrow.

Friday was a hot and "growing" day. Fruit trees that showed but a suspicion of blossoms in the morning were well covered with them before night.

Mr. Charles M. Bailey, of Haverhill, Mass., is the gentleman already alluded to as proposing to put on a line of stage coaches between Exeter and this city, this summer. A daily express between this city and North Hampton, for the season, is already started.

Walter C. Harriman, Esq., of this city, has been appointed County Solicitor for Rockingham County, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Hon. Wm. B. Small. Mr. Harriman is a young man, but he has been a close student in his profession, and is a worker; we think he will do.

Neal Dow lectured in Portsmouth on Monday evening. He said that in Portland they sent brewers to jail, but in Portsmouth they sent them to Congress. This caused a gentle smile to play around the audience, as the President of the evening was the man who furnished Jones his plurality by delivering a sufficient number of temperance votes to secure his election.—Exeter News-Letter.

The Heavy Artillery will be inspected by Col. D. J. Vaughan, Inspector and Mustering Officer of the New Hampshire State Militia, at Music Hall on Thursday evening, May 9th; after which there will be a competitive drill between the members for the Day medal, recently received from England as a badge of honor to be worn by the best drilled man in the company. Tickets, at twenty-five cents each, can be procured of any member of the company, or at Preston's store.

A cricket club has been organized in this city, under the name of the "United Cricket Club," with the following officers: Alex. Robinson, President and Treasurer; Charles W. Gould, Vice President; William Alton, Corresponding Secretary; M. J. Rafter, Financial Secretary. The old Eastern Railroad field, on Frenchman's Lane, at the Creek, has been leased for a term of five years, and a challenge has been issued for a friendly game here with a Boston club at no distant day.

Several ladies of this city are complaining that out-of-town parties who went around taking orders and gathering hair combings for switches, have scooted with the hair. Tramp traders, whether they deal in "bankrupt" jewelry, "smuggled" silks and dress patterns, quack medicines or hair are safe persons to avoid if you don't want to be swindled. There are reputable and responsible dealers in almost every article that can be mentioned, in the city; and a look through our advertising columns will direct any one where to go.

TEMPERANCE BAR-ROOMS.

A year or two ago we suggested, as a valuable aid to the temperance cause, the establishment of temperance bar-rooms, where a cup or tumblerful of good tea, coffee, chocolate or cocoa, hot or cold, or a glass of milk, could be procured at a cheap rate at any hour of the day or evening. Our idea was that many men buy and drink liquors and beer, simply because they are always at hand, when in many cases they would prefer, even at the same price, a good big tumblerful of cold milk or iced tea, or hot coffee, to the inebriating drink, were the temperance beverages only as easily procured as the others. Our plan for advancing the temperance cause called forth some derision; but it seems that it was a pretty good plan after all, and was not original with us, either, though at the time we supposed it was. Temperance bar-rooms have been kept for some past in Liverpool, England, and have proved a source of profit, as witness the following from an English paper:

The establishment of cocoa-houses, where people may obtain cocoa, coffee and other temperance beverages, and which have had the effect to keep men away from the gin-shops, has proved a very successful enterprise in Liverpool. In that city are twenty-nine of these establishments in operation, which received last year £35,562, showing a net profit of £5509. A dividend of ten per cent. was declared, the capital of the company increased to £40,000, and it was resolved to open new houses.

POLICE COURT.

Friday, May 3d; Batchelder, J.

Thomas Collins was arraigned, charged with having been drunk, and acknowledged the having been corned. Thomas has in former days resided at the County Farm, but doesn't like the cooking there; he says they cook by steam, and no real epicure can be satisfied with cookery like that. So he objects to going to Brentwood at such times as he is going to board out at the public expense. But he does like the cookery at the City Farm, which also he has sampled on several various occasions; and as the City Farm authorities rather like Thomas, the Court sent him to the latter institution to remain as long as he can afford for $9.90.

SUPREME COURT.

Friday, May 3d; Smith, J.

Case Alice M. Craig vs. Henry F. Gerrish (continued) occupied the day, fourteen witnesses for the plaintiff being examined. The case was given to jury at four o'clock, and at half-past five a verdict was returned for the plaintiff in the sum of $1500 and costs.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds:

Francis M. Carroll, et als., to Mary A. Mallon, land and buildings on Maple street, $600.

THE VICINITY.

Hon. Layafette Hall, whose nut and bolt factory at Newmarket was recently burned, (the second misfortune of the kind to that establishment within two years,) has already commenced operations preparatory to rebuilding.

An unusual sight here in New Hampshire on the 30th day of April is that of a man mowing grass. But such a scene was witnessed in the yard of the Great Falls Manufacturing Co., on that date, a man being at work swinging his scythe through the grass in front of No. 1 mill. We doubt if any of our readers in the farming sections have commenced haying.—Gt. Falls Journal.

Capt. George W. Towle has been taking the census of Newcastle, with reference to the new apportionment of Representatives to the Legislature under the amended Constitution. The total number of inhabitants is 619; entitling the town to one Representative, with nineteen inhabitants over, as a start on second Representative. The check-list bears the names of two hundred legal voters.

Mr. John G. Ordway, of Epping, had four valuable sheep and two lambs—a pet flock—killed in his pasture by dogs one night recently. Another lamb, the only one of the flock left alive, was found hidden under a juniper bush, badly bitten and maimed. Of course the town will have to pay the market value of the sheep, but it is poor encouragement to a man to procure nice thorough-bred stock and raise up a flock which are made pets of by the entire household, to have them torn in pieces and worried to death by dogs.

SUNDAY SERVICES.

At the Court street (Christian) church, Rev. John A. Goss, pastor, preaching at 10:30, A. M., and 2:45 P. M.; prayer meeting at 7.30. Subject of afternoon discourse, "A brief history of the Christian denomination." Several persons will be admitted to the church. All are invited.

At the Congregational church, Rev. James W. Hubbell, pastor, services at 10:30 A. M. and 3 P. M.; prayer meeting at 7:15 P. M.

At the Advent church, services at 10:15 A. M. 2:45 and 7:30 P. M. Elder Jeremiah Hill will preach to-morrow.

At the Freewill Baptist church, on Pearl street, Rev. E. Owen, pastor, services at 10:30 A. M. and 2:45 P. M.; Sabbath school at 11:30 A. M.

At the Methodist church, Rev. C. B. Pitblado, pastor, preaching at 10:15 A. M. and 2:45 P. M. [Sacrament only to-morrow afternoon.]

At the Universalist church, Rev. E. M. Grant, pastor, services every Sunday at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.; Sunday school at 2:45 P. M. A cordial welcome to all.

At the South Parish, Rev. James DeNormandie, pastor, morning service at 10:30, vespers at 7:30; Sunday school at 2:45 P. M.

At St. Mary's (Catholic) church, Rev. E. M. O'Callaghan, pastor, Children's Mass at 8:30, Solemn Mass at 10:30 A. M.; Sunday school at three o'clock, P. M.

New Stock in the Cocheco Manufacturing Co. at Dover.

The Cocheco Manufacturing Company, in accordance with the votes of the stockholders at the meeting held March 28th, 1877, and with the Treasurer's circular of January 26th, 1878, has given notice that the directors of the company will issue stock as authorized by said votes. Subscription books are now open at the Treasurer's Office, Boston. The stockholders are notified to subscribe and pay for the new stock to which they are entitled before August 1st, 1878, on which day the right to subscribe will terminate. Stockholders of record May 1st are entitled to subscribe for new shares at par ($500) in the proportion of one share for every two shares of old stock by them respectively held. The new stock will be dated November 1st, 1878, and interest at the rate of six per centum per annum will be allowed on all subscriptions from the date of payment to November 1st, 1878, after which the stock will participate in the profits of the Company. No certificates will be issued for, nor dividends paid on fractions of shares. The prospect for dividends at present seems remote, but we presume the managers regard it as going for clams at low water.

— A minister nigh to Boston had a son born to him and a generous donation from his church, the other Saturday, and in the next day's prayer he alluded with gratitude to "the arrival of a little succor." After the service two students who sat below solemnly asked him if he meant the money or the baby. He was shocked.

— During the recent war there were two volunteers lying beneath their blankets, looking up at the stars in a Virginia sky. Says Jack: "What made you go into the army, Tom?" "Well," replied Tom, "I had no wife, and I loved war. What made you join the army, Jack?" "Well, he replied, "I had a wife, and loved peace, so I went to war."

DEATHS.

PERKINS. At Hot Springs, Arkansas, May 2d, Samuel C. Perkins, of Boston, aged about 45 years. Mr. Perkins was at one time a member of the publishing house of Phillips, Sampson & Co., of Boston, but for years has been the head of the firm of Perkins, Stern & Co., wholesale dealers in California wines. He was an earnest republican, and represented the Dorchester district in the Boston Common Council in 1874 and '75, and was an active and reliable member. Last year he received the citizens' nomination for Alderman, and was elected upon the ticket with Mayor Pierce. Early in the year he suffered from a slight paralysis of the facial nerves, which affected somewhat the sight of one of the eyes, and shortly after the organization of the City Government he went South in the hope of obtaining relief. He leaves a widow (a daughter of the late Judge James Pickering, of Newington,) and one son.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any lame, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to use as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. Its
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns. tieb20 78

THE GREAT
FALL RIVER LINE, BETWEEN
BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.
Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.
New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Trains.
BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior article cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superiority, Dr. Pierce's Specific Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual expenditure foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKFORT, MASS., April 3, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "whistling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could embalm a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered from what is called catarrh itself, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered from what is called catarrh itself, until I became a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventeen-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way capable of dealing with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose.
Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors, Ulcers, and Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel cloudy, dizzy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potassa and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, licking and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, will read the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and Consumption frequently fat l affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple yet neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is PROOF positive of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, scrusty matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed, with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subsed and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, inserting in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal disease.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma and had to be obliged to take a remedy or it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of but one fifty cent bottle of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is really the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 14.

CAUSE AND EFFECT.

NO. ONE.

I thank the Allwise Creator that thro' his loving kindness I was permitted to know Capt. C. F. Hall as a friend to whom I am indebted for the valuable discoveries which my voyage to the Arctic regions enabled me to demonstrate as facts regarding the Physics of the Globe or the laws of nature, cause and effect, or the agents employed for renewal and perpetuation of its life sustaining properties, for retaining regularity in its diurnal revolution, for the retention of its shape, its expansion and growth; the cause which effects its diurnal revolution, together with its consequent shape, of which I now give a synopsis in this the prelace to my notes, which likewise shows the cause that effects the variations of the compass, the changes of the seasons, and the consequent changing of the length of days and nights.

First, the earth is spherical, but not a globe or sphere; it being evidently hollowed in a basin shape, until the water from about the eighty-third parallel to the point ninety is impregnated with a sufficient quantity of caloric from the central heats of the earth to cause it to remain in liquid to establish the centripetal force which renews the deposits of sediment around the point ninety.

The centrifugal force is fully developed from the 73d parallel to the equator, and the space between the 73d and 83d parallels should be known as the magnetic zone, the central parallel between the two (the 78th) being the joining parallel where the two forces blend and cease. The whole magnetic zone whose altitude is given or formed by hydraulic power of subterranean rivers from the lakes and highlands; a fact proved by the shells and fossiliferous submarine limestone formations, similar to those found in Nebraska and the vicinity of the great lakes, the hydraulic power of altitude being proved by the almost level uprising of each strata of sandstone, slate, schist and slenitic rocks whose strata have no dip nor incline save where disturbed by the side movement of a travelling glacier, these highlands coupled with the mer de glace, or glacier sea, of similar altitude are the heights that form the rim to the basin, or open polar sea.

There is great reason to suppose that the point ninety is an immense salt bed, having been precipitated by the freezing process at the rim and deposited at and around the point ninety by the centripetal force, at which point there can be no high lands nor submarine formations of any great altitude as the tidal wave is the counter agent used to eject all surplus matter therefrom. Whenever the economy of nature requires it, ice islands are detached from the glacier sea of sufficient bulk to obstruct the channels or outlets from the open polar sea, by cause of which the water in the basin assumes a globular or spherical form which destroys the centripetal and creates the centrifugal force until the obstructed channels are forced, when all surplus matter is ejected with the tidal wave, after which the hollow basin shape is formed and the centripetal force re-established, though the power of either force is so limited in the whole width of the magnetic zone that all surplus matter in the shape of icebergs and pack ice is here held inert awaiting the storm that gives them the speed and motion south required by the laws of nature.

The poise of the point ninety in the direction of the North Star is an unexplained question, whether held by draught of vacuum or by magnetic affinity to each other is alike unknown. But the Magnet Pole is the cause of the earth's suspension, starting from some unknown point in space perpendicular with the 73d parallel, around which parallel it travels the entire circuit of the parallel by a line of suspension pointing perpendicular with the centre of the earth once in 365 days. The North Star makes an annual orbit around the magnet point of attraction, causing the changes of the seasons and difference in the lengths of days and nights. When farthest from the sun, causing the South Pole to be nearest, hence we find it summer in December at the South Pole and winter in the same month at the North Pole, and vice versa, summer in July at the North Pole and winter in the same month at the South Pole. The needle points to this magnet point of attraction which moves daily one three hundred and sixty-fifth of the 73d parallel, or, I should say the magnet point of attraction is from the centre of the earth perpendicular and stationary, passing through the 73d parallel, which daily moves 1-365th of the entire parallel perpendicular with the point of attraction, and clearly accounts for the variations of the compass, proof of which can be demonstrated by ascertaining its meridian on any day of the year and ascertaining the direction that the annual orbit is taking.

The diurnal revolution of the earth is caused by the attraction of the cooler surface by the sun's rays, which at the same time act as a repellant to the heated surface of the earth; the regularity of its momentum being retained and governed by the hither and thither balance-wheel-like motion of the tides. Wherever there is lack of superficial specific gravity, the economy of nature requires mountains in order that lower purchase from the centre may act as a substitute for specific gravity, and not unfrequently specific gravity is added to lever power, such as minerals and metals on mountain heights, the abstracting which is felt and demands a substitute in proportion to the altitude from whence the amount of weight has been taken.

Nature's commonest course of proceeding to obviate such a removal of specific gravity is by the air-consuming power of the volcano's flames, creating a vacuum in upper space which is the travelling agent that forms the water spout, which is nature's most speedy way of adding specific gravity wherever required, in the shape of rain; it being the womb of the thunder storm used from the equator to the extreme north and south temperate zones; the water spout is likewise parent to the snow storm, which forms the superficial glacier, and the thunder storm that forms lakes in high lands, which are the source of the hydraulic power. So we find that the volcano at the equator is only in co-operation with the glacier or expanding powers at the poles of the earth for self-renewal and revitalizing powers.

NO. TWO.

In studying the economy of nature I am led to digress from the requisition of nature for an open polar sea; for a like requisite mer de glace or glacier, sea for a rim in which to confine the same, and for the huge granite and sienitic rock abutments in the shape of capes and promontories, to stay the too rapid movement of the glacier south, and form the subterranean passage either from the lakes or mountain rivers large enough to cause hydraulic power sufficient to lift the mer de glace to a level of the lakes, thereby equalizing their distance from the centre of gravity, which would otherwise be greatly diminished by the continual passage south of the immense quantities of earthy matter on icebergs to counteract man's love of money, which is by Scripture termed the root of evil; consisting in the main in removing large deposits of ore and heavy metals from their lever power on high mountains as a general thing and transporting them into opposite longitudes, thereby doubling the necessity for an equivalent in matter of specific gravity, or in upheavals causing the same effect by extension of lever purchase from the centre, which had otherwise been lost by removal of superficial specific gravity; I say I must necessarily diverge from these to grapple with other agents and counter agents in the economy of nature at the equinoctial belt of the earth's surface.

From the fact that the iceberg deposits its freight of earth and rock and disappears long before it could reach that destination, is shown that nature not only depends on the centrifugal force for equalizing the distribution of sediment, the continued accumulation oceanic from the mountain rivers, but it employs counter agents of an entirely different nature, to the same end, to avoid the otherwise too great accumulation of superficial specific gravity on any one particular longitude, on account of which deep oceans are caused to receive the distribution of sediment propelled by the centrifugal force and regulated as required, by tidal motion. And here volcanoes are put in requisition, whose gigantic columns of flame at a great altitude pierce the air, consuming vast quantities of the same and causing extensive vacuums in upper space which are travelling agents that create the water spout; the vacuum being borne down by its lack of specific gravity, by the peculiarity of its formation acquiring the power of concentration of draught by fully developed centripetal force raising a vast column of water to a mile in altitude before it is separated or expanded into mist, with which the entire vacuum being filled and the surrounding atmosphere charged, enough being taken from the ocean to prevent too great an accumulation of specific gravity from sediment by action of the centrifugal force. Thus the vacuum caused by a distant volcano, is used as a safety valve, not only charging the atmosphere with healthy moisture but adding specific gravity to other distant high and low lands.

Though I have reasons for believing the accumulation of friction or power of electricity from moving bodies sufficient to supply the atmosphere with moisture, were not rain needed as an agent to transfer specific gravity from one place to another, the highest lakes and table land rivers are in debt to the volcano and water spout for their existence. The highest lakes and table lands furnish the subterranean rivers that pour their sediment into the Arctic circle and likewise create the hydraulic power that gives altitude to the maget zone or the space between the 73d and 83d parallel; the 73d parallel is the latitude of the magnet pole or the point to which the needle of the compass is attracted; the magnet point travels the entire circle of the 73d parallel, or, I should rather say the magnet point of attraction runs perpendicular with the 73d parallel to the centre of gravity and is the unknown cause of the earth's suspension and true cause of the variations of the compass. The 73d parallel making the entire revolution of its whole circle beneath and perpendicular with it once in three hundred and sixty-five days, between which points, viz.: the magnet pole and the point 90, or North Pole, is an angle of seventeen degrees from the centre of gravity which is the angle of the north star in perihelion, from the magnet point of attraction, which is the cause of the oblique rays of the sun striking on the entire Arctic circle for the space of five months in the year, and places the Antarctic Pole in apogee and darkness at the same time, and vice versa; throwing the South Pole from the 73d parallel to the point 90 south, under the oblique rays of the sun for the space of five months, making it mid-summer in December south of the equator and mid-winter in the same month north of the equator, allowing one month for the rising and setting of the sun on its course north and one month of rising and setting of the sun on its course south or while the earth is taking a transposition incident to the orbit of the north star's around the magnet point of attraction.

Although the earthquake is acknowledged to be an expander rather than a contracter of the crust of the earth, yet they act in that respect as required by the economy of nature; it has been remarked that when an earthquake has been formed by fresh water coming in contact with the central heats of the earth caving in, contraction and shrinkage of the crust of the earth has resulted therefrom, but on the contrary, when ocean or saline waters gain admission to the central heats of the earth, no matter how large a chasm may be opened by the steam thereby generated, in nine cases out of ten its full size is filled by salts precipitated in the process of evaporation or expansion in the shape of steam. When neptha or ether gains access to the central heats causing explosions by expansion of gases, it invariably causes shrinkage and contraction of the earth's crust; thus the agent used to prevent the too great heating of the earth's surface from the centre, which would destroy all vegetation, is used at times to destroy the lever power of altitude and regulate the diurnal revolution of the earth. Yours, etc.,

NATH'L J. COFFIN.

An Energetic Statesman.

One of the most ludicrous exhibitions ever given by a member of the American Congress -and that is saying much—was given on Thursday evening of last week by "Hon." Hendrick B. Wright, of Pennsylvania, the democratic statesman who told his lawless constituents, at the time they were destroying property by the millions of dollars' worth, and paralyzing the business of the whole country, last summer, that when Congress met he should at once introduce a bill for the appropriation of $10,000,000 "to relieve the laboring classes." The lower house of Congress has decided to hold evening sessions, for debate only; and on Thursday evening the "Hon." Wright, (who is of course an earnest inflationist, being an arrant demagogue,) had the floor. Just where the "debate" came in is hard to see, for not one solitary Member of Congress was present, save Wright himself, and the Speaker of the House, who no doubt was well punished for many of his numerous sins by being compelled to listen for a full hour to Wright's empty twaddle. But Speaker Randall was not the entire audience, as the official reporter and a page were present; and Wright thundered away for an hour at his audience of three, as if they numbered 10,000, and were all anxious to catch every word.

The Mysterious Steamship.

The London News says that the steamship Cimbria, which has occasioned so much speculation by anchoring in Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert, was chartered on the 24th of March, by the Russian Admiralty, for one year, to serve exclusively as a transport. The amount paid was £14,806. The value of the vessel is secured to the owners by Mendelssohn & Co., Berlin, bankers. Her principal work will be to supply provisions and munitions of war to the Russian fleet in the Pacific Ocean. Her present destination, after taking aboard war material contracted for in America, is North Japan.

A Russian officer, and an attache of the British legation at Washington, passed through Portland on Friday on their way to Southwest Harbor. They did not occupy the same car seat.

Friday morning, in Portland, the harbor master discovered a schooner laden with gunpowder lying at Portland Pier, in close proximity to a pile driver from which a shower of sparks occasionally issued. Thinking the chances for an item for the newspapers were too great, the harbor master ordered the craft out into the stream. Rumor said the schooner was bound to Southwest Harbor.

Love, Jealousy and Murder.

Two years ago Kate Southern, a bride of two months, in a fit of jealous rage stabbed to death a young woman named Cowart, in a ball room in Pickens county, Ga. Miss Cowart danced with Mrs. Southern's husband, and was killed while at his side. Southern took his wife's arm, drew his pistol, and aided by his relatives forced his way out of the ballroom. The couple retreated to North Carolina, where they were captured three months ago, and taken to Atlanta, Ga., for trial, with the result that the woman was on Thursday convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged on the 21st of June. The trial was intensely exciting. Mrs. Southern had her baby in her arms when she was sentenced. Her husband's case was continued. An appeal has been made for a stay of sentence.

Massachusetts Press Excursion.

The Executive Committee of the Massachusetts Press Association has decided in favor of a trip to the White Mountains in July. The party will leave Boston on Monday, July 1st, for the Weirs, per Boston, Concord & Montreal Railroad; at the Weirs they will take steamer Lady of the Lake for a trip on Lake Winnipesaukee; returning to the Weirs, cars will be taken for Plymouth, and the first night passed at the Pemigewasset House. On Tuesday stage wagons will be taken for the Profile House, which will be headquarters until Thursday, when the company will go to Bethlehem and take cars for the Fabyan House. Friday morning an excursion will be made through the White Mountain Notch over the Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad in observation cars, the party returning to the Crawford House in time for dinner, the afternoon being devoted to the ascent of Mt. Willard and visits to the other attractions in that vicinity. Saturday morning the cars will be taken for the summit of Mt. Washington. Dinner will be eaten at the Mount Washington Summit House, and the party will proceed down the mountain in carriages to the Glen House, where it will remain over Sunday. Monday morning stages will be taken for Glen Station, or North Conway, and, after dinner, probably at the Kearsarge House, the excursionists will return to Boston over the Eastern Railroad.

Naval Affairs.

Gunner Eugene Mack is ordered to take charge of the naval magazine at this navy yard, in addition to his other duties.

Medical Director Wm. M. King is detached from Norfolk navy yard May 15th, and placed on waiting orders.

Assistant Naval Constructor John F. Hanscom is ordered to the Boston navy yard.

Commodore R. H. Wyman was nominated on the 30th of April to be a rear-admiral in the navy from the 26th of April, vice Rear-Admiral Alexander Murray, placed on the retired list at his own request, April 25th—the day on which he reached San Francisco in the Pensacola. Rear-Amiral Murray retained his command until the 30th of April.

News and Notes.

The United States four and a half per cents are being rapidly taken. On Friday the syndicate subscribed for another five millions, thus anticipating their option for June. The anti-resumptionists must hurry up their repeal bill, or we shall have specie resumption before July 1st, instead of Jan. 1st of next year.

A Brooklyn junk dealer named Ferron was recently found in the Erie Basin, gagged, wound around with a heavy chain, and his skull crushed. The murder has been traced to two seamen of the schooner Mary B. Harris, of Machias, Me., and one of them has been arrested and has confessed the crime.

E. Remington & Sons, the great fire-arm manufacturers, are embarrassed, and have compromised with their creditors. Liabilities $1,000,000; assets $4,000,000, but not immediately available.

A sneak thief in Portland, Friday, snatched a tray containing twenty watches, valued at $40 each, from the counter of C. Day's store, and escaped with them. On Saturday two men, the thief and a confederate who engaged the storekeeper in hunting for a fish-pole while the theft was committed, were arrested in Alfred and taken to Portland, where they were fully identified.

William F. Reilly and Edward A. Reilly, brothers, sixteen and eighteen years old, are in prison in New York for forging checks to the amount of $17,000, which were cashed by the banks. They fled to Barbadoes in a brig, and tried to incite the crew to mutiny because the captain would not touch at Martinique to land them. They were arrested on their arrival at Barbadoes, and reached New York by steamer on Friday.

Panama dates to April 24th give an account of outrages on American vessels at Aspinwall by the Colombian authorities. The papers of the schooner Lorine of Philadelphia were demanded by the captain of the port, and on the refusal of the master he was fined $500, and the discharge of the cargo was stopped by force. The steamships California and Crescent City were also fined for refusing their papers.

The latest sensation in New York is the suit for $50,000 damages brought by Mr. Louis J. Jennings, formerly editor of the New York Times and now editor of a London paper, against the New York Express, for having in March last published a charge that he (Jennings) was in the habit of beating and otherwise maltreating his wife.

New Hampshire Items.

Thomas E. Ladd, a prominent business man of Laconia, disappeared on Monday of last week under circumstances leading to the belief that he had commited suicide. His papers show that he was a wholesale thief and forger, forged paper to a large amount having been discovered. Several of his friends are ruined. Ten buildings in various localities, heavily insured and held by Ladd, have been burned within a few years past. Before his departure he confessed to a friend that several of the fires were his own acts of incendiarism.

Charles Marsh of Concord was accidentally shot through the leg Friday afternoon. A person was firing a rifle on the east side of the river, and the ball, striking the surface, glanced and struck Marsh, who was half a mile away on the opposite side, through the leg.

The case of the State vs. Joseph B. Buzzell, for the murder of Susan A. Hanson at Brookfield, Nov. 14, 1874, will be tried at the adjourned term of the Supreme Court for Carroll county at Ossipee, commencing June 24, instead of May 7th

The following is the official count of the vote for Railroad Commissioner at the last election: Whole number 77,798; necessary for choice, 38,800; scattering 26; Nathaniel Wiggin, 265; Warren G. Brown, 229; H. B. Fowler, 37,782; D. E. Willard, 39,494.

—A Meriden storekeeper has a cat which is nursing several kittens. A few days ago a young rat was caught and thrown into the box in which the mother and family were, the expectation being that they would kill it. THE CITY.

The Heavy Artillery have a special meeting at the armory this evening.

Hon. Daniel Marcy arrived at home from New Orleans, Saturday evening.

The street sprinklers were out on Saturday. They were needed, too, notwithstanding the recent week of rain.

The transit of Mercury occurs to-day. The planet will be about seven and a half hours crossing the face of the sun. A telescope of moderate power will enable it to be seen.

The Underwriters' tug C. M. Winch, from Boston, arrived on Saturday at this port, and immediately started on her return with the dredging-machine and barges which have wintered here, in tow.

Platoon A, First New Hampshire Light Battery, Col. S. S. Piper commanding, was inspected at Manchester, Friday evening, by Col. D. J. Vaughan. The Straw Rifles will be inspected on the 17th inst. Col. Vaughan reports that the battery is in fine condition.

A large amount of Michigan Central Railroad stock being held in this vicinity, the notice in another column by Chase & Atkins, of New York city, that they are receiving proxies to be tendered to W. H. Vanderbilt for use at the coming election of directors, will be of interest to many persons.

The fishing weirs at Kittery Point have not as yet proved a source of income to the proprietors, owing to the bad weather. On Friday morning about three barrels of herring were trapped; twelve fishing boats were waiting at the weirs hoping to be supplied with bait, but most of them were disappointed. There have been taken from the weirs twenty-seven varieties of fish, some of them entirely unknow even to the old fishermen.

At three o'clock Wednesday afternoon next, Prof. E. B. Warman will speak before his class at the High School on the "Three Principles of Man—the Trinity of Character." At the close he will give an analysis of "The Raven." He will be pleased to see a large number of the ladies and gentlemen of Portsmouth present at this familiar talk. Prof. Warman's lectures, connected with the vocal culture which he gives his class every Saturday, are intensely interesting, practical and suggestive.

Mr. Jeff C. Rowe's coupe, advertised to commence running on Tuesday, May 7th, "to convey passengers to and from any part of the city, at twenty-five cents each," was on the streets on Saturday and attracted much attention, being certainly a very fine affair; horse, carriage and gold-mounted harness are each very handsome, and all together make such a turnout as is not often seen. We can see no reason why Mr. Rowe should not be well patronized in his new venture, and hope he will be.

A REAL MISSIONARY.

In another column will be found an advertisement announcing that Miss Parloa will give a course of practical "object lessons in cookery" at the school room of Miss Morgan's seminary for young ladies, the first lesson to be given on Thursday afternoon, May 9th, at three o'clock, each lady attending being desired to bring with her a napkin, teaspoon, note book and pencil. Tickets for the course, $2; single lesson, fifty cents.

Miss Parloa is no novice, or mere theoretical cook; she has had large experience, and hundreds in this city and vicinity can bear testimony to her skill, having tested it at the time she was chef de cuisine at the Appledore House; and she is the author of that excellent collection of useful recipes, the "Appledore Cook Book."

For many years it has been considered unfashionable (in this country, at least,) for a lady to know how to cook an article of food decently; those to whom the cooking has been abandoned have generally been gloriously ignorant of how to do it properly; and the consequence has been that the American people, with an abundance and variety of food far beyond any other nation, have been the worst fed considering their advantages. But the fashion has changed; and when fashion does a sensible thing, it should have credit for it. It is rapidly becoming unfashionable for a woman—no matter what her social position—to be absolutely ignorant of cooking; ladies whose early education was neglected in this line, and who in consequence have all their lives been at the mercy of servants—often blundering, incompetent and wasteful—are now fitting themselves by study under competent tuition to be the real heads of the households in which for so long they have been mere cyphers. One of the missionaries of the new dispensation is Miss Parloa, who has for some time been most successfully giving lessons to the ladies of Boston, in classes, at her rooms on Tremont St., her "kitchen lectures" there being attended by ladies of the highest position. Bread is one of the things she insists on teaching every class how to make, no matter what fancy confections they are bent on taking in beside. During the cooking Miss Parloa acts as director, the ladies appealing to her constantly, and asking all sorts of questions. These lessons have become very popular among the "upper crust" of Boston, as also with those in less elevated positions; and we have no doubt the ladies of our city will disprove the old adage about the honor shown a prophet in his own country. The lady who hereafter fails to boil water without burning it on the bottom of the kettle, or who cooks potatoes to the consistency of dough and makes bread like putty, and transforms a tender beef-steak into sole-leather, will have no valid excuse to offer should her husband use language of a quality as bad as her cooking.

A BIG CATCH.

Capt. Thomas Jamieson, of the schooner Anabel, on Friday last sold to Lemuel Caswell, at the Shoals, 32,000 lbs. of fish, the proceeds of one day's fishing. This big catch was made on the bank off Newburyport, and included 25,000 lbs. of very handsome cod, for which eighty cents per cwt. was received.

THE VICINITY.

George H. Dodge, of Manchester, has purchased a lot of land at Wells Beach and proposes to erect thereon this season a summer cottage. The lot lies between the Atlantic House and the site of the old Island Ledge House.

Mrs. T. Bigelow Lawrence, of Boston, has leased the house on the road leading from York village to the Marshall House, formerly owned and occupied by Capt. Young, for a residence the coming summer. She lived in York, with her family, for several weeks last season, and it seems liked the ancient town well enough to return to it.

On Friday Sheriff Kent and Deputy Sheriff Brown succeeded in finding the remainder of the property stolen by the Gladding brothers of Hampton during the past few months. The goods were found about two feet under ground in a patch of woods some two miles distant from their home, completely water soaked. The culprits were taken into court at Exeter, Friday, for examination, and each held in the sum of $2000. Harry Gladding was brought to this city and lodged in jail; Robert is quartered in the jail at Exeter.

— A practical view: Miss Grabbasle—"Well, we've made something out of our parties, anyway? They left five fans, and Alice Roseleaf dropped this lovely curl—just my shade. She won't ask for it, so I mean to keep it."

— They have a remarkable dog in Hartford, Conn. The other night a rat was caught in a large wire trap, and no one was around to let the animal out for the dog. The animal went into the yard, dug a hole and buried the rat, trap and all.

— An outbreak by an elephant is regarded by circus managers as an excellent advertisement; but probably Old John Robinson's show will pay more this year for that kind of advertising than it is worth. Already the Robinson elephant has killed two persons, and a suit for $5000 damages has been commenced in each case.

—A Milwaukee firm has been selling cakes of soap which are found, upon use, to contain a large piece of wood. The firm say, "Instead of making a small cake, the same amount of soap is put around a block of, wood, and it is thus possible to use the whole without any going to waste." This explanation is regarded as rather thin by the Milwaukeeans, who do not seem to prefer their soap with a stick in it.

—Fashion in Paris, at present, might be summed up in one word—embroidery. Everything is embroidered—from the shoes, gloves, and bonnets, to dresses. corsages, cravats and wrappings. Just now braids of fine wool in all colors, on which is embroidered a vine of miniature flowers, are chiefly in preparation. This embroidery is in silk, and the braid will be used for trimming dresses.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the new celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any fresh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. taug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and live on from day to day in words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

THE GREAT
FALL RIVER LINE, BETWEEN
BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World.
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of men? An inferior article supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have survived all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" manacles (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh in its most passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't do, though at intervals I would snuff up some so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventy-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydro-static pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or Kings' Evil, Tumors, Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchitis, Throat, and Lung Affections; incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness: Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when the blood is scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, nervous, have a sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, but taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and a gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver or Biliousness. In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humers in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucborrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

It can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of the remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal disease.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy to lie at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was so full of catarrhal matter as to impair my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the Cure on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time since, the similar to his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. F. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

BALTIMORE, May 3d.

No stranger visiting this city should fail to see its beautiful parks and squares. The principal ones are Druid Hill, Patterson and Harlem Parks; and among the squares dotted down in the various sections of the city are Madison, Union, Franklin, Lafayette and Riverside. Druid Hill Park is the largest, and is situated a short distance beyond the city limits, northwest, and is reached by three lines of street cars. It comprises several hundred acres, and besides its natural beauties of hills, ravines, magnificent forests, etc., much money has been laid out in driveways, artificial lakes and ponds, buildings, bridges, walks, etc., so that it is to-day one of the finest parks in the country. It seems to many that the means taken to raise money for the necessary expenses for improvements is very unjust, and a burden upon poor people, who in reality reap but very little advantage from the park. The street car companies are obliged to pay one sixth of their gross receipts for this park fund, so that every person who rides in the horse cars, pays every time he rides one cent for this fund. It causes considerable unfavorable comment; and it is assigned as the reason, by the street railway companies, why they do not put the fare down to five cents. The drives through the park are "just grand," and the general feeling among the great majority of the citizens appears to be that to enjoy the park one needs a horse and carriage; and as only the rich can afford that luxury, why, the park is for them, and they are the ones who ought to pay for it. The "Maryland building" which was at the Centennial was taken down and re-erected in the park, and is used as a museum, etc. There is a herd of deer, and also a large flock of some celebrated kind of sheep, running loose; also a building in which are monkeys and other live specimens of the Darwinian theory, and one little black bear, who seems to be lonely.

Patterson Park, at the eastern end of the city, is also quite extensive, and from it a fine view of the bay is obtained.

The squares in the more recently-built —or western—section of the city, have no fences around them; while those in "Old Town" are still enclosed by iron railings and are closed to the public at ten o'clock P. M.

A stream, known far and near as "Jones' Falls," (which in ordinary times is nothing but a brook, but on one occasion, in 1867, suddenly took a notion to expand without any warning, and carried away bridges, flooded streets, floated off one horse car at least, and caused the death of several persons,) divides the city into two sections, the eastern and western, and has about twelve bridges spanning it.

The new City Hall, which was finished about five years since, is an imposing structure, surmounted by a dome which does not quite eclipse the dome on the Capitol at Washington. This building, which cost over two millions of dollars, and which ought to have been placed on an elevated position and surrounded by squares, is located near the business centre and in such a position that no one would notice it until they come right on to it, as it were; and instead of being surrounded by squares, there are very ordinary buildings on all sides, and a majority of them occupied as gin mills. And go to any of the elevated points in or about the city, and all that can be seen of this magnificent structure is its dome.

The present mayor of the city is Geo. P. Kane, who will be recollected by many as Marshal Kane at the time of the shooting of the Massachusetts soldiers on the memorable 19th of April, 1861, and who was subsequently sent beyond the lines, and remained there until the close of the war; soon after which he returned here, and was elected sheriff in 1870, which position he held for two years.

Business of all kinds is dull here. Many mechanics are out of employment, wages are low, not much building going on, and a very large number of houses for sale and to rent. But the "Baltimore Beauties" of whom so much has been written and said, are still the same enchanting creatures, and make their appearance in their bewitching new spring fixings every pleasant afternoon on Baltimore and Charles streets, as well as give a free exhibition to the usual vulgar crowd of masculines who line the curbstones from Eutaw to Howard streets, at the conclusion of the matinees at Ford's Opera House on Saturday afternoons.

NAT.

—A lad in Heath, Mass., who wore the blue ribbon, was asked if his father had signed the pledge. His reply was, "No, not yet, cause he's got some cider to sell!"

The Commune.

A despatch from Tamaqua, Pa., says that several lodges of Communists were recently formed in the coal regions, and the members number about 2000 miners. They attempted to throw three trains from the track on Thursday. There are also reports from St. Louis of threatened outbreaks by the Socialists in that vicinity. These fellows are almost wholly foreign-born, and of the lowest and most ignorant class, led by a few able demagogues. The central head is Megy, of New York, the ruffian who as leader of the French Communists instigated the cowardly and brutal murder of the Bishop of Paris and other unarmed prisoners. Pat Kearney, the San Francisco spouter, is the leader on the Pacific coast. Many intelligent persons see in this organized combination of ignorance, prejudice and crime, a grave peril to the country to be confronted in the near future.

The War Cloud.

On Saturday afternoon the advices from Europe announced affairs to be wearing a slightly more peaceful aspect. Monday morning the outlook was announced to be worse for peace than at any previous time. Russia had succeeded, it was said, in virtually securing Austria's alliance, the former consenting that Austria shall occupy Bosnia at the sound of the first gun. Russia and England continue their preparations for war; England has ordered a million pounds of lint, and other appliances for the wounded in vast quantities.

On this side of the Atlantic interest is largely directed to the steamship load of Russian naval officers and seamen at Mt. Desert; everybody knows they are there, but nobody knows what they are there for, though everybody has a guess at it. The Cimbria is carefully watched by a British agent at Southwest Harbor, and it is said a British war vessel is on the way to Mt. Desert to lend the agent a hand.

It is also asserted that active military preparations are in progress among the Fenians in this country, in anticipation of an Anglo-Russian war. It is said that three companies are well drilled and equipped, and that 3000 veterans can be raised in New York in three days. An attack on Canada is considered probable, in case of war.

Official Votes.

Following is the vote for Senators, as counted and declared at the Executive Session, held in Concord on Thursday:

Naval Affairs.

Norfolk, Va., advices of May 3d say: United States steamer Enterprise, Commander Thomas O. Selfridge, dropped down to the Roads yesterday afternoon and put to sea for South America.

It is stated that the orders directing the Ossipee to proceed to Boston to go out of commission have been revoked.

Washington Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 3.

The reported arrival of the Cimbria, a large steamer of the New York and Hamburg line, at Southwest Harbor, Maine, having as passengers between 600 and 700 Russian naval officers and seamen, seems to have awakened only the most languid interest on the part of Federal officials. Even among those of the Navy Department, who are most directly interested, there appears hardly the ordinary curiosity natural over such an unusual event, much lest an unwonted excitement; and they appear no better informed relative to the matter than outsiders; not as well, indeed, as many wide-awake private citizens. But we may be sure it is not viewed with indifference at either the Russian or British Legations, though all efforts to ascertain the significance attached to this arrival by the attaches of either seem to have been baffled, if any have been made; and we are yet completely in the dark. Weight of opinion is to the effect, however, that should war be declared, this vessel will be found so abundantly supplied with arms and ammunition of war as to make her a very effective cruiser for the capture and destruction of all merchant vessels sailing under the British flag. Of course she would not risk an engagement with a naval vessel, but would trust to her sailing qualities to escape. Perhaps a more promising theatre than the Banks of Newfoundland for such an enterprise does not exist. The track of many of the vessels bound to and from ports on the Atlantic or Pacific side of the American continent lies directly across them, and it is comparatively narrow. Possibly John Bull never had so keen a sense of the utter folly, saying nothing of the wickedness and hypocrisy, of his course toward this Republic while it was struggling for its existence a few years since, as now. It was then in his power to have made friends that would have been of inestimable value now, should war occur with Russia. Instead, in his mad zeal to destroy Republican Government and to establish indefinitely his own supremacy, he adopted that course that made him distrusted and detested by both North and South. His observance of his international obligations toward us was so lax that our commerce was swept from the seas by the cruisers whose construction and equipment in the yards of his subjects he winked at; and he was always a day too late in the legal steps taken to prevent their sailing. His "neutrality" was so notoriously hostile to us as to have excited the contempt and indignation of many of his own subjects, and of other powers, for his disregard of law and at his transparent hypocrisy. While the letter of the violated law may have been satisfied by the Geneva award, it had little effect in neutralizing the feeling of ill will that he provoked. His fears that many American citizens may only be too glad of an opportunity to retaliate when it can be done without a positive violation of law, are probably well founded; and the recollection that Russia's conduct was directly the reverse of his own will not tend to diminish his anxiety lest the chickens he was at such pains to hatch out a few years ago are about to come home to roost.

The report of Mr. Scleicher's committee appointed to investigate and report upon the Rio Grande troubles, places some of our military gentlemen in no very enviable light before the public. According to the testimony of Mr. Williams, American consul at one of the towns on the Mexican side of that stream, Col. Deven appears to have been on the most intimate terms with some of the Mexican bravoes in command along the border; and it further appears that Deven publicly endorsed the imposition of the forced loans on American citizens doing business across the line. The reputation of Mr. Williams is first-class, and his intimation that Deven favored these outrages because he was to pecuniarily profit by them, will likely subject that gentleman to a few interrogatories, and if unsatisfactorily answered, may be followed by something still more unpleasant. There is a feeling that the couse of some others of our officers stationed there during the past few years, may be legitimate subject of inquiry.

The feeling gains that Wood's bill will prove a failure. It is predicted that it cannot even command a majority vote among his own party friends in the House, and that few of them are favorably disposed towards it in the Senate. Mr. Blaine is urging his resolution declaring any change of our tariff laws at present inexpedient. Whatever the sense of Congress, Blaine appears to have correctly interpreted sentiment outside; not, perhaps, because the present rates are all of them equitable and the best that could be devised, but because experiments of all kinds at this particular juncture are unwise and therefore to be avoided. For about the same reason, probably, the Senate now hesitates to complete the repeal of the Bankrupt Law, notwithstanding the heavy affirmative vote in that direction a few days ago. Since then many urgent protests against repeal, unless something can be substituted, have been received, and appear to have wrought a great change of view. KNOX.

New Hampshire Items.

The Odd Fellows' Relief Association of Manchester numbers 780 members, and eight applications are pending. There have been two deaths during the past year, and twenty-nine since its establishment eight years ago.

John H. Cashin, a Manchester wet-grocery man, on Friday refused beer to a trio of roughs, and for his impudence was whipped and robbed of a $75 dollar watch. The roughs escaped. The watch was found on Sunday, rolled up in a piece of paper and laid on a window-sill of Cashin's saloon.

The work of enlarging the Franklin street Congregational church in Manchester is progressing rapidly, at an expense of $12,000. The Firs Baptist society have offered the use of their house for the Sunday evening service.

Mr. George. H. Clark of Meredith Village had both bones of his left leg, below the knee, broken recently in a very odd manner. He was quietly proceeding along the sidewalk, when two dogs at play tripped him, with the result indicated.

The Littleton Argus is discontinued and the material of the office is to be removed to Lancaster, and the subscription lists of that paper and the Coos Republican consolidated, and one 28-column paper issued, bearing the name of Coos Republican, published by J. S. Peavey.

News and Notes.

Over a hundred thousand cotton mill operatives are now out of work in one manufacturing district of England. There are nearly two hundred British merchant ships lying idle at the wharves in Calcutta, and many more anchored in the stream. Corbett & McClymant, builders, of London, have failed; liabilities $7,000,000; assets, a thousand houses. Business is in a very depressed condition throughout England and most of the continent. Verily, the republican party of the United States has much to answer for.

An old lady named Prince, eighty years of age, was burned to death in Portland on Saturday through her clothes catching fire from a stove over which she was cooking her breakfast.

P. S. Gilmore and his band, comprising sixty-five pieces, sailed for the Paris Exposition on Saturday.

D. B. Burt, of Cleveland, Ohio, leader of the national party, and director of a paper called the Labor Advance, is under arrest for the rape of two little girls.

Diamonds valued at from $4000 to $6000 were stolen from the show window of Stephen Paine's jewelry store in Providence, R. I., Saturday afternoon.

At Shelbyville, Ind., a man named Wagner confined his fourteen-year-old daughter in a room and attempted to starve her to death, in order to obtain her property. A mob of young men released her and were about hanging him when the City Marshal prevailed on them to release him, and they escorted him to the depot and compelled him to leave the city. His wife refused to go with him.

Garner's club house, formerly the headquarters of the New York Yacht club at Staten Island, and near which the capsizing of his yacht Mahawk and his drowning occurred, was moved on to floats, Saturday, and in tow of five tugs was taken up the Hudson river. The novel spectacle of a large three-story house, covered with flags, sailing up the river, attracted a great deal of attention.

John M. Wright, the seaman arrested in Brooklyn for the murder of the old boatman Bernard Ferron, belongs at Indian Head, Me., is only nineteen years old, but bears a very bad character. He acknowledges killing Ferron, but says it was accidental; no one else knew anything about it, as he was alone on the schooner Mary B. Harris when Ferron came on board; he and Ferron had a friendly wrestle, and in the fall Ferron's head struck the cabin stove, which killed him. Being frightened, Wright then loaded down and sank the body, after taking from it $20.

—In western Texas they hang two men with the same rope, a man at each end, and the rope over the limb of a tree.

An Unjust Verdict.

If one of the many "put up" medicines prove ineffectual, all are condemned as nostrums. Is this right? Are all American citizens denounced as traitors because Benedict Arnold committed treason? Some refuse to use Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines, simply because they have used others without benefit. Dr. Pierce's preparations possess actual merit, and, if taken when indicated, the most sanguine expectations will be realized. His Golden Medical Discovery is the standard alterative and blood-purifier in the market. Thousands of testimonials from those it has cured of consumption, dyspepsia, liver complaint, and various forms of skin diseases, are on file in the Doctor's office, certifying to its efficacy. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is relied upon by women to cure the many weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to their sex. For further information see the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, an illustrated work of nearly 1000 pages. Over one hundred thousand copies sold. Price $1.50, post-paid. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

E. G. PIERCE, JR., P. M.

THE CITY.

Col. J. Horace Kent has been appointed Chief Marshal for Memorial Day, and has accepted.

See advertisement of valuable real estate to be disposed of at assignee's sale by auction to-day.

Punch and Judy appeared on Market square, Monday afternoon, to the intense delight of the small boy, who gathered numerously around.

House No. 4 Rock street, owned by the Kearsarge Mills, is being removed to a vacant lot owned by the corporation. The site of the house will be improved as a garden by Mr. Adams, agent of the mills.

Messrs. Morris and Andrew Bodge, who recently purchased the Robinson place in Greenland of the heirs of the late Henry L. Garrett, are to remove from this city to occupy that beautiful place.

The iron steamer Williamsport, Capt. Willetts, which arrived at Concord Railroad wharf on Sunday from Philadelphia, brought 1600 tons of coal, consigned to C. E. Walker & Co., for the Manchester mills.

We note that a certain building on Market street which has for years paid the landlord $1200 for a single floor, has recently been leased at $600 for the whole building, and the lessee and tenant sublets the two upper floors for $140, leaving $460 as the amount which comes out of his own pocket for the same premises which have heretofore paid the owner $1200—Times.

Mr. Samuel C. Cobb, formerly in the piano and organ business in this city, but now (and for some years past) engaged in the same business in Portland, has bought the house of Mr. Adams Perry, Jr., on Rockingham street, for $1600, and will again take up his residence here. Mr. Perry, on account of ill health, will settle in Kansas, with his family.

The "Herald Sunday train" will not be run on the Eastern Railroad this year, as it did not pay last season. The Sunday Herald will come by way of the Nashua & Rochester Railroad, being thrown off at Epping. The new plan was tried for the first time on Sunday last, when a young man with a team left this city at five o'clock in the morning for Epping, and arrived back with the papers at half-past twelve—the hour at which the papers will be for sale every Sunday during the season, if the call for them is sufficient to make the speculation pay.

BUSY BEES' FAIR.

Mr. Editor: Will you please call the attention of your readers to the Fair to be held at Congress Hall on Wednesday afternoon and evening, in aid of the Children's Home. The Busy Bees, a society of young misses, has been for some months engaged in making up useful and fancy articles, which they hope to dispose of at rates that will enable them to place something handsome in the treasury of the Home; there will also be for sale ice cream, cake, coffee and the other refreshments usually furnished on such occasions. AID.

[Note. We not only cheerfully call attention to the proposed Fair, but advise all who wish to pass a pleasant hour and at the same time help along a noble and well-managed charity, to go to it, and purchase liberally after they get there.—The Ed.]

WHY, GEORGE!

The Portsmouth Weekly having spoken of "inexcusable discrepancies" in the recently-issued bird's-eye view of this city, the Times remarks:

No one will deny the fact that the picture is the best ever made of old Portsmouth, and we hazard the opinion that had the view been extended a little more to the right so as to have taken in Packer's pasture, it would have been sure, with all its faults, to have received a "puff" from our erratic and fanatical friend around the corner. The absence of Packer's pasture is an "inexcusable discrepancy."

Packer's pasture, as it was called years ago, is now known as Lincoln Hill, and is the residence of Hon. F. W. Miller, the editor of the Weekly. The just severity of the Times' remarks will be appreciated when we say that in our copy of the bird's-eye view, "Packer's pasture" (with a very good representation of Mr. Miller's buildings and grounds) is about as near the centre of the picture as it could be put with the square and compass!

THE VICINITY.

Rev. Caroline A. Angell, formerly pastor of the Universalist church at Kittery, has been re-engaged for another year by the society at Pittsfield, Maine.

The Cocheco Mills at Dover started up Monday morning, about twenty weavers going to work. A majority of the weavers still refuse to go in at the reduced pay.

At the late town meeting in Kittery, a committee of three was appointed to act with the selectmen in making a settlement with the bondsmen of Luther E. Call, late collector of the town and said to be a defaulter in the sum of $2600. This joint special committee had a conference with Call's bondsmen, Saturday evening, and some time before sunrise on Sunday managed to come to a settlement. The bondsmen offered to pay $1000, and the committee offered to take $1700 and call it square; and the matter was finally settled by the one side agreeing to pay $1350 and the other side agreeing to accept that amount.

Political.

Congressman Patterson, of Colorado, is terribly distressed about the frauds by which Hayes was elected. Mr. Patterson is the democratic reformer who has the supreme cheek to occupy the seat in the House which the people of Colorado voted by a thousand majority should be filled by a republican named Belford.

Paper money in Cuba is cheap, as money always is, when it is superabundant. People with small incomes find it a heavy burden to purchase dry goods, clothing and other necessaries of life. An American greenback or gold dollar is worth two dollars and ten cents in Cuban currency, and will buy a little more than twice as much as a Cuban dollar. It is the same phenomenon which was seen here a few years ago, when Canadian bank bills were at a premium and would buy twice as much as an American dollar. And yet, the greenback orators and newspapers tell us that a dollar is always a dollar, and that it was gold, and not paper, which varied in value here during and after the civil war.—Portland Adv.

The House committee on post-offices and post-roads, that recently "investigated" Mr. Thomas L. Cheney, will report "censuring" him for allowing the chief clerk of the Boston office to be absent while studying medicine, but not recommending his removal. This is equivalent to an acquittal of all the charges against him, for the investigation was notoriously a partisan one, aiming only to make political capital for the democrats; and every discharged official and sorehead in New England was urged to make charges against Mr. Cheney, "in the interests of reform."

Whenever the "fraud"-shouter becomes very desperate, we advise him to turn to the "Gobble" dispatches between Mr. Patrick, the Tilden agent in Oregon, and Mr. Pelton, Tilden's nephew and residing at Tilden's house. He cannot but be consoled with such messages as the following from Patrick to Pelton, approved by ex-Senator Kelley, of Oregon: "Certificate will be issued to one democrat. Must purchase a republican elector to recognize and act with democrats, and secure the vote and prevent trouble. Deposit $10,000 to my credit with Kountze Brothers, Wall street. Answer."

Charles Francis Adams, Sr., has removed with his own hand the Awful Brand of Fraud which he affixed to the brow of Mr. Hayes some time ago. This graceful act was done in consideration of the appointment of Charles Francis Adams, Jr., to a government directorship of the Union Pacific Railway. The original trouble with Charles Francis, Senior, was the failure of Mr. Hayes to recognize the Adams family. That being done, Mr. Hayes ceased to be a fraud.—Washington Post, dem.

The Boston Post says: "We wish our legislators would defer politics until next fall, and scatter to their homes as speedily as possible." No doubt the longer the present "democratic House" is in session the less likelihood there is of the country being cursed with another; so the Post's eagerness to have the democratic legislators scatter as speedily as possible is quite natural.

—A boy came into the police station at Hartford the other day, and inquired if they had begun to pay a dollar apiece for dogs. He said he had six in his collar and he knew of another boy had twelve.

—A man in Maine applied for five gallons of rum for "mechanical purposes." "For what mechanical purposes?" "For raising a barn," was the reply.

Portsmouth Chronicle

Americanisms.

Notions, in the sense of small, trifling wares, is probably the word which of all Americanisms is regarded as the most absolutely American, both in origin and in usage. "Yankee notions" is a phrase known the world over. But so grave and didactic a poet as Young, than whom none could be less American, used it 150 years ago exactly in the same sense in which it is now used in New England:

"And other worlds send odors, sance and song,
And lobes, and notions framed in foreign looms."
—Night Thoughts, Night II.

Guess, in the sense of believe, suppose, think, which is regarded almost as the Yankee shibboleth, is used exactly in the same sense by Wycliffe, by one of his followers, (name unknown) by Chaucer, by Bishop Jewell, in an old north of England or Lowland Scotch ballad, in the "Mirror for Magistrates," (1857), by Bishop Hale, (1859), by John Locke and by one of the personages in Anthony Trollope's "Orley Farm." Doubtless many other examples from standard English authors might be produced, and I am sure that I have memorandums of others, but they are not at hand. These are, however, quite sufficient to show that this so-called Americanism is not American in any proper sense of the word. Fall, for Autumn, which has been regarded almost as absolutely American, as guess and notion, is used by Dr. Cains, (1552), by Vaughn, (1623), by Gilbert White repeatedly in his Natural History of Selborne, (1771, 1776), and by Froude in his History of England, (vol. vi., chap. 21). With what semblance of propriety is a word which was in use in England, at least two generations before the sailing of the Mayflower, and which has continued in use there until now by authors of repute, called an Americanism? And our very "Indian Summer," which so many of us regard as peculiar to our country, is known in Europe, and is mentioned under various names from the time of Greek poets to the present day.—Atlantic Monthly.

— Father gently said: "Don't stuff victuals in your mouth that way, my son; Oliver Cromwell didn't eat after that fashion." The boy, after pondering for a while, remarked to himself, "And I don't believe Oliver Cromwell walloped his boy for finding a bottle of whisky in the shed when he was hunting after a horse-shoe, either."

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis, if none of them may be found round each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless sparined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 25 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. Enders, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. aug1

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence and esteem which its merits, and its merits only, can secure. It will make the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of security from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the prompt relief of its frequent occasions. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the sick will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to a complete system of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? A medicine cannot super sede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. They are in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
Rockport, Mass., April 2, 1877.
Mr. Editor:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would try them. My so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel debilitated, easily depressed, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, intermittent heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potassium and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Dropsies and Erupting Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucborrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Dissection and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, and stops dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, will be slow to answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and Colds are frequently its offspring, while the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE AND CATARRH SNUFF in a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, purulent matter has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the cankerous ferrous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For two years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a chair or lie at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms soon disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored; I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE. Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from long time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Bottle and full directions for its use in all cases. Price $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

ADDRESS OF THE GREENBACK COMMITTEE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., May 4, 1878.

To the People of New Hampshire: In severing our connection with existing political parties, it is fitting that we should state the reasons that impel us to take this step, as well as the remedies for the wrongs we suffer.

The people are naturally conservative, and never break old party ties and mass themselves in a common cause unless goaded by some great and long suffered provocation. Ages of history illustrate the truth that all great reforms must pass through three stages—ridicule, argument and adoption. The van of the National Greenback Breeze already passed through the shadows of the first ordeal, and the cause is emerging into the broader and purer light of the second, while the third is plainly pre-figured in the next Presidential election. It is well that the leading organs of both old parties are dropping into habitual use and ridicule with which they met this great issue, and are beginning to regard the "Nationals" as a "reality, which it is folly to belittle," standing upon the second stage of our progress, and cheered by a loyal headway towards the third, we ask the people of New Hampshire to honor our cause with a thoughtful and candid consideration, being fully convinced that they will join us in its ultimate adoption.

Neither of the old parties dare hold their deeds up before the light of truth for vindication. Each of them strive to exaggerate wrongs of their virtues they possess by setting it up against the black record of their opponents. They have outlived their day, the issues that called them into life and the results they were organized to achieve. On most of the great questions of the day each of them are either dumb, neutral or noiselessly divided against themselves. On the money question, however, which overlays all others, and in which the leaders have a sharp pecuniary interest, they are drawn so close together that their pocketbooks touch in a thrill of common sensibilities. In the last presidential election it is a well-known fact that Hayes and Tilden were equal favorites with the monopoly and money power of the country, and that those powers dictated their candidature. Neither of them was popular with the common man, because neither of them was the choice of the common man. Both of them stood false to their country, and if a national presidential convention was held to-morrow there is not a party that would dare nominate either of them. Both parties are controlled by the magnates of the money power, and dare not, if they would, indorse the cause of the people against them.

In our distress thousands of strong-armed men sprang up from the mine, the plough, the forge and the workshop, and stood forward under the old flag through battle storm and sheeted flame. They were the first to put on the blue and the last to take it off. They remember little of those terrible years save that their rulers priced their blood and valor at an average coin equivalent of $7 a month, and are now taxing them out of their little homes for the food, the clothing and the wages they received. The people have begun to think and to read the story written on his scars.

The people are beginning to realize that, at the time of our direst need and extremity, the bondholders sat sheltered in luxury and ease beneath the crimsoned ægis of our arms, and have grown rich and great in their expense by a system of legislation that inevitably makes the rich man richer and the poor man poorer.

It is an ascertained fact, that, since the original measure authorizing the 5-20 bonds, every monetary act of Congress has been passed for the sole purpose of giving the bondholder more than we agreed to give him under the original contract.

When the Government called for means to execute the war the bankers called a meeting in New York and refused to lend the Government money on any terms. What money they did lend the Government was loaned at double interest. They had no mercy on the Government until it brought them to their knees by the issue of its own currency in greenbacks.

In 1861 the Government, by its constitutional power, created a full legal-tender paper money, which was receivable for "all debts, dues and demands;" that money has always remained at par with gold, and was subjected to foreign countries to the same discount only as our coin; $660,000,000 of this currency was issued. More being required, a ring was formed and the Government indentured into mutilating the currency and making it convertible into bonds, so that they could fatten on its fluctuations and convert it into bonds, or to come into their possession through the channels of trade, but the largely-increased volume of money did not come into their possession as fast as they wished; it found its way into every avenue of business, and stimulated the industries of the country to an extent never before thought of. It is needless to state the prosperity we all then individually enjoyed. This creation of legal tender paper currency to meet the exigencies of that period evolved a new system of American finance, which experience has proven to be the best ever devised by man.

In 1866 the aggregate paper currency in circulation was $1,818,317,191.42, with a population of 36,937,146, an average of over $50 for each man, woman and child in the whole country. In 1877 the currency was contracted to less than $15 per capita, and to-day it is estimated that we have but $13 per capita.

The Government has destroyed the greater part of our circulating medium. To-day it is placed in the form of bonds, upon which the people pay large sums in the form of taxes to satisfy the interest. The people are opposed to either policy of contraction or inflation. They demand an amount of circulating medium sufficient for their wants and exigencies, which shall be issued direct from the Treasury of the United States, money which shall be receivable for all debts, dues and demands. They believe the contraction of the currency has much to do with our present troubles, and that its continuance will bring further disasters and ruin. A general prostration of business, which has extended through a period of several years, and which appears like a lethargy, has paralyzed and reduced the laboring classes to a condition of extreme dependence. Individual cases of want are multiplying. Distress, ruin and destitution in the cry throughout our land. Riots, strikes, bankruptcy and crime add their terrors to the situation and intensify foreboding of the future.

The national debt to-day exceeds $2,000,000,000, chiefly in bonds, exempt from taxation, and drawing interest. From June 30, 1861, to June 30, 1877, taxable property has paid interest on these bonds amounting to $1,596,354,901.13. The people have paid to the Government from June 30, 1862, to June 30, 1877, $7,860,000,000. This vast sum has come from the profits of labor and from taxable property that has been decreasing in value by reason of the burden. Meanwhile the bond-holders have enjoyed almost complete exemption from all these outlays, and, having fastened a yoke on the neck of labor, and a first mortgage on all the property of the country, quietly pocket their gains and sap the life-blood of the nation.

We regard the bonded debt of the United States as a huge blunder, and we believe the Government could have preserved its existence by its own credit spread in the form of legal tender paper by its own fiat as good as gold.

We demand the repeal of the national banking law, a giant iniquity, which, under the shelter of the Government, derives usurious gains, from the bonds deposited as security, and second by loaning bank bills to the people. It virtually gives to the banks the control of the currency. We are now paying $20,000,000 a year as a subsidy to these banks to enable them to draw double interest from the people, while all other departments of business lie crushed and paralyzed. In lieu of this corporate circulation, we desire an equivalent amount of Government money. If the security of the Government in the form of a bond is ample as a basis for national bank notes, then its credit is good enough to issue its own currency.

With regard to the relation between capital and labor, we desire that capital should help build up, and not destroy the country. We would promote the best feeling between active capital and labor, believing that they should unite in one grand purpose, the elevation of man.

We have looked in vain to the old parties to redress existing wrongs, and relieve the country of its burdens. A growing feeling of dissatisfaction is expressed by men of both parties, who require definite action on the subject we are agitating.

The National Greenback Party is rapidly increasing in every part of our country. Let us not be behind in this State. We shall have but one opportunity to express our wishes at the ballot box before the next presidential election; therefore we urge you to commence at once. Organize yourselves into greenback clubs in every town and school district in the State. Place yourselves in communication with the State Committee; they will aid you in obtaining light on the cause we advocate, and in procuring speakers. Do not delay action, act at once, either in clubs or individually. No matter how few your number; move on! You will find followers; the timid only await the bold. Avoid all alliance with the old parties. Can the people any longer support either of the two old parties, whose leading organs tell you, the one that you must be reconciled to become beasts of our own farms; and the other, that as laborers you must be content always to live in poverty, while the money magnates manipulate our laws for their enrichment?

The question resolves itself into one of two issues. Shall the Government abandon its right to issue the money of our country to a monopoly composed of national banks, and so contract the volume that it will be utterly impossible to pay our public debt? or, will you demand, in the language of Thomas Jefferson, "that bank paper must be suppressed, and the circulating medium be restored to the Treasury, where it belongs"?

Our opponents assert that specie payment is the great and only panacea for our hard times. If that is so, why are failures increasing at such an alarming rate, when we are right on the border of the promised land?

Gold is only one-quarter of one per cent. Do you believe our lifts hang on this narrow edge? The idea is preposterous. The country can never be prosperous as long as we continue the present ruinous system of class legislation, by which the creditor class is fostered and enriched, while the debtor class lie crushed and unheeded. We hold that the Government has no more right to protect a bank than it has to protect a farmer, a mechanic or a laborer, and we regard with alarm this rapid accumulation of wealth and organized money power, which has become the curled and pampered darling of our national legislation.

Let the Government take and control its own currency, making it a legal tender for all debts, public and private. Give the country what it needs of this currency, and the poor man will have as good a dollar as the rich man, the pensioner will have as good a dollar as the bondholder. Pay the bondholder just as we agreed to pay him under the original contract. Pay him as soon as possible and stop the interest. Tax him only as other citizens are taxed, and protect him only as other citizens are protected. When these principles are fairly adopted we shall see the dawn of a new era of prosperity which will be sound, practical and enduring.

Per order of the National Greenback State Committee.

GEORGE E. HONGDON, Chairman.
HOWE CALL, Secretary and Treasurer.
G. I. GREENLEAF, E. H. WEBSTER, DR. L. CRESLEY, } Committee.

Daily Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1878.

The Next House.

On the 4th of March next the control of the U. S. Senate will pass into the hands of the party—and to a great extent of the very men—who less than a score of years ago were engaged in a desperate attempt to destroy the nation; this cannot be prevented; but the control of the House of Representatives, now held by the democrats, can be wrested from them by a united, vigorous and determined effort on the part of the republicans, and there are cheering signs that such an effort is to be made.

The Congressional committee, at Washington, seems to be taking hold of the matter in earnest, having agreed to put aside all minor differences, and work together to overcome the present disgraceful domination of the democracy in the House, and in this work there will be no lack of sympathy or material help from the administration. At a meeting of the committee, Friday evening, it was decided to publish campaign documents and to subscribe for a large number of southern papers, from which extracts would be collected to be sent to weekly republican papers throughout the north. The question of sending northern speakers to the south to try and regain some Congressional districts now held by the democrats was discussed, but not finally disposed of. The expressions of opinion were of such a character as to indicate that the committee is in favor of action in the campaign in certain sections of the south.

That the democratic leaders are in great fear that the republicans will carry the next House, is shown by Speaker Randall's urging the Ohio democrats to gerrymander that State "in the interests of the party," in order to prevent it if possible. The present democratic majority in the House is about twenty; but half of this majority was made by turning out republicans who were unquestionably elected, and putting in democrats who were clearly not elected; and the record of the "democratic House" has been so disgraceful, and its imbecility and partisan demagogism so disastrous to the material interests of the country, that only gross mismanagement on the part of the republican leaders, and criminal indifference on the part of the republican masses, will enable the democrats to gain entire control of the next Congress. Even if the shot-gun, the bull-whip and the bowie-knife should carry every Congressional districts in the southern States for the democracy, there are enough republican districts in the northern States, now represented by democrats and to be retaken with proper effort, to give the republicans control of the House and enable them to prevent the ruinous legislation which otherwise is certain to go through Congress.

There is one such district in this State; a district that with a clean republican majority has for four years been represented by a democrat; and what the republicans of New Hampshire (and particularly of the first district) have to do in the matter is to see to it that they do their part toward redeeming the next House, by sending a solidly republican delegation to take seats in it. This can be done, and easily; the will to do it is all that is needed, and the indications now are that the will exists.

Congress.

In the Senate, on Monday, Mr. Gordon advocated the repeal of the resumption act. Mr. Burnside presented a petition of citizens of Rhode Island, asking favorable action on the bill to put Gen. Shields on the retired list of the army; Mr. McDonald presented a numerously signed petition asking that Gen. John C. Fremont be put on the same list. The rest of the day was largely taken up in discussing the pension bill.

The House on Monday was engaged most of the day in discussing the affairs of the District of Columbia. Representative Jones of New Hampshire, introduced a bill for the appointment of a Commission, to be called the "Farmers' and Stock Breeders' Commission," and to consist of a veterinary surgeon and two practical stock breeders at an annual salary of $2500 each, to have charge of the investigation of contagious diseases of farm stock, their causes, means of prevention, cure, etc., and to report from time to time measures to prevent the importation of such diseases from abroad, and the spread of contagion. Tucker, of Virginia, introduced his bill to reduce the tax on tobacco to sixteen cents a pound, and on cigars to $5 a thousand; it failed to pass, lacking the necessary two-thirds vote to suspend the rules. The proposed investigation into the President's title was not even alluded to.

Another "Negro Riot."

At an election of town commissioners at Weldon, N. C., Monday, there was a serious "riot," occasioned by a dispute as to the right of negroes to vote. One colored man was killed and several others wounded. The report says the Norfolk, Va., militia were telegraphed for. The conciliated conservatives seem to be commencing the fall campaign in good season.

The European Troubles.

News from Kharpool, Turkish Armenia, reports the plundering of ninety-one Armenian villages in the district of Chemistsego by Dersin Koods. The Ottoman authorities are unable to afford protection. It is also reported that the Russians have retaliated by destroying twenty-one Mohammedan villages near Haskol.

Another palace revolution is threatened in Constantinople. The conspirators for the overthrow of Sulton Abdul Hamid, and the accession of Murad or somebody else, fixed one day last week for the attempt, but the fear of Russian interference caused them to change their plans, and the conspirators say they must wait until the Russians go.

Several Russian agents for the purchase of fast American steamers suitable for cruisers, have arrived in this country. It is said fifty such vessels are wanted.

Labor Reform, Murder and Repudiation.

The eighth annual Convention of the American Labor Reform League was held in New York on Sunday. The speakers were all earnest in declaring murder commendable, when the murdered person possesses property and the murderer does not; they were also very strong on free love, and heartily endorsed the greenback movement because "its chief mission is to hasten repudiation." The following resolutions were passed amid great enthusiasm:

Resolved, That since the capitalists take life and destroy property to retain their power to steal, the Kearney men who invoke the halter in California, the Mollie Maguires reported to have killed coal bosses, and the railway strikers are morally lawful belligerents justly exercising the same rights of defensive warfare applauded in tipping British tea into Boston harbor, in John Brown's march on Harper's Ferry, and in the killing of proslavery Southerners by Northern Unionists.

Resolved, That the chief mission of the silver bill greenback movement is to hasten repudiation, when debts paid once in the form of interest will be paid forever, and we hail the growing irresistible tendencies south and west to second the purposes of the New England labor reformers by abolishing all power to get pay for loans, stocks or other valuables more than once; to make it illegal, disgraceful and impossible to prey on other people's earnings.

News and Notes.

The Buffalo (N. Y.) Express has an extended notice of Dr. R. V. Pierce's new Invalids' and Tourist's Hotel in that city, from which it appears that no expense has been spared to make it the most pleasant and convenient invalid's hotel in the world. Its situation is one of rare beauty, and all its furnishings and appliances are first-class.

The annual meeting of the Manchester & Lawrence Railroad occurs on Friday, May 30th.

The Sagamore Mills, of Fall River, Mass., have gone into bankruptcy.

Senator Wadleigh has been ill with a malarial rheumatism, but is better. It is about time Congress adjourned when the climatic troubles began to attack even New Hampshire's hardy men.

Later inquiry confirms the first theory that the cause of the explosion at Minneapolis was the ignition of inflammable mill dust floating in the air and consequent generation and expansion of inflammable gases. The reports of eye-witnesses as to the power and suddenness of the explosion are almost incredible. An instant after the first flash and exposion all the buildings were wrapped in flames, shewing the air all around to be full of inflammable gas.

There seems little doubt that John M. Binckley, ex-Assistant Attorney-General of the United States, committed suicide on Saturday evening by drowning in a lake near St. Francis Seminary, in Milwaukee, Wis. He left several letters addressed to different parties in Milwaukee, the contents of which show conclusively his intent to destroy his own life. The immediate cause of his rash act is attributed to mental aberration, brought on by domestic troubles. Binckley's family consisted of a wife, from whom he was separated, and four children, who are now at Knoxville, Tenn.

The President on Monday nominated Ex-Gov. Packard, of Louisiana, to be consul at Liverpool, Eng., transferring Mr. Fairchild to Paris.

A number of distinguished Masons met in Washington, Saturday, and formed the "Royal Order of Scotland." This order never, until now, existed outside of Scotland. It was formerly conferred on Master Masons, but is now restricted in Scotland to those who have been exalted to the Royal Arch degree.

A dangerous counterfeit note of the denomination of $100, on the Merchants National Bank of New Bedford, Mass., has been put in circulation in western States.

The Comptroller of the Currency has called for a statement of the condition of national banks at the close of business Wednesday, the 1st of May.

The U. S. Supreme Court has practically decided that the eight-hour law implies eight hours pay for eight hours work.

All the parties engaged in the recent stealing of a safe from the house of Ephraim Otis, at South Scituate, Mass., have been arrested, and all the bonds and securities taken from the safe, amounting to $80,000, recovered. Several bank books stolen at the same time were destroyed by the thieves, and $64 in money divided among them. The chief robber was Herbert W. Otis, a nephew of Ephraim Otis, and a member of the firm of Merrick, Billings & Otis, druggists, of Boston; one Jennie Walton, a notorious character of Boston, put him up to the job; and the actual burglars were Otis, Charles Doherty alias "Mysterious Billy," and "Jack Connors," the latter two being professional thieves and burglars. One Charles H. Gilman, who keeps a liquor shop on Portland street, is under arrest, as is the Walton woman, for being accessory before and after the fact.

New Hampshire Items.

There was a meeting of the Representatives to the Legislature from Merrimac county at the City Hall in Concord, Tuesday, for the further consideration of the question submitted to the towns concerning the support of county paupers and in relation to the rebuilding of the county farm establishment at North Boscawen.

The grist-mill, woollen factory and sawmill on the Connecticut river at West Stewartsville were burned Sunday morning. Loss about $10,000. Although the weather was calm, it was only through the utmost efforts of the citizens that the village was saved from entire destruction. The cause of the fire is unknown. Insured.

The Times says: "It is Alexander G. Cobb, of this city, instead of Samuel F. Cobb, formerly of this city, that has purchased the house of Adams Perry, Jr. Mr. Samuel F. Cobb has no intention of moving back to Portsmouth." All right; have it your own way; anything for a quiet life.

The Times heaps contumely and ridicule upon the platform constructed by those life-long friends of the working man, lawyers Hodgdon and Call, for "the people" to stand upon while boosting the aforesaid horny-handed friends of the working man, lawyers Hodgdon and Call as aforesaid, into high position.

On Monday Ralph Newton, aged three years, son of Elvin Newton, in attempting to get from his father's boat to the shore stumbled against the row-locks and fell head foremost into the water. Fortunately his brother was near by, and rescued him from drowning. The little fellow was nothing daunted by his bath, as after getting some dry clothes on he cried for another romp in the boat.

The address of the Greenback State Committee will be found in another place in this paper. It contains some assertions that are unquestionably true; others which may be true, but at present are mere matters of speculation—the opinions of the greenbackers; and others again which are false. It has the usual amount of vague but "glittering generalities," which cannot be answered because there is nothing in them to answer, and of high-sounding phrases which "read well" and mean almost anything you choose. But throughout the entire document the animus of the greenbackers is apparent—hostility to the national banks and to the holders of United States bonds. It is repudiation, thinly disguised in the garb of patriotism and love for the working man; for once let the mass of the people became imbued with the belief that they are "wronged" and "oppressed" by the nation's creditors, and a refusal to pay the nation's just debts becomes a certainty.

Harlow's orchestra will furnish music at the competitive drill of the Heavy Artillery, at Music Hall on Thursday evening; Mr. Wm. Russell Foster will give select readings, and there also will be some choice vocal music offered. Several prominent military gentlemen will be present to witness the inspection and drill. A number of seats will be reserved for gentlemen accompanied by ladies, and ladies who are unattended, without extra charge. Admission to all parts of the house, twenty-five cents. After 7:45 no seats will be reserved. Orchestral selections from 7:30 to eight. Col. D. J. Vaughan, Capt. Frank Williams, and Capt. J. H. Higbee, U. S. M. C., will act as judges of the competitive drill.

FISHY ITEMS.

The fine weather of the last few days is bringing fish nearer the shore. The fishing weir at Kittery point is making good hauls. Fishermen are getting good fares, but extremely low prices.

The fishing schooner E. V. Nichols arrived on Tuesday with 8000 lbs. of fish.

Six hundred lobsters (good size) were brought in from the Shoals on Tuesday, the result of four days' work by two men.

The schooner Helen F. Tredick went on her first fishing trip on Tuesday.

POLICE COURT.

Tuesday, May 7th; Batchelder, J.

Eugene Hersey was arraigned, charged with having been drunk. He pleaded to be let off, promising to leave the city; he said he was a decorative painter, recently employed in Boston, now bound to the eastward looking for work; and as he told what seemed to be a straight story, including a frank admission of how he happened to be found drunk on the street, he was allowed to depart.

Georgiana Gordon, another new customer, was arraigned for the same offence; and having seen how well frankness and entreaty worked in Hersey's case, in moving the Court to compassion, Georgiana also tried it on. Her story was that she drank some cider in Amesbury, Mass., Monday morning; and in the afternoon, when in Greenland looking for work, a man whom she met on the street took a big bottle of rum from the breast pocket of his coat and handed it to her, observing, "Lady, will you have a drink?" The "lady" accepted the courteous stranger's generous offer, and "took something;" and not being accustomed to it, it affected her head. In answer to a question by the Court, she said: "Yes; I applied for work at both the hotels in Greenland." Miss Gordon was immediately ordered to hand over $9.90 for the benefit of the city, failing to comply with which demand she was sent to Brentwood. It must not be inferred from this that the worthy Police Magistrate's heart is steeled against the appeals of innocence and beauty; the fact is that he thought it necessary to protect the lady from the effects of Amesbury cider and Greenland rum, one drink of which beverages enables a person to find two hotels where there is not even one.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

The May term of the Court begins its session at the U. S. Court House in this City to-day.

Lovejoy, Dustin L. Holt, Asa Jaquith, Nashua.

Petit jurors have been drawn as follows:

Seth Quimby, Bow; Howard E. Priest, Franklin D. Cook, Nashua; Edward Barr, Bedford; Abel M. Davis, Goffstown; Jonathan C. Shepard, Boscawen; E. Harvey Edmunds, Hopkinton; Wm. G. Hoyt, Wm. G. Gorman, John Cavanagh, Manchester; Avah W. Prescott, Hooksett; Theopolis B. Martin, Lyman R. Fellows, Henry W. Clapp, Daniel H. Williams, Concord.

Equity cases will be first heard, after which jury trials will be in order.

SUPREME COURT.

At Exeter, before Smith, J.

In civil case John W. Wilson vs. John Dame, to recover for a reward received by Dame while City Marshal of Portsmouth, for the recapture of an escaped convict from Massachusetts State Prison, whom it was claimed was arrested by Dame and others, but whom Wilson alleged he first entrapped, the referee found for the plaintiff in the sum of $48. The deft. has filed certain exceptions to the admissibility of evidence. Page for plaintiff; Hatch and Hodgdon for Dame.

In action of Thomas Blake vs. Woodbury Dalton of Rye, the referee found one dollar damage above amount paid into Court. The defendant asks to have costs limited, for the reason that the plaintiff had not a reasonable expectation of recovering more than $13.33. The plaintiff contended that he expected much greater damages. Page for plff. Hatch for deft.

The trial of case State vs. Richard Daley, alias Ryan, a tramp, of Easthampton, Mass., charged with shooting Mrs. Bennett at Newmarket Junction, December 1st, 1877, was commenced on Monday. The jury, with the prisoner, visited the house and vicinity where the shooting occurred, in the afternoon. Bell for the State; Towle for respondent.

State vs. Ryan was continued Tuesday; the State rested its case in the afternoon. Respondent is to testify this morning.

THE VICINITY.

Arrangements are in progress for a Conference at the Universalist church in Kittery, on Wednesday and Thursday, May 15th and 16th.

Charles Johnson, a section hand at Raymond on the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad, was caught by the crank of a hand car, thrown from the car and run over, Saturday morning, and so severely injured that the physician thinks he cannot live.

An organ concert will be given in the 2d Christian church at Kittery Foreside on Thursday evening, May 9th, commencing at a quarter to eight o'clock; admission twenty-five cents. If stormy, the concert will be postponed to the next fair evening.

In Congress, on Wednesday, Mr. Robertson, chairman of the House committee on Mississippi levees reported the bill appropriating $8,871,574 for strengthening levees on the Mississippi River, and Speaker Randall appealed to the republicans not to bankrupt the treasury by opposing a bill which cuts down the pay of the disabled soldiers employed in the doorkeeper's office, sixteen dollars a month. This is a "democratic House," pledged to "retrenchment and reform."

— At twenty you know everything; at thirty you have your doubts; at forty there are some things you don't know; at fifty you are sure only of your ignorance.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—A whisper from abroad affirms that the latest styles of gentlemen's shirts are of black cambric, with small white spots.

—An Illinois farmer has told his rat story. He was going out to his corn-crib the other morning, he says, when he saw a large rat with head erect, carrying a full-sized ear of corn in his mouth, while at the same time his tail was wrapped around another large ear, which he was dragging behind him.

— The Grand Duchess of Baden, only daughter of the Emperor of Germany, is rearing her child, a girl, as though she was expected to earn her own living in after life. The child's companions are instructed not to recognize her rank in any way.

— A Eureka (Cal.) man recently bought two tickets for reserved seats at a show, but when he went with his wife to occupy them he found them already taken. He appealed to the manager, who replied that he had no time to interfere. "Then give me back my two dollars," said the man, and in lieu thereof the manager shot five bullets into his body, killing him instantly.

— The Taunton Gazette says Harry Dusseault, a Canadian, has really accomplished the feat of walking upon the water. On Monday evening he walked a quarter of a mile on Taunton River in six minutes. He wears a pair of patent shoes, constructed of tin, about one by three feet, in which air is confined, and he makes his way in skating gait, quite ingeniously, over the rippling waves.

— The Paris correspondents seem to think it a very remarkable thing that the Prince of Wales should condescend to visit a newspaper office there. Perhaps they didn't know that Princes of the blood visit newspaper offices three nights out of four in America and offer the editor a quarter to suppress that item about leaning against a lamp-post the night before.

—"Girls," said a worthy old lady to her grand-daughters, "whenever a fellow pops the question, don't blush and stare at your foot; just throw your arms around his neck, look him full in the face, and commence talking about the furniture. Young fellows are mighty nervous sometimes. I lost several good chances before I caught your father, dear grandfather, by putting on airs, but I learned how to do it after a while."

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Foll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 25 cents, and can be had of any druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cornwall, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. Rose & Co., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tawgl

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever enjoyed so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most efficacious cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their baleful influence, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready relief of its members from suffering. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. Its
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specific in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superiority, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
Rockport, Mass., April 2, 1877.
Mr. Editor:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could embrace a similar cure in the papers. For 23 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "vaches," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for days at successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

A CLOUD OF WITNESSES,
The following named parties are among the thousands who have been cured of catarrh by the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy:

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood as a Tetter or Salt Rheum, King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and costive habit, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most efficacious cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of Catarrh assumed by this disease, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety, and well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications, the secretion and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for many years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact, every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my inquiry as to its success. I believe its statement to be in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

A Plain Tale.

Senator Blaine has been mercilessly assailed by the "liberal" policy organs as a defender of the timber thieves on the public lands, and as having ridiculed Carl Schurz because he was "born in Prussia." The Portland Press is authorized to print the following private letter to a friend in Maine, which is a succinct and complete answer to the silly charges:

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER, WASHINGTON, April 11, 1878.

My Dear Sir:—You entirely misconceive the action of Congress on the Timber question. The Senate and House are quite as eager to prosecute the "thieves" as is the Secretary of the Interior. But the Senate and House have declared that the settlers in the Territories who cut their wood on the unsurveyed public lands (where no timber lands are open to purchase) shall not be regarded as "thieves," and they have prohibited Secretary Schurz from continuing his ill-judged and oppressive raids upon these deserving frontiersmen. I had the honor to draft this provision of law which the Senate adopted by a vote of forty-two to four, and which the House concurred in by an absolutely unanimous vote. So that on the only issue I had with Mr. Schurz, I was sustained by an overwhelming vote of both republicans and democrats.

The report to which you refer that I declared it a "reproach to Mr. Schurz that he was born in Prussia," is too absurd to notice with serious contradiction. It is to be treated only with contempt.

Very hastily and sincerely,

J. G. BLAINE.

Political.

There is trouble and dismay in the democratic camp in Cincinnati. A little ring there of which the reform governor of Ohio, "your Uncle Dick" Bishop, is the head, has in years past taken from the city treasury $16,000,000, with which to build what is called the Southern Railroad; and now they want $4,000,000, for the same scheme, and have asked the legislature to grant the city permission to give it to them. The legislature replies by asking for an account of what has been done with the money already expended; whereat, Gov. Bishop and his ring are very wrathy, and have been bringing all their power to bear to defeat an investigation, and at the same time secure the wished-for legislation. It was openly charged in the House a day or two since that Bishop and a man named Fergurson had used $25,000 of the city money to buy members of previous legislatures, and a large sum to carry the election in Cincinnati in their interest. A dispatch to the New York World says this charge falls like a bombshell among the governor's friends in Cincinnati.

It is reported that Gen. Butler intimates privately that he will not run for Congress in Massachusetts this fall; it is further said that he expects to be the greenback candidate for Governor of Massachusetts at the next State election.

The democratic press has been exceedingly happy for a week or more over an alleged statement by Postmaster-General Key that he had worked for Tilden, and believed him honestly elected; that Hayes was put in office by fraud, but that the President himself was convinced of the honesty of his election and had no knowledge of the fraud. Mr. Key declares that he has not said these things; that he did not work for Tilden, and that he believes the Electoral Commission settled the question of the President's title justly. He believes in that decision, considers it final, and is opposed to all efforts for continued agitation. The result is that the democratic editor is confirmed in his former poor opinion of Mr. Key.—N. Y. Tribune.

A democratic member of Congress explains why Tilden did not take the oath of office on the 4th of March, 1876. "He at first intended to take the oath in a public manner, but abandoned the design as soon as he learned of Grant's determination to arrest him on a charge of treason, and throw him into Fortress Monroe as an instigator of sedition and rebellion, upon his appearance at the capital for that purpose. That Grant was prepared for such action is well known to many persons of both parties, and that Tilden was restrained by his knowledge of such a peril is equally notorious in private circles." This startling story sounds very much like bosh; but if it is true, then the country owes one more immense debt of gratitude to the patriotism, wisdom and firmness of the great Union soldier.

— The novelty about the elopement of Alexander Bablink and Miss Halliday, in Hyde Park, Mass., was that the girl went in her night dress. Her father had hidden most of her clothing on her going to bed, but she climbed down a ladder to her lover, who took her to his home and dressed her from his sister's wardrobe. Then they rode to a clergyman's house and were married.

Daily Chronicle

THURSDAY, MAY 9, 1878.

The Road to Success.

At Providence, R. I., was buried this week, one of the most respected and aged merchants of Rhode Island. From his early life to the unusually ripe age of nearly ninety-five years, his name was a synonym for integrity. Of comprehensive ideas, yet never unmindful of details, he accumulated a large fortune, honestly acquired and legitimately possessed. His death was a loss to his State; and though never accepting any honors save those incident to a well trained and successful merchant, always eschewing place in politics, and public positions, yet he was famous among those who estimate a man for his real worth, rather than at a fictitious value. Such was Trueman Beckwith, who died after an uncommonly prolonged period of life, throughout which he constantly demonstrated the fact that real success lies in but one direction.

Near by, in the Border City of Massachusetts, a man denominated a "financier" languishes within the four walls of the Fall River jail; and yet his notes were as eagerly sought, a few months since, as would have been those of the honest Providence merchant had they been found in the market. The little world about him believed he was successful, and trusted him only to learn its mistake.

Any one can now easily perceive the difference between these men. The one knew the road to success was long, tedious, full of trials, disappointments and rebuffs, and the end attained but by a few. The other supposed there was a short cut to the goal; some indirect route over which he could in a brief period reach the point which had taken so many years for others to arrive at. In short, he speculated. People in trust places of late are frequently discovered, when found out to be defaulters, to have been speculators. As speculators the temptation has been to drop the "s" and become peculators, and when discovered, everybody is surprised that like the boy learning the alphabet, described by Mr. Dickens, who thought it hardly worth while to go through so much to attain so little, they accomplish but little for their sacrifice. But they all do it. Whether it is Hathaway in Massachusetts or Ladd up by the Lake in New Hampshire, they foolishly believe that some one is to be found unwise enough to buy their real estate or other investments at an advance above its cost to them. As if when everybody bought to sell, there could be found any one left to buy.

We must all curb our ambitions to become rich. Upon this subject we have been too unanimous. To be sure, newspaper men, far in advance of the rest of the world, have long since regarded it to be impossible that everybody should be rich; but others seem to fail to perceive this. The wealth of the country is open to all who will earn it. The accumulation is to be had by those who, with industry, self-denial, thrift, tact and such kindred traits and practices, persevere; but that people are to get money without earning it, and without its being given to them or stolen by them, is all a delusion. The laws of accumulation are the same to-day as ever before.

Fortunes are the results of the labors of some one. They do not come by speculation, any more than they can be retained save by the same wholesome laws that controls their accumulation, and the man who seeks to become rich by speculation takes every chance of ruin, bankruptcy and dishonor, while he who observes the immutable laws in regard to wealth and its accumulation, can in a greater or less degree participate in the enjoyment of possession, proportionate to the sacrifice he is ever ready to make to attain this result.

Suggestions.

A correspondent suggests the following as "three things that will bring prosperity:

1st. Let the 45th Congress adjourn, and go home and stay there.

2d. Let us have a sound currency, which will come as soon as Congress goes.

3d. Let the idlers, tramps and politicians go to work and earn as much as it now costs the public to support them."

The trouble is that the 45th Congress won't adjourn as long as it has any hope of making political capital for the democratic party, and that the idlers and tramps have conscientious scruples against going to work to earn anything.

Congress.

The Senate on the 7th passed the pension appropriation bill. The post office appropriation bill was reported, the Senate committee having added to the House bill $858,000 to enable the post office department to meet its absolute needs, the "democratic House" having left out that amount, to be made up in deficiency bills after it shall have served for a few months to be pointed at as a specimen of democratic "economy."

The House passed the District of Columbia bill, and by a vote of 109 to 108 went into committee of the whole to consider Wood's bill for disorganizing the business of this country in the interests of foreign manufacturers.

The European Troubles.

It is announced from Europe as certain that war will be averted. It is also announced that war is as probable as ever.

It is announced in the papers that the pro-Russian feeling is so intense at Ellsworth, Me., that none of the inhabitants will talk with the British vice-consul at Portland, who is now at Ellsworth watching the steamship Cimbria, at anchor in Southwest Harbor, Mt. Desert. When Johnny Bull hears how he is regarded by the people of Ellsworth, won't he cave just!

New Hampshire Items.

The Manchester base ball club beat the Harvards, four to one, on the 7th, and now Manchester has her nose very high in the air.

Mrs. Washington B. Pike, of Franklin, was thrown down a steep bank on the 6th inst. while riding with her two children. All three were badly hurt, but the children will recover; the mother was fatally injured.

The Supreme Court for the Eastern District convened at Plymouth on the 7th inst., Judge Foster presiding. The docket is a very large one. Jesseman, the would-be murderer from Dorchester, will be tried this term for an aggravated assault.

News and Notes.

The obsequies of the late Samuel C. Perkins, who recently died at Hot Springs, Ark., took place from his late residence in Boston, on the 7th. The funeral was attended by the Mayor, all the Aldermen but one, about twenty of the Common Council, and other city officials.

Commodore Foxhall A. Parker is detached from the command of the navy yard at Boston and ordered to duty as Superintendent of the Naval Academy.

The Syndicate has subscribed for another $5,000,000 of the 4 1-2 per cent. bonds, making the total already taken $25,000,000. The May and June "options" are already anticipated, and it is not at all impossible that the entire $50,000,000 which the Syndicate undertook to place by the 1st of January, will be taken before the 1st of July.

The currant worm has appeared in the suburbs of Boston.

The Massachusetts Legislature refuses to pass the act to consolidate the Boston & Providence and the New York & New England Railroads.

One of Sitting Bull's most trusted lieutenants and chief fighters, Chief Gall, with 150 warriors from Sitting Bull's camp, have surrendered to Lieut. Baldwin's command on Poplar river. Gen. Miles regards this surrender as very important.

Peter Cooper has been sued by Wallace P. Groom, of New York, for $50,000 damages for slander. The case is to be tried in the Circuit Court, Brooklyn. Groom claims that Mr. Cooper published a letter setting forth that he gave Mr. Groom $5000 to be used for election purposes, and that Mr. Groom did not use the money for that purpose.

Harry Josephs, the well known actor, has become hopelessly insane through softening of the brain.

The police at Pittsfield, Mass., found a girl about twelve years old, wandering in the street, Monday. She was bare-footed and but scantily dressed. When questioned she said she was a daughter of poor parents, living in Richmond, Berkshire county, Mass., and had been at work since last fall in the family of E. H. Bridgeman at Dalton. On Sunday she did not do her work to please him, and he gave her a terrible beating. She was taken to a hotel, and physicians examined her, and found her bruised from head to foot. She is literally covered with wounds. She says he beat her with a club, and she crept out of his house and ran away before daylight in the morning. The affair has been put in the hands of officers for investigation.

A child named William Bowery, two years old, while playing on the bank of Spicket river, Saturday, in Lawrence, Mass., fell into the stream and was rapidly being borne with the current when a farmer, named Charles Wingate, jumped from the Haverhill street bridge and rescued it. After two hours exertion the child was resuscitated.

John Bowes, publisher of a weekly paper called the Penny Dip, at St. John, N. B., was cowhided on the street, Saturday afternoon, by Henry H. Bowie, a contractor. Bowes pitched into Bowie, took the whip from him, and then the two had a fist-fight. Half an hour later the Penny Dip appeared with a full account of the rumpus, which grew out of an article in the paper reflecting on Bowie's character.

Three young men, who took a sail on the Merrimack river, Saturday night, got swept down Hunt's Falls. One of them, named John Unsworth, jumped from the boat on to a rock, where he remained all night. The other two clung to the boat, and finally reached the land. An attempt to rescue Unsworth by letting a boat down by a rope resulted in swamping the craft and nearly drowning John Tweed and Stephen Nestor. A crowd stood on the shore most of the night, building bonfires and shouting. Soon after daylight a flat boat was steered close to Unsworth, who leaped in and escaped from his uncomfortable position.

The Jackson (Mississippi) Times, a republican paper, sincerely hopes that the Republican Congressional Committee will make an effort to carry the districts in the South which are heavily republican on a fair vote. It has no fear that such a course will put the policy of conciliation to any test whatsoever, and adds that "Northern republicans who may come to Mississippi for the purpose of advocating the principles of the party will be treated kindly and given a respectful hearing. Bull-dozing, ballot-box stuffing, intimidation, violence and murder for opinion's sake are becoming unpopular in the State. The better class of our people will no longer tolerate such outrages."

Justice.

How little is understood by the term justice! At its mention lawyers' pleas (and fees,) judges' charges, obstinate juries, and visions of prison bars, flit through the mind, and the simple justice that is socially due our neighbor is forgotten. Jealousy and envy prompt men to circulate slanders against a more successful competitor, forgetful of the fact that merit alone secures permanent success, and that the passions of rivals are as the refiner's fires, making standard those wares surviving the ordeal. The Family Medicines manufactured by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., are no exception to this rule. His Golden Medical Discovery is now prescribed by many physicians for the cure of Bronchitis and Consumption. It is unsurpassed as a tonic and alterative, readily regulating any irregularity of the liver and bowels, and radically curing scrofulous tumors, boils, ulcers, and eruptions. Be convinced of its unequaled merit by writing to any of the many hundred references published, for the doctor is endorsed by all classes. Space permits the publication of but a few names here.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is noted for its fine location and the unsurpassed elegance of its appointments.

"To do as Fools do," in one respect at least, you must use GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP, which is immensely popular among the elite of society, and deservedly so, for it is the most salutary of beautifiers and purifiers. Sold by all Druggists.

HILL'S HAIR AND WHISKER DYE, Black or Brown, 50 cents. tmay21

In the general distribution of medals, if it had been possible for the "International Jury of Award" to have given a medal to the best hotel in Philadelphia, this honor would have been received by the Colonnade, "for all the requisites of a model establishment in every respect."

We take pleasure in referring our readers to Adamson's Botanic Cough Balsam. Having tested the article ourself, and knowing many persons who have been benefited by its use, we unhesitatingly commend it as an invaluable household medicine for coughs and colds.—Farmington Chronicle.

In these trying times, it is necessary to make money, and there is no surer or quicker method than to invest a few hundred dollars in stock speculation. Alex. Frothingham & Co., 12 Wall st., N. Y., are reliable and experienced brokers, and have been the means of realizing fortunes for many of their customers. Their Weekly Financial Report is sent free.

A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a receipt that will cure you FREE OF CHARGE. THE CITY.

The crew of the U. S. S. Omaha will be paid off this forenoon, commencing at eight o'clock.

Heavy Artillery inspection and prize drill this evening, at Music Hall; tickets 25 cts. Harlow's orchestra, vocal music and select readings.

The Rogers Mission Circle of the North church have their annual sale, with a missionary entertainment, at the chapel on Middle street this evening. Doors open at seven o'clock.

The first of Miss Parlon's "kitchen sermons" will be given this afternoon at three o'clock, in the school room of Miss Morgan's seminary for young ladies. Tickets are for sale at W. G. Myers' and J. Dwight Rundlett's stores.

On Tuesday, 7th inst., auctioneer J. P. Morse sold by order of assignee one undivided third part of Harmony Grove cemetery, and one undivided half of Sagamore cemetery. Chas. H. Mendum, Esq., was the purchaser of both lots, the former for $410, the latter for $480.

A retiring board convened at the navy yard on Wednesday, to enquire as to the retirement of Major Philip R. Fendell, U. S. M. C., of this city. The board consists of Col. James H. Jones, (President,) Capt. J. H. Higbee, Col. Kingsley, Surgeon C. J. Cleborne, and Surgeon W. K. Schofield.

The schooner Daniel Marcy, Capt. H. A. Nickerson, with 450 barrels of mackerel, and the Anna M. Nash, Capt. L. V. Doane, with 250 barrels, arrived at Doane's wharf on Wednesday, discharged, and went to sea again this morning. These arrivals are two weeks earlier than the earliest in any previous spring for many years. The mackerel are large but not fat, rating as No. 3.

Among the lawyers practicing before the Circuit Court of the United States (in session in this city) in town on Wednesday, were, Hon. Ira A. Eastman of Manchester, Hon. Harry Bingham of Littleton, Hon. Ossian Ray, Irving W. Drew, Esq., and Henry Heywood, of Lancaster, S. C. Eastman of Concord, Hon. Wm. L. Putnam of Portland, Geo. Y. Sawyer, Jr., of Nashua, Hon. Daniel Barnard of Franklin, Hon. Daniel Saunders of Lawrence, H. S. Clark, Esq., of Manchester, Hon. J. G. Hall of Dover, Aaron Whittemore, Jr., of Pittsfield, Carlos G. Hawthorne of Hopkinton, and Amos J. Shurtleff of Lancaster.

POLICE COURT.

Wednesday, May 8th; Batchelder, J.

John Keenan, charged with having been drunk on Concord Railroad wharf, owned up, but when charged $9.90 for the same found himself unable to pay up, and consequently got sent up to Brentwood.

N. H. S. P. C. A.

Seven cases of cruelty were investigated during the past month. In two cases the complaint was found groundless, four were remedied without prosecution, and one offender was prosecuted—the latter being Andrew Fogg, of Hampton Falls, who was fined five dollars and costs for cruelly beating a horse. In one of the cases prosecuted the preceding month the respondent, William Franklin, of Franklin, was fined fifty dollars and costs for "assisting" at a dog-fight in which one of the innocent, four-legged brutes was killed, and the other so badly injured that he was mercifully put out of his misery through the agency of the society. The other two-legged brute implicated in the inhuman affair, Wm. W. Thomas, Jr., has cleared out to avoid the righteous vengeance of the law; and if he is wise he will stay cleared out.

AN EARLY SPRING.

A gentleman who has kept a record of the blossoming-time of the trees for a long while, informs us that the earliest date of cherry-trees blossoming in this vicinity for twenty years past was in 1865, when they were out on the 30th of April; the latest date was May 19th, in 1868. The earliest date of apple-trees blossoming was May 18th, in 1870; the latest June 2d, in 1868. The date on which the cherry-trees blossomed this year is not given; but the apple trees in the beautiful garden of the Lord estate were partly in bloom on Tuesday, May 7th, (and possibly earlier,) and showed out strong on Wednesday. A gentleman who planted some corn just before the long wet spell in the latter part of April and the early days of May, on the 6th inst. found it had broken ground and got high enough to enable him to see the rows from end to end. Grass looks better than ever before at this time of year, according to old farmers' statements; many feared it would be badly "winter-killed," owing to the light fall of snow, but nothing of the kind seems to have happened. The bloom of the fruit-trees of all kinds now in blossom is very heavy, and the prospect for a large crop is encouraging.

SUPREME COURT.

At Exeter, before Smith, J.

Case State vs. Richard Daley alias Ryan was continued Wednesday; given to the jury at one o'clock P. M.; no verdict up to half-past four o'clock.

[Col. Kent received a despatch at 7:30 stating that the jury found Ryan "guilty, without intent to kill." The jurors were all discharged, and Court adjourned to Wednesday, May 15th.]

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

The Court came in on Wednesday forenoon. Hon. Daniel Clark, District Judge, opened the court. Prayer was offered by Rev. E. M. Grant. The docket was called in the forenoon.

On the coming in of the Court in the afternoon, Judge Shepley gave an opinion in the case of the United States vs. Dunn. Respondent was indicted for having omitted from his inventory as a bankrupt certain property which should have been included and transferred to his assignee, and a verdict of guilty rendered, at a former term; motion in arrest was made, based upon the ground of not sufficient allegation that bankrupt had committed any act of bankruptcy, or any act rendering him liable to be declared a bankrupt. This is not set out totidem verbis, but he is alleged as duly adjudged a bankrupt, and this is all that is needed. The question is not open to re-examination as to the judgment of bankruptcy; the fact of adjudication of bankruptcy is conclusive in this proceeding. The allegations are conclusive, and all that are necessary. The motion for a new trial, on ground of misdirection to the jury, is overruled, as also the motion in arrest of judgment; and judgment upon the verdict is ordered.

Upon motion of Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Aaron Whittemore, Jr., Esq., of Pittsfield, and Carlos G. Hawthorne, Esq., of Hopkinton, were severally admitted to practice in the courts of the United States in this District.

Judge Shepley returned to Portland in the afternoon train, and Judge Clark presides.

The trial of civil action Bartlett Land and Lumber Company (a corporation existing under the laws of the State of Maine, doing business in that State) against Daniel Saunders of Lawrence, Mass., was proceeded with. The action, originally commenced in the State court for Grafton county, in November, 1875, was removed to this court in May, 1876. It is brought to recover the possession of eight thousand acres of timber land, not in any town but situate in Grafton county, and bounded by the town lines of Albany and Hart's Location, and the line of Grafton county. The case was opened at considerable length by Hon. W. L. Putnam, of Portland, and involves questions of monuments. The grant of Hart's Location, and sundry deeds, were read. Putnam and Ray, Drew and Jordan of Lancaster, for plff.; Harry Bingham of Littleton, and A. R. Hatch, for defendant. Court adjourned to Thursday at 9 o'clock A. M.

Hon. Wm. F. Newell, of Manchester, is Foreman of the Grand Jury. This jury is expected to report this morning.

ANOTHER MARE'S NEST.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post writes:

Information has reached here of a very serious malfeasance on the part of somebody at the Portsmouth navy yard. It will be remembered that charges were laid before the House naval committee that worthless red oak knees had been sold to the government, delivered at Portsmouth yard, and were being used in ships; that the committee investigated the matter, and certain witnesses swore point blank to the truth of the assertions. Other witnesses swore to the contrary, and Chairman Whitthorne proposed the selection of a disinterested expert, who should go on to Portsmouth and examine the knees in question. Parties who swore there were no red oak knees there objected to this. Now it is alleged that several hundred of these red oak knees, which the government paid for and so owned, have been surreptitiously removed from the yard. In other words, somebody has undertaken to destroy the evidence of the fraud which had been perpetrated. Chairman Whitthorne has laid the whole matter before the Secretary of the Navy for investigation, and, if the charges prove true, whoever is responsible will find themselves in a worse fix than before.

There may be more eggs in this new red-oak mare's nest than there proved to be in the first one, when it was shown on the investigation that there were no red-oak knees on the yard "owned by the government;" but the intimation that the chairman of a democratic smelling committee, appointed by the "democratic House" to hunt up political capital for the democratic party, failed to send a democratic "expert" to follow up a possible scent because the accused parties "objected" to its being done, is gorgeously funny.

THE VICINITY.

We are informed on good greenback authority, that General Gilman Marston of Exeter is soon to come out with a letter announcing himself a greenback man.—Times.

We see it reported that "the town of York has sued the bondsmen of George F. Plaisted, who was treasurer and collector for 1876, having found his accounts short to the amount of $774. By request of E. C. Moody, Esq., the selectmen have called a meeting for May 13th, to see what can be done." A statement that Mr. Plaisted's accounts were short went the rounds of the press some weeks ago; we copied it, and Mr. Plaisted at once strongly denied the charge in a card in our columns.

RYE LETTER.

RYE, May 6th.

The revival meetings concluded on Saturday evening of last week, at the Christian church. On Tuesday evening, owing to the bad weather, but a small congregation was present; service was conducted by Rev. Ira S. Jones; Mr. Jones and Rev. S. B. Bowdish made remarks, and a number of new converts and others gave testimony. On Friday evening a conference meeting was held at the church, Rev. S. B. Bowdish presiding; the weather was again bad, and the attendance not large. On Saturday evening the meeting was conducted by Rev. Willis Hadley, pastor of the Congregational church, the congregation being small. Rev. Mr. Bowdish offered prayer, and Mr. Hadley spoke from the 14th chapter of St. John, on the second advent of Christ. Mr. Bowdish also spoke, and was followed by James Leavitt, of North Hampton, who gave words of encouragement to those who had just started to be Christians, urging them to be Christians from principle and not go by their feelings only. He has been a professing Christian for forty-five years, and in that time has missed attending divine service but three Sabbaths. Several hymns were sung, and the service closed with the benediction by Mr. Bowdish.

The Reform Club meeting at the Town Hall, Wednesday evening, was addressed by Mr. Charles W. Gardner of Portsmouth, whose lecture was one of the best yet given before the club. He urged total abstinence, and gave some good suggestions to clergymen who throw their influence on the side of cider and moderate drinking. There was a large audience, and much satisfaction was expressed at Mr. Gardner's address. The club appointed, as a committee to arrange for a literary entertainment to be given shortly, Sylvanus W. Foss, Mrs. S. B. Bowdish and Mrs. J. E. Leavitt. It was voted to hold meetings once in two weeks, which occasions some dissatisfaction, many members thinking the club would be kept up better by weekly meetings. Some boys in the gallery, who disturbed the meeting by munching peanuts, were rebuked by an offer of a chromo if they only behave decently, which thereafter did. Rev. John A. Goss, of Portsmouth, is announced as the speaker at the next meeting.

The Congregational society has purchased a fine organ of Hutchinson & Plaisted, of Boston, and the gallery of the church has been altered to receive it. An organ concert will be given when all is ready.

The grand ball announced to take place in the Town Hall on May-night did not come off on account of the bad weather, which was a disappointment to many.

The crew of the life-saving station at Straw's point was discharged, and the station closed on the 1st.

A branch of the N. H. S. P. C. A. should be established in this town, to prevent the cruelty and over-driving of horses not uncommon here during the summer, among the visitors. SCRIBE.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mcatha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle almost which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CARNEGIE HALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDEES, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tuag

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence and popularity and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never enjoyed by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of security from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its numerous ills. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction and Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and roadbed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated, beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual exportation goes up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKFORK, Mass., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I faney the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" nuisance (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh, and my nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up half-a-dozen so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know my much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 108 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by "inhalation," being the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight weeks I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have served its purpose.
Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers and Old Sores, Boils, Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness, Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. On you, dear lady, dwelling alone, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leuchorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so efficacious, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, ask of us the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Cough, and a long train of frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, inveterate matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued, and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy by it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored, and every particular, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could not tell the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 74.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

BLUE ARMY BLOUSES.

WE have just received a few more of those BLUE ARMY BLOUSES, which have been in such demand for the last twelve months.

C. E. MYERS & CO., No. 3 BOW STREET.

Daily Chronicle.

MRS. GRUNDY ON THE COMING COSTUME.

Dear Mr. Punch, do just look here, what's this newfangled caper,
Which, to my terror, meets my eye whilst reading of my paper?
I don't precisely understand the plan they're putting forrid;
But I've my strong suspicions that it's somethink right down 'orrid.

Classic! O yes, I know that game as wants a wigorous stopper.
Classic's the name for everything owdacious and improper.
The poets and the artises is always sweet upon it;
But if they gammons Mrs. G. I'll bolt my Sunday bonnet.

The costumes of the ancient Greeks! A pooty prospect, truly!
They dressed in—well, not very much, and went about quite coolly.
I know 'em from their stattys, which is things I do not hold with,
Which their dress must have been awful for ketching death o'colds with.

I thought our gals had gone as far as decency permitted—
Perhaps a hinch or two beyond—but sense they must have quitted
To talk about a style of dress which, even seen in pictures,
Is open to my stern rebuke and most severest strictures.

Our West-End semi-noodlites is bad enough, that's certain,
But winding of one's body in a sort of sheet or curtain,
With no ancetras, 'cos 'twas worn by Pennylope or Helen!—
Well, there, it is a thing on which it shames one to be dwellin'.

That Helen, as I understand, was scarce the style of lady
As we should copy dresses from, her morals being shady;
And Pennylope—well she, let's hope, was all Ulysses thought her;
But the westure of Ulysses' wife's no rule for John Bull's daughter!

Better for "dual garmenture" at once go in a cropper,
Than ape the old "æsthetic," which seems mostly the improper.
Besides, our climate—don't tell me; in spite of Art's ecstatics,
'Tis my conviction Attic tastes would end in the rheumatics.

I ha'n't no faith in poets' plans, nor yet in artist's notions;
Your Swinburnejoneses, and that sort, to me is pills and potions.
Scant classic westments ain't the cheese for our young gals and fellas,
And if there's them as thinks they are, they'd better go to—Hellas!

—Punch.

The New Hampshire Miranda.

Celia Thaxter is well-known as a poet to the readers of the Atlantic. She is so thoroughly a New Englander that she revolves around Boston and seldom appears in this city. Her life has been peculiar and romantic. Her father was a local politician at Portsmouth, N. H., and having failed to get an appointment which he had every reason to expect, he became disgusted with mankind in general and politicians in particular, and resolved, like a Yankee Timon, to renounce society. Consequently he bought one of the islands known as the Isles of Shoals, and retired there with his family, determined never to return to the main land. He adhered to his resolution; he built a rude dwelling and remained there until death, some sixteen or eighteen years. On the island (Appledore, formerly called Hog Island) Celia Laighton was born, and there she grew up, never visiting the shore, her father having forbidden her to do so on pain of his eternal displeasure. When about sixteen, a lovely and natural girl, a lawyer, much older than she, went to Appledore for his health, having heard much of the restorative influence of the open-sea air upon the lungs, his own having troubled him greatly. Her father refused to have him under his roof; but finding the lawyer bent on remaining in any event, and that he had erected a cabin of his own, he finally agreed to accept him as a boarder.

The result may be anticipated. The New Hampshire Miranda could not be thrown day after day into the society of the invalid Ferdinand without inspiring and being inspired by the tender passion. She had never seen any man except her father and two brothers, and she would therefore have fallen in love with Thaxter had he been a humpback, his name Spriggins, and his trade undertaking. He would not have been quite human had he been able unmoved to pass days and evenings on the rocks girt by the ocean, under the sunshine, starlight, moonbeams, in the delightful companionship of the child of nature. What happened was inevitable. Father Laighton was amazed and enraged when the lover asked his consent, and vowed he should never, never, never have his daughter. Thaxter swore then by Blackstone, Coke and Littleton that he would have Celia without the paternal sanction, and was so sure to keep his oath that the recluse yielded reluctantly. The two were joined in wedlock, and as the lawyer had greatly improved in health, he took his bride to the main land, and they went to Boston on their nuptial tour. Since, she has divided her time between Portsmouth, Boston and the Shoals, spending the warm months on Appledore, where she has a cottage. Her brothers, Cedric and Oscar, have the inn on the island, and have made money by the annual influx of summer visitors. Celia Thaxter is the chief lion or lioness of the place, and entertains many of her admirers and friends. She is enamored of the Shoals, thinking them unsurpassed for pleasantness, picturesqueness and health. They constantly figure in her verses. She has written a little book in prose about them, and she never wearies of chanting their praises. Her husband is not seen very often, his wife appearing to enjoy herself despite his invisibility. She is buxom, of liberal avoirdupois, of excellent health and digestion, talks fluently and eloquently, and if she owns any secret sorrow she does not parade it for the gratification of the curious. She is no longer young in years—she must be forty-five—but she is as young in feeling as she was in early womanhood. She has a son grown to man's estate.—New York letter in San Francisco Chronicle.

New Steamship Lines Wanted.

Mr. Elvin C. Kinnear, a widely-known shoe manufacturer of Dover, formerly well-known in this locality as a native and former resident of Newcastle, gives in the Enquirer some practical views in relation to subsidies. Our people have been inclined to be shy of the matter of subsidies, but of late prominent manufacturers of cotton goods, as well as of boots and shoes and other articles, are beginning to feel that if England has so long adopted a policy to build up her trade, that we as a competing nation must adopt similar measures. Goods are sold in these days by being sent to market, and if a market is not found at the manufacturer's door, he must push until he finds one. There is evidence that Mr. Kinnear's business has given him ample opportunity to study this question. New Hampshire in one year sent the only shipment of shoes from this country to Brazil, and we believe these were made at Mr. Kinnear's establishment at Dover.

We can open a new market, but it must be done in the same manner that England obtains her large trade. We commend to our Congressmen a careful consideration of Mr. Kinnear's views. He says "In view of the fearfully depressed condition of our trade, would it not be well for our manufacturers of cotton, woollen and other goods, including boots and shoes, to ask our representatives in Congress to give this bill a favorable consideration. Our trade is almost wholly confined within our own limits, while England enjoys almost the entire trade of the South American States. With the introduction of improved machinery, our facilities for manufacturing goods far exceed the demand, hence a sharp and unhealthy competition, with altogether too long credits, resulting in embarassments, failures and disaster. In proof of this permit me to cite the present condition of a single branch of industry. The boot, shoe and leather trade have sustained losses by failures since Jan. 1st, 1878, (scarcely four months) amounting to seven million and ten thousand dollars. Four million two hundred and twenty-three thousand among boot and shoe dealers and manufacturers, and two million seven hundred and eighty-seven thousand among leather dealers and tanners. The loss in the leather trade by shrinkage in value of stock during the past season, has been much greater than by failures, which adds still farther to its embarassment. In order to have a healthy business, and give remunerating employment to our vast population, we must have new outlets for our manufactured goods. We can successfully compete with any nation in the world. Three hundred thousand dollars, borne by the country at large, for the establishment of two lines of steamships, which will open up new channels of trade, is simply nothing. Congress appropriates larger sums annually for the opening of rivers which exist only as trout streams, or frog ponds. Let us have the steamships." There is already a strong feeling among the manufacturers of New England to give this project a trial. The necessity for an enlarged market for our products is acknowledged, and South America may as well purchase of us as of John Bull. The industrial element of this section of the country, by acting unitedly, can accomplish much, and the proposition is entitled to the fullest and fairest consideration of our business men, whose wishes in this regard our Congressmen will doubtless gladly heed.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Harriet M. Bradford, wife of Paymaster-General John O. Bradford of the navy and a daughter of the late Father Taylor of Boston, died in that city on Wednesday.

A letter received in Washington states that a son of Col. Fitz Simmons, Marshal of Georgia, acting as deputy, and pursuing a gang of illicit distillers, succeeded in capturing some of them armed, and in default of sufficient evidence of the work they had undoubtedly been engaged in, he caused them to be put on trial for carrying concealed weapons, and convicted them all. Such a trial was a great novelty in that section, and the result was a matter of great surprise.

The commissioner of internal revenue has discovered an extensive fraud carried on by a whiskey ring in Cincinnati, by which the government has been defrauded out of a million and a quarter of dollars.

Those sections of the country which clamored for the "dollar of our daddies" are not taking many of them. Up to May 4 Cincinnati had taken only $2847 of the new coinage for greenbacks, while New York had taken $73,650, Chicago only $1000 against Philadelphia $821,-780, and St. Louis $1765 to Baltimore $3592. Even Washington is ahead of the great silver cities, it having taken $83,-000.

"Whittier," is the name of a defaulting town treasurer in Essex County, Mass. "A rogue by any other name would smell as sweet."

The House of Representatives at Washington has cut down the force in the Land Office to 161 clerks. In 1855, with much less business than now, owing to the subsequent issue of land grants to railroads, soldiers, agricultural colleges, and other beneficiaries, the force of clerks numbered 184. As a result, the office is nine months behind in correspondence and four years in patenting public lands. There is nothing like economy,—except when railroads ask for money.

The New York Fire Department pirated the valuable invention of one of its members who invented a valve to turn off the water at the nozzle of a hose without bursting the hose. A jury gave the inventor $5,000 at the city's expense.

A Boston paper says the lowest mean barometer, the highest mean temperature and humidity, the smallest number of clear days, and the greatest amount of rain fall were recorded last month of any April since the signal office was established.

A terrible tornado and waterspout are reported from Canton, China; immense damage was done to buildings, and 500 Chinese were killed. No foreigners were seriously hurt. The Chinese army in Kashgar is putting to death all the inhabitants, including women and children.

Saunders McCullough, a wealthy citizen of Oxfordborough, Pa., being awakened by the springing of a burglar alarm in his house, arose, and in the excitement and darkness shot his wife, who was also groping about in the room. The lady is wounded in the right breast, and it is thought cannot recover.

The cotton manufacturers of Manchester, England, having decided on a general closing of the mills, a general lock-out has taken place throughout the manufacturing districts. The strikers are firm in their demands, and the end is not in sight. Terrible suffering among the unemployed must result.

Mrs. Maud E. Lord, a famous clairvoyant or spiritual medium, has disappeared from Boston under circumstances that cause her friends great apprehension, but none of her spiritual friends and mediums are able to determine where she is, and scoffers mock at them accordingly.

The new greenback paper to be issued in Boston is to be called the Standard, and is to be published weekly. Charles R. Byram is to be the editor and publisher.

The schooner Venus, owned by the Pembroke Iron Company, is two hundred tons burden, schooner rigged, built of white oak and well fastened. When in ballest trim she is said to be the fastest sailing vessel that enters New York, and with a fair wind she can speed fourteen knots an hour easily.

Congress.

The Senate on Wednesday spent the day discussing the Indian appropriation bill. Mr. Hoar introduced a bill to establish an ocean mail steamship service, between Portugal and this country, direct. The bill to prevent the further retirement of legal tender notes was referred to the finance committee.

Senator Wadleigh has introduced a bill granting a pension to Fielding Bradford of this city.

The Senate committee on naval affairs, at the close of their investigation into the charges against Pay-Director George F. Cutter, voted to recommend the confirmation of his nomination to be Paymaster-General of the navy. The Paymaster-General is ex officio chief of the bureau of provisions and clothing.

The House committee on elections reported that Cain of South Carolina, Chalmers of Mississippi and Williams of Oregon are lawfully entitled to the seats in Congress which they occupy. The same committee will report in the cases of Smalls and Rainey, the colored members from South Carolina, declaring their seats vacant and referring the matter back to the people for a new election.

The House committee on naval affairs has ordered that the testimony taken by that committee be printed for use of its members.

Representative Jones on the 7th presented the petition of 130 business men of St. Louis, New York, Philadelphia, Boston, Chicago and other places against granting any exclusive privileges in regard to telegraphic cables landed on the shores of the United States.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. James H. Pettee, under appointment as a missionary to Japan, was examined and ordained at the Hanover street Congregational church in Manchester on Wednesday afternoon and was duly installed in the evening.

An East Concord widower advertised for a female correspondent, with a view to matrimony. A lady at Syracuse, N. Y., made reply, and he asked her to come and see him. She did so, he paying expenses and taking her to his house in his own team. Although he is a man of wealth and has a fine house left him by his father, the lady didn't like the man or the place well enough to settle for life, and went home again.

Rev. Daniel F. Richardson of Hanover and class of 1831 in Dartmouth College, has already shown such symptoms of insanity as to make it advisable to take him to the asylum, though this step is to be avoided if possible. He has for a long time lost the use of his lower limbs, and speech.

Col. John B. Clarke, President of the New Hempshire Fish and Game League, has appointed Col. Waterman Smith of Manchester, Charles F. Stark of Dunbarton, and Dr. William Jarvis of Claremont as delegates to the National Sportsman's Convention, which meets at Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 11.

Political.

The following comprehensive platform, adopted by the fourth General Congress of the International Alliance, held at Basle in 1869, gives a fair idea of what kind of men are the aliens who now seek—and confidently expect—to gain entire control of this country through the organized violence of the ignorant and criminal classes: "The Alliance declares itself atheist; it seeks the abolition of worship, the substitution of science for faith, of human nature for divine justice, and the abolition of marriage; it demands, above all, the abolition of the right of inheritance, and that capital shall be at the disposition only of workers." That's the kind of fellows they are.

A democratic newspaper correspondent at Washington says an autograph letter has been received in that city from Tilden, saying that Congress will be guilty of neglect if it does not investigate the Florida case. He forgot to say anything about its duty in the "Gobble" Grover Pelton Oregon Gramercy-Park case.

THE CITY.

Hon. Frank Jones is in town on a brief absence from Washington.

Edison's speaking phonograph will probably be exhibited in this city for two days and nights, next week.

Steamer Appledore has been taken to the Kittery marine railway to have her bottom inspected and overhauled in readiness for the summer business.

Henry W. Clapp, Esq., the well-known patentee of the famous drain-trap, is foreman of the Petit Jury of the Circuit Court now in session in this city.

Meeting of Citizens' General Committee on Memorial Day observances at the Common Council Room this evening, at 7:30 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

At the competitive drill of the Heavy Artillery for the Day medal, at Music Hall on Thursday evening, the prize was awarded to Edward F. Swasey, as being the "best drilled man" in the company.

Col. Hilton, of the Rockingham House, had a full house on Wednesday; over a hundred guests were registered. The Rockingham maintains its high repute as one of the best managed hotels in the country.

Hon. John R. Reding was severely injured Thursday morning by the giving way of a staging he had just put up on a shed at his residence on State street, he striking on his head and shoulder in his fall, and being insensible when taken up.

The Chronicle editor says, "above all other work we hate sawing wood; and if we had to choose between freezing to death and sawing wood enough to make a fire, it wouldn't cost us a moment's thought to decide." Well, where you'll die when you go to, they don't have to saw any wood.—Weekly.

The crew of the U. S. S. Omaha, about two hundred and forty in number, were paid off on Thursday, and most of the men took the earliest trains out of the city. They were a fine-looking, well-behaved lot of seamen, and appeared as quiet and unobtrusive as the average citizens on our streets. The paying off was accomplished in three-quarters of an hour after being commenced.

Mrs. Mary A. Foster, widow of the late Deacon John W. Foster, died at her residence on Richards avenue on Thursday morning, aged nearly ninety years. Mrs. Foster was a lady most keenly appreciated by her friends, of kindly manners and constantly agreeable disposition, and liberal in her charities. She was one of nature's noble women, who though always modest and retiring yet exerted a great influence for good in our community.

WRECK.

At about six o'clock Thursday morning the schooner Hampden, of Bangor, from Hoboken for this port with a cargo of two hundred and forty-eight tons of coal consigned to C. E. Walker & Co., went ashore on the ledge at Hampton beach between Little Boars' Head and Boar's Head, there being at the time a dense fog; the vessel was no doubt set out of her course by a strong southwest current and the very heavy sea then running. She was commanded by Capt. Albert N. Smith, of South Orrington, Me., was of one hundred and fifty tons register, and twenty-six years old. Capt. Smith thinks the cargo was insured. The Hampden was thoroughly rebuilt recently, and was nearly as good as a new vessel; she was valued at about $4500. She filled soon after striking, and will probably be stripped and abandoned.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

May term; Clark, J.

The Grand Trunk Railway of Canada was indicted by the Grand Jury of the Supreme Court of Coos county, at the April term, 1877, for killing Wm. A. Willis, of Dummer, while he was attempting to get upon a passenger car at West Milan. This is a proceeding to recover under the statute of the State, damages for the heirs of the deceased. The Grand Trunk is a Canadian corporation running the Atlantic & St. Lawrence R. R. in New Hampshire under a lease. The railway was summoned to appear at the August term of the State court, and at the November term an appearance was first entered for the defendant, who then filed a petition for removal of the suit to this court. The State objects because the case is a criminal prosecution and not a suit of a civil nature; that it does not appear that the amount in dispute exceeds $500; and that the petition for removal was not filed at the first term at which the case could be tried. The Supreme Court (Chief Justice Doe presiding,) without any evidence was of the opinion that there would be a presumption of fact that the amount in dispute exceeds $500, unless the State makes it a matter of record that the fine shall not exceed that sum. The question of law is reserved by the State court. The case is entered in this court at the present term, and the State's counsel has moved to remand the case to the Supreme Court of New Hampshire for the reasons before stated; and that there is no sum of money or other thing, the value of which can be estimated in money, in controversy; and because some of the persons represented in the indictment are citizens of New Hampshire, and one a citizen of Maine; and that the motion to remand the cause was not seasonably made, etc. The defendants contend that this is a civil suit commenced by a criminal proceedure, and comes within the provisions of the act of Congress providing for removal of suits, etc. The Court, pending the consideration of this question by the Supreme Court of New Hampshire, to whose decisions of course proper respect is to be shown, do not pass upon the motion, and the case is to be continued to the next term. W. L. Ladd for the State; Ray, Drew and Jordan for defendant.

The Grand Jurors reported in the forenoon, and were excused. They returned six indictments; one against Timothy Capen, of Barrington, for being a retail dealer in liquor without paying a tax; one against James Brooks and William Falvey, stealing letter from post-office in Portsmouth; three against Ebenezer Wyman, of Hopkinton, sending obscene written matter through the post-office; one against Thomas A. Russell, of Dixville, for being a retail dealer in liquor without paying a special tax, etc.

The District Attorney gave notice that he would be ready to proceed in the trial of criminal cases on Tuesday next.

The trial of Bartlett Land and Lumber Co. vs. Saunders occupied the day. The plaintiffs read documentary evidence of title, etc., and then introduced witnesses. The first witness was Hon. G. W. M. Pitman, of Lower Bartlett, who had surveyed the premises in dispute. The evidence for the plaintiff was not concluded at the adjournment.

POLICE COURT.

Thursday, May 9th; Batchelder, J.

Patrick Sheehan was arraigned for drunkenness, but the evidence showed that if he was drunk at all it was in a private house, and no evidence of any resulting disturbance was offered, so the accused was discharged.

CITY COUNCILS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening:

After record of last meeting was read, that part relating to the south millpond was objected to by Ald. Norton of Ward 2, who stated his objections and it was made to read as published in the last report of the meeting of the board.

Mr. Cline of Manchester appeared before the board exhibiting and explaining a map of New Hampshire to be published. Voted that the Mayor be authorized to purchase one copy for the use of the City Rooms.

Petition for an underground sewer on Chapel street from Daniel to State streets, was referred to committee on drains to report.

Mr. John P. Hart sent a communication to the board relating to the action of the board, and stated to the board that the drain leading to the cess-pool was not low enough to drain his cellar on Union street. Voted that the drain be relaid low enough if possible to accommodate all parties in that section.

The City Solicitor, to whom was referred the assignment of pay to Ayers & Locke by members of Engine Co. No. 4, recommended that said order be accepted after deducting all claims against each individual that be due Oct. 1st, 1878. Voted that the assignment be accepted as advised by the Solicitor.

James Moses presented his bonds as tax collector, which were accepted.

Invitation from the Committee of invitations of Memorial Day inviting the City Government to participate in the ceremonies was received and accepted.

Charles H. Mendum asked to have sidewalk on High street relaid. Refered to committee on streets with power.

Miss Young asked leave to open Franklin street for the purpose of laying a drain; Mrs. Hooper same on South street; both granted, and the Street Commissioner authorized to oversee the work.

The monthly bills were ordered paid; also Gas Co.'s bill.

Report was made that the globes on gas posts on Miller avenue have been broken several times.

Committee on drains recommended laying of an eight-inch cement pipe on Hill street, from Vaughan to Bridge. Ordered done.

Committee appointed for the purpose reported a conference with the agent of dredging machines; that he thinks one of the small machines could be taken into north pond, and will make an estimate of the cost if desired. The committee think the plan offered by P. D. Norton at the last meeting the most feasible for cleaning south pond. Report accepted.

Committee on bonding south pond reported adversely, the owners asking too much money—$6000—for it. Report accepted.

Resignation of Wm. C. Ham as Clerk of the Board of Engineers was accepted, and James L. Parker was elected to fill the vacancy.

It was voted to declare the office of harbor master vacant.

Col. J. Horace Kent appeared before the board requesting that the appropriation for Memorial Day be increased to $150. Col. Kent was before the Common Council, and that body voted to amend the appropriation by inserting $150 in lieu of $100.

"HART'S LOCATION."

In the case on trial at the United States Court House, relating to the title to certain timber lands claimed by two parties, Ex-Senator Geo. W. M. Pitman testified that there were seven families in "Hart's Location."

"But sir," enquired Counsellor Hatch, "has it not been a place of political importance, and sent Representatives to the Legislature?"

"Yes," said George, "they sent two Representatives one year!"

Over this reminder of the political efforts of their friends Messrs. Hatch and Bingham enjoyed a good laugh; and turning to his political friend Putnam, from Portland, Mr. Hatch said significantly, "that was when our Maine friends came up to help us."

THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW.

It will be of decided interest to the navy yard workmen to know that the United States House of Representatives on Thursday took positive action regarding the eight-hour law. A resolution was passed declaring that a proper construction of that law was that eight hours constitute a day's work for all laborers, mechanics and workmen in the government employ, and directing heads of departments to issue orders to this effect; in other words, President Grant's construction of the eight-hour law is adopted by the House. This we believe is the true intent of the law; and if the law is absurd or improper, the way to get rid of it is to repeal it, and not to allow a mere executive officer to dodge its provisions at his pleasure, as the Secretary of the Navy has done.

THE VICINITY.

Mrs. Pickering, the Rochester medium whose "materialization" seances have excited so much interest in that town for a year past, has commenced the business in Massachusetts.

The ten per cent. reduction in the wages of operatives in the Great Falls mills went into operation on Monday morning, 6th inst. A strike was feared, in consequence, but none has yet occurred.

Saco's city government has made a liberal cut-down on salaries. Drivers of city teams have had their pay reduced from $730 to $540 per year; the street commissioner is to have $500 in place of $660 as heretofore; and the city solicitor is to be puffed up with a $50 yearly stipend. The fire engine drivers and police have also had their pay reduced.

Mr. William Hurd, who has been laboring in Dover with "legal suasion" for the past three years, in the temperance cause, has issued a circular showing the number of arrests in Dover from 1870 to 1873 inclusive, before he commenced his labors there, and from 1874 to 1877 inclusive. The following are the figures: Number of arrests for drunkenness from 1870 to 1873, inclusive, 700; number of arrests for drunkenness since the law was enforced, from 1874 to 1877, inclusive, 419. The circular gives the whole number of arrests in Portsmouth last year, 863; for drunkenness, 583, showing that there were 164 more arrests in Portsmouth last year than there have been in Dover for four years, for drunkenness.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform accordingly to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and thres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tang

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever earned so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
It has been known to the public about fifty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its numerous ills. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated, beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the annual amount exported foots up several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could combine a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "dashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticky ointments" work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 36 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose.
Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, yellowish specks before one face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and a gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects a perfect cure, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown, or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many purposed and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Cough, and serious and fatal pulmonary affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple yet neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE, Catarrh Remedy, in a slight instance of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, accumulated matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year increasing in severity. For the past five years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, and was so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my hearing and compel me to blow up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these disturbances and symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. LAWRENCE purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made mention of his case to me. I believe his statement to be true. JAS. T. DERBY.

Hearing and Smell in Insects.

All that I have observed leads me to believe that any sensitiveness shown by insects to sound is due to a diffused sensibility to vibration rather than to a differentiated sense like our own. If any one, and hour after his kitchen has been left in darkness and quiet, will enter it as gently as possible, without shoes or light, and then, having no contact with anything, other than the unavoidable one of his sock-muffled feet with the floor, will speak suddenly and sharply, I believe he will find that not a cockroach shows any signs of alarm. If, on the other hand, he should drop something heavy abruptly, or enter with his usual step in boots, there is a stampede: but even then nothing to compare with the commotion caused by the introduction of light.

As to smell, there can be no doubt, it seems to me, that it is a very finely differentiated sense; residing, I suspect, to a great extext, in the antennæ, and probably capable of detecting qualities in substances of which our own analogous sense gives us no warning. The ichneumon flies are an example in point. One of the larger of these alighted inside my open window in the sunshine this afternoon, and I noticed, as often before, the incessant play of his antennæ as he hunted restlessly to and fro, apparently in search of larvæ or pupæ, concealed under the wood. As the prey of some members of this tribe are always so hidden, and the egg is accurately laid therein, by means of the long ovipositor, without the aid of sight, some other sense, in great perfection, must guide them in their quest. But here is a quite conclusive instance.

I saw in Athens, March, 1864, in the collection of Mr. Merlin, then our vice-consul there, placed in juxtaposition in one drawer in his cabinet, a wasp and spider, of which he told me that that species of spider is the habitual prey of that species of wasp, and that he hunts him by scent, nose down, precisely like a hound. He witnessed himself the chase from beginning to end in the case of the actual specimens I saw. It occurred in his own house, and was continued for some time, and across, as I understood him, more than one room. The spider, as soon as he found himself marked down, showed the greatest terror, running hither and thither, with many doubles and turns. There the wasp—a long, thin-bodied variety—followed accurately, turn by turn, never quitting the spider's track for an instant, recovering, when at fault, like a dog, with, after an exciting chase, he seized his exhausted prey, and the keenly-interested human observer secured both pursuer and victim.—Henry Cecil, in Nature.

Genuine Compliments.

We have heard of the lady of rare beauty who said, upon a certain occasion, that the only real disinterested compliment she ever received was from a coal-heaver who asked permission to light his pipe in the gleaming of her eyes.

Another compliment, true and genuine, was paid by a sailor who was sent by his captain to carry a letter to the lady of his love. The sailor having delivered the missive, stood gazing in silent admiration upon the lady, for she was very beautiful.

"Well, my good man," she said, "for what do you wait? There is no answer to be returned."

"Lady," the sailor returned with humble deference, "I would like to know your name."

"Did you not see it on this letter?"

"Pardon, lady—I never learned to read. Mine has been a hard, rough life."

"And for what reason, my good man, would you know my name?"

"Because," answered the old tar, looking honestly up, "in a storm at sea, with danger afore me, I would like to call the name of the brightest thing I'd ever seen in life. There'd be sunshine in it, even in the thick darkness."

Horses Lying Down.

I don't know why a horse should not be as much rested and benefitted by lying down as any other four-footed beast. A horse sleeps standing up, and so does an ox. I know that it was claimed for a gray horse once, as a special merit, that he would not lie down unless his stall was well littered; consequently all expense of bedding might be saved, as no doubt it had been. Horses are peculiar about lying down. It seems as if they knew their helplessness when in this position, and were loud never to expose them to danger. Although many may be lying down, every horse in a stable is on his feet at the slightest noise. It is, besides, almost universally regarded, and usually truly, as a sign of ill health, if a horse is found lying in the day time. I have recently come to the conclusion, however, that if horses are perfectly easy in their minds, they will take as much comfort in lying down as cattle do, and I can point to one stable, not my own, where spirited well-fed horses may be seen lying down at almost any time of the day or night, and it comes from the perfect confidence they have in their groom.—Agriculturist.

"Relief."

A Plattsburg man recently called at a house where the family were drawing $2 a week for temporary relief, and stated that he wished to hire one of the boys to do chores and other light work about his premises. He was informed by the mother that the boys were out hunting foxes! He could, however, state his terms, and if satisfactory, the boy would report at his place as soon as he returned. He stated that as his work was light, he thought that about $8 a month and board would be a fair compensation. This proposition was indignantly rejected! He was informed that another party had already offered him $10 a month, but he could not afford to work for such low wages!

Daily Chronicle

SATURDAY, MAY 11, 1878.

International Courtesies.

A Russian man-of-war saluted the Irish flag in the harbor of San Francisco on a recent Sunday. The Knights of the Red Branch had been having a picnic down the bay, and the excursion-steamer on her return trip passed a Russian corvette. The green flag was run up, the band played a Russian anthem, and the Irishmen cheered lustily. Quite unexpectedly the corvette dipped its flag and fired a salute of twenty-one guns, while the crew rushed to the side and heartily cheered the picnic-party. The Irishmen, overcome with enthusiasm, fairly cracked their throats in returning this compliment.

Robeson Caught Some More.

The democratic correspondents at the Capital on Thursday announced that "Chairman Whitthorne of the House naval committee examined a witness today who gave some of the most important testimony yet elicited relative to Robeson's crooked ways. The witness swore that while the naval committee of the last Congress was investigating Robeson, certain important papers which it was expected the committee would call for were doctored or destroyed to prevent the committee from finding out certain very crooked transactions between Robeson, Murtagh and Norman Wiard, the notorious gun-burster. Mr. Whitthorne proposes to follow up the lead struck today and get at bottom facts." The name of this newly-discovered democratic "expert" is not given, but it is safe to assume that he is some former clerk of the navy department who was discharged for drunkenness and dishonesty, or both, and is now of course a good democrat. If any such rascality was practised as he says, he must have been in it himself.

Congress.

The Senate on Thursday passed the Mexican award distribution bill and the Indian appropriation bill. The House joint resolution on printing 300,000 copies of the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture was amended to 200,000, which will save about $22,000. The bankrupt law was discussed, but no action reached.

The House passed the Senate bill authorizing citizens of Colorado, Nevada and the Territories to fell and remove timber on public lands for mining and domestic purposes. A resolution declaring that the act of Congress making eight hours a day's work meant that eight hours should be a day's work, was passed. The tariff bill was discussed, and Kelley of Pennsylvania made a powerful speech against it.

Naval Affairs.

Capt. Somerville Nicholson has been placed on the retired list, the President having approved the findings of the Examining Board in his case. The promotions suspended while Capt. Nicholson's case was under consideration will be immediately sent to the Senate.

Commander Watson of the Wyoming, reporting the arrival of that steamer at Havre April 22d, states: We had a stormy voyage, which proved the Wyoming's seaworthiness, and I do not believe there are many ships in any service which would have stood the test as well.

The Secretary of the Navy has appointed the following Board of Visitors to the Naval Academy at the annual examination in June: Rear Admiral John L. Worden, Capt. Clark H. Wells, Capt. K. R. Breeze, Chief Engineer B. F. Isherwood, of the U. S. N.; Maj.-Gen. John Pope, U. S. A.; Gen. Wagner Swayne of Ohio, Rev. Dr. A. Wheeler of Pennsylvania, Hon. John Hancock of Texas, Col. Isaac H. Reed of New York, Capt. William H. Parker, President of the Maryland Agricultural College, Dr. P. O. Hooper of Arkansas, Hon. Alexander Brown of South Carolina, Prof. C. M. Woodward of Missouri, Rev. G. M. I. Wright of Minnesota, Daniel S. Printup of Georgia.

U. S. S. Ossipee, Commander Breese, from Norfolk for Boston, arrived at Vineyard Haven on Wednesday night. She took a pilot and proceeded at six o'clock Thursday morning, and arrived in Boston on Saturday.

Alexander Warner, clerk to Naval Paymaster Eldredge, having been discharged by the latter because Warner testified in the Cutter case recently, President Hayes has ordered a full investigation of Eldredge's action in the matter. So the Washington despatch say.

The Florida Fizzle.

The democratic managers at Washington now announce that they all "agree that there should be an investigation of the alleged Florida and Louisiana Presidential election frauds, for the sole purpose of acquainting the people with the facts, and not with a view of invalidating the title by which Hayes holds office." It seems very kind of the democrats not to turn the President out of his office on the strength of a statement made by a confessed perjurer and cheat; but then the entire farce was only intended to make political capital for the democratic campaign, and the further announcement of the Washington managers that "there are not a few democrats who think that the confession of a member of the returning board and the statement of Dennis are sufficient republican evidence to go into the campaign to show conclusively to the country that the democracy was cheated out of the Presidency, and that therefore there is no need of further inquiry into the frauds in Florida," indicates that the fizzle has not panned out according to the prospect, the phlegmatic masses of the country refusing to be excited by the democratic shouting. "Therefore there is no need of further inquiry into the frauds in Florida."

News and Notes.

The steamer City of New Bedford, which has been on Fisher's Island reef several days, was got off by the wrecking company about daylight Friday morning and taken to New London, where she is anchored. Steamer Bristol, of the Old Colony Line, took the ground in entering Newport harbor Thursday morning; the cutter Dexter went to her assistance, and also took the ground; neither vessel will be harmed.

U. S. Senator J. Don. Cameron and Miss Elizabeth B. Sherman were married at Cleveland, Ohio, on Thursday. The wedding presents aggregate $100,000 in value. The bride, who is about nineteen years old, has a step-daughter two years older than herself, who it is said dotes on her new mamma.

Charles Morgan, the great steamboat and railroad man of New York, and one of the pioneers in the establishment of steamboat lines in this country, died in New York on the 8th inst., aged eighty-three years. He went to New York a poor boy from Connecticut seventy years ago; he leaves a fortune of $10,000,000.

Miss Sara Jewitt recently had a benefit at the Union Square Theatre, New York, on which occasion she appeard as Lady Teazle in Sheridan's School for Scandal. The critics describe her costume as "ravishing," and as setting off the snowy whiteness of her throat and arms to the greatest advantage.

Trinity Church corporation, of New York, has wisely adjusted the difficulty with its tenants by making a reduction of twenty per cent. of former rates. This is a corporation with a head, even if he has no soul.

People are carried on Hudson river steamers between New York and Albany for 10 cents, and tickets to Saratoga are sold for $1.50.

Representative Thompson of Pennsylvania made the startling statement in the House, Thursday, that 13,000 barrels of oil produced in Pennsylvania had been shipped last year to the seaboard, and although the established rate of transportation was $1.50 per barrel, which should have given to the railroad companies nineteen and a half million dollars, the railroad companies had actually received only five million dollars, the other $14,500,000 having been diverted from the shippers into the pockets of an unscrupulous ring.

It is stated that on account of the formation of the so-called Labor Leagues in the wards of Brooklyn, the Thirteenth and other regiments have been ordered to keep their fatigue uniforms and knapsacks at their armories, and have all arms and equipments ready for immediate service.

New Hampshire Items.

Arrangements are being made for a military parade on the day of the inauguration of Gov. Prescott. It is expected that the entire State militia, consisting of three regiments of infantry, two batteries of light artillery, a squadon of cavalry and the Amoskeag Veterans will participate.

State Detectives Philbrick and Carleton of Massachusetts passed through Portland, Wednesday, on their way to Oxford in search of Thomas E. Ladd, the Laconia forger.

Frank Duncan, a lad about seven years old, was found drowned in the lake at Wolfeboro' Wednesday night. He had been missing for several hours.

The Grand Jury of Hillsboro county made the following report Thursday: The whole number of cases were 159; forty-nine are criminal, the remainder liquor cases. A part of the prisoners were brought in Thursday and received their sentences.

Sergt. D. C. Murphy, in charge of Mt. Washington Station, United States Signal Service, reports no snow on the mountain above the line of arborescent growth, and but a small quantity in Tuckerman's Ravine and other gorges. The snow and ice at the base is melted, and the work of repairing the Mountain Railway already begun. The season is four weeks earlier than any known for twenty years. The pluvieometrical measurements show the largest quantity of rain ever measured in the mountains during the month of April.

Abandoned at Sea.

At all times ships of one kind or another are floating about at sea, abandoned by officers and crew, in what seems a hopeless condition. Some are dismantled and mere hulks, some are swimming keel upwards, some are water-logged, but being laden with timber will not sink, but are driven hither and thither as the wind and waves may direct. So people afflicted with catarrh, bronchitis, and consumption, are abandoned by physicians and friends as incurable, yet thousands of such are annually restored to perfect health by the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The Catarrh Remedy is unequaled as a soothing and healing local application, while the Discovery purifies and enriches the blood and imparts tone and vigor to the whole system.

VIDOLIA, LA., April 17th, 1877.

DR. PIERCE:

DEAR SIR—I suffered for twelve years with that most offensive and loathsome of all diseases—catarrh. My taste and smell were completely destroyed. I procured a supply of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and your Golden Medical Discovery, which I used according to directions, and a complete and permanent cure was speedily effected. I take pleasure in recommending them to all afflicted.

Ever thankfully yours,
CLARA E. HUNT.

WADING RIVER, Burlington Co., N. J., Feb. 28th, 1877.

DR. PIERCE:

DEAR SIR—Your Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine for coughs, colds, and consumption, I ever know. It has saved my life.

Respectfully yours,
HELEN B. MCANNEY.

THE CITY.

Strawberries were selling on Friday at twenty-five cents a box.

A strolling band of Gypsies are encamped on Middle road, near the Plains.

Mr. Frank W. Ham has a sweet-briar bush in his front yard that is seventy years old.

St. Andrew's Lodge of Freemasons in this city has 229 members. This lodge was consecrated June 14th, 1848.

Steamer Daniel Pegorty, from Newburyport for Kennebec to load lumber for Boston, put in here for water Friday forenoon, and left in a few hours.

Mr. Daniel Clark has opened the fish market on the north side of Liberty Bridge. Mr. Clark is one of the veteran toilers of the sea, and just knows what good fish and lobsters are. Give him a call.

Exceptions on law points have been filed by the counsel for the defense in the case of Alice M. Craig vs. Henry F. Gerrish, in which the plaintiff recovered a verdict of $1500 damages for the bite of a dog in June, 1876.

The proper customs officers went from this city to Dover this week to measure the new steamer James Sampson, recently built there for pleasure traffic and towing on the river. Her registered tonnage is 17.12, and she is a fine-looking little boat.

Mr. George H. Emery has opened a fish market at No. 1 North street, Christian Shore. It is reported that Col. Wm. S. Hadley has engaged the store recently occupied by the late Franklin Ayers, at No. 15 North street, and will continue the groceries and provision business.

The singing class connected with the Y. M. B. A. closed its term on Thursday evening, and by invitation of the President, Mr. Charles Hatch, then sat down to a feast of good things at Whitcomb's; and afterwards adjourned to Good Templars' Hall, where the rest of the evening was spent in singing and social pastimes.

A meeting of the National Committee of the "national greenback party of the United States" was held in New York this week. Geo. E. Hodgdon, Esq., of this city, was the delegate from New Hampshire. A mass convention of the greenback party of New Hampshire, for the purpose of making State, county and Congressional nominations, will be holden at Manchester in June.

On Thursday Mr. James Magraw, a section hand on the Eastern Railroad, while attending to the loading of cars with ties from the schooner Amirald at Concord Railroad wharf, was struck on the shoulder by a sling-load of ties as it swung out from the vessel, and knocked off the car, striking heavily on the wharf, and receiving injuries that will prevent his being on duty again for some time.

Two young Irish boys on their way to mass a few mornings since, fought several rounds on one of the streets near the Catholic church. Desisting from exhaustion, one asked the other if he wished to fight any more. "Wait till after church," said the young striker, "and I'll give you"—here he mentioned a locality the existence of which is firmly denied by some of the Protestants of the present day.

The number of lobster-pots set around the Isles of Shoals by different parties is as follows; Benjamin and Hans Ingebredsen, ninety; James Brooks, ninety; Geo., Julius and Ameus Ingebredsen, seventy-five; Levi Downs, one hundred and fifty. Parties from this city and Kittery are encamped on Duck island, having erected two wooden shanties to live in, and are running one hundred and fifty pots. The average catch of lobsters by all the parties is about four hundred daily.

The "National Greenback State Central Committee" of this State has issued an address "To the People of New Hampshire." We are invited by the Secretary, Howe Call, Esq., of Portsmouth, to give it publicity in our columns. We must decline, for several reasons. The call is long—altogether too long for our columns and the expectation of life according to the insurance actuaries. The call is also shockingly ungrammatical, and it is not creditable to the common schools of Portsmouth to have such a raid on the King's English emanate from that highly respectable city.—Nashua Telegraph.

The National Greenback State Committee has issued an address, "To the people of New Hampshire." It is dated at Portsmouth, is the work of Howe Call, Esq., and gives unmistakable evidence of being the product of chronic indigestion. The greenback party in New Hampshire is remarkable only for its weakness and sourness, but it is strong and sweet-tempered compared with the address of its State committee.—Mirror.

PARISH MEETING.

The Freewill Baptist church and society held their annual parish meeting on Monday evening, 6th inst., and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President, Samuel A. Spinney;
Vice President, J. Wesley Wilson;
Secretary, Frank G. Thurston;
Treasurer, Chas. E. Dixon;
Executive Committee, Lawrence K. Lydston, Andrew J. Hodgdon, Willard W. Young, Franklin E. Downing, Frederick Thomas.

THE TALKING MACHINE.

The right to exhibit Edison's Speaking Phonograph for the State of Maine (outside of Cumberland county,) and for Strafford county and Portsmouth in this State has been secured by Messrs. Everett O. Foss of Dover and Geo. W. Marston of New York city. In a few days the first exhibition will be given in this city. The earliest description of this wonderful invention—or discovery—that we saw anywhere was given in this paper some months ago by our New York correspondent; since when it has been exhibited in several of the large cities, delighting the populace and astonishing the scientists everywhere. The first public exhibition of one of these machines in Boston was given on Thursday evening last in Horticultural Hall, and was attended by over nine hundred persons. The manager had received an invitation from Prof. Walcott Gibbs to exhibit the phonograph before the Faculty of Harvard College on the previous Tuesday night, and before the American Academy of Arts and Sciences on Wednesday evening, but he could not get to Boston in time to do so. The interest in this invention is unexampled in the history of modern discovery.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MAY TERM—CLARK, J.

Friday, May 10th.

Upon the coming in of the Court, Irving W. Drew, Esq., of Lancaster, of the law firm of Ray, Drew and Jordan, was on motion of Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, admitted to practice in this Court.

Bartlett Land and Lumber Co. vs. Saunders was resumed, and the testimony on behalf of the plaintiffs was finished in the forenoon. Mr. Hatch opened the case in behalf of the defendant, contending that the defendant succeeded to the title of Elkins, the person who took the grant from the State. The Counsel called the attention of the Court to the law pertaining to the case. The land in question is in the White Mountain region, and the difficulty seems to be to discover just where the boundaries of the tract are to be found. Authorities were cited from reports of decided cases.

Upon coming in of the Court in the afternoon the question upon the motion was argued in behalf of the plaintiff by Messrs. Putnam and Ray, and on the part of the defendant by Mr. Bingham. Without announcing a decision upon the question, the Court adjourned to Tuesday morning at half-past ten o'clock.

Albert John McCourt, an alien, was admitted to become a citizen of the United States.

THE HEAVIES' DRILL.

The entertainment given by the Heavy Artillery at Music Hall on Thursday evening was a most enjoyable affair. The music by Harlow's Orchestra was excellent. Mr. Foster's readings were well selected and finely rendered. The singing by Miss Emma J. Flanders was repeatedly encored; she was the recipient of an elegant bouquet, and her reception certainly shew her to be a favorite in Portsmouth. The inspection drill of the Heavies was gracefully done. Their fine marching on the stage, and the precision of their evolutions were greeted with rounds of applause.

The drill for the Day medal (the exciting feature of the evening) was well contested. Upton's tactics was the standard used, although some of the exercises of the manual of arms were left out, which if included might have made it even more interesting—the movements of inspection arms; load and fire; load and fire kneeling; load and fire laying down; oblique firing; rear rank firing; bayonet exercise, etc., which form a part of the competitive drill. What was done was done well. The boys as they were dropped from the ranks went off in as good humor as if they had obtained the medal. The contest soon narrowed down to three, Messrs. Edward F. Swasey, Newell Philbrick and Charles McCarthy, and the enthusiasm of the audience was at its height when the judges declared Mr. Swasey the winning man. Some of the military critics in the hall differed from the judges in many of their decisions, but as the boys are generally satisfied we advise everybody else to fall in. The party holding the medal retains it one year before he can be challenged.

THE VICINITY.

The Biddeford Times says it is reported that Jannauschek has purchased a cottage at Kennebunk.

Miss Jennie E. Frink of Newington has been engaged to teach school in Eliot; Miss Vesta Bean of the same town is to teach in Seabrook, and Miss S. Lizzie Pickering in Tamworth.

Warren C. Bryant is putting up two cottages at Fortune's Rocks, near the mouth of Saco river; Hosea Gordon, of Chelsea, Mass., is building a cottage at the same place, and R. B. Walker of Boston is improving his property there.

The Ocean Bluff Hotel at Kennebunkport, for some time under the management of Job Jenness & Son of Rye, now running Hotel Wentworth at Newcastle, is this season to be managed by Stimpson & Deverell of the Carleton House at Jacksonville, Florida.

At Trefethen's Hall, Kittery, one evening in the early part of this week, one Leo Miller delivered a greenback lecture, and advised his hearers to form a greenback club. Ephraim C. Spinney, Esq., was chairman of the meeting. Leo Miller's name has for some years been prominent in reports of conventions of "reformers" of various kinds, particularly of those pure perrsons who consider marriage immoral, and desire to purify society by popularizing free love.

Made Sandalwood Island on 28th Jan. Was becalmed ten days in the Ormby passage, and the natives lighted fires on shore every night, indicative of the reception these cannibals would have given the crew if the vessel had gone ashore. Owing to light winds and calms, was 23 days grinding through the passages. Afterwards had strong N E and N winds to port. Arrived at Shanghai on the 18th ult, after having anchored some days at Woosung.

A Model "Story."

Under a pecan tree, on the lawn before the "big house," Sam and Pumble sat down to consider and consult, or, as they expressed it, "to study up what us gwine to do."

"Shall I tell you a story?" asked Pumble.

"Does you know a good one?" inquired Sam.

"Dis story's gwine to be a good one," said Pumble, "bekase I'll make it up as I go 'long."

"Tell ahead," said Sam.

"Wunst upon a time—" began Pumble.

"What time?" interrupted Sam.

"Shut up! Wunst upon a time. Dey wus a man. An' dis heah man lighted up he pipe, an' started out on de big road. An' he went walkin along. Right stret along. An' walkin' along, an' walkin' along. An' walkin' along. An' walkin' along, an' walkin along——"

"Dat man wuz gwine all de way, wuzn't he," interjected the listener.

"He hadn't got no way, hardly, pit," said Pumble, "but he kep' a walkin' along. An' walkin' along, an' walkin' along, an' walkin' along, an' walkin along an' walkin' along, an' walkin' along, an' walkin' along, an' walkin' along——"

"Stop dat walkin' now," said Sam, "and tell what he done when he got froo walkin'."

"He come to the place he wuz a-gwine to," said Pumble.

"Did he, sho' enough?" exclaimed Sam. "I wus kinder skeered dat he wouldn't nebber git dar at all. What he do nex?"

"De next t'ing he done," said Pumble, impressively, "wuz to turn 'round an' go back whar he come from. An' dat's all!"

— The Boston Gazette's personal column gives this peculiar paragraph: We are requested to state, whatever may have been, no engagement now exists between Mr. T. J. Pressey, of Newburyport, and Miss Phebe H. West, of Neponset.

—A Texan paper relates the story of a family who left Terrell, that State, the other day in a two-horse wagon. Just outside the town the man and wife quarreled. The woman jumped out of the wagon, unhitched one of the horses, and declared that she meant to play quits. The girl joined the mother, and the two rode away. The old man and the boy and the other horse were left to get along as best they could.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 Dey St., New York.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"Cromwell, Lebanon Co., Pa., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your Castoria in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try Castoria will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. may

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continuing series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. Its all makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that it well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on a heavy oak tie, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.
Tickets for sale at the lowest rates at the Ticket Offices of the Company in all important cities and towns. tfeb20 79

THE GREAT
FALL RIVER LINE, BETWEEN
BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,
But affording passengers a full night's rest, and having an open water route, avoids the intricate and perilous river navigation incident to other routes.
Grand Promenade Concert on each Steamer every evening during the summer.
New and Elegant Drawing-Room Cars on Steamboat Express Train.
BROOKLYN ANNEX STEAMER connects with this Line only, leaving Pier 28, North River, New York, on arrival of steamer from the East. Passengers and baggage for Brooklyn transferred free. Staterooms and Berths secured at No. 3 Old State House or at the Old Colony Depot.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount expended for the last several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKFORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.

MR. EDITOR—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could embalm a similar letter in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "douse," "inhaler," "inhaling-tubes," and "tickle," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tenter for such medicines. Literally poured down, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach, also Pellets to keep my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

When your skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or when there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish tinge upon the face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable remedies, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humers in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors. Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you. Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff, and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by Sanford's Radical CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hardcrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications of the remedy, inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is the most powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen,—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy for it at night before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in the night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these alarming symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my name with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

Common Sense in Advertising.

We notice in the leading newspapers of late a good deal of sensible talk on the subject of advertising. Much of it is contributed by leading advertisers themselves, who have had large and expensive experience, and have kept such a careful and intelligent record of the results of the various kinds of advertising that their testimony amounts to a practical demonstration. They have tried all methods, from the stereotyped and the street-car placard, to the big white painted letters on fences and the periodical hand-bills stuffed with advertisements, and shoved under the doors or into the pockets of the people who never open them. The testimony of all these experienced men enforces the conclusion that, for a genuine, effective advertising medium, which is sure to bring a prompt and liberal return for the money invested there is nothing comparable for a moment with the columns of a live, interesting newspaper, to which the intelligent and well-to-do people of a community look for news and opinions upon current events. We venture to say that every business man in Cleveland, who has made a trial of the various methods of advertising under discussion, has reached the same conclusion. The day of illustrated placards, almanacs, and "advertisers' directories," is past in this country. The business has been overdone, fortunes been wasted in it, and the barrenness of results from all such outlays has prejudiced some classes of business men against the whole subject of advertising. This prejudice is, however, but limited and temporary, and the tide of intelligent opinion is settling back to first principles—that is, in favor of fresh, well-written and attractive advertisements, frequently changed in form and inserted in the leading newspapers of the community that the advertiser desires to reach.

Money judiciously expended in this way is never lost, and it often brings a return of ten, twenty, or fifty fold. The influence and range of the newspaper are broadening and deepening day by day. The journalism of the United States has ripened and improved in tone and character more during the past ten years than it had done in the previous fifty. We are a busy people, and have little time or taste for long stories. The increased range and variety of the newspaper are trenching upon the domain of the book publisher, the pulpit and the lecturer. More and more, year by year, the daily and weekly journal is furnishing almost the sole reading matter of a large proportion of the people. For exactly this reason its value as an advertising medium is increasing day by day. We say this from no merely selfish motive, but because it is true, and it is to the interest of business men who are preparing to spread their sales to the spring breezes of returning prosperity, that they bear it in mind. Money spent in advertising may be wasted or bring golden fruitage, according to the degree of intelligence with which it is dispensed. Put it into a good, live, popular newspaper, which will carry your advertisement to the counting-rooms, the breakfast tables, and the firesides of the people who have wants to be met, and have money with which to meet them. This is the whole priceless secret of successful advertising.—Cleveland Leader.

—The fishery question—Had a bite yet?

—A southern newspaper refers to Colonel Delancey Kane as "one of the mos pepular hackmen in New York."

—In the crop of a Troy turkey was found a policeman's button. What became of the rest of the man is a mystery.

—"In choosing a wife," says the Phrenological Journal, "be governed by her chin." The worst of it is that, after having chosen a wife, one is apt to keep on being governed in the same way.

—The dull, subdued colors new worn by the feminine world are looked upon with different eyes by popular writers, one calling them "washed out and faded" and another "pre-eminently artistic."

—Now that the telephone makes it possible for sounds to be canned the same as beef, milk, lobsters, fruit, etc., missionary sermons can be bottled and sent to the South Sea Islands, ready for the table, instead of the missionary himself.

—A London policeman, aged twenty-two, lately reported seven fires within thirty hours. Such amazing activity excited suspicion that he had originated the calamities himself for the informer's reward, and this being proved to the satisfaction of the jury, he has gone to penal servitude for fifteen years.

—Jonathan Walker, the hero of Whittier's lyric, "The man with the branded hand," has just died in Michigan at old age. He was captured in Florida in 1844, convicted of aiding slaves to escape on his coasting vessel, and branded with a hot iron on the palm of the right hand with the letters "S S"—slave stealer.

—Journalists (remarks the N. Y. Mail) have frequently to decide how to put every man's advertisement in the same place at the same time; how to put two columns of matter in one column space; how to display a solid nonpareil advertisement in great primer type, and not occupy more space; how to make news when there is not any; how to fill a paper with fresh sensation when nothing has happened; how to eulogize a dead man's good deeds, when he was notoriously bad all his life; how to write an obituary of a man who has called you mulish all your life, that will not offend the relatives of the deceased; how to make a grand reception out of a mush and milk party of six.

MONDAY, MAY 13, 1878.

Congress.

The Senate on Friday passed the House bill repealing the bankrupt act, after amending it. The text of the bill as passed is as follows:

Be it enacted, etc., that the Bankrupt law, approved March 2, 1867, title 61, Revised Statutes, and an act entitled "An act to amend and supplement an act entitled an act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States, approved March 2, 1867, and for other purposes, approved June 22, 1874," and all acts in amendment or supplementary thereto, or in explanation thereof, be and the same are hereby repealed; provided, however, that such repeal shall in no manner invalidate or offset any case in bankruptcy instituted and pending in any Court prior to the day when this act shall take effect; but as to all such pending cases and all future proceedings therein, and in respect of all pains, penalties and forfeitures which shall have been incurred under any of said acts prior to the day when this act takes effect, or which may be thereafter incurred under any of those provisions of any of said acts which, for the purposes named in this act, are kept in force, and all penal actions and criminal proceedings for a violation of any of said acts, whether then pending or thereafter instituted, and in respect of all rights of debtors and creditors (except the right of commencing original proceedings in bankruptcy,) and all rights of, and suits by or against, assignees under any or all of said acts, in any matter or case which shall have arisen prior to the day when this act takes effect, which shall be on the first day of September, A. D. 1878, or in any matter or case which shall arise after this act takes effect in respect of any matter of bankruptcy authorized by this act, to be proceeded with after said last-named day. The acts hereby repealed shall continue in full force and effect until the same shall be fully disposed of in the same manner as if said acts had not been repealed.

In the House two reports were submitted by the committee on expenditures in the navy department; the majority report was simply a democratic campaign document, having Ex-Sec. Robeson for a text; the minority report agreed with the other in recommending the payment of $8,217,738.76 outstanding bills, but opposed the recommendation to annul certain existing contracts without examination. Most of the day was taken up with wrangling over the payment of a claim to reimburse Richard Heater of Virginia for losses sustained during the war.

Naval Affairs.

The orders detaching Gunner Andrew Harman from duty in charge of the magazine at this navy yard, and placing Gunner Eugene Mack in charge of said magazine, are revoked.

U. S. S. Marion has been ordered to Gilbraltar and thence to Liberia, where Commander Bradford is to act as one of the Commissioners on the question of boundary between Liberia and the British possessions.

During the past month, the commanding officers of the several marine barracks and stations have been furnished with carefully prepared blank forms upon which to make the monthly report of drills and instructions required by G. O. Hdqrs, May 2, 1877. It is the intention of the commandant of the corps to bring it to the highest proficiency in drill and discipline, and the orders upon these points instead of being for buncombe are found to be for fact.

The following naval promotions were on Friday sent to the Senate by the President: Capt. W. E. Hopkins to be Commodore, Commander F. M. Ramsey to be Captain, Lieut.-Commander Frederick Pearson to be Commander, Lieut. Charles A. Schelky to be Lieutenant-Commander, Capt. Thomas Patterson to be Commodore, Commander Richard L. Law to be Captain, Lieut.-Commander John J. Read to be Commander, Lieut. John K. Winn to be Lieutenant-Commander, Commander Haxton to be Captain, Lieut-Commander Edwin T. The Governer and Council, Friday afternoon, appointed John M. Hill of Concord Auditor of Printers' Accounts, in place of William H. Gibson, deceased. The nomination of D. W. Buckminster as Register of Probate for Cheshire county was confirmed. A petition for pardon of George H. C. Wilson, sentenced last October to the Stat Prison for rape, from Wilmot, was presented. The annual visit was made to the Insane Asylum.

Hon. Hiram Hitchcock, President of the Dartmouth National and Savings banks of Hanover, has resigned, to take charge of the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York city.

J. Frederick Parker, while driving a confectionary team near Hooksett, was waylaid by two men, one seizing the horse and the other the wheels of the carriage. Fortunately Parker had a revolver and was allowed to pass.

A strange fish was caught in Lake Winnipesaukee, near the Weirs, a few mornings since, by Hon. E. P. Brown, a member of the N. H. Legislature from Nashua, and J. W. White, president of the Second National Bank, of the same city. They were fishing for the choice trout, which abound in the lake, and were not a little surprised at the first catch, which was nothing else than a large loon. He had dived and caught the shiner at the end of the line, and was hooked in the beak. They captured him alive and have presented him to the city of Boston. The bird may be seen on the public garden.—Boston Herald.

News and Notes.

The revenue cutter McCullough on Thursday anchored in Southwest Harbor and sent a boat on board the Cimbria, which vessel returned the call. Schooner Racehorse, laden with ammunition, coal and lumber was seized at Ellsworth, Me., Friday. by the United States Marshal.

Sheldon & Co. have recently published "The Cadet Button, a tale of American Army Life," by Capt. Frederick Whittaker, author of "Life of Gen. Custer," etc. Although many of the most interesting and successful English and French novels are stories of military life, it is almost an entirely new field for the American writers. The story opens with the hero as a cadet at West Point Academy, and follows him through the various adventures of daily life as an army officer at the frontier posts at the West. As might be expected, a story of life in the American army on the frontier, in which the Indian makes his appearance with all his faults and virtues, cannot fail to be intensely interesting. For sale by Lee & Shepard; price, bound in cloth, $1.50.

A big crowd in Newburyport, who threw stones at the police and made riotous demonstrations, collected Friday evening on the arrest of two drunken roughs, who were carried to the station-house under the pistols of the officers.

Two dories, containing four men belonging to the schooner Oliver Cromwell of Provincetown, were lost in the fog Thursday while out fishing, and have not been heard from since. Fears are entertained as to the safety of the men.

George R. Waterman, formerly assistant paymaster of the Pacific Mills at Lawrence, Mass., who was discharged in October last for stealing a trifle of $100,000, but was allowed to remain at liberty on his promise to refund what he had left of his stealings, has been arrested at the instance of the district attorney to answer for his crime.

The labor troubles in England are increasing. More strikes and lock-outs are announced, and the strikers are rioting.

Barque Charles T. Russell, of New York, from Liverpool bound to Bombay, was burned at sea March 18th, the crew being rescued by the British ship Charles Cotesworth. After the barque had been on fire for some hours, and the decks had got very hot, the French steamship Oronoque passed so close under the burning vessel's stern that the passengers on the steamer's deck could be seen waving hats and handkerchiefs, but though the imperilled crew shouted for aid and the barque had signals of distress set, the steamer kept on without stopping.

Miss Catherine Beecher, Henry Ward Beecher's sister, was stricken with apoplexy on Friday, and was dying in the afternoon.

A variety performer at Evansville, Ind., in attempting to shoot an apple from the head of a woman missed his aim, the ball passing through the canvass and hitting a boy who was playing outside, killing him instantly.

The number of newspapers and other periodicals in the United States, recorded in Pettengill's "Newspaper Directory and Advertisers' Hand-Book for 1878," is 8,133, of which there are 752 daily, 61 tri-weekly, 114 semi-weekly, 6,185 weekly, 111 semi-monthly, 831 monthly, 18 bi-monthly, 61 quarterly. The arrangement of the Directory for ready reference, and for the special and general business purposes of advertisers, is excellent. First we have the general newspaper list; then a list of all the papers, by counties; a list of all the daily papers; a list of the weekly and monthly papers having circulations of over 5,000 copies; a list of religious weekly papers; a list of agricultural and horticultural publications, and comprehensive lists of leading European and Australasian newspapers. The preparation of the Directory bears evidence of extensive and careful labor on the part of the compiler, and the result is a book which is indispensable to newspaper publishers and to that large class of business men who advertise in newspapers.

A $6000 importation of millinery by a fashionable Boston modiste has been seized for frauds on the revenue. The smuggler is Madame A. Santin, of No. 6 Otis place.

An attempt was made on Saturday to murder the Emperor of Germany; several ineffective shots were fired at him from a revolver, when the would-be assassin was disarmed and arrested.

Tragedy in Maine.

At Augusta, Me., Saturday afternoon, Jason Scribner, living on a small farm about three miles from the city proper, with a common spade struck three of his children over the head, felling them to the floor, and striking one after he was down. One, a boy eleven years old, escaped and ran to the neighbors. Maud, three years old, died in less than two hours after receiving the blow. The other two children, a boy three years old, and a girl one year, were fatally injured. The family were in the kitchen at the time of the tragedy. When the babe was struck and fell the mother, who had been previously assaulted, seized her child and escaped from the house. Scribner then dropped the spade and rushed out into the field, and attempted suicide by cutting his throat, but was arrested before making a fatal wound. Some assert that he is insane, though the general opinion is that he is ugly.

Steamship Disaster.

The Allan Line steamship Sardinian, Capt. Dutton, from Liverpool May 9th for Quebec, took fire on Friday at the entrance to Londonderry harbor, Ireland, through an explosion of gas in the fore hold. She had on board at the time about 460 passengers, mostly German and Italian, with a few English and Scotch. Several persons were killed and many injured by the explosion; and the vessel was scuttled and sunk in thirty feet of water, to put out the fire.

— When Mr. Billony went home yesterday and saw a handsome bouquet reposing on one of the parlor chairs, he mentally observed that it was a shame to let such beautiful flowers lie there to wither; so he took them up tenderly, procured a basin of water and placed them in carefully therein—and the same instant his wife gave a piercing shriek and fainted dead away. But it was too late.—Mrs. Billony's new spring bonnet was utterly ruined.—Norristown Herald.

A Tranquil Nervous System

Can never be possessed by those whose digestive and assimilative organs are in a state of chronic disorder. Weak stomachs make weak nerves. To restore vigor and quietude to the latter, the first must be invigorated and regulated. The ordinary sedatives may tranquilize the nerves for a while, but they can never, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, remove the causes of nervous debility. That superb invigorant and corrective of disordered conditions of the alimentary organs has also the effect of imparting tone to the nerves. The delicate tissues of which they are constituted, when weakened in consequence of impoverishment of the blood, resulting from imperfect digestion and assimilation, draw strength from the fund of vitality developed in the system by the Bitters, which imparts the required impetus to the nutritive functions of the stomach, enriches the circulation, and gives tone and regularity to the secretive and excnatory organs.

THE CITY.

The May term of the Probate Court will be held here to-morrow.

Messrs. Randall & Caswell on Saturday received a gondola load of ice from Dover.

Steamer Mystic went up the river on Saturday with two heavily-laden coal barges in tow.

Ex-Governors Straw and Cheney were in town on Saturday, and tested the cuisine at the Rockingham.

The lower masts of the U. S. S. Omaha were taken out by the boatswain's gang at the navy yard on Saturday.

The Governor and Council on Friday confirmed the nomination of Walter C. Harriman, Esq., of this city, as County Solicitor for Rockingham county.

Among the passengers by the White Star steamship Germanic, from New York for Liverpool on Saturday, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Barnabee.

The schooner Clara E. Simpson, Capt. Talpey, after an absence of six months arrived at Concord Railroad wharf on Saturday, with 600 tons of coal consigned to C. E. Walker & Co., for Manchester.

A new order went into effect on the Eastern Railroad last week. Station agents are forbidden to sell tickets to passengers to ride on freight trains, and no passengers will be allowed on the freight trains.

On Thursday night the fish market of Randall & Caswell was entered, in what way the proprietors have not been able to discover. The thieves were very considerate, helping themselves only to a few mackerel.

The steamer Williamsport, which arrived here last week, discharged 1640 tons of coal in twenty-one hours and a half at Concord Railroad wharf, with the delay of handling in the time 370 cars. This is the best time on record here.

Alluding to the report published in the Times "on good greenback authority," that Gen. Marston would shortly come out as a greenbacker of the greenest backed kind, the News-Letter says: "We are authorized by General Marston to state that there is no truth whatever in the above report, which is now going the rounds of the press."

The City Guards were on Friday evening inspected by Col. Vaughan, and made a very respectable appearance, both in their drill and their numbers. Some of our spirited citizens are making efforts to procure the very much needed new uniforms for the boys, which we hope will be soon forthcoming. They were visited by officers and members from other companies in the city.

The schooner Ella Hodsdon, Capt. T. Metcalf, with 340 tons of coal sold by Sise & Co. to Hon. Frank Jones, arrived at Concord Railroad wharf on Saturday, but receiving orders to remove to Jones' wharf slipped down the river and kept on slipping, breaking lines, letting go hawsers and dragging two anchors until she bumped against Adams & Co.'s lumber wharf, where she slightly injured the upper works of her stern, at last bringing up at Rollins' wharf, where she lay until the turn of the tide and then quietly retraced her course to Jones' wharf. Nobody was hurt, but several bodies were considerably frightened.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, May 11th; Batchelder, J.

Artie Whalen, (formerly Artie Barney and Artie various other names,) Jennie Parks, Mary Jones and Elizabeth Lee, were each fined $6, costs $3.90, for drunkenness, and all went to Brentwood in default of payment. Complaint was made on Friday to the police that on the previous night the occupants of house No. 4 Hunking street, and their visitors if they had any, were engaged in a high old time; so a descent was made on the place, and the Whalen woman, Jennie Parks and Mary Jones, found all together in one bed, all very drunk. The City Marshal says it was the filthiest place he ever entered, and the indications were that the occupants had been engaged in breaking up housekeeping; the stove was upside down, the wrecks of three or four chairs scattered about, and dirt and squalor everywhere. The den is effectually broken up now, for the present at least.

Thomas Sheeny, Charles Horton and David Munsey, all drunk, $9.90 each, fine and costs. Munsey paid; Sheeny and Horton went to Brentwood.

THE CENSUS.

The city census takers have completed their labors and made their returns, the result showing as follows: Population of ward one, 3500; ward two, 3949; ward three, 796; ward four, 1564; total population of the city, 9809—a gain of 598 since the national census was taken in 1870, the population then being 9211.

According to this census ward one, by the new appointment under the amended Constitution of the State, is entitled to three representatives in the Legislature; ward two to the same number; ward three and ward four to one representative each. Thus the city will have eight representatives in the Legislature which will meet in June, 1879, against ten in the present one and eight in the one which meets next June—ward one having chosen but a single representative at the late election. Were the city a town, or all comprised in one ward, the representation would be the same, a population of 9000 being required for eight representatives, on the basis of 600 persons for the first one and 1200 for each subsequent one.

Ward one has a surplus of 500 inhabitants over the number required to give it the representation specified; ward two, 949; ward three, 166; and ward four, 964.

REAL ESTATE CONVEYANCES.

The following transfers of real estate in this vicinity have been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds:

PORTSMOUTH.

Timothy S. Lynch to Cornelius O'Keefe, land and buildings on Washington street, $230.

John Shute to Charles E. Walker, land and buildings on Rogers street, $1305.

Morris W. Bodge to Charles H. Garrett, land and buildings on State street, one dollar.

Mary S. Perry to Ellen H. Cobb, land and buildings on Rockingham street, $1700.

NEWINGTON.

Lydia Furber and Francis I. Nutter to Isaac Dow, land, $175.

Walter Scott, et al., to Thomas B. Hoyt, land $160.

John Downing, of Portsmouth, to Isaac Dow, land $800.

GREENLAND.

Samuel G. Folsom to Herbert C. Tufts, land, $1000.

Carrie A. Norton to Enoch H. Clark, land, $1.

HAMPTON.

Oliver Towle to Mary E. Ames, of Cambridge, Mass., land, $4000.

STRATHAM.

Thomas Morris to Mary F. Wiggin, land, and buildings, $350.

NEWMARKET.

B. F. Haley to Trustees of Methodist Episcopal church, land, $1.

SUPREME COURT.

The following divorces have been granted at the present term of the Court at Exeter:

Henry Tattersall of Exeter from Elizabeth Tattersall.

Hannah A. Merrill of Hampton from George E. Merrill. Lamprey for libellant.

Sadie L. Harmon of Hampton from Fred. E. Harmon. Lamprey for libellant.

THE VICINITY.

Schooner Fleetwing ran into York river last week, with a cargo of coal to J. P. Simpson, of York.

Schooner Hampden, ashore at Hampton Beach, with her cargo of 250 tons of coal, will be sold on Tuesday.

Rev. John F. Aiken of Pawlet, Vermont, declines the call of the Congregational church at Newington, to become its pastor.

The population of Dover, by the census just taken under municipal authority, is now 10,360, a gain of 1,067 since 1870, when the national census gave the number as 9,293.

The census of Newington, just taken by direction of the selectmen, we are informed shows an increase of about 200 in the population since 1870, when the census taker returned the number at 414. Mistake somewhere, or big increase.

The committee appointed at the last gathering of the Stratham Literary Union for the purpose, have selected the following named gentlemen to act as trustees for the free library: Capt. Samuel S. Chase, James H. Diman, and Joseph T. Smart.

Seventeen years ago Mr. Rufus McIntire removed from York to Caribou, Aroostook county, Maine; he returned to York last fall on his first visit, and stopped all winter; this spring he went back to Caribou, and on the 18th of April sowed wheat, which on May 7th was five inches high by actual measurement, the grass at the same time being two inches high, having grown to that height in two days. Mr. McIntire says that from four to six hills of potatoes will generally yield a bushel, in his neighborhood. Corn does well there, too, a Mr. Clemens, of Kenduskeag, having last year raised 123 1-2 bushels of shelled corn to an acre of ground.

A New York attorney has recently been in York, enquiring concerning the pedigree of the Webber family of that town, who are believed to be lineal descendants and heirs of the parties who a century ago leased to the Trinity Church corporation of New York the property now held by it and of such great value.

Hawks are very numerous in York county, Me., this spring, and show most objectionable enterprise in the business of "raising chickens." The farmers of that district are generally pleased with the stringent law passed by the Maine Legislature at its last session for the protection of small birds, but they think a bounty should have been put on hawks.

On Thursday night the picture frame manufactory and store of I. C. Connor, in Tetherly's Block, Dover, took fire from spontaneous combustion, as is supposed, and his stock was damaged about $1000 by smoke and water; damage to building $200; insured. The house of William Paul, on Belknap street, Dover, was damaged about $800 on Friday by a fire which caught in the cellar; insured.

The Cocheco Mills, at Dover, which started up on Monday of last week with about the same number of weavers as were at work when the strike occurred, had a gradual increase in this class of operatives each day during the week. The agent gave the old help all the work in which to return and take their places; but the days of grace ended on Saturday, and all vacant places will be at once promptly filled with help from abroad.

Years ago the woods on Gerrish's island were resorted to in the breeding season by thousands of bitterns, which built their nests in the tall pines; but the timber in some of their favorite haunts having been cut off, for three or four years past large numbers of them have built in the woods about the head of York river. The first year they built in their new quarters they occupied a patch of woods extending from the river up to a rail fence; but though the woods extended much further the birds stopped at the fence line, some trees close to the fence having several nests on the side next the river and none on the other. The next year they crossed the fence, and now build in the woods well over to the Piscataqua river. The birds arrive on the breeding grounds in April and leave in October, going to the sea in flocks every morning and returning at night; the females lay from four to six eggs each. They are perfectly harmless, never touching fruit or grain; and much indignation is expressed by some of the neighboring farmers over the wanton shooting of numbers of the poor birds by thoughtless boys and cruel men, who generally leave them on the ground after killing them. A branch of the long-named society which is doing such good work in New Hampshire would be a good thing over there.

MARRIAGES.

PERLEY—DOWE. In Hampton Falls, May 5th by Rev. Mr. Burgess, Mr. Charles M. Perley, of Portland, Me., freight conductor on the Eastern Railroad for the past sixteen years, and Miss Mary E. Dowe, youngest daughter of the late Mary A. Dowe, of Hampton Falls.

DEATHS.

TROTT. At Jamaica Plain, Mass., May 8th, Mr. Amos Trott, formerly of this city, aged 65 years, 5 months and 29 days. The remains were brought here for interment.

CUSHING. At Waupon, Wis., April 16th, Mrs. Elizabeth Cushing, wife of Rev. James Cushing and sister of the late George Raynes of this city. Mr. Cushing formerly belonged to the Methodist Conference of Maine, and preached in Kittery, Eliot and South Berwick.

Portsmouth Chronicle

—The braggart of the season — The small wild flower that simply blows.

—The Chicago Times has a department headed "Pearls," which it casts before the people of Chicago.

— Some one with an inconveniently good memory, recalls the fact that John Kelly was once a bruiser himself, and that he displayed such pugilistic prowess in a barroom fight with one Keenan, thirty years ago, as to lead his friends to think of matching him with Yankee Sullivan.

— The old man, in a playful mood, threw down the spade his wife had put in his hand with which to dig up a geranium bed, with the remark, preposterously unintelligible to her as he supposed, "I turn down a spade; make it you." "Look here, Barnabas, you take that up like a man, or I'll make the trump next in color, and go it alone for the rest of the season." Barnabas took up his cross.

—A Texan paper relates the story of a family who left Terrell, that State, the other day in a two-horse wagon. Just outside the town the man and wife quarreled. The woman jumped out of the wagon, unhitched one of the horses, and declared that she meant to play quits. The girl joined the mother, and the two rode away. The old man and the boy and the other horse were left to take long as best they could.

— Who laughs last gets left. — Still water don't run at all.—By night all cats are gray.—Discretion is nine points of the law.—Man proposes, but her father disposes.—It's a long lane that has no style about it.—All that glitters is not worth its face value.—Don't paint the devil whiter than he deserves.—Where there's a will there's a plea of insanity.

—Some people are finding fault with the dimensions of the silver dollar, but in our opinion its size depends altogether upon circumstances. For instance, when you hand it to your wife to pay for the last week's washing it looks big enough to eclipse a full moon, but when you toss it on the counter and yell "Setemupagin!" it looks as insignificant as a peppermint lozenge in a cheese factory.—Brooksville Democrat.

— Insects generally must lead a joyful life. Think what it must be to lodge in a lily. Imagine a palace of ivory or pearl, with pillows of silver or gold, all exhaling such a perfume as never arose from human censor. Fancy again the fun of tucking yourself up for the night in the folds of a rose, rocked to sleep by the gentle sigh of a summer air, and nothing to do when you awake but wash yourself in a dew-drop and fall to and eat your bedclothes.

—A London lady lately made a party at which all the ladies were to be dressed in the classical Greek costume, but although there was a large response to the invitations, there were only two or three women who dared to imitate the Greek; the majority had simply worn the costume over thick English undergarments, which made it about as attractive as if it had been stretched over wires and wax at one of the Alexandra costume exhibitions.

— Surgeon A. L. Cox, who died at Chattanooga, was an eccentric and enthusiastic army physician in the late war. One day, soon after the battle of Antietam, he essayed to amputate the mangled limb of a Confederate soldier, and became so much absorbed in his delicate task that he did not notice that the man was dying. As he began sewing up the stump a hospital steward chanced along and said: "Doctor, there's no use going on, the man is dead." The surgeon looked up in surprise, and then said: "I am sorry that the poor fellow is dead, but there is one consolation about the matter —he has gone to heaven with a 'flap' that he can be proud of."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public almost forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it the confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most efficacious cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of the earliest attacks. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed:
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis.
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

BOSTON and NEW YORK.
THE MAMMOTH STEAMSHIPS
Bristol and Providence,
Of this Line, are the Largest, Handsomest, and Most Costly in the World!
Trains leaving Boston from the OLD COLONY Railroad Station at 4:30 (Accommodation) and 6 (Steamboat Express) P. M., connect with these "Floating Palaces" at Fall River daily (Sundays excepted), arriving in New York at 6 A. M.
No line can offer the accommodations presented by this favorite route—
ONLY 49 MILES OF RAIL,
Passing through Narragansett and Mount Hope Bays by daylight—
NO DISAGREEABLE NIGHT CHANGES,

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES
Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.
NATURAL SELECTION.
Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—I am tired of being read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 25 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "powders," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would snuff up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable customer for such medicines. Agradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was walking and spitting seven-eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by mechanical pressure, the only way to effectually with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eighteen months I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly, S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Cholagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery
By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and in "Torpid Liver" complaint it is equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.
When the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flushes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the Iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Erysipelas and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and Consumption fall victims to the effections of the lungs follow, in many instances, a case of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of this remedy. The hard, encrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed after a few applications; the ulceration and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous linings of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through one nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy to relieve the throat, being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times in a night to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no dropping in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from the time made my familiar with his case. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

FITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

The Huge Monsters That Once Walked the Earth and Swam the Seas

Very Munchausenlike would be the stories geologists tell us of huge creatures that existed in the early ages of our planet, were not their fossil remains occasionally presented to view. Not very many years ago, while a sportsman, with his dog and gun, was in pursuit of game in a rural region of Louisiana, he was thrown off his balance by coming in contact with what he at first supposed to be the stump of a young tree, but which proved to be a bone protruding a couple of inches from the surface of the ground. After digging around it with his hunting-knife to the depth of a couple of feet and finding it still immovable, he procured assistance from a plantation not far off, and it was not until reaching the depth of ten feet that he came to the end of it, when it proved to be the portion only of a rib of some huge animal, and a space of 130 feet in length, 60 feet in width and 25 in depth had to be turned up before gathering the various parts that remained of a monster skeleton, such as had never before been seen. The largest of the bones, supposed to be that of the jaw of one side, was twenty feet long, weighing 1200 pounds, and of a hardness that blunted the edge of an axe when struck against it; the ribs, of which portions of others were found, when whole it was estimated could not have been less than twenty-five feet in length, and all the rest of the bones in proportion. To show the vast dimensions of the creature when living, the bones of other animals, those of the mammoth, the elephant, the ox and the horse, were exhibited with them when they reached New York; from which it appeared, as a distinguished naturalist remarked at the time, that a mammoth bore no more comparison in size to such a creature than a rat to a mammoth; the vertebræ, or joints of the backbone of the monster, being twenty inches in breadth, with a passage for the spinal marrow of eight to ten inches in diameter. While they were on exhibition in Boston, a visitor, who affected to know a great deal about natural history, said they were "nothing but the bones of a whale," and the story at once got into the newspapers; but a whale-ship captain, from New Bedford, who chanced to be in Boston, and went to see them, pronounced them no more like the bone of whale than those of a donkey," adding, humorously, "and no one with even the intelligence of a donkey would have so asserted, having not a bone like those of a whale, especially unless whales have legs, and here is a knee-joint, pan-bone and all, as is plainly visible." Much sport was had among visitors in imagining the little creature, which it was calculated could not have been less than a hundred feet in length, stalking about the Common, taking in the water of the frog-pond at a draught, and snipping off "the big tree" at its base, as a cow would a cabbage.

From discoveries made a year since by a student of Oberlin College, immense fossil remains of a hitherto unknown species of animal have been exhumed in Colorado, that Prof. Hayden, of the U. S. Geological Survey, is of opinion could not have been less than a hundred feet in length and otherwise of like proportions, to which the name of camarasuras supremas has been given. While many others have been found in fragments, 8000 pounds of bones have been recovered from the earth, in which they are computed by the learned in such matters to have been buried for millions of years; but however correct that may be, certain it is that they are the remains of an immense creature that it is supposed had shorter legs, like a kangaroo, before than behind, and could so raise himself on his hind legs as to be able to browse off a tree sixty to seventy feet in height. Remains of other animals scarcely less in dimensions have also been found in the same regions, to which names have been given equally unfamiliar to the general reader, and the age of whose existence is imagined to be quite as far back in the past. From the crushed condition in which the bones of some of the smaller creatures were found (yet we would consider them of mammoth proportions,) it would seem as if they had been preyed upon by the larger creatures found in the same locality.

Dr. Albert Kock, a German naturalist, during six years spent in the far Western States, especially Missouri, in search of fossils, animal and vegetable, had his labors rewarded by the discovery of the only perfect skeleton of a mammoth that had ever been seen, and that of an animal larger than either the mammoth or mastodon, that, for want of a name, he called "the great Missourium," all of which he took with him to Europe on his departure to enrich there the stock of such curiosities, instead of their being kept here as they doubtless would be in these later days, for the museum of natural history, probably, of the New York Central Park. Returning to this country in 1844, he discovered at the lower rapids of the Missouri river a previously unknown animal of a gigantic frog species, that must in his time have made a terrific croaking on summer nights, drowning the voices of all the bull-frogs ever collected in a swamp of the largest dimensions, and taking tremendous leaps at a single bound; finding also the footprints of some previously unfamiliar species of animal that bore a close resemblance to those of the human foot; but his crowning achievement was in exhuming, from a bed of limestone in Alabama, the entire skeleton, 114 feet in length, of an immense fossil sea-serpent, that when covered with its flesh, must, it was estimated, have been at least six to seven feet in diameter. Twenty feet from the head were two arms or paddles, by which it could have propelled itself through the water, either below or on the surface, at great speed. A terrible fellow he would have been to encounter on the ocean, and a formidable foe to one of the marine serpents of a later age, the biggest of whom he would have swallowed at a single gulp. In the month, to look into which visitors had to mount to the gallery of the hall where it was exhibited, besides palate bones for crushing its food, were the sockets for forty-four spear-shaped teeth,—those remaining being from six to eight inches in length. Professor Silliman, the elder, who visited it many times while it was on exhibition at Apollo Hall in New York, pronounced it not of the Saurian or Lizard, but the Hydrargos species, and the name was given to it of the Hydrargos Sillimandi. Dr. Kock had also among his curiosities half the skull-bone of some rare monster, an eye of which, judging from the socket, would have filled a good-sized washtub.

It would not be pleasant to have such appalling creatures "taking their walks abroad" in our time, or the birds who left such amazing footprints behind them, indicating that they might look into a third-story window, and awake at an unseasonable hour, with their dulcet notes, a sleeper from his slumbers.

Fifty-Sixth Call of Bonds.

The Secretary of the Treasury has probably read Howe Call's pronunciamento, as the champion of the greenback cause, and that official at once issued a call for the government bonds so be passed in by the bloated widows and orphans who hold them. This is the fifty-sixth call for the redemption of the five-twenty bonds of 1865. The principal and interest will be paid at the Treasury on and after the 30th of July next, and the interest will close on that day. The following are descriptions of the bonds:

Coupon bonds, dated July 1, 1865, namely: $50, Nos. 50,001 to 53,000, both inclusive; $100, Nos. 85,001 to 90,000, both inclusive; $500, Nos. 60,001 to 68,000, both inclusive; $1,000, Nos. 108,001, to 114,400, not inclusive. Total coupon bonds, $3,000,000.

Registered bonds, redeemable at the pleasure of the United States after the first day of July, 1870, as follows: $50, Nos. 1,751 to 1,900, both inclusive; $100, Nos. 14,101 to 15,000, both inclusive; $500, Nos. 9,701 to 9,200 both inclusive; $1000, Nos. 28,751 to 30,100, both inclusive; $5000, Nos. 3,051 to 8,300, both inclusive; $10,000, Nos. 14,851 to 15,507, both inclusive. Total registered bonds $2,000,000. Total, $5,000,000.

A Fair Average.

Last week, at the session of the Supreme Court held at Amherst, Julian Clark, Frank Gilson and James Parker, indicted by the grand jury for breaking and entering the Nashua Telegraph office and stealing money, postage stamps and other property and knocking type into pie; also for breaking and entering the house of Isabella Wood of Nashua and stealing $510 from a man by the name of Howe, were discharged by the court on their personal recognizance. A Manchester boy named Edward Prindible, for breaking and entering an office and stealing postage stamps to the value of twelve cents, was sent to the State Prison for a period of fourteen months! This to the non-professional mind looks as if the Hillsborough county court was one of those mentioned by Mrs. Partington, in which "justice is dispensed with;" and brings to memory a famous term held in this city long ago, when a murderer was let off with a year's imprisonment, and a man who stole a handsaw got "sent up" for three years. No wonder Justice is called the blind goddess; she ought also to be represented as being afflicted with occasional spells of idiocy.

News and Notes.

Mrs. Weller, 60 years of age, going into her cellar at Westfield, Mass., Friday afternoon, stumbled and fell into a well, where she remained, managing to keep her head above water from 3 o'clock till 10, when she was rescued. She was terribly chilled, but it is thought she will recover.

Saturday morning E. W. Hall, ex-President of the Merchants Bank, at Whitehall, N. Y., was arrested on a charge of embezzling $100,000 of the funds of the institution. He was brought to Troy, and held in $10,000 for examination.

Well conducted metropolitan newspapers now reserve an entire column for daily defalcations, and one or more to detail contested wills.

More than sixteen thousand applications for pensions under the act of March 9th, 1868, giving pensions to soldiers of the war of 1812 and their widows, were filed within sixty days after passage of the act.

Two new volumes of the "No Name" series of novels and tales published by Messrs. Roberts Brothers of Boston have just appeared: "Mirage," by the author of Kismet, a book of 346 pages; and "Marmoine." This story is told by Adolphus Legrave, the youngest of three brothers. The incident of the latter story approaches, if it does not reach the improbable. Suffice it to say that from the reputation of the eminent authors in this series of books, and the lively curiosity to read these new works of unannounced writers, a ready sale of these new and attractive works may be expected. The volumes are in the cardinal red and black which distinguishes the works of this series, and like the preceding volumes they are well printed.

What Massachusetts requires is a spacious establishment in which to entertain her Treasurers and other irregular financiers, pending investigation into their accounts, and proceedings for compromise. Some such building as the Somerset Club House in Boston, for example, would answer, where the restrained officials might live in a fitting style during the period extending from their arrest to their release.

Miss Catherine E. Beecher died on Sunday, at the age of seventy-eight years.

The schooner Racehorse, whose seizure has already been reported, was simply attached for debt for supplies furnished. Her cargo of arms and ammunition led to the wildest rumors that she was a Russian privateer or a "Fenian navy."

The four men lost from the schooner Oliver Cromwell, at Provincetown, and supposed to be drowned, were picked up and brought in Saturday by the schooner Waldron Holmes.

New Hampshire Items.

The selectmen of Rochester recently found living in a one-story frame house, with a small basement, five families, numbering thirty-two persons.

It is denied that the president of the National Bank at Hanover is to keep the Fifth Avenue Hotel. It by no means follows that because a man can be a successful bank president that he can keep a hotel, although some towns upon the Connecticut river have furnished some of the ablest hotel men the world has ever seen.

The photograph saloon of George H. Tebbetts, at Laconia, was destroyed by fire Saturday forenoon. Loss $1000; insurance $500. Two buildings adjoining, belonging to Joseph Sanborn, W. L. Thompson and Charles P. Clement, were considerably damaged. Clement is insured. The explosion of a kerosene lamp was the cause of the fire.

An incendiary fire on Saturday morning destroyed the dwelling house of George Miller at Salem. The family, consisting of Mrs. Miller and two daughters, narrowly escaped suffocation by jumping from a chamber window; loss $1800; insured $800.

—Sunday night conversation; dramatis personæ, a theological student and two juniors; subject, the existence of angels. First junior, "The Bible endorses the belief in angels; you know the prayer of one of the apostles 'Angels and ministers of grace defend us.'" Theological student. "That is not in the Bible." Second junior, "Of course it isn't; it's in the book of Common Prayer, and that is no authority." Universal assent.—Harvard Crimson.

Is Medicine a Science?

As generally understood, science consists in deducing facts from theory, and as the mathematician requires a knowledge of one factor in order to determine the value of unknown factors, so medicine, when practiced as a science, demands a knowledge of one or more facts, upon which to base its calculations. Understood and practiced in this way, the blunders of guess-work are avoided. In preparing his now popular Family Medicines, R. V. Pierce, M. D., of Buffalo, N. Y., devoted much time to the careful investigation of the several classes of diseases for which his remedies are prescribed as specifics. The unparalleled success attests in arguments stronger than words the Doctor's skill. His Golden Medical Discovery is unsurpassed in curing diseases of the throat, lungs, liver, and blood; while the Favorite Prescription is sold under a positive guarantee to cure those diseases and weaknesses peculiar to women. No remedy yet known equals Dr. Pierce's Compound Extract of Smart-Weed in curing dysentery and kindred irregularities of the bowels. Over one hundred thousand copies of the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser have been sold. Price $1.50, post-paid. Address the author, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Political.

Clarkson Potter, aided by Speaker Randall, on Monday introduced in the House the democratic scheme for making political capital for that party, called the Florida investigating resolutions.

The speech which Hendrick B. Wright made to an empty House appears in the Record spiced at frequent intervals with the word "applause," and ornamented with the stirring parenthetical tail-piece: "Loud and long continued applause." The question arises, who made this noise? The pages were all asleep, the acting Speaker was incapable of such indecorum, and it follows that Wright must have made it himself.

Stanley Matthews declines to be a candidate for Congress from the second district of Ohio, now represented by the Bounding Banning, who was elected by Eph Holland and his gangs of Baltimore repeaters in Cincinnati. This is cheering news; for however much of a demagogue Banning may be, he can't hold a candle to Stanley Matthews.

Although the pension applications of the Union soldiers are more than a year in arrears, the boys shouldn't complain. The "economy" of our "democratic House" is too excessive to allow a sufficient number of clerks to bring up the arrears, and the stalwart pensioner will not suffer as much by a year or two more as this impecunious, tax-ridden country would by hiring clerks enough to do its business. If we were not "economical" in some of these trifling matters, we couldn't appropriate seven million dollars in a lump for the improvement of navigation in trout streams and frog ponds in the favored "deestricts."—Lake Village Times.

The democratic Legislature of Ohio, on the urgent advice of Reformer Randall, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, has gerrymandered the Congressional districts of Ohio in the most outrageous manner, so that with an even vote between the parties in the State the democrats will have fourteen Congressmen out of twenty.

—Several years ago a young man in New Orleans put a sum of money in a savings bank, and forgot all about it until recently, when, after reckoning up the interest, it was found that—the bank had failed.

— The tax collector of Greenwood, Steuben county, N. Y., though backed by a sheriff's posse of forty-seven men, concluded it was not safe to sell the farm of William Atkins on account of a tax levied for the town's railroad indebtedness, as 200 solid yeomanry had gathered to resist the sale. The farmers maintain that there is no law for this burden sought to be placed upon them and will not submit to a tax which they call robbery in the name of law.

A Tranquil Nervous System

Can never be possessed by those whose digestive and assimilative organs are in a state of chronic disorder. Weak stomachs make weak nerves. To restore vigor and quietude to the latter, the first must be invigorated and regulated. The ordinary sedatives may tranquilize the nerves for a while, but they can never, like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, remove the causes of nervous debility. That superb invigorant and corrective of disordered conditions of the alimentary organs has also the effect of imparting tone to the nerves, The delicate tissues of which they are constituted, when weakened in consequence of impoverishment of the blood, resulting from imperfect digestion and assimilation, draw strength from the fund of vitality developed in the system by the Bitters, which imparts the required impetus to the nutritive functions of the stomach, enriches the circulation, and gives tone and regularity to the secretive and excretive organs.

THE CITY.

See advertisement of sale by auction, at noon to-day, of wrecked schooner Hampden, with her cargo of 250 tons coal, at Hampton Beach.

Hon. N. B. Bryant, of Boston, Ex-Speaker of the New Hampshire House of Representatives, will deliver the oration at Music Hall on the evening of Memorial Day.

The Naval Board of Survey has convened at this navy yard to make a survey of the United States steamer Omaha, which went out of commission Thursday. It is composed of Naval Constructors Edward Hartt, Theodore D. Wilson and Philip Hichborn, and Commander Henry Erben.

Mr. Martin Hoyt having disposed of an interest in his hair dressing business to Mr. William H. Stringer, Jr., the friends of the latter will hereafter find him during business hours at the rooms of Hoyt & Stringer, No. 26 Congress street. Both members of the firm are skillful with the razor and shears, and give a customer as easy and clean a shave or as neat a crop as he can get anywhere.

On Monday morning, when Dr. Potter opened his barn, his large and favorite Newfoundland dog "Tom" rushed past him, sprang over the fence and ran away, something he had never done before, as he was always fond of being petted and was a very affectionate animal. The doctor on looking around discovered unmistakable evidence that the dog had run mad, and hastening into the house got his revolver and started in pursuit. He discovered the dog running up the railroad track at a brisk rate, and fearing that he might escape took aim at him and at the first fire shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

On the morning of the 12th inst., as a young man who knows well how to sail a boat was amusing himself by so doing in the cove between Peirce's island and the first Newcastle bridge, a squall struck the boat and rolled her over, but carrying no ballast she did not sink, and the wet navigator hung on to her, so he did not sink either. The accident was noticed by people on shore, who called the attention of Mr. James Miller, who had just got under weigh with his well known pleasure yacht and fishing vessel The Humbug, and who immediately doused his main-peak and jibed his boom, ran down to the scene of the disaster, fished aboard the wet mariner, and towed the capsized boat ashore on Peirce's island.

On Sunday a party of tramps, three or four in number, called at the Hayes farm at the Plains and informed "Jerry" that they wanted certain things to eat; Jerry informed the very particular tramps there was nothing of the kind around there for them, and they informed him that they would have what they wanted, whether it was there or not. Then Jerry and the tramps had a fight, in which Jerry got a bloody nose and gave one of the pedestrians a black eye, and then knocked another one over a gap in the stone wall, finally putting the lot to ignominious rout. If Jerry had only thought to have turned loose that old bull of the uncertain—or rather certainly ill-natured—temper, he would have made things lively for the tramps, and the rest of the public as well, for an hour or two.

For several evenings a dealer in "medicine for the blood," or something of the kind, has had big audiences on Market square as he addressed them on everything in general and nothing in particular. His first appearance was on Friday afternoon, when he rode around town on horseback—and he just can sit a saddle, too—dressed in what we suppose is the "swell" costume of the frontier beau, swinging his sombrero and announcing "a free lecture on Market square this evening." He looks like a half-breed, talks well, has a most retentive memory, has evidently "been around," is not overburdened with an overweening bashfulness, and sells lots of his medicine—which may be the Great Medicine of the red man, for aught we know to the contrary. We are informed that he says he has "travelled more, seen more, and knows more than any other man living;" and that no person can ask him a question on any subject which he cannot answer correctly and intelligently. That is a good thing. We wish he would explain what good the present Congress is to the business interests of the country.

Sunday night was a cold one; there was a light frost at Sagamore creek and in several places about the city, and one gentleman reports that a basin of water left out over night was found skimmed over with ice in the morning. We have not learned that the frost was heavy enough to do any damage.

Arrangement are nearly completed for the appearance of the Carleton English Opera Company at Music Hall on the evening of May 22d, in Auber's favorite opera of "Fra Diavolo." The company comprises Miss Marie Stone, Miss Adelaide Randall, Miss Carrie Burton, Charles N. Clark, Percy Cooper, Wm. H. McDonald, E. S. Payson, Mr. Hennessey, Wm. I. Carleton, prima bartitone for the past four years with the Kellogg English Opera Company, and a full chorus and orchestra under direction of Mr. Wm. Taylor.

The whaleboat fleet, that is the part of it that belongs to the south end, was all out Monday, starting at two A. M., and returning at about six o'clock P. M. The following are some of the boat owners' names, and their fares for Monday: Chas. Wallace, 500 lbs.; Benjamin Maloon, 450 lbs.; James Burke, 800 lbs.; J. Harvey, 450 lbs.; J. Harvey, Jr., 700 lbs.; David Burke, 960 lbs.; William Jenkins, 300 lbs.; William Holmes, 500 lbs.; Daniel Clark, 650 lbs. fish, 300 lobsters; Oliver Adams, 800 lbs.; Augustus Maloon, 430 lbs.; Elvin Newton (under-run,) 400 lbs.; Henry Hunnefield, 450 lbs.; John Caswell, 1800 lbs. The fish run rather small, and prices in proportion; 75 cents for large fish, 37 cents for small ones.

POLICE COURT.

Monday, May 13th; Batchelder, J.

Caroline Brew was brought up, charged with having been drunk, but the evidence not being conclusive she was discharged.

Julia Harrington was shown to have been drunk on Sunday; she pleaded to be let off, promising that if she was dealt gently with she would give evidence against the person who furnished her the liquor to get drunk on; so she was allowed to go on probation.

Mary Kelly was arraigned for keeping a rum-hole open on Sunday. Julia Harrington, whose conscience had been quickened, confessed Mary's misdoing; the evidence showed that the liquor was given away, but the place was open against the peace and dignity of the State and the law made and provided, etc., so the Kelly woman was fined $5, costs being taxed at $5.76, which she paid.

PORTSMOUTH HARBOR LIGHT.

The new light-house at Fort Point (Portsmouth Harbor Light) is so far completed that the light was shown from it on Saturday night for the first time. The new tower is of cast iron, made in sections at Portland, and put together there and each piece numbered before being sent around here; it is of much less diameter than the old wooden tower, which was originally 110 feet in height, having been built by the State of New Hampshire prior to the National Government assuming control of the lighthouse system of the country, and handed over to the latter in 1789, forty years before the first lighthouse was built on Whale's-back, and thirty-two years before the first lighthouse was erected on White island, at the Shoals. The old tower was cut down fifty feet in 1854, leaving it still sixty feet from base to focal plane; and the new one is a few feet lower still. The new tower tapers slightly from base to lantern-deck, and has a brick wall inside, built so as to leave an air space between the brick and iron; a spiral staircase of iron furnishes the means of ascent for the keeper. It was put up inside the old tower, from whose lantern the light was exhibited on Friday night for the last time; as soon as the light was extinguished Saturday morning the old lantern was removed, and as before mentioned the new lighthouse was used Saturday night. In cutting away the heavy timbers of the old tower to make room for the new one, the wood was found as sound as when first put in, the heavy sills only being rotten; yet the old tower has been standing a century or more. The illuminating material used in the new tower is kerosene, this being the first 4th Order light in the country fitted for burning this oil, all the others still using lard oil; all the 5th Order lights have already been converted into kerosene burners, and the other orders are to be so converted as fast as possible.

Work on the fog-horn tower at Whale's-back is to be commenced at once, the preliminaries having already been attended to. The old stone tower being beyond repair, an iron tower is to be erected exactly north of the new stone tower from which the light is now exhibited, with a connecting bridge of iron between the two. This will give the fog-horn tower the protection of the new stone tower from the force of the sea, and the old tower is to be allowed to stand as long as it pleases, unless it should be decided to tumble all its mass of material into the water outside of the other tower, to act as a break for the waves. This would no doubt be a good use to put the old tower to, but we are informed that the cement with which it was put together is so hard that the expense of tearing it to pieces would be very great—more than the department is authorized to expend. It will not cost anything (but time) to let the sea take it down, unless it should happen to tumble against the other tower, in which case the keepers would probably be much astonished, not to say frightened.

THE VICINITY.

Mr. Darius Frink has been appointed postmaster of Newington.

Bishop Niles made his annual visitation at St. Thomas' church in Dover on Sunday.

Mrs. Mehitable Smith died in Exeter on Saturday, aged one hundred years and four months.

Major Evarts W. Farr, of Littleton, has accepted the invitation of Charles W. Sawyer Post of Dover to deliver the oration on Memorial Day.

The striking weavers held a meeting at Dover, Saturday, and decided not to return to work unless they received their old pay. The mills are running short handed.

The schools in York are all open for the summer term. All the teachers are females, the pupils being all quite young, the older ones being now engaged in the farm work of the season.

A motion has been made to set aside the verdict in the case of Richard Daly, the tramp who was convicted of an assault with a pistol on Mrs. Bennett of Newmarket. The motion is set to be heard on Wednesday, after which this term of the Court will probably adjourn sine die.

The Dover aldermen have had a discussion about the right of the city to use the sinking fund set apart for the purchase of the bonds of the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad in the payment of a note held by one of the banks against the city. It was considered to be a good investment, if not strictly according to law.

Many Dover people had the privilege of witnessing the transit of Mercury over the sun from the observatory of T. B. Garland, Esq., on Second street. The clouds obscured a part of the time but in the clear sky Mercury was distinctly visible, looking like a black speck upon the face of the sun, about the size of a buckshot.

From the catalogue of the officers and students of Phillips Exeter Academy for the 95th year we learn the whole number of students is 224, of whom 33 are in the Senior class, 50 in the Middle, 76 in the Junior, and 65 in the Preparatory class. Oliver H. Ham of Portsmouth and John Edward Pickering of Newington are in the Junior class. The Burroughs scholarship, founded by the late Rev. Chas. Burroughs, D. D., has an income of $70.

Mr. George Janvrin, an elderly and conservative citizen of Exeter, in view of a contemplated project to have the town widen and straighten the highway on Water street on the south side of said street from the premises of E. O. Lovering to the common east of the town hall, gives his reasons in the Gazette, and protests that as Exeter is greatly in debt, and that there is more than six thousand dollars of uncollected taxes due the town which in all probability never can be collected, and whereas to many that do pay taxes for the adequate expenses of the town it is a great burden to them, —therefore he thinks in such a time as this, where there are so many that can hardly meet their family expenses day by day, that all superfluous outlays ought to be dispensed with, and he hopes every voter that means to keep his head above water one year more will meet the measure manfully and vote it down. Whether Mr. J. has been able to keep his own head above water we know not, but from records of the Court one would suppose he was as liable to get into hot water as any one. The street at this point needs widening, as it is quite near the business centre of the town, where there is more passing than at any other part.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that these Liniments will come nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Naphtha, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and benefit. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74.
Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.
F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments

allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It is as pleasant to take as honey, and as certain in its effects as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Sour Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tang

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.
GREAT THROUGH LINE
AND
UNITED STATES MAIL ROUTE
The attention of the travelling public is respectfully invited to some of the merits of this great highway, in the confident assertion and belief that no other line can offer equal inducements as a route of through travel. In
Construction AND Equipment
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. The track is double the entire length of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are at the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes thrift and perpetuity. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper from ports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to tell "what I know about catarrh," and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tubes" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be so glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 20 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Snuff," "dust," "ashes," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't do much, though at intervals I would send up the so-called catarrh snuff, until I became a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached over my eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 168 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shranken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seventeen hours of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A favorable notice in your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy did not cure me in three-fourths of a second nor in one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach; I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Alterative, or Blood-cleansing.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Chalagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrofula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Chronic Laryngitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness; Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will effect an entire cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy forebodings, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

For Purifying the Blood.

This compound of the vegetable alteratives, Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia, and Mandrake, with the iodides of Potash and Iron, makes a most effectual cure of a series of complaints which are very prevalent and afflicting. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humers in the system, that undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and who e substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the Skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucharrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine diseases, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN HAIR RENEWER.

This standard article is compounded with the greatest care.

Its effects are as wonderful and satisfactory as ever.

It restores gray or faded hair to its youthful color. It removes all eruptions, itching and dandruff; and the scalp by its use becomes white and clean.

By its tonic properties it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, preventing baldness, and making the hair grow thick and strong.

As a dressing nothing has been found so effectual, or desirable.

Dr. A. A. Hayes, State Assayer of Massachusetts, says of it: "I consider it the best preparation for its intended purposes."

BUCKINGHAM'S DYE,

For the Whiskers.

This elegant preparation may be relied on to change the color of the beard from gray or any other undesirable shade, to brown or black, at discretion. It is easily applied, being one preparation, and quickly and effectually produces a permanent color which will neither rub nor wash off.

CATARRH

IS IT CURABLE?

THOSE who have suffered from the various and complicated forms of disease assumed by Catarrh, and have tried many physicians and remedies without relief or cure, await the answer to this question with considerable anxiety. And well they may; for no disease that can be mentioned is so universally prevalent and so destructive to health as Catarrh. Bronchitis, Asthma, Coughs, and serious and frequently fatal affections of the lungs follow, in many instances, as a class of simple but neglected Catarrh. Other sympathetic affections, such as deafness, impaired eyesight, and loss of sense of smell, may be referred to as minor but nevertheless serious results of neglected Catarrh, bad enough in themselves, but as nothing compared with the dangerous affections of the throat and lungs likely to follow.

IT CAN BE CURED.

IT can be cured. There is no doubt about it. The immediate relief afforded by SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE FOR CATARRH is but a slight evidence of what may follow a persistent use of the remedy. The hard, incrusted matter that has lodged in the nasal passages is removed with a few applications; the secretion and inflammation subdued and healed; the entire membranous lining of the head are cleansed and purified. Constitutionally its action is that of a powerful purifying agent, destroying in its course through the system the acid poison, the destructive agent in catarrhal diseases.

A COMPLICATED CASE.

Gentlemen.—My case is briefly as follows: I have had Catarrh for ten years, each year with increasing severity. For nine years I had not breathed through my nostril. I had droppings in the throat, a very bad cough, asthma so bad as to be obliged to take a remedy or lie at night sitting before being able to lie down and sleep, and a constant dull pain in my head. My head was at times so full of catarrhal matter as to injure my sense of hearing and compel me to get up several times a nite, and to clear it and my throat before I could sleep. Every one of these distressing symptoms has disappeared under the use of not quite three bottles of SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE. My hearing is fully restored. I have no asthmatic symptoms, no cough, no droppings in the throat, no headache, and in every way better than I have been for years. I could feel the effects of the CURE on my appetite, on my kidneys, and, in fact every part of my system. What has been done in my case is wholly the effect of the RADICAL CURE.

Very respectfully, C. H. LAWRENCE.

PITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Indorsed by a Prominent Druggist.

I hereby certify that Mr. Lawrence purchased the RADICAL CURE of me, and from time to time made my familiar with its effect. I believe his statement to be true in every particular. JAS. P. DERBY.

PITCHBURG, Oct. 14.

Each package contains Dr. Sanford's Improved Inhaling Tube, and full directions for its use in all cases. Price, $1. For sale by all wholesale and retail druggists, and dealers throughout the United States and Canadas. WEEKS & POTTER, General Agents and Wholesale Druggists, Boston, Mass.

[Written for this paper.]

The Transit of Mercury.

By rail to Newmarket. Then two miles down to Bayside. The road was named to me as Luberland. Perhaps it leads to a locality of that name. The road is a good one, through a good farming neighborhood. And Bayside is interesting. The background is hills and woodland. Stratham is on the right, Greenland on the left. The residence of Valentine Smith, Esq., is a fine one. As I neared it, his telescope was seen all arranged, and its tube pointed toward the sun. One in picture is always grand. It is associated with an idea of what is great and wonderful in the heavens over our heads, as by it they are brought in distinct view to our wondering eyes. But seeing the object itself, and anticipating the benefits of its use, was satisfactory in the highest degree.

But one gentleman with his lady had arrived at that time. He, as one would suppose, was acquainted with the elements of astronomy, and no other was seen during the day, that conversed with much interest on the subject, save Mr. Smith, the owner and operator of the telescope. Passing strange that good scholars and learned persons are not more generally interested in it.

The experiences of the day were valuable. The small, rapidly moving planet Mercury, not often seen in the heavens, coursed up to the sun and passed across its disk from the left side to the right, a little way from its center. The show of itself was simple and to some it did not appear to be much. But its scientific uses are valuable, and to astronomers it is one of the wonders of creation. Blazing suns as the stars probably are, moving planets, some of them ponderous bodies, and roving comets make up, in part at least, the vast machinery of the universe, all in order and completeness. Those on the grounds that day, had much enjoyment. Mr. Smith was the most anxious of all. For several hours after the commencement of the transit, there were flying clouds and a hazy sky, and the transit could be seen only at short intervals. The operator wished all to have a good view, and often feared there would be a failure. This appeared in the early stages of the transit. The writer of this told him astronomers had made their discoveries and observations in untold difficulties, and also said the Creator had made this wonder to be seen by somebody and we were somebody, and felt pretty sure of seeing it. And such was the result.

The one already named as first there, suggested some things profitable. One was, that we only begin to learn in this life. In that which is to come, we may go on and to better advantage. A knowledge of the heavenly bodies may be obtained there, that here is only commenced. The late Thomas Dick of Scotland has written largely on this.

The expressed views of the transit were somewhat various. One adjusted gold-bowed eyeglasses and took a look. But as nothing was said, it is not known what was seen. Probably Mercury was not. Another said it looked as large as a five cent piece. It did not with the power of the telescope it was necessary to use that day. Another said, "How fast it moves." It always moves fast, but it was not seen to move at all, only by gazing at it a long time, it was seen to make some progress.

In walking away and back to the village the first person passed said he had not seen it, nor did he wish to. Another farther on, inquired what it was those who went wished to see. He was told Mercury was the planet nearest the sun, Venus next, then our earth; and the two first having inside paths, might come between us and the sun, as they sometimes do, and so make transits. He caught only at the expression "our earth," and asked "are there others than ours?" I answered, "undoubtedly." He said, "I don't believe it." He was asked what he supposed these bodies were for, some of them being vast in size. He answered, "to give us light." To this the answer is, they do give us a little. But more than the whole of them could have been given by one feeble moon, not half so large as ours.

The next transit of Mercury will be three and a half years hence, that is, Nov. 7th, 1881. There will be one of Venus, grand and important, Dec. 6th, 1882. Some are already saying, as Cowper says of John Gilpin's ride, "may I be there to see."

J. F.

An Old Place.

The town of Portsmouth (writes the London correspondent of the Chicago Times) lies nearly 100 miles south and west of London; and has more stirring naval memories than any other seaport in the world. It was founded long before the Conquest, and is of Roman origin. It was in Portsmouth harbor, in 1545, that a French armada of 150 ships attacked the English fleet. It was at Portsmouth that the celebrated George Villiers, Duke of Buckingham, was assassinated by the fanatic John Felton. It was here that the Newcastle and Royal George foundered; that occurred the great mutiny on the Channel fleet in 1797; from here Nelson sailed in the Victory, in August, 1805, to win the battle of Trafalgar; and it was here that, four months later, the Victory, her victorious flags mournfully half-masted, came bearing the body of the dead hero. And, finally, as of especial interest to Americans, I may add that to Portsmouth, in 1814, came the Endymion, bearing in tow the President, erstwhile the property of the United States. In fine, Portsmouth is crowded with memorable events, from earliest periods down to to-day, when it is building the greatest war-ship of the world—the armored monster, the Inflexible. It is situated on an island; is well defended from the direction of the mainland by a series of formidable fortifications; has something like 100,000 inhabitants, and a naval arsenal and dock-yard that are claimed to have no rivals. After all these things have been said of Portsmouth, there remains to be added the most complimentary fact in its history, to wit, that it is the birthplace of Charles Dickens.

Hewitt's Army Bill.

The various democratic attempts at crippling the army have culminated in a bill, for which Mr. Hewitt, of New York, is the god-father, reducing it to twenty thousand men. It also consolidates the forty regiments now in existence to twenty-six, mustering out superfluous officers with a graduated bonus of pay from one year to five, in accordance with the length of their service. The bill is both unjust and foolish. Twenty thousand men are entirely too few for the work to be done, indispensable now, to say nothing of possible demands, not of a war, but of labor riots like that of last year. Again, if the army is to be reduced, it is the obvious policy to preserve as many skeleton regiments and trained officers as possible, so that in case of need the army could be expanded at once by increasing the number of enlisted men rather than by creating new regiments, and instructing new officers. But it is all of a piece with the democratic hatred of the army and a desire to cripple it. And what is more singular, this desire is confined to politicians, who cater to what they suppose to be the popular demand, when in fact it does not exist. As General Garfield has pointed out in a recent article on the reorganization of the army, in the North American Review, there has never been a single petition presented to Congress for the reduction of the army, even from the most democratic district in the South. Taken at a whole, the people of the United States desire to feel a pride in their army, and are not at all troubled about its cost, which is so insignificant in comparison with other departments of the government. The officers are not regarded as bloated sinecurists, and it is very well understood that their pay is meagre. A lieutenant of the line gets less than a folding clerk in the House of Representatives, and the General-in-Chief is not so well off as the Sergeant-at-Arms. Even the southern people have manifested no desire that the army should be unfit for its duties in defending the settlers against the Indians. The whole opposition comes from a desire in democratic politicians to acquire a reputation for economy in a department in which they have fewest friends and votes, combined with the spite of late confederate officers, who have a chance of revenging their defeat and their exclusion from the ranks which they deserted. It is the democratic politicians and not the people who want the army reduced.

New Hampshire Items.

The following patents have been issued to New Hampshire inventors, viz.: E. A. Cushman, Lebanon, improvement in stock grinders for paper pulp; E. A. Cushman, Lebanon, wood grinders for paper pulp; R. W. Porter, Nashua, shuttle bobbins; D. M. Smith, East Northwood, electro magnetic water-raising apparatus.

In Plymouth, Sunday, Edgar Adams, his wife and five children ate dandelion greens for dinner and were immediately taken sick. Upon investigation, a green lizard about four inches long was found cooked with the greens. All have recovered except a child aged five, whose life is despaired of.

Cyril Tappan, a Canadian, was arrested on Saturday night at Nashua in the act of burglary in the house of Joseph Labric. He was before the police court Monday and bound over in $1000—for burglary $500 and for fortune telling $500. He was committed till the September term.

News and Notes.

Moore, the gentleman who abstracted certain assets of the Cambridgeport Bank some time since, has been arrested in New York, delivered to the Massachusetts authorities and lodged in Cambridge jail. The trouble with Moore seems to have been that he robbed the bank from a wrong standpoint. Let him suffer.

John E. Cutler of Springfield, Vermont, was a soldier at Gettysburg, and during the third day of the battle threw away his knapsack, containing among other things a stencil plate, giving his name, regiment, etc. This plate has recently been plowed up on the battle field and returned to him.

Mrs. Douglas and Jennie E. Tweed, daughters of Wm. M. Tweed, sued the Knickerbocker Life Insurance Company to compel the issue to them of a life policy of $8000, being six-eights of a $10,000 policy in their favor taken out on his life by William M. Tweed. A clause in the original policy prevented the insurer going to sea without leave, and the defendants claimed that his voyage at the time of his escape vitiated the policy which, if he had remained at home, would have been payable April 3d, 1878. Judge Freeman gave judgment for the insurance company.

A letter from Australia says that Trickett will not leave there for a race, but challenges the world to row him on Parramatta river for £1,000 a side with £150 allowance.

The French government will not allow any workingmen's congress to assemble at Paris during the period of the Exposition.

A quantity of well-executed counterfeit trade dollars has been captured in Cincinnati. They are composed of block tin, bismuth and pulverized glass. They possess pretty nearly the standard weight and have the exact color and the true ring of the real dollars. The only means of detecting them from the genuine is by means of a weigher, or by pressing them between the teeth, when the glass which they contain emits of a cracking sound.

Prof. Joseph Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, died on Monday.

A Portland, Me., man was quite badly injured, the other day, by the bursting of a pot of baked beans, which he was taking from an oven.

President Green, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, has renewed the offer of the late President Orton to furnish free telegrams to test the system of storm and flood signals by telegraph and cannon, and to give certain instant and general warnings of coming storms and floods, according to the plan suggested by A. Watson.

Five men have been examined in Philadelphia and held to bail in the sum of $600 each for trial on the charge of counterfeiting tickets for Barnum's show. The conspiracy was betrayed by the printer engaged to work off the tickets from the plate, which was a perfect fac-simile of the genuine. He surrendered the plate to the police, and gave the information leading to the arrests. The gang expected to make $25,000 out of their speculation.

Mr. Edison has made a contract with the Weston Union Telegraph Company by which all his electrical and magnetic inventions become the property of the company. These include his telephone, which the company considers the most useful telephone invented. The company hopes to establish telephone communication with at least 4000 towns, too small to support the expense of a telegraph operator.

Political.

Mr. Glover's dragnet has made another haul of democratic cuttle-fish. It appears that Mr. Morrison's Louisiana election committee laid in a stock of "$196 worth of assorted liquors before leaving Washington." Mr. Morrison, who is a temperate man, objected to the bill, but his associates overruled him and it was allowed. The true inwardness of this Congress shows by contraries with its loud professions of reform.

The democrats in the Ohio legislature have redistricted the State so as to give the republicans six and take fourteen Congressmen for themselves. It is by such extreme partisanship that the democrats calculate to retain control of the next House of Representatives. It shows the desperation of the party, and exposes the utter hollowness of its reform pretensions.—Nashua Telegraph.

The Belfast Age (greenback) thinks the fact that an American greenback or gold dollar is worth two dollars and ten cents in Cuban currency, "shows the difference between a small, weak provincial government, rent by internal dissensions and a rich, powerful, stable government with an advanced system of jurisprudence, whose citizens are, by the practice of liberty, accustomed to self imposed burdens and restraints; the paper money of the one, is of little or no value, while that of the other is as good as gold." Now will the Age tell us why, a few years ago, Canadian bank notes, issued under "a provincial government" were worth twice as much as the notes of the United States? The only difference is, that the Canadian notes were payable at sight in gold, while no date for the redemption of the United States notes had then been fixed.—Portland Adv.

New Steam Engine.

Ben Taylor, a colored man, living in this place, has lately returned from Washington, whither he has been to secure a patent for a new steam engine which he has invented, and which, if the judgment of many experienced and scientific men to whom he has shown his model, is correct, is calculated to revolutionize the present application of steam. The engine is rotary, having the steam applied at the circumference of a wheel, giving thus treble the force of ordinary engines, with no diminishing of power at the various stages of the revolution of the wheel. This invention dispenses with all the machinery except the one wheel, which answers at once the purpose of cylinder and driving wheel, and two steam boxes through which the steam is applied. It is estimated that engines on this plan can be manufactured at one-fourth, or less, the cost of those now in use, and their simplicity, and the possibility of making them of extremely light weight, will extend the use of steam engines beyond the present limit. Ben Taylor, the inventor, is a sort of mechanical genius, having before manifested an insight into mechanics of no ordinary degree. His invention, if nothing fails—and the probabilities are in his favor—will rank him among the first inventors of the day.—Rosedale (Miss.) Journal.

It is a fact well established by unquestionable testimony that Hall's Hair Renewer renews, cleanses, brightens, invigorates and restores to its original color and lustre, faded, gray or discolored hair, cheaply, quickly and surely. The poorest people prefer to buy it and use it, rather than to proclaim in a manner more forcible than words can delineate, through blanched locks or grizzly beard, that they are aged and passing to decay. A very short trial will convince the most skeptical that it does eradicate the scalp diseases which rob the hair of its color and life.—Fort Scott (Kan.) Daily Monitor.

The Company holds its charter direct from the State, and was incorporated for educational and charitable purposes in 1868. THE CITY.

The Fire Department have decided not to parade on Memorial Day.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Concord Railroad will be held in White's Opera House at Concord on Tuesday, the 28th inst.

The youngest daughter of Mr. Josiah H. Morrison, who is now at Lake City, Florida, with his family, died at that place on Sunday. Other members of the family are ill.

Dr. Andrew B. Sherburne and Michael R. Perkins, Esq., have been appointed assistant secretaries of the State Committee of the national greenback party, owing to the rapid accumulation of correspondence.

A public lecture will be given by Rev. C. B. Pitblado, at the M. E. church this (Wednesday) evening at 7:30 o'clock; subject, "An Ant Hill." Supper in the Chapel on Daniel street at 8:15; admission to both, twenty-five cents.

Parties off the mouth of the harbor on Monday inform us that there were some smart hail showers and considerable "spitting" of snow at intervals, in the forenoon. Snow and hail fell at Biddeford also on Monday, according to the Times of that city.

Steamer Williamsport, Capt. Willets, which arrived at this port on Monday from Philadelphia with coal to C. E. Walker & Co., made the round trip from Concord Railroad wharf to Philadelphia and back to an anchorage in the Lower Harbor in five days and nine hours.

Prof. Warman's readings at Congress Hall this evening. Prof. Warman is a real elocutionist, and his selections are judicious and pleasing; and all who visit Congress Hall this evening will be entertained far more than the worth of their money. See advertisement.

Morse & Ilsley on Tuesday sold by auction the hull of schooner Hampden, as she lies on the rocks at Hampton Beach, to Mr. David F. Nudd, of Hampton, for $65; and the cargo of 248 tons of coal, on board the wreck, to Mr. J. L. Chesley of Rye, for seventy-five cents a ton. The spars, rigging and sails were taken to Bangor on the owners' account, the vessel having been uninsured.

The question relating to the title of the State of Maine to Appledore island, Isles of Shoals, in opposition to the title of the Laightons to the same property, was decided by the Governor and Council as soon as the deed of conveyance from Mr. Haley to Hon. Thomas B. Laighton was shown them. The matter was brought before the State authorities by a man at Camden, Me., who offered the State the munificent sum of $50 for the island! As the Laighton family have held quiet and undisputed possession of the island for forty years, and the Haleys had previously held it as long or longer—of which circumstances the would-be purchaser could hardly have been aware, that is if his offer really meant anything—the decision of the Governor and Council was of course that the title of the present holders of the island is perfect.

CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES.

MAY TERM—CLARK, J.

At the coming in of the Court on Tuesday morning Judge Clark gave his decision upon the motion for non-suit in Bartlett Land and Lumber Co. vs. Saunders, indicating the views he should give in his charge to the jury. The court holds:

1st. That in the construction of deeds, monuments fixed and certain, or which can be made fixed and certain, will govern the course and distance.

2d. That Harts' Location having been originally granted by a deed or grant made upon an actual survey thereof by metes and bounds which can be recognized and located; and having long been occupied by settlers, and surveyed and recognized by the government of New Hampshire, is such a monument, and will control the distance given in the line running east on the north side of the Elkins grant, notwithstanding the exterior line of Hart's Location is not shown upon the ground at the point where the north line of Elkins grant running east would strike it.

3d. That by the true construction of the Elkins grant the line runs on the northerly side east to the westerly side of Hart's Location; thence southerly by Hart's Location to the nearest point to the northwest corner of Burton (now Albany.)

4th. That there is no evidence before the jury to estop or bar those claiming the Elkins grant from maintaining that line; and that upon the case as it now stands the demandant is not entitled to recover.

A verdict was thereupon taken for the defendants, and the plaintiffs were allowed time in which to file exceptions to the finding of the Court.

Charles E. Batchelder, Esq., of Portsmouth, was on motion of United States Commissioner Hackett, admitted to practice in the courts of the United States for this district.

In cases United States vs. Ebenezer Wyman, motions to quash were filed in two cases, and a demurrer to one of the indictments, on the ground that the obscene language is not set out in the indictments. The question upon the demurrer was argued by Mr. Hawthorn for Wyman, and by Mr. Hatch on the same side. The District Attorney followed in opposition to the demurrer. Judge Clark decided that the language complained of was not sufficiently set out to be identified in subsequent proceedings. The Court cannot by inspection of the record determine what the publication or writing complained of was. The demurrer was sustained. Upon motion to quash the other indictments, upon the ground that there was no offence against the law of the United States, that the language was not obscene, arguments were made by Messrs. Hawthorn and Hatch for the respondents. The Court held that the statute contains the word indecent, and that the letter was indecent; and the motion to quash was overruled. The government, without proving the letter to have been written by the respondent, called three witnesses to testify to the handwriting, from a knowledge of his handwriting by former clerks and others doing business with him. The defendant, under the act of Congress of March 16th, 1878, requested to be allowed to testify in his own behalf, and upon taking the stand denied that he wrote the letter offered in evidence and described in the indictment, and addressed to Mrs. Burnham of Contoocook village, the wife of one of the witnesses. The respondent is over seventy years of age, and is a trader at Contoocook village. There had been some difficulty between the respondent and Burnham, growing out of Burnham's criticising the methods of Wyman's housekeeping after the death of his wife. The defence offered no other testimony.

The arguments were finished last evening and the case will be given to the jury this morning.

THE GREENBACK PARTY.

The greenback men are busy in Maine, and intend in the fall to capture one if not two Congressional districts! In the First District they propose to avail themselves of the circumstance that certain republicans will vote against Mr. Reed, in case of his re-nomination, because they are opposed to the Hamlin-Blaine influence in the republican party, and the democrats will be governed by this programme, the candidate to be, of course, a democrat in disguise.

When we consider the part some democratic leaders have had in the greenback movement in this State, it is somewhat amusing to read the criticisms found in democratic newspapers upon the sponsors of the new party. A short time since, when Mr. Call, now the champion greenback man, went up and down the State at the request of the democratic committee and lifted up his voice in every considerable place loudly for Tilden and reform, he was a capital fellow, the "eloquent and able orator," etc., as the posters had it, and then there were suggested no criticisms upon the grammatical structure of his productions. If he wrote a leader for the Times, or any democratic sheet, it was always "profound and convincing;" but the old stagers began to grow jealous of the rising young politician, and it is now hinted at times, that Messrs. Hatch, Frink and Marcy signed his endorsement to Tilden in advance, to be appointed Governor of some western territory, not because of his acknowledged fitness for the place, but to get him out of the way, as by the rank and file he was rapidly growing to be regarded as the coming man. Now he has committed an unpardonable sin in the eyes of some of the local sachems, and they suddenly in their indignation find he is not so big a man as they thought. As a democrat he was just the man for chairman of the School Committee; as a greenbacker he is guilty of using bad grammar.

So with Counsellor Hodgdon, the author of the gerrymander which gave the democracy the control of our city for two years and enabled many a hungry democrat for a while to feed at the municipal crib. His legal ability displayed in drawing the amendment to the city charter and urging its passage at Concord was suitably recognized by his election to important offices at the hands of the democracy, though of course as a power in the party he took what he pleased. But now the democracy, who owe so much to this late indefatigable worker in their behalf, affect to remember that he went to the war in the Union army, and was not so much of a democrat, after all.

The democratic masses apparently fail to see that the greenback element constantly has accessions to its ranks of the most skillful men who have served apprenticeships in the democratic party; and whether the abuse of these men, who are by and by to make terms between the other two parties, is merely Pickwickian with intent the same to deceive, or whether the full plans of the democratic leaders regarding the control of the greenback movement have been confided to but few of the faithful, is just now "what no fellow can find out."

THE VICINITY.

On Tuesday Mr. Phineas Clark, of Stratham, was thrown from his wagon in Newington and considerably hurt.

At a special meeting held in York on Monday last to take action relating to the alleged deficit in the account of Mr. Geo. F. Plaisted as collector and treasurer of the town in 1876, a committee consisting of Nathaniel G. Marshall, Alexander Thompson and Charles C. Barrell was appointed to examine his accounts and report at an adjourned meeting next Monday.

A fire-bug of Saco undertook on Saturday to burn Scotland up. Scotland is the local name given to a group of five two-tenement houses off the main street of the town, and the incendiary set fire to a shed attached to one of these houses. A colored man in one of the tenements discovered the fire before it got well under way, and put it out with a few buckets of water.

The York Christian Ladies' Circle held its last meeting before the arrival of the summer visitors, on the evening of the 8th inst., at Sea Cottage, which is kept by Mr. Charles Grant; the York Cornet Band were treated to a supper, and treated the company to music; and singing and social pastimes were indulged in. Mr. Grant has put up a band-stand near his cottage, from which concerts will be given one evening each week during the season. The band has been recently strengthened by the addition of four new horns.

Mr. Colburn Barrell, of York, his brother, and his son, have kept a diary since 1829; not a day has missed its entry. Looking over this diary, which has probably been kept longer than any one in the world was ever kept before by anybody, Mr. Barrell finds that in 1830 the pomegranite trees blossomed one day earlier than they did this year. Swallows and other late-arriving birds got along this year nearly two weeks earlier than usual; bobolinks, which usually arrive about the 12th or 15th of May, this year appeared on the 6th. The cows, generally turned out to pasture about the 20th of May, went to grass on the 6th. The grass now looks finely—but the farmers fear a drought; the apple trees have blossomed well, too—but the fruit growers fear a killing frost.

Centaur Liniments.

More than 1,000,000 bottles of the now celebrated Centaur Liniments were sold last year. We assert without fear of contradiction that no man, woman or child will say that they did not perform according to the advertisement. We do not pretend that the Centaur Liniments will mend a broken leg or perform impossibilities, but we do say and mean that the Liniments will cause nearer working miracles than anything ever before discovered. We have thousands of certificates showing how, remarkable cures of obstinate cases of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Poisonous Bites, Scalds and Burns, Swelled Legs and Stiff Joints, &c., have been effected by it. The certificates all read one way, and the sale is constantly increasing. We will send these certificates gratis. Some of them may be found around each bottle of Liniment. The Liniments are quick, they are reliable, they are safe and they are cheap. Among the ingredients used are Witch Hazel, Carbolic, Napkins, Rock Oil, Mentha and Arnica. There is no flesh, bone or muscle ailment which they will not relieve and heal. The White Centaur Liniment is for the human frame, while the Yellow Liniment is adapted to the tough muscles and fibres of horses and animals. For Stiff Joints, Lameness, Spavin, Ring-bone, Sweeney, Galls, Poll-evil, etc., the Yellow Centaur Liniment is worth its weight in gold to every farmer, livery man, teamster and owner of animals. A single bottle has put a disabled horse in the harness, and a few bottles have rendered a useless spavined horse worth two hundred dollars. There is no mistake about these Liniments. They are simply wonderful, and they are naturally finding their way into the uttermost parts of the earth. No family should be without them. They are handy as well as certain.

J. B. ROSE & CO., 46 DEY ST., NEW YORK.

Children

May be made healthy and strong by the use of Dr. Pitcher's Castoria, a perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It contains no morphine and is superior to any syrup or remedy in use. The Castoria is particularly recommended for children. It destroys worms, assimilates the food, and allows natural sleep. Very efficacious in Croup, and for children Teething. For Colds, Feverishness, Disorders of the Bowels and Stomach Complaints, nothing is so effective. It is as pleasant to take as honey, costs but 35 cents, and can be had of any Druggist.

This is one of many testimonials:

"CORNWALL, LEBANON CO., PA., Mch. 17, '74. Dear Sir,—I have used your CASTORIA in my practice for some time. I take great pleasure in recommending it to the profession as a safe, reliable, and agreeable medicine. It is particularly adapted to children where the repugnant taste of Castor Oil renders it so difficult to administer.

F. A. ENDERS, M. D."

Mothers who try CASTORIA will find that they can sleep nights and that their babies will be healthy.

J. B. ROSE & CO., New York.

The Centaur Liniments allay pain, subdue swellings, heal burns, and will cure Rheumatism, Spavin, and any flesh, bone or muscle ailment. The White Wrapper is for family use, the Yellow Wrapper for animals. A list of the ingredients are contained around each bottle. They are cheap, speedy, and certain.

The certain, speedy, and harmless remedy for children, is Pitcher's Castoria. It pleases to take as honey, and as certain in its cure as Castor Oil. For Wind Colic, Worms Stomach and Disordered Bowels, there is nothing like Castoria. tang

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have merited the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most efficacious cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and gives a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it by them, close for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely precaution. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD
stands confessedly at the head of American railways. Its track is double size excepting half of the line, of steel rails laid on heavy oak ties, which are embedded in a foundation of rock ballast eighteen inches in depth. All bridges are of iron or stone, and built upon the most approved plans. Its passenger cars, while eminently safe and substantial, are of the same time models of comfort and elegance.
The Safety Appliances
in use on this line well illustrates the far-seeing and liberal policy of its management, in accordance with which the utility only of an improvement and not its cost has been the question of consideration. Among many may be noticed
THE BLOCK SYSTEM OF SAFETY SIGNALS,
JANNEY COUPLER, BUFFER AND PLATFORM,
THE WHARTON PATENT SWITCH,
AND THE
WESTINGHOUSE AIR-BRAKE,
forming in conjunction with a perfect double track and road-bed, a combination of safeguards against accidents which have rendered them practically impossible.
Pullman Palace Cars
Are run on all Express Trains
From New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and Washington,
To Chicago, Cincinnati, Louisville, Indianapolis, and St. Louis,
WITHOUT CHANGE,
and to all principal points in the far West and South with but one change of cars. Connections are made in Union Depots, and are assured to all important points.
The Scenery
OF THE
PENNSYLVANIA ROUTE
is admitted to be unsurpassed in the world for grandeur, beauty and variety. Superior refreshment facilities are provided. Employees are courteous and attentive, and it is an inevitable result that a trip by the Pennsylvania Railroad must form
A PLEASING AND MEMORABLE EXPERIENCE.

DR. PIERCE'S STANDARD REMEDIES

Are not advertised as "cure-alls," but are specifics in the diseases for which they are recommended.

NATURAL SELECTION.

Investigators of natural science have demonstrated beyond controversy, that throughout the animal kingdom the "survival of the fittest" is the only law that vouchsafes their continued security. Does not the same principle govern the commercial prosperity of man? An inferior cannot supersede a superior article. By reason of superior merit, Dr. Pierce's Standard Medicines have outrivaled all others. Their sale in the United States alone exceeds one million dollars per annum, while the amount exported foots up to several hundred thousand more. No business could grow to such gigantic proportions and rest upon any other basis than that of merit.

AN OPEN LETTER.
It Speaks for Itself.
ROCKPORT, MASS., April 2, 1877.
MR. EDITOR:—Having read in your paper reports of the remarkable cures of catarrh, I am induced to call "what I know about catarrh" and I fancy the "snuff" and "inhaling-tube" makers (mere dollar-grabbers) would be glad if they could emblazon a similar cure in the papers. For 26 years I suffered with catarrh. The nasal passages became completely closed. "Powders," "douches," "inhaling-tubes," and "sticks," wouldn't work, though at intervals I would sniff up the vocalized stuff, hoping it would prove a valuable tester for such medicines. I gradually grew worse, and no one can know how much I suffered or what a miserable being I was. My head ached every day, eyes so that I was confined to my bed for many successive days, suffering the most intense pain, which at one time lasted continuously for 36 hours. All sense of smell and taste gone, sight and hearing impaired, body shrunken and weakened, nervous system shattered, and constitution broken, and I was hawking and spitting seven eighths of the time. I prayed for death to relieve me of my suffering. A friend sending me your paper of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy induced me to purchase a package and use it with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche, which applies the remedy by hydrostatic pressure, the only way compatible with common sense. Well, Mr. Editor, it did not cure me in three courses, nor in a month, nor one hour or month, but in less than eight minutes I was relieved, and in three months entirely cured, and have remained so for over sixteen months. While using the Catarrh Remedy, I used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify my blood and strengthen my stomach. I also kept my liver active and bowels regular by the use of his Pleasant Purgative Pellets. If my experience will induce other sufferers to seek the same means of relief, this letter will have answered its purpose. Yours truly,
S. D. REMICK.

Golden Medical Discovery
Is Pectoral.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is a Chalagogue, or Liver Stimulant.
Golden Medical Discovery
Is Tonic.
Golden Medical Discovery

By reason of its Alterative properties, cures Diseases of the Blood and Skin, as Scrotula or King's Evil; Tumors; Ulcers or Old Sores; Blotches; Pimples; and Eruptions. By virtue of its Pectoral properties, it cures Bronchial, Throat, and Lung Affections; Incipient Consumption; Lingering Coughs; and Severe Bronchitis. Its Cholagogue properties render it an unequaled remedy for Biliousness: Torpid Liver, or "Liver Complaint;" and its Tonic properties make it equally efficacious in curing Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, and Dyspepsia.

Where the skin is sallow and covered with blotches and pimples, or where there are scrofulous swellings and affections, a few bottles of Golden Medical Discovery will, as a rule, effect a cure. If you feel dull, drowsy, debilitated, have sallow color of skin, or yellowish-brown spots on face or body, frequent headache or dizziness, bad taste in mouth, internal heat or chills alternated with hot flashes, low spirits and gloomy foreboding, irregular appetite, and tongue coated, you are suffering from Torpid Liver, or "Biliousness." In many cases of "Liver Complaint," only part of these symptoms are experienced. As a remedy for all such cases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has no equal, as it effects perfect cures, leaving the liver strengthened and healthy.
